"Hit my goal with one month to spare!" she wrote in a new

"Even though it's not about a weight number, it's about being healthy, I needed a tangible measurement to have as a goal and that was 75kg's (165 pounds)," she shared.

Rebel added: "I wanna go live on Insta on Tuesday night when I'm back in US to share stuff with you guys and thank everyone for

"I went back because 2021 is going to be an insanely busy year with project after project," Rebel explained.

Darth Vader actor David Prowse dead at 85

Fox | Los Angeles

David Prowse, the actor and bodybuilder who filled out Darth Vader's tall frame in the original "Star Wars" trilogy has died. He was 85.

Although James Earl Jones provided the voice for the space villain, it was Prowse's 6-foot-7-inch frame that hid beneath Vader's armour while he matched lightsabers with his son Luke Skywalker.

The actor's lines were dubbed because of his Bristol, England, accent, according to BBC News.

Mark Hamill, who played Skywalker, shared a tribute to Prowse in a Twitter post early Sunday.

"So sad to hear David Prowse has passed," Hamill wrote. "He was a kind man & much more than Darth Vader. Actor-Husband-Father-Member of the Order of the British Empire-3 time British Weightlifting Champion & Safety Icon the

Katy Perry slammed by followers for promoting dad's nonpartisan

Fox | Los Angeles

Katy Perry's fans aren't thrilled after she posted an advertisement for her preacher father's nonpartisan clothing line following the 2020 election.

Perry's father, Keith, is a Christian preacher who is trying to unite America with a clothing line that seeks to get rid of partisan bickering. On Saturday, the "American Idol" judge took to Instagram to share a video of her dad plugging the new Nothing But American clothing brand with a note acknowledging the fact that they often disagree with each other.

"We haven't always seen [eye-to-eye] but I'm proud of my dad n bro for coming up with this!" she captioned the video.

"Hey everyone, I'm Keith and I want to ask you a question," he begins. "Are you tired of the division that is destroying our country? Are you sick of losing your family and friends because they just don't agree with your political views? Well, I am, and I know there's a lot of people out there that have the same feeling in the same way."

He continued: "No matter what you believe, at the end of the day we're all Americans and I designed this T-shirt because I want people to know that, even though you may have a different religion or political view than I do, I still will be there for you and I'll still consider you my friend, my neighbour and my fellow America."

Snoop Dogg wins Twitter raves for boxing commentary

Fox | Los Angeles

Snoop Dogg may have found himself a whole new career: boxing commentator.

The 49-year-old rapper, born Calvin Broadus Jr., was on hand for Saturday night's card at the Staples Center in Los Angeles, where the featured bout was the Mike Tyson matchup with Roy Jones Jr.

Earlier in the evening, Dogg was watching as YouTube star

Jake Paul battled former pro basketball player Nate Robinson.

"Oh, there's a fake from Jake," Dogg said at one point as Paul feigned a move on Robinson.

Soon after, Paul knocked Robinson flat to the canvas.

"Oh, my God, Lord have mercy! Oh, Jesus!" Dogg shouted. Then he began singing a spiritual hymn as Robinson staggered to his feet and wobbled around the ring.

"Precious Lord, take my hand. Lead me on, let me stand!" he sang.

"Good night, Irene," he added, as Robinson fell to the mat a second time.

Later, Dogg appeared to succinctly sum up the battle between Tyson - returning to the ring at age 54 - and Jones, who is 51.

"This s--- is like two of my uncles fighting at the barbecue," Dogg quipped.
