Kelly Clarkson emotional on talk show return

HM King hails Gaza ceasefire as step towards regional peace

TDT | Manama

His Majesty King Hamad bin Isa Al Khalifa yesterday welcomed the agreement to end the war in Gaza, describing it as a positive step toward security, stability, and advancing the peace process in the region.

In a congratulatory message to US President Donald Trump, HM reiterated Bahrain's support for efforts to consolidate peace and strengthen international cooperation to ensure a secure and stable future for the region's peoples.

His Majesty also expressed appreciation for President Trump's role in achieving the agreement and commended his leadership in launching this historic initiative.

UK, France, Germany aim to restart Iran nuclear talks

London, United Kingdom

Britain, France and Germany will seek to restart stalled nuclear talks with Iran and the United States, the three European countries said in a joint statement yesterday.

Iran has said that, following those revived sanctions, it would not immediately resume nuclear talks.

UK ex-PM Sunak lands roles at Microsoft, Anthropic

London, United Kingdom

Former British prime minister Rishi Sunak will take senior advisory roles at Microsoft and AI startup Anthropic, a UK government document said Thursday. At Microsoft, he will serve part-time, providing strategic insights on macroeconomic and geopolitical trends, according to the advisory body for former senior officials.

Bahrain backs Gaza ceasefire, HRH praises US role

US Secretary of State hold talks with HRH CP, PM

TDT | Manama

His Royal Highness Prince Salman bin Hamad Al Khalifa, the Crown Prince and Prime Minister, yesterday reaffirmed Bahrain's support for the agreement reached to end the war in Gaza during a telephonic conversation with Marco Rubio, the United States Secretary of State.

During the call from Rubio, His Royal Highness expressed both His Majesty King Hamad bin Isa Al Khalifa's and his own gratitude to President Donald Trump for his unwavering support for peace in the Middle East and his direct role in securing this landmark agreement.

HRH Prince Salman also underscored the importance of all parties to the conflict honouring their commitments and responsibilities to ensure full implementation of the agreement.

Further, His Royal Highness commended the efforts of the mediators, whose contributions were instrumental in bringing the agreement to fruition.

The strength of Bahrain-US relations was highlighted, with both sides noting that the partnership continues to deepen through strategic cooperation and joint agreements, particularly the recent Comprehensive Security Integration and Prosperity Agreement (C-SIPA).

His Royal Highness concluded by reaffirming the mutual commitment to further enhance the bilateral partnership in support of shared goals and aspirations.

India to upgrade Afghan mission to full embassy

New Delhi, India

India will upgrade its technical mission in Afghanistan to a full embassy, Foreign Minister Subrahmanyam Jaishankar said yesterday, as he met his counterpart from Kabul in New Delhi.

India had a large embassy in the Afghan capital until the Taliban takeover, when they withdrew most diplomats and downgraded the facility to a technical mission.

"I am pleased to announce today the upgrading of India's Technical Mission in Kabul to the status of Embassy of India," Jaishankar told Amir Khan Muttaqi.

Thousands of displaced Palestinians began to trek home as Israeli forces declared a ceasefire and withdrew from some positions in Gaza

Israel begins Gaza pullback as thousands head home

Israel completes first phase of Gaza withdrawal: US envoy, citing Pentagon

TDT | agencies

Israel declared a ceasefire and started pulling back troops in Gaza yesterday, as thousands of displaced Palestinians began to trek back to their wrecked homes.

After two years of brutal war, the families of Israel's remaining hostages in the territory were also hoping the truce -- pushed by US President Donald Trump -- would hold.

The Israeli army said its troops had ceased fire at noon (0900 GMT) "in preparation for the ceasefire agreement and the return of hostages".

Three hours later, the US Pentagon confirmed Israel had completed the first phase of a pullback laid out in Trump's peace plan. Israeli forces still hold around 53 percent of the Palestinian territory.

The withdrawal set the clock running on a 72-hour deadline for Hamas to release the remaining hostages held in Gaza.

Israel, meanwhile, published the list of the 250 Palestinian prisoners it plans to release -- along with 1,700 Gazans detained since Hamas triggered the latest conflict on October 7, 2023, with a brutal cross-border assault. As the ceasefire began, long columns of Palestinians, exhausted by two years of intense bombardment and what the UN has warned were famine conditions, began a trek back from the southern city of Khan Yunis towards their shattered homes further north.

The EU mission at the Rafah border point between Gaza and Egypt will be reopening a pedestrian crossing on October 14, Italy said.

Under the ceasefire deal, Hamas will hand over 47 hostages -- living and dead -- still held from the 251 abducted during the attack two years ago. The remains of one more hostage, held in Gaza since 2014, are also expected to be returned.

Gaza's civil defence agency confirmed that Israeli troops and armoured vehicles were pulling back from forward positions in both Gaza City and Khan Yunis.

But Israel warned some areas were still off-limits and that Palestinians should steer clear of its forces while they are "in the midst of adjusting operational positions in the Gaza Strip".

Despite celebrations in Israel and Gaza and a flood of congratulatory messages from world leaders, many issues remain unresolved, including Hamas's disarmament and a proposed transitional authority for Gaza led by Trump.

Trump said the issue of Hamas surrendering its weapons would be addressed in the second phase of the peace plan.

Qatar says success of Gaza truce's first phase a 'collective responsibility'

Doha, Qatar

Qatar's prime minister, a key mediator in the Hamas-Israel conflict, said Friday that the success of the first phase of the ceasefire agreement was a collective responsibility.

"The success of this phase is a collective responsibility to ensure that the agreement is implemented and to achieve peace and stability," said Qatari Premier and Foreign Minister Sheikh Mohammed bin Abdulrahman Al Thani in a statement on X.

