Court rejects foreigner's bid for daughter's ID card

TDT | Manama

The High Administrative Court has rejected a lawsuit filed by a foreign national seeking an ID card for his daughter before obtaining a passport for her in her nationality.

The court emphasised that issuing an ID card for a foreigner requires the name to be recorded as it appears in the passport or the nationality statement issued by the competent authority in the General Directorate of Nationality, Passports and Residence, along with the passport details for non-Bahrainis.

The plaintiff had filed a lawsuit before the Lower Administrative Court, requesting the Information & eGovernment Authority (iGA) to issue a birth certificate for his daughter, born in 2017, along with an ID card, and to register this in its official records.

He indicated that he had submitted a request to the defendant, iGA, to issue a birth certificate, but they refused to do so except by a court order.

The Court ruled to oblige the iGA to issue a birth certificate for the plaintiff's daughter and register it in its official records. However, it ruled that it lacked jurisdiction over the request to issue an ID card and referred it to the competent High Administrative Court.

Council of Representatives adopts timeshare bill to regulate property ownership and boost tourism he Council of Representatives, upon the recommendation of its Committee on Services, yesterday unanimously adopted a 36-article draft law that aims to regulate the activities associated with property timeshares.

TDT | Manama

In simple terms, a timeshare is understood to be a type of holiday abode whose proprietorship is fractioned amongst a consortium of purchasers.

Under this arrangement, the property's cost is apportioned between the owners, granting each a guaranteed period of occupancy annually. Timeshares are typically comprised of smaller accommodations within a more extensive resort complex.

The principal aim of the proposed legislation is to bolster the economic and commercial milieu within the Kingdom of Bahrain. It endeavours to stimulate investment within the realms of real estate and tourism.

The bill further introduces greater latitude in contract issuance and offers enhanced versatility in contractual dealings amongst stakeholders.

In addition, it institutes legal timeshares. safeguards to uphold the rights of all involved parties and delineates their obligations with precision.

Niclas Fuellkrug gave Borussia Dortmund a 1-0 win over Paris Saint-Germain in their Champions League semi-final first leg on Wednesday as the journeyman striker outshone superstar Kylian Mbappe on the night.
