Marchand wins gold, day after world record

AFP | Singapore, Singapore

French swimming superstar Leon Marchand won 200m medley world gold yesterday despite having struggled to sleep after smashing the world record the previous day. The 23-year-old Paris Olympics hero wiped more than a second off Ryan Lochte's 2011 mark in Wednesday's semi-finals, setting a new best of 1min 52.69sec. He did not reach the same level in the final but his title-winning time of 1:53.68sec was still the second-fastest of all time. Marchand said he struggled to come down from the adrenaline rush of breaking the record in Singapore. "I felt so excited yesterday that I couldn't sleep, so I was enjoying the moment too yesterday a lot," he said. "So I think I lost a lot of energy yesterday night, but it was my goal to break the record, so I was really happy with it. "And then today was a different mood." Marchand was made to work hard for the title, with American Shaine Casas pushing him hard before finishing second in 1:54.30, with Hungary's Hubert Kos third in 1:55.34. It gave Marchand, who won four individual golds in front of his home fans at the Paris Olympics a year ago, his first crown of the Singapore championships. It was the sixth world title of Marchand's career. "I'm just so happy to be at my highest level right now, competing in front of this pretty cool crowd," he said. Marchand took an extended break from swimming after his Paris Olympics feats and only returned to competition in May.

Sarr screamer gives Tottenham victory over Arsenal in Hong Kong

Hong Kong, China

Pape Matar Sarr scored from the halfway line as Tottenham punished a shaky performance by Arsenal goalkeeper David Raya to win the first north London derby staged outside the UK 1-0 on Thursday. Raya, who had already been caught in no-man's land twice as inswinging corners hit the post, was at fault again in the 45th minute when Sarr robbed Myles Lewis-Skelly just inside the Arsenal half. The Spurs midfielder looked up, saw Raya stranded way outside his penalty area and let fly to score in outrageous fashion from 50 yards out. "It was fantastic, fantastic. Well taken," said new Tottenham manager Thomas Frank of the goal. "And all the credit to Papa. He's impressed me, I must admit he's been really good in the last four weeks." Nominally a pre-season "friendly", there was no love lost on the pitch between the bitter rivals. Tackles flew in and tempers frayed in a fiercely contested clash in front of a 49,975 sell-out crowd under the roof in the air-conditioned Kai Tak Stadium. Sarr's screamer gave Frank the north London bragging rights, at least until the pair clash again in the Premier League on November 22 at the Emirates stadium. "This was not a friendly," said Frank. "It felt like a competitive match. I think if you saw it, it was competitive and if you played it was very competitive." Arsenal started the stronger but it was Tottenham who hit the woodwork three times in a frantic first half and deserved their lead at the break. Energy and quality Arsenal laid siege to the Tottenham goal at the start of the second half, but Frank had his defence well-drilled and the Gunners found it hard to break through. Gabriel Martinelli did manage to find an opening on 58 minutes but shot wastefully over from 14 yards. Arsenal brought on new signing Martin Zubimendi, who almost scored with his first touch when his shot was deflected over the bar. A huge cheer went up when Son Heung-min was introduced by Tottenham in the 75th minute. It was followed by an even bigger ovation when new striker Viktor Gyokeres also came off the bench for his Arsenal debut with 13 minutes to go. The Swedish striker, sporting the number 14 shirt made famous by Arsenal legend Thierry Henry, was signed for $67 million six days ago and has trained only twice with his new teammates. He made some darting runs as Arsenal pressed for a late equaliser, but only managed two touches. Defender Cristhian Mosquera also came on late for his first appearance and Arsenal manager Mikel Arteta was pleased with what he saw from his two newest recruits.

West Ham's Paqueta cleared of betting charges

London, United Kingdom

West Ham midfielder Lucas Paqueta has been cleared of spot-fixing charges by an independent regulatory commission, the club announced on Thursday. The Brazil international was charged with four alleged breaches of Football Association (FA) rules in relation to matches involving the Premier League side. It was alleged the 27-year-old directly sought to influence games by intentionally seeking to receive a card from the referee for the "improper purpose of affecting the betting market". The four charges against Paqueta related to a game against Leicester in November 2022 and matches against Aston Villa, Leeds and Bournemouth in 2023. He was facing the prospect of a lifetime ban if found guilty.

Vasseur signs new contract as Ferrari team principal

Budapest, Hungary

Charles Leclerc on Thursday welcomed the "important" Ferrari announcement that Fred Vasseur had signed a new multi-year deal to continue as boss of the Italian team. Speaking ahead of this weekend's Hungarian Grand Prix, the Monegasque driver stressed that it was important for Ferrari to quell the rumours surrounding the Frenchman future. "It's not that it's coming as a surprise, but I'm really happy," said Leclerc. "Especially, during the past month, there were quite a few rumours as is always the case around the team. "So, finally to have the official news out is important and for that I'm really happy." Both Leclerc and team-mate seven-time champion Lewis Hamilton had given strong support to Vasseur after reports circulated in Italian media outlets suggesting that he might be replaced. These followed the team's disappointing start to the season after a strong finish last year and the arrival of Hamilton, a marquee signing yet to register a podium finish. "I think the fact that there was so much hype around the team when we started the season led everybody to think about Ferrari winning the championship," he said.
