Bahrain's longest-running community health campaign marked its 27th edition on Friday with a new digital touch and a strong turnout of donors honouring a tradition rooted in faith and public service.

The Imam Hussain (PBUH) Blood Donation Campaign, launched under the slogan 'Blood in Your Name', collected 64 blood bags on its women-only opening day, while the second day for men saw a significantly larger response.

Drive

Organised by the residents of Al-Naeem and the campaign's Supreme Committee, the drive continues to stand as a symbol of collective humanitarian action during Muharram.

Held in partnership with Al Hilal Healthcare Group for the second year, the campaign was hosted at the group's Manama Central branch.

Dr. Fadel Al-Nasheet, Chairman of the Supreme Organising Committee, expressed gratitude to the Ministry of Health for its ongoing support, particularly under the leadership of the minister, H.E. Dr. Jaleela bint Al-Sayed Jawad Hassan.

This year, a new digital appointment system was introduced to streamline the donation process.

Consultations

According to Al-Nasheet, the move followed consultations with local officials and civil society groups to improve donor access and operational efficiency.

Dr. Sharat Chandran, CEO of Al Hilal Healthcare Group, said the campaign reflects the true spirit of community partnership and has become a permanent fixture in the group's annual commitments.

Since 2000, the campaign has donated over 16,526 blood bags to the Central Blood Bank, cementing its legacy as one of Bahrain's most impactful grassroots health initiatives.

27 girls missing in deadly Texas flash floods

AFP | Hunt, USA

Rescuers searched yesterday for 27 girls missing from a riverside summer camp in the US state of Texas, after torrential rains caused devastating flooding that killed at least 27 people - with more rain on the way.

"So far, we've evacuated over 850 uninjured people, eight injured people and have recovered 27 deceased fatalities at this time," said Kerr County Sheriff Larry Leitha, adding that nine children were among the dead.

Addressing a press conference, Kerrville city official Dalton Rice said hundreds of people were taking part in rescue operations, which included ones conducted aurally by helicopter.

"One thing I want to tell you and assure y'all is that we will not stop till every single person is found," said Leitha.

Rain

The flooding began Friday as months' worth of rain fell in a matter of hours, causing the Guadalupe River to rise by 26 feet (eight meters) in 45 minutes.

The National Weather Service warned of more extremely heavy rain and "locally catastrophic" flash flooding to come in the region, located northwest of San Antonio.

Call for ceasefire

UN condemns Russia's series of drone attacks on Ukraine

● Civilians left dead

AFP | United Nations

UN Secretary General Antonio Guterres condemned yesterday Russia's biggest drone and missile attack yet in the three-year war in Ukraine. "The Secretary-General strongly condemns the latest series of large-scale drone and missile attacks by the Russian Federation," Guterres said in a statement referring to the assault Friday and also calling for a full, immediate and unconditional ceasefire.

Hours-long Russian bombardments sent Ukrainians scurrying for shelters across the country. AFP journalists in Kyiv heard drones buzzing over the capital and explosions ringing out throughout the night as Ukrainian air defence systems fended off the attack.

"The Secretary-General is alarmed by this dangerous escalation and the growing number of civilian casualties.

Attacks against civilians and civilian infrastructure are prohibited under international law and must stop immediately," said the statement issued by UN spokesman Stephane Dujarric.

Very unhappy

This came as US President Donald Trump said Friday he was "very unhappy" about his telephone call with Vladimir Putin on the war in Ukraine, saying the Russian leader just wanted to "keep killing people."

"It's a very tough situation. I told you I was very unhappy with my call with President Putin. He wants to go all the way, just keep killing people, it's no good," Trump told reporters aboard Air Force One.

Trump also hinted that he may finally be ready to toughen sanctions against Russia, having held off for the past six months while he tried to persuade Putin to end the war.

"We talk about sanctions a lot," Trump said. "He understands that it may be coming."

Feeding Faith

Restaurant focuses on majlis orders

As Bahrain marks the sacred days of Ashura, one restaurant is ensuring no mourner goes unfed.

The management of Maneesh Jubran announced that it will continue taking food orders for majlis gatherings and Hussein mourning rituals on the 9th and 10th of Muharram.

These services extend its outreach that began at the start of the Ashura season and reflect a commitment to serve during a time of deep cultural and spiritual reflection.

Branches Mobilised

Teams at the Jannusan and Ras Rumman branches have been working at full capacity to meet the surge in demand. Both branches have reported a rapid pace of operations throughout the week, with logistical teams mobilised to ensure timely readiness for scheduled deliveries.

Mr Hussein Shabib, Deputy Manager of the Jannusan branch, said the public's response has been overwhelming.

"We are proud of the high turnout, which reflects the spirit of giving and generosity within the community during this season," he said.

"We appreciate customers' trust and understanding of the operational conditions associated with the peak period. We continue to work to enhance the level of service and avoid any unintended delays."

