attending the event. The Crown Prince conveyed greetings from HM King Hamad bin Isa Al Khalifa to both leaders, who in turn passed on their own wishes for Bahrain's continued growth. Discussions centred on the historic ties binding the three nations and the shared commitment to deepening multisectoral

In a separate meeting, HRH sat down with Tunku Ismail Ibni Sultan Ibrahim, Crown Prince of Johor, where the two reaffirmed the breadth of the Bahrain-Malaysia relationship. His Royal Highness credited the ongoing support of both HM King Hamad and Malaysia's King for strengthening joint coordination between the two countries, while also touching on regional and international developments of mutual interest during the discussion.

Taken together, the day's events marked more than a motorsport milestone – they underscored a web of royal relationships stretching
