An appellant convicted in connection with a drug case confessed to using drugs since he was 10 years old.

The 28-year-old accused was arrested driving a stolen car, and police later found traces of hashish in his blood.

The accused, who had earlier been found guilty in three other drug cases, revealed to prosecutors that he had been using drugs for the past 20 years, according to court files.

In this case, he is charged with robbery and substance abuse. The accused reportedly robbed the car and was later nabbed driving it after its owner filed a complaint at police station.

The 28-year-old was earlier given 6 months behind bars and a fine BD500. But the initial verdict had also allowed a BD500 bail.

Missing person found in hospital

Mohammed Khamis Swar

A 60-year-old person who went missing in Mashhad was found in a hospital in the Iranian city.

Mohammed Khamis Swar went missing after losing his way back to his hotel.

Sources close to his family said that Swar is suffering from chronic diseases and his health condition has deteriorated after getting lost.

"A pedestrian saw Swar, and as he looked very tired, he took the latter to hospital for treatment," a source close to Swar said.

The family members were searching for him when someone informed them he is in hospital," the source added, confirming that Swar's health condition has improved.

It's worth noting that Bahraini families visit the city of Mashhad for recreation and for pilgrimage.

Riot, arson: Legal proceedings begin

Manama

The High Criminal Court commenced legal proceedings against nine persons accused of rioting and arson.

The nine accused, all locals, were reportedly involved in the sabotage event that took place in Hamad Town, in which masked miscreants set 10 tyres ablaze. They also poured oil on the street as part of the riot that occurred on February 7.

A police officer was injured during the event. The accused were identified following police investigations.

They have been charged with putting lives in danger and possessing flammables.