Adjusted Operations

The restaurant also an-

nounced that its indoor dining halls will remain closed on the 9th and 10th of Muharram, with operations focused solely on food preparation and deliveries to mourning venues.

Orders are being coordinated directly with customers, who have been advised to call 17323217 to book slots or confirm requirements for majlis and funeral arrangements.

During Muharram, many Bahraini families organise free food distributions known as "mawakib," serving thousands of mourners daily at gatherings and processions.

Spirit of Service

The 9th and 10th of Muharram are among the most solemn dates in Bahrain's religious calendar.

Families often organise or support free food drives in honour of Imam Hussein's martyrdom, reinforcing traditions of selflessness and solidarity.

Maneesh Jubran's decision to dedicate its kitchens to the occasion positions the restaurant not just as a business, but as a cultural and community partner.

In a season rooted in sacrifice and remembrance, its gesture ensures nourishment and care continue without pause.

Youth Centres Urge Action

TDT | Manama

As Bahrain marked Arab Youth Day yesterday, youth leaders and centre representatives echoed a growing call for deeper participation in national strategy, highlighting youth as essential to the Kingdom's development model.

Fatima Al-Otaibi, Secretary of the Academic Excellence Authority, affirmed the organisation's commitment to linking high-performing students and nurturing innovation culture.

Inspired by the vision of His Highness Shaikh Nasser bin Hamad Al Khalifa, Representative of His Majesty the King for Humanitarian Work and Youth Affairs, she said the Authority supports excellence through incentive programmes, collaboration networks, and capacity-building initiatives.

Future

"Youth are the fuel of our future," she said.

Arab Youth Day, observed annually on July 5, is recognised

Representatives of local youth centres as a regional moment to reflect on young people's contributions to public life, entrepreneurship, and policy shaping.

In line with national direction, the occasion drew praise for the continued support of His Majesty King Hamad bin Isa Al Khalifa and His Royal Highness Prince Salman bin Hamad Al Khalifa, the Crown Prince and Prime Minister, particularly their encouragement of youth in leadership and governance roles.

According to statements released by the Bahrain News Agency, additional voices from local youth centres emphasised Bahrain's model for youth empowerment.

Dr. Rita Makki Al-Badr, said to chair the Women's and Medical Committee at the Shakhura Youth Empowerment Center, described her role as extending beyond medicine to include social awareness and empowerment.

Others, such as Fatima Al-Khalifa of Wahaj, Hassan Nasser Hassan of Salmabad, Rashid Bakhit Al Dosari of Zallaq, and Mohammed Sadiq Al-Adraj of AIESEC Bahrain, called for stronger youth engagement in policy, digital innovation, and regional development, BNA said.

From small community projects to bold national programmes, Bahraini youth are already in motion, building the future they want to live in.

Parliament weighs plan to redirect surplus budgets to public projects

Mohammed Darwish

Unused funds left over in government ministries would be redirected towards infrastructure and pensions under a new parliamentary proposal inspired by a visit to Singapore.

MP Basema Mubarak, who is backing the proposal, said the idea took root during a parliamentary trip to Singapore in February.

“We saw how they put unused money to work,” said Basema. “Instead of letting it sit in year-end accounts, why not use it to build and support what’s needed?”

Proposal

The proposal is now being examined by the Financial and Economic Affairs Committee in Parliament.

It calls for the creation of a dedicated fund to handle annual surpluses from ministries and public bodies.

The money would go towards development projects and pension support, with oversight by a panel made up of representatives from the Ministry of Finance, the National Audit Office and the Pension Fund.

MP Mubarak described the approach as clear and disciplined. “It gives people confidence that budget leftovers are being used properly, not lost in paperwork,” MP Mubarak.

The February visit gave MPs a close look at Singapore’s methods for managing public money and avoiding waste.

“We moved from observation to implementation,” said MP Mubarak. “It showed us what could be done if there’s a system in place.”

She said the law would improve how funds are handled, reduce reliance on borrowing and ease pressure on pension systems.

“It’s a practical step that helps meet today’s needs while easing tomorrow’s strain,” the lawmaker said.

State resources

According to the supporting documents, the law is expected to improve the use of state resources, help stalled projects move forward and make pension funds more stable.

It would reduce the need for future top-ups from the state budget and lessen uncertainty for retirees.

Tender to revive stray dog sterilisation drive

TDT | Manama

A new government tender is due this month to restart Bahrain’s stray dog sterilisation drive, after the campaign ground to a halt last year.

The Ministry of Municipalities Affairs and Agriculture plans to bring in veterinary contractors to carry out surgical procedures on stray dogs, with the aim of limiting their numbers in public areas.

The scheme, which first began in 2018, will centre on spaying and neutering, followed by tagging for identification and post-surgery care.

Surgery

The work will involve hiring veterinary teams, sourcing medical supplies, and running temporary shelters where the dogs will stay before and after surgery.

