Tom Holland 'taking a year off' from acting

Celebretainment | Los Angeles

Tom Holland is taking a year off work.

The 27-year-old actor served as a producer and starred in the psychological thriller 'The Crowded Room' but admitted that the project was so intense that he now has to take an extended break out of the spotlight.

He told US TV show 'Extra':

"I love the learning curve of becoming a producer. I'm no stranger to hard work. I've always sort of lived by this idea that hard work is good work. I really enjoyed it, but then again, the show did break me. There did come a time where I was sort of like, 'I need to have a break.' I disappeared. I went to Mexico for a week and had some time on a beach. And I'm now taking a year off, and that is a result of how difficult this show was."

The 'Spiderman: No Way Home' star - who started his career as a child actor when he took on the tirole in 'Billy Elliot: The Musical' in London's West End - went on to explain that during his time away from the world of film, he has just been enjoying spending time with family and indulging in leisure activities such as golf.

He said: "I've done a little bit of travelling, I had an amazing time. I've been seeing my family. I've been seeing my friends. I've been playing golf. I've been, you know, going to the garden center and buying plants and doing my best to keep them alive and all that sort of stuff."

Harrison Ford admits to clashing with Brad Pitt on 'The Devil's Own' set

Harrison Ford admits to clashing with Brad Pitt
Fox | Los Angeles

Harrison Ford admitted to clashing with Brad Pitt over creative differences on the set of their 1997 movie 'The Devil's Own.'

Over the years, the 80-year-old actor has alluded to experiencing difficulties while filming the Alan J. Pakula-directed action thriller. In a new interview with Esquire, the '1923' star was asked if he recalled why the movie was hard for him to shoot.

"Heh. Yeah, I remember why," Ford told the outlet. "Brad developed the script. Then they offered me the part. I saved my comments about the character and the construction of the thing - I admired Brad.

First of all, I admire Brad. I think he's a wonderful actor. He's a really decent guy. But we couldn't agree on a director until we came to Alan Pakula, who I had worked with before but Brad had not."

Pakula was the director and co-writer of Ford's 1990 legal thriller 'Presumed Innocent.' "The Devil's Own" would become Pakula's last directorial project before he died in a 1998 car accident at the age of 70.

In "The Devil's Own," Ford played Irish-American NYPD Sergeant Tom O'Meara while the "Babylon" star portrayed Frankie McGuire, an IRA terrorist who comes to the United States to procure anti-aircraft missiles.

Tom Cruise 'would love to meet someone special' after three failed marriages

IAN S | Los Angeles

Hollywood star Tom Cruise has been married to Hollywood stars Mimi Rogers, Nicole Kidman and Katie Holmes, with the actor most recently being romantically linked to Shakira.

The unlikely pair met at the Formula 1 Grand Prix and while it seems Tom was "very interested in pursuing" the singer, she wasn't so keen, reports mirror.co.uk.

A source has revealed Tom's friends have now given him some dating advice as he searches for "the one."

The comments come after it was revealed Shakira "begged" Tom to "stop flirting with her" as the situation became "too much" for her following her painful split with Gerard Pique.
