

CELEBS

Yoko Ono @yokoono
Go outside, and tune into nature. Because you are part of nature, too.

Tanaka 'always had a thing' for Mariah

Los Angeles

Singer Mariah Carey's beau Bryan Tanaka says he "always had a thing" for her. The "Without You" hitmaker attended the "Mariah's World" premiere party in New York City with the back up dancer where he gushed about their "connection" and "mutual admiration" for each other, reports eonline.com.
Tanaka said: "I've always had a thing for Mariah. I love her so much. Just make sure you tune in to the show and you'll see kind of how everything happens ..." (IANS)

FILMING 'COLLATERAL BEAUTY' HELPED SMITH DEAL

Los Angeles

Actor Will Smith believes filming "Collateral Beauty", in which he plays a man who has suffered a personal tragedy, helped him deal with his own father's death. The 48-year-old actor was left devastated when his father Willard Carroll Smith Sr. died in November but said that starring in the drama film has made it easier to cope with his personal loss. "This has been one of the greatest confluences of life and art that I've ever experienced," Smith told people.com. (IANS)

Jackie Chan to star in Five Against a Bullet

Los Angeles

Legendary actor Jackie Chan has been roped in to star in director Joe Carnahan's upcoming action film "Five Against A Bullet" as one of the bodyguards. Lorenzo di Bonaventura is producing the project though his Di Bonventura Pictures banner. The film is set in a small Mexican town under attack by the drug cartel. The story centres on five world-weary bodyguards who are signed on to protect a Mexican politician after his father is murdered by a cartel, ahead of an election, reports variety.com.
Bruce Willis was attached several years ago to star in "Five Against A Bullet" but is no longer on the project. Carnahan is currently attached only as the writer.
Chan, who has been acting in films since late 1960s, has appeared in more than 150 films. (IANS)

Mariah Carey's wedding delay guilt

Los Angeles

Singer Mariah Carey worried about "disappointing" businessman James Packer when she postponed their wedding to focus on her tour. In the opening episode of Carey's new reality show "Mariah's World", the singer and her manager Stella can be seen concerned about juggling plans for the marriage, which was ultimately cancelled as the couple split in October, reports dailymail.co.uk.
Stella asked: "I feel like you'll be putting your professional life before your personal life and it makes me feel bad but dare I say, do you postpone the wedding?"
Carey said: "It is slightly overwhelming because we are pretty much putting together this entire tour in two weeks. You know...there's a lot to think about." (IANS)