Tenders are to include a full plan for managing numbers humanely, with specific attention to the recovery of the animals once operated on.

The campaign was suspended around a year ago, though no reason has been given for the pause.

Intention

According to the ministry, the intention is to curb street dog populations, reduce the risk of disease, and improve overall hygiene in affected neighbourhoods.

OPEC+ to hike petrol output to 548,000 bpd in August

AFP | London, United Kingdom

Saudi Arabia, Russia and six other key members of the OPEC+ alliance yesterday said they would further increase oil output in August to 548,000 barrels per day.

Analysts had expected the alliance to decide on another output increase of 411,000 bpd -- the same target approved for May,

June and July.

The meeting comes after a 12-day conflict between Iran and Israel, which briefly sent prices above $80 a barrel amid concerns over a possible closing of the strategic Strait of Hormuz, a chokepoint for about one-fifth of the world's oil supply.

The wider OPEC+ group -- comprising the 12-nation Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) and its allies -- began output cuts in 2022 in a bid to prop up prices.

But in a policy shift, eight alliance members spearheaded by Saudi Arabia surprised markets by announcing they would significantly raise production from May, sending oil prices plummeting.

Oil prices have been hovering around a low $65-$70 per barrel.

Trump says ‘probably 12’ tariff letters being sent out tomorrow

● The tariffs were part of a broader announcement in April

● Countries have been pushing to strike deals

● Aboard Air Force One on Friday, Trump said sending notices would be much easier than “sitting down and working 15 different things.”

AFP | Morristown, United States

U.S. President Donald Trump said Friday that he had signed 12 trade letters to be sent out next week ahead of an impending deadline for his tariffs to take effect.

“I signed some letters and they’ll go out on Monday, probably 12,” Trump told reporters aboard Air Force One, adding that the countries that the letters would be sent to will be announced on the same day.

U.S. President Donald Trump displays a signed executive order imposing tariffs on imported goods during a “Make America Wealthy Again” trade announcement event in the Rose Garden at the White House in Washington, DC, on April 2, 2025

His comments come days before steeper duties -- which the president said Thursday would range between 10 and 70 percent -- are set to take effect on dozens of economies, from Taiwan to the European Union.

The tariffs were part of a broader announcement in April where Trump imposed a 10 percent duty on goods from almost all trading partners, with a plan to step up these rates for a select group within days.

But he swiftly paused the hikes until July 9, allowing for trade talks to take place.

Countries have been pushing to strike deals that would help them avoid these elevated duties.

So far, the Trump administration has unveiled deals with the United Kingdom and Vietnam, while Washington and Beijing agreed to temporarily lower staggeringly high levies on each other's products.

As his July 9 deadline approaches, Trump has repeatedly said he plans to inform countries of US tariff rates by sending them letters.

Aboard Air Force One on Friday, Trump said sending notices would be much easier than “sitting down and working 15 different things.”

He added: “You know, with the UK, we did that. And it was great for both parties. With China, we did that, and I think it’s very good for both parties.”

But he said it was “much easier to send a letter saying, ‘Listen, we know we have a certain deficit, or in some cases a surplus, but not too many. And... this is what you have to pay, if you want to do business (with) the United States.’”

Erdogan confident about US F-35 re-entry

Istanbul, Turkey

President Recep Tayyip Erdogan has expressed confidence Turkey would be readmitted to the US F-35 programme and receive the stealth fighter jets in line with “an agreement” with US President Donald Trump.

Washington booted Turkey out of its F-35 programme in 2019 and a year later imposed sanctions on Ankara over its purchase of an S-400 Russian surface-to-air missile defence system, but since Trump’s return to office, the two NATO allies appear keen to end the dispute.

BRICS nations to denounce Trump tariffs

Rio De Janeiro, Brazil

BRICS leaders meeting in Rio de Janeiro from today are expected to decry Donald Trump’s hardline trade policies, but are struggling to bridge divides over crises roiling the Middle East.

Emerging nations representing about half the world’s population and 40 percent of global economic output are set to unite over what they see as unfair US import tariffs, according to sources familiar with summit negotiations.

Since coming to office in January, Trump has threatened allies and rivals alike with a slew of punitive tariffs.

His latest salvo comes in the form of letters due to be sent starting Friday informing trading partners of new tariff rates expected next week on July 9.

Diplomats from 11 emerging nations, including Brazil, Russia, India, China and South Africa,

Malaysia's Prime Minister Anwar Ibrahim (L) speaks next to the president of the Brazilian Industry Conference, Ricardo Alban (2-L), Brazil's President Luiz Inacio Lula da Silva (3-L), and Brazil's Vice President and Minister of Industry and Trade Geraldo Alckmin during the BRICS Business Forum in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, have been busy drafting a statement condemning the economic uncertainty.

Any final summit declaration is not expected to mention the United States or its president by name. But it is expected to be a clear political shot directed at Washington.

