Annual VAT col-lection-rose by around 10.2%

to BD 603m in 2024, from BD 547m in 2022., according to figures released by the National Bureau for Revenue (NBR).

The data was disclosed in a parliamentary reply to MP Abdulwahid Qarata.

The bureau said VAT in Bah-rain is administered through a fully digital system, covering registration, return filing and payments.

The largest share of VAT re-venue came from the wholesale and retail trade sector, followed by financial and insurance ac-tivities, accommodation and food services, infor-mation and communications, professional, scientific and technical activi-ties, and administrative and support services.

The NBR noted that several sectors are zero-rated, includ-ing healthcare services, medi-cines and medical equipment, education, domestic and inter-national transport, and serv-ices related to the construction of new properties. Many basic food items also fall under the zero-rated category.

It added that the sale and lease of residential and com-mercial real estate are exempt from VAT, while sovereign gov-ernment services provided by state entities fall outside the scope of the tax.

Examples of zero-rated or exempt items include 94 basic food products, healthcare and education services, medi-cines and medical equipment, construction services for new properties, the sale and lease of homes and commercial units, precious stones, invest-ment-grade gold, silver and platinum, core financial serv-ices, oil and natural gas, and local and international transport.
