

Royal praise for solid Bahrain-UK partnership

His Royal Highness Prince Salman bin Hamad Al Khalifa, the Crown Prince, Deputy Supreme Commander of the Armed Forces, and Prime Minister, highlighted the longstanding Bahrain-United Kingdom partnership, underpinned by a history of strategic partnerships and agreements across multiple sectors, including within military and defence. He emphasised the shared commitment of both nations to advancing cooperation to benefit both countries and their peoples. HRH Prince Salman was speaking as he met yesterday with The Rt Hon Yvette Cooper MP, Secretary of State for Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Affairs, along with a number of senior delegates from the United Kingdom who are participating in the IISS Manama Dialogue 2025. His Royal Highness reiterated the depth of multilateral collaboration, including strategic partnerships and shared agreements such as the Comprehensive Security Integration and Prosperity Agreement (C-SIPA), which the UK recently joined. He affirmed the UK's role, alongside its allies, in strengthening regional security and stability, and in contributing to regional and international peace and development.