“We’re anticipating a summit with a cautious tone: it will be difficult to mention the United States by name in the final declaration,” Marta Fernandez, director of the BRICS Policy Center at Rio’s Pontifical Catholic University said.

This is particularly the case for China, which has only recently negotiated with the US to lower steep tit-for-tat levies.

“This doesn’t seem to be the right time to provoke further friction” between the world’s two leading economies, Fernandez said.

Xi no show

Conceived two decades ago as a forum for fast-growing economies, the BRICS have come to be seen as a Chinese-driven counterbalance to Western power.

But the summit’s political punch will be depleted by the absence of China’s Xi Jinping, who is skipping the annual meeting for the first time in his 12 years as president.

“I expect there will be speculation about the reasons for Xi’s absence,” said Ryan Hass, a former China director at the US National Security Council who is now with the Brookings Institution think tank.

“The simplest explanation may hold the most explanatory power. Xi recently hosted Lula in Beijing,” said Hass.

The Chinese leader will not be the only notable absentee. War crime-indicted Russian President Vladimir Putin is also opting to stay away, but will participate via video link, according to the Kremlin.

Hass said Putin’s non-attendance and the fact that India’s prime minister will be a guest of honor in Brazil could also be factors in Xi’s absence.

“Xi does not want to appear upstaged by Modi,” who will receive a state lunch, he said.

As of 2024, the BRICS group (originally Brazil, Russia, India, China, and South Africa) accounts for more than 40% of the global population – over 3.2 billion people.

“I expect Xi’s decision to delegate attendance to Premier Li (Qiang) rests amidst these factors.”

Still, the Xi no-show is a blow to host President Luiz Inacio Lula da Silva, who wants Brazil to play a bigger role on the world stage.

Wanted: A tariff on thirst

CAPTAIN MAHMOOD AL MAHMOOD

With the mercury climbing and everybody advising us to stay hydrated, I think it is time to ponder over how much pollution we are generating when we quench our thirst. A very small percentage of people in Bahrain make it a habit to carry reusable water bottles and the first move is to buy a one-time use plastic bottle of water and discard it after it finishes. And where does the plastic go? To landfills and ultimately to our life-giving oceans. A big portion of the mismanaged or littered plastic waste globally comes from plastic bottles. It is estimated that 14% of littered waste actually stem from beverage containers and 8 million tons of plastic bottles enter our oceans every year, where they destroy marine life at every level. Each bottle can take up to one thousand years to decompose.

You have already heard of microplastics entering the bloodstream and affecting the organs – did you know this can happen simply by drinking from a heated plastic bottle which has been left in your car for a couple of days? What can we do to curb the plastic bottle waste issue? To begin with, the solution rests in our hands. Don't leave home without a simple reusable glass bottle or the popular brushed steel bottle of water which can sit in your car or backpack.

We need to get our lawmakers to mandate more public drinking water fountains and also start a movement where restaurants will allow anybody to fill their water bottle for free – this is done in Europe and the UK. The many restaurants in Bahrain should have water jugs and glasses on tables so customers can help themselves to free drinking water and not be forced to buy plastic bottles of it. We need shopping malls and supermarkets to not only stop handing out plastic shopping bags but incorporate recycling plastic bottle waste into their CSR. Maybe a rewards system where customers disposing a plastic bottle into a designated recycling container gets points and can spend it in the mall?

Finally, at fancy restaurants, I have found that many "branded" water bottles made of recyclable glass cost as much as a small side-dish while plastic bottles are cheaper. Could we please introduce some sanity into the water tariff and place a legal limit so that the public is not over-charged and chooses wisely?

(Captain Mahmood Al Mahmood is the Editor-in-Chief of The Daily Tribune and the President of the Arab-African Unity Organisation for Relief, Human Rights and Counterterrorism)

Hamas says ready for talks 'immediately'

Injured Palestinian children react as they arrive at a hospital following an Israeli strike in Gaza City in the central Gaza

● Two previous ceasefires mediated by Qatar, Egypt and the United States have seen temporary halts in fighting

● The latest proposal included "a 60-day truce"

● Another calls for Hamas to release half of the living Israeli captives in the Gaza Strip

AFP | Gaza City, Palestinian Territories

Israel was mulling its response yesterday after Hamas said it was ready to start talks "immediately" on a US-sponsored proposal for a Gaza ceasefire.

The security cabinet was expected to meet after the end of the Jewish sabbath at sundown to discuss Israel's next steps as Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu prepares to leave for Washington for talks on Monday with US President Donald Trump.

Trump has been making a renewed push for an end to nearly 21 months of war in Gaza, where the civil defence agency said 32 people were killed in Israeli military operations on Saturday.

"No decision has been made yet on that issue," an Israeli government official told AFP when asked about Hamas's positive response to the latest ceasefire proposal.

Gaza civil defence says 32 killed in Israeli operations

Palestinians inspect the damage after an Israeli strike in the Al-Bureij camp in the central Gaza Strip

AFP | Gaza City, Palestinian Territories

Gaza's civil defence agency said Israeli military operations killed 32 people across the war-battered territory on Saturday, the latest deaths in nearly 21 months of war.

