

CELEBS

Ellen DeGeneres @TheEllenShow
 #BattleoftheSexes is in theatres now! @
 SteveCarell is in it. Emma Stone is in it. I have to tell you, I love this movie.

I will never complain about losing privacy

Tokyo

Actor Chris Pratt says he has vowed that he will never complain about losing his privacy due to stardom.

"I have sort of made a vow to myself that I will not be caught complaining about it (losing privacy). The reality of our life is slightly different now. We have to plan things that we didn't had to plan before, spontaneity is out of the window," Pratt said.

Pratt is the main lead in two of the biggest Hollywood franchises -- "Jurassic World" and Disney's "Guardians of the Galaxy" franchise.

Pratt was a homeless man before he rose to stardom. He used to live in a Scooby-Doo van and worked at a seafood restaurant in Hawaii in the late 1990s. It was at this restaurant that he was discovered by actress Rae Dawn Chong, who then gave him his first film "Cursed Part 3" in 2000. (IANS)

HEMSWORTH INCREDIBLE TO WORK WITH

Los Angeles

Oscar-winning actress Cate Blanchett had fun working with actor Chris Hemsworth in "Thor: Ragnarok", and says she has "never met a more generous and egoless performer than" him.

"People assume because we're Australian, and a relatively small company of actors often working abroad, that we all know one another. But I had never met Chris. We've got friends in common, but I'd never met him," Blanchett said in a statement. (IANS)

Shakira, Pique part ways?

Los Angeles

Singer Shakira has reportedly ended things with her boyfriend and FC Barcelona defender Gerard Pique after being in a relationship with him for six years.

The two are no longer living together and Shakira instigated the split, dailymail.co.uk reports.

"It's something serious and she has been the one who has finally made the decision," a source was quoted as saying.

The source added that Shakira, who has two sons with her beau of six years, could no longer cope with the situation. But the report did not say what the problem was.

The couple were last seen together in Argentina in June at the wedding of Pique's former Barcelona teammate Lionel Messi to Antonella Rocuzzo. (IANS)