Civil defence spokesman Mahmud Bassal said Saturday's dead included eight people killed in two strikes on schools in Gaza City.

Many Gazans have sought shelter in schools and other public buildings since the war began with Hamas's October 2023 attack on Israel.

Bassal also reported that eight people were killed by Israeli fire near an aid distribution centre in southern Gaza.

Contacted by AFP, the Israeli military said it could not comment on specific attacks without precise coordinates.

The latest strikes came hours after Hamas said it was ready to start talks "immediately" on a US-sponsored proposal for a Gaza ceasefire.

An Israeli official told AFP that "no decision has been made yet" when asked about Hamas's positive response to the latest ceasefire proposal.

Hamas made its announcement late Friday after holding consultations with other Palestinian factions.

"The movement is ready to engage immediately and seriously in a cycle of negotiations on the mechanism to put in place" the terms of the US-backed truce proposal, the militant group said in a statement.

Hamas ally Islamic Jihad said it supported ceasefire talks, but demanded "guarantees" that Israel "will not resume its aggression" once hostages held in Gaza are freed.

Trump, when asked about Hamas's response aboard Air Force One, said: "That's good. They haven't briefed me on it. We have to get it over with. We have to do something about Gaza."

The war in Gaza began with Hamas's October 2023 attack, which sparked a massive Israeli offensive aimed at destroying Hamas and bringing home all the hostages seized by Palestinian militants.

Two previous ceasefires mediated by Qatar, Egypt and the United States have seen temporary halts in fighting, coupled with the return of Israeli hostages in exchange for Palestinian prisoners.

Out of 251 hostages seized by Hamas during the October 2023 attack, 49 are still held in Gaza, including 27 the Israeli military says are dead.

Trump evokes Russia sanctions after largest assault on Ukraine

Hours-long Russian bombardments sent Ukrainians scurrying for shelters

● Ukraine has also ramped up its retaliatory strikes in Russia

● Trump said he and Putin talked about sanctions "a lot"

● US announced this week it was reducing some of its aid deliveries

AFP | Kyiv, Ukraine

US President Donald Trump said Russia just wanted to "keep killing people" and hinted at sanctions after Moscow launched its largest ever drone and missile attack on Ukraine in the three-year-old war.

Trump said Friday he was "very unhappy" about his telephone call with Russian leader Vladimir Putin, saying: "He wants to go all the way, just keep killing people, it's no good".

The US president said he and Putin talked about sanctions "a lot", adding: "He understands that it may be coming".

Hours-long Russian bombardments sent Ukrainians scurrying for shelters across the country and came after the call between Trump and Putin, which ended without a breakthrough.

AFP journalists in Kyiv heard drones buzzing over the firefighters working on a fire at a site of a strike following a mass Russian drone and missile attack on the Ukraine's capital Kyiv capital and explosions ringing out throughout the night as Ukrainian air defence systems fended off the attack.

Ukraine's President Volodymyr Zelensky also spoke to Trump Friday and said they agreed to work on bolstering Kyiv's defences.

"We spoke about opportunities in air defence and agreed that we will work together to strengthen protection of our skies," Zelensky said on social media after the call.

Tymur, a Kyiv resident who said he had experienced previous Russian attacks, told AFP that the assault in the early hours of Friday felt different from others.

In Kyiv, concerns mounted over whether the US would continue delivering military aid, which is key to Ukraine's ability to fend off the drone and missile barrages.

The US announced this week it was reducing some of its aid deliveries.

European Commission President Ursula von der Leyen said this was a clear signal that the 27-nation European Union needed to "step up".

Ukraine has also ramped up its retaliatory strikes in Russia, where a woman was killed by a Ukrainian drone attack overnight, the acting governor of the Rostov region said.

Talks, spearheaded by the United States to secure a cease-fire, have stalled.

Delegations from the two sides last met more than a month ago, when they agreed to exchange 1,000 prisoners each.

Russia announced a fresh swap of prisoners of war with Ukraine on Friday as part of that agreement.

At least 13 dead, 20 missing in Texas flash flood

A member of the public stands next to overturned vehicles and broken trees after flooding caused by a flash flood at the Guadalupe River in Kerrville, Texas

AFP | Houston, United States

At least 13 people were dead after flash flooding hit south-central Texas early Friday, officials said, with more than 20 girls at a summer camp still unaccounted for.

"We have identified 13 fatalities," Kerr County Sheriff Larry Leitha told a press conference after devastating floods swept through the region northwest of San Antonio, warning more casualties were likely.

Some of the dead were children, Texas Lieutenant Governor Dan Patrick said.

"About 23" girls were unaccounted for from Camp Mystic along the Guadalupe River, which rose 26 feet (eight meters) in 45 minutes overnight, Patrick added.

"That does not mean they've been lost, they could be in a tree, they could be out of communication," he said.

Patrick read out a message from the director of the summer camp, which had some 750 campers over the July 4 holiday weekend, reporting that it had "sustained catastrophic level of flooding."

"We have no power, water or Wi-Fi," the message said.

Massive rescue efforts

Kerrville resident Leighton Sterling watches flood waters along the Guadalupe River were underway to search for the missing girls, with trucks reaching the campsite to start bringing out people on Friday evening, according to US media.

State and local officials warned against residents traveling to the area, which includes camp grounds dotted along the river, as dozens of roads remain "impassable."

Videos on social media showed houses and trees swept away by the flash flood caused by heavy overnight rainfall of up to 12 inches -- one-third of Kerr County's average annual rainfall.

Texas Governor Greg Abbott shared a video on X of a victim being plucked from the top of a tree by a rescuer dangling from a helicopter, as floodwaters raged below.

Xiaomi to focus on China EV market until 2027

TDT | Manama

Chinese smartphone giant-turned-EV maker Xiaomi will not expand its car sales beyond China before 2027, CEO Lei Jun revealed during a livestream this week. Lei said the company's immediate priority is to meet strong domestic demand for its electric vehicles, particularly the SU7 sedan and the newly launched YU7 SUV.

The SU7 has consistently outsold the Tesla Model 3 in China every month since its launch in December, while the YU7 received a surge of orders within the first 18 hours of going on sale last week. Following the overwhelming demand for the YU7, Xiaomi informed buyers they may need to wait over a year for delivery — a move that triggered a wave of customer frustration and complaints. When asked about the extended wait times, Lei Jun offered a brief response: “We’ll strive to ramp up capacity,” he said.

Gill hits record-breaking ton

Sets England mammoth 608 to win Test

AFP | Birmingham, United Kingdom

India captain Shubman Gill became the first batsman in Test history to make scores of 250 and 150 in the same match as the tourists set England a mammoth target of 608 to win in Birmingham yesterday.

Gill followed his first-innings 267 in the second Test at Edgbaston with another superb knock of 161 off just 162 balls. He eventually declared India's second-innings on 427-6 after tea on the fourth day.

No side in 148 years of Test cricket have made more to win in the fourth innings than West Indies' 418 against Australia at St John's in 2003.

England's record is their 378 against India at Edgbaston three years ago.

By taking his tally in this match to 430 runs, the 25-year-old Gill became only the fifth batsman to score 400 or more runs in single Test.

Gill, thrust into the captaincy following Rohit Sharma's shock retirement from Test duty in May, has scored three hundreds in his first four innings as skipper following his 147 during India's defeat in the first Test at Headingley.

He was ably assisted earlier Saturday by Rishabh Pant, who made England pay dearly for dropping him twice with a typically dashing 65 during a fourth-wicket partnership of 110 in just 103 balls.

Gill was 24 not out at lunch, with Pant unbeaten on 41.

Tongue lashing

Yet it was Gill who got to fifty first as he showed he could up the tempo by hitting fast bowler Josh Tongue for three consecutive boundaries.

A superb hooked six was followed by a swiped four over mid-on in almost Pant-like fashion before Gill's scorching pull sped through England captain Ben Stokes, who got a hand to the ball but could not stop it.

Gill, batting in the number four slot previously occupied by India star Virat Kohli, who retired just days after Rohit, hooked another six off Tongue.

Pant went to fifty before

Match position: England set 608 to win

India's captain Shubman Gill reacts to reaching his century on day four of the second cricket test match between England and India at Edgbaston cricket ground in Birmingham, central England playing a good length ball from Tongue for a six and his trademark falling sweep shot led to a four against off-spinner Shoaib Bashir.

But next ball trying to launch Bashir, he lost control of his bat, which flew to midwicket while the ball went to deep mid-off -- where Ben Duckett made no mistake with the catch.

Pant faced just 58 balls, including eight fours and three sixes.

After tea, Gill piled on the runs with a brilliant straight six and two fours off consecutive balls from local hero Chris Woakes.

The India skipper then slog-swept part-time off-spinner Joe Root for six to go to 150 in superb style.

There was a comical moment next ball when Ollie Pope, with sunglasses on top of his cap rather than over his eyes, lost sight of a chance in the deep.

Gill's brilliant display finally ended when he spooned a simple return catch to Bashir, having hit 13 fours and eight sixes in his latest masterclass.

Bahrain bow out

Women's Asian Cup Qualifiers ends with another heavy defeat

Bahrain's Leleya Sabkar (L) challenges Lin Lae O (R)

● Myanmar scored three times in each half

● Bahrain finish bottom of Group C

Hussain Al Maskati
TDT | Manama

Bahrain's AFC Women's Asian Cup qualifying campaign came to a punishing close yesterday, losing 6-0 to Myanmar at Thuwunna Stadium in Yangon. The result was Bahrain's second heavy defeat of the qualifiers, following a 7-0 loss to group winners Bangladesh in their opening match.

Bahrain had already been out of the running for qualification following a 2-2 draw with Turkmenistan last Wednesday, but Myanmar, playing at home, showed no signs of mercy.

Myanmar Turn On the Style Myanmar broke the deadlock in the 39th minute after a quick build-up ended with a simple finish from close range. Shwe Yee Tun latched onto a squared pass after a teammate dribbled past Rawan Al Ali, leaving the Bahraini defender on the turf. Just two minutes later, Tun added her second, this time with a low header from a dangerous delivery.

Khin Mo Mo Tun made it three before halftime, easing past two defenders and smashing her effort into the roof of the net. Despite some halftime adjustments, Bahrain's defensive woes continued. Myanmar's fourth was a thunderous strike from distance by Win Theingi Tun in the 52nd minute, a shot Bahrain keeper Khulood Adam will be disappointed to have let in. Five minutes later, a flowing team move ended with Nang Phyu Phyu Thwe tapping in Myanmar's fifth. In the 73rd minute, Win Win added a sixth — given time and space, she calmly picked her spot in the bottom left corner.

The loss leaves Bahrain at the bottom of Group C, behind Turkmenistan, Myanmar, and group winners Bangladesh, who booked the group's only qualifying ticket to the 2026 AFC Women's Asian Cup in Australia.

Tough Campaign

Speaking after the match, Bahrain's fullback Farah Khaled acknowledged the challenge: "We know we didn't perform at our best, but our young teammates still need experience, and that's okay because it means we're growing. So please be patient with us, and inshAllah we will raise your heads and make Bahrainis proud."

Captain Hessa Al Isa also shared her thoughts: "We hope our supporters keep believing in us and understand that we have young players still developing."

Bahrain's tournament ended with one point from three games, having previously drawn 2-2 with Turkmenistan, salvaged only by Hessa Al Isa's 95th-minute equaliser.

Japan's women's national team — Nadeshiko Japan — holds a unique distinction in football history. They are the only nation to have won both the AFC Women's Asian Cup and the FIFA Women's World Cup

Bangladesh hold nerve to level ODI

Colombo, Sri Lanka

Bangladesh held their nerve in a nail-biting finish to clinch a 16-run win over Sri Lanka in the second ODI at Colombo on Saturday, squaring the three-match series at 1-1.

Chasing 249, Sri Lanka were down in the dumps at 170-8.

A fighting 78 by Janith Liyanage brought the hosts back from the brink and set hearts racing in the packed stands.

Needing 27 off the final three overs, Liyanage lofted the first ball of the 48th over into the stands, reducing the equation to 21 off 20 and sending the Colombo crowd into jubilation. But the joy was short-lived.

Mustafizur Rahman slipped in a clever off-cutter next ball that Liyanage spooned straight back for a return catch.

That proved the turning point, as Bangladesh wrestled back control and closed out a hard-fought win.

If there was one man who turned the tide for the visitors, it was Tanvir Islam.

The left-arm spinner, playing just his second ODI, rebounded from a torrid start to produce career-best figures of 5-39 -- a match-winning spell that derailed Sri Lanka's chase.

Tanvir had a rude welcome to the R Premadasa Stadium as Kusal Mendis took him to the cleaners early on.

His first two overs went for 22 runs, including a 17-run second over where Mendis cut, drove and pulled with disdain. Mendis brought up his half-century in just 20 balls -- the fastest ODI fifty at the venue, surpassing Thisara Perera's 23-ball effort against England in 2014.

The ‘Max’ Formula

Shining Verstappen shades Piastri for pole at Silverstone

AFP | Silverstone, United Kingdom

Max Verstappen produced one of the finest and fastest qualifying laps of his career on Saturday to seize pole position for Sunday’s British Grand Prix and demonstrate why he is the hottest property in Formula One.

The four-time world champion was struggling with a strong wind and cool and damp conditions after choosing a low down-force set-up that trimmed his wings but enabled higher speed on the straights.

Before his final run of a tense and closely-fought qualifying hour, Verstappen was two-tenths slower than McLaren’s championship leader Oscar Piastri, but the Dutchman powered to a fastest lap of one minute and 24.892 seconds to beat the Australian by 0.103 seconds.

“You went motor racing Max!” said his race engineer Gianpiero Lambiase, his deadpan delivery hiding Red Bull’s delight as the team fight to find the performance that will ensure their star driver stays with them next year.

The 27-year-old Dutchman, who has declared he wants to stay, has been linked with Mercedes, whose team boss Toto Wolff has confirmed making contact. Unconfirmed Italian media reports this week claimed Verstappen had agreed to the move. Verstappen did his talking on the track, claiming his third pole at Silverstone and the 44th of the career with a virtuoso lap to keep alive faint hopes of defending his drivers’ title in the second half of the season.

Weather permitting, a third British victory would help him trim his 61-point deficit to Piastri but if it rains, as forecast, Verstappen’s set-up might leave him vulnerable to his rivals including Lando Norris, in the second McLaren, who is 15 points behind Piastri in the title race and third on the grid.

“The changes helped a lot and the car definitely turned in better,” said Verstappen. “On my last lap, it all came together and the balance was much better and we were fast on the straights, but the high-speed corners were more difficult.

“We are pushing for more performance. It was tricky out there with the wind as the car is so sensitive to it. We have to wait to see what tomorrow will do and if there’s rain around or not.

“I’m happy with qualifying. It’s a big boost for the team as well and I’m excited to go racing tomorrow. We’ll try! We are going to have fun and try to do the best we can.”

good...but I left a little bit on the table.”

“It’s tough, especially when you think it’s a good lap. You don’t want to overdo it and try and go over the limit. There were a couple of corners where maybe I was a bit safe on the way in and tried to make up for it on the way out and it didn’t quite work.”

Norris was third in the second McLaren, a tenth adrift.

“It was tough,” Norris said. “We are not just fast enough today, but it’s all good fun and I am happy with third. Credit to Max, he did a great job. It’s going to be fun tomorrow, a good battle.”

George Russell was next in a Mercedes. The Ferraris of seven-time champion Lewis Hamilton and Charles Leclerc filled the third row.

Kimi Antonelli was seventh fastest in the second Mercedes but suffered a three-place penalty.

Ollie Bearman was eighth for Haas but collected a 10-place grid penalty.

Wimbledon champion Krejcikova crashes out, Sinner into last 16

AFP | London, United Kingdom

Barbora Krejcikova made a tearful Wimbledon exit as the defending champion crashed to a three-set defeat against Emma Navarro, while men’s top seed Jannik Sinner crushed Pedro Martinez to reach the last 16 on Saturday.

Krejcikova appeared to be struggling with injury as she wept in the closing stages of the third-round clash on Court One.

Navarro took advantage to cause the latest upset in the women’s tournament following the exits of five of the top six seeds.

Krejcikova had to fight back from a set down to beat rising star Alexandra Eala in the first round before another tense three-set win over Caroline Dolehide in the second round.

There would be no dramatic escape for Krejcikova this time, with the 17th seed’s fitness problems finally catching up with her against American 10th seed Navarro.

Krejcikova, a two-time Grand Slam champion, has endured a difficult time since defeating Italy’s Jas - mine Paolini in the Wimbledon final last year, having played just six matches this season prior to returning to the All England Club this week.

She was out of action until May after suffering a back injury and lost in the second round of the French Open.

Krejcikova also pulled out of the recent Eastbourne Open before the quarter-finals with a thigh problem.

“It was really tough out here today. Probably neither of us played our best tennis. I know she was dealing with some injuries at times,” Navarro said.

Earlier, Sinner took just one hour and 55 minutes to demolish 52nd-ranked Martinez 6-1, 6-3, 6-1 in a Centre Court masterclass, though the Spaniard was struggling with a shoulder issue.

The 23-year-old will face Bulgarian 19th seed Grigor Dimitrov, a straight-sets winner over Austria’s Sebastian Ofner, in the fourth round.

Sinner has lost just 17 games across his first three matches at this year’s tournament, in contrast to defending champion Carlos Alcaraz, who has shown patchy form en route to the last 16.

century

Later on Centre Court, Novak Djokovic will resume his bid for a record-breaking 25th Grand Slam crown as he eyes a 100th Wimbledon win.

The seven-time champion, locked with the long-retired Margaret Court on 24 majors, is aiming to reach the fourth round for the 17th time in his 20th appearance at Wimbledon. A third-round clash against Serbian Davis Cup teammate Miomir Kecmanovic will hold few fears for the sixth seed, who has not lost against his 49th-ranked compatriot in three previous meetings.

If Djokovic beats Kecmanovic he will reach a century of victories at the All England Club, a feat only surpassed by eight-time champion Roger Federer, who won 105 times, and Martina Navratilova, who chalked up 120 victories.

Djokovic’s first Wimbledon win came against Argentinian Juan Monaco 20 years ago, when Kecmanovic was aged just five.

Former Wimbledon champion Elena Rybakina made a surprise exit, losing to Denmark’s Clara Tauson 7-6 (8/6), 6-3.

Rybakina, the Kazakh 11th seed, won her maiden Grand Slam title at Wimbledon in 2022 and reached the semi-finals last year. But the 26-year-old’s hopes of another strong run were ended by 2ww3rd-seeded Tauson in the third round. Iga Swiatek, a five-time Grand Slam champion, reached the fourth round with a 6-2, 6-3 rout of American Danielle Collins.

At Wimbledon, it’s tradition to enjoy strawberries and cream – and it’s taken very seriously. Each year, the tournament serves up more than 38,000 kg (over 83,000 pounds) of strawberries, paired with around 10,000 litres of cream.