Gaza civil defence says 55 bodies recovered as Israeli forces pull back

Nuseirat, Palestinian Territories

Gaza's civil defence agency said more than 50 bodies were recovered from the wreckage and brought to hospitals across the territory yesterday.

Mohammed al-Mughayyir, an official within the rescue force that operates under Hamas authority, said at least 55 bodies had been retrieved.

The director of Al-Shifa Hospital, Mohammed Abu Salmiya, told AFP that 33 of the bodies were brought to hospitals across Gaza City.

‘Ali Bahar Night’ fills the theatre and the Soul

Ashen Tharaka
TDT | Manama

It was more than a concert — it was a homecoming for the soul of Bahraini music. The Bahrain National Theatre came alive last night as the Bahrain Philharmonic Orchestra, under the masterful baton of Maestro Mubarak Najeeb, presented the highly anticipated encore of “Ali Bahar Night.”

The audience, a sea of emotion and admiration, filled every seat — a reflection of how deeply the late Ali Bahar still resonates with the nation’s heart.

Tickets for this extra performance had vanished in record time, gone within three hours of release, proving that Bahar’s voice, even years after his passing, still calls people together.

From the moment the first note echoed through the hall, nostalgia swept over the crowd. Familiar melodies — once heard on radios, at family gatherings, and along the Bahraini coastline — returned transformed, elevated by sweeping orchestral arrangements that carried both reverence and renewal. Under Dr. Mubarak Najeeb’s direction, Bahar’s songs gained new color — strings danced, brass soared, and percussion pulsed with the rhythm of Bahraini pride.

Each piece drew thunderous applause. Some in the audience smiled through tears; others swayed gently, caught between memory and melody. It was as if the spirit of Ali Bahar himself hovered above the stage — guiding, blessing, and singing through every note.

Cost-of-Living allowance rules under review to reassess ‘Actual Income’

Mohammed Darwish
TDT | Manama

BD1,000 income cap and ‘single CR’ rule for Bahrain’s cost-of-living allowance are under review, with ministers re-measuring ‘actual income’, especially for the self-employed.

In a written reply to Parliament, Minister of Parliamentary Affairs Ghanim Al Buainain said the review looks at how eligibility is set so support reaches those who qualify while keeping social aims and the public purse in balance. The work centres on how ‘actual income’ is defined for people whose earnings vary and may not be captured by the current tests.

Current rules were agreed by the executive and legislature in 2013 and have been used since. Support goes to every Bahraini head of household on BD1,000 or less. The allowance is split into three income bands. Beneficiaries may hold one commercial registration.

On 20 December 2021 the Cabinet raised the allowance for low-income groups by 10 per cent. The present review, run with the relevant bodies, seeks clearer and fairer ways to gauge income across different groups, including free-profession workers.

While the reply stops short of backing the motion outright, the government says it agrees with its aims and is finishing a technical study that takes in all related factors, including sharper tests for ‘actual income’. Any changes are meant to improve how the scheme works and better match support to people’s circumstances.

The reply closes by saying the government will keep working with MPs to meet citizens’ expectations and uphold social justice within a wider plan for steady economic and social progress.

Bahrain, Kuwait agree BHD 85.4m deal for Shaikh Jaber Highway upgrade

Deal part of Phase two project

● Scheme runs to late 2031

● Adds five flyovers along an 11-kilometre stretch

● The works widen the highway from three to four lanes

Mohammed Darwish
TDT | Manama

A KWD 70 million (BHD 85.4 million) finance plan has been agreed between

Bahrain's government and the

The scheme, which runs un-

Kuwait Fund for Arab Economic Development to fund Phase Two of the Shaikh Jaber Al-Ahmed Al-Sabah Highway upgrade.

Parliament is set to debate the framework next week.

til late 2031, includes the construction of five flyovers along an 11-kilometre stretch.

The funding will be provided as seven annual loans of KWD 10 million each, spread across the fiscal years 2024/25 to 2030/31.

The works will widen the highway from three to four lanes in both directions and include the construction of five bridges above existing junctions. Each bridge will be about 18 metres wide, with a combined length of 850 metres.

Salman Al-Fateh Road, which branches from the highway, will be expanded to four lanes over a two-kilometre section, about 18 metres wide in each direction. Four at-grade intersections will be added. Six service-road links, totalling about six kilometres on both sides of the highway, will serve nearby showrooms and commercial and administrative buildings.

Construction will also include storm-water drainage, lighting, safety features and environmental works, such as planting and streetscape improvements along both roads. Consultancy services will review detailed designs and supervise project delivery.

The programme is divided into four parts: land acquisition; preparatory works to relocate and protect underground services; civil works for roads and bridges; and consultancy. The widened highway will measure about 19.2 metres in each direction.

The project aims to ease travel and freight movement between the Southern and Capital Governnorates, shorten journey times, reduce accidents, and lower vehicle operating and maintenance costs.

As of end-2023, Bahrain's road network had about 4,622 km of paved roads, with approximately 25% of that built since 2019.

No 35-year housing loans

30-year limit stays as authorities prioritise financial stability and family support

Mohammed Darwish
TDT | Manama

Thirty-five-year housing terms are off the table, the government says, sticking to a 30-year limit and a 25 per cent income cap on monthly instalments.

In a written reply to Parliament, Minister of Parliamentary Affairs Ghanim Al Buainain said longer loans would add costs to the housing scheme and weaken its ability to keep supplying homes. The reply said the present set-up already eases pressure on families while keeping the scheme sound.

Decision No. 909 of 2015, as amended, sets who qualifies for housing services and how to get them. It caps monthly payments at 25 per cent of income over 25 years. Salaries are reviewed every two years so instalments move with any change in pay, up or down, with deductions limited to 25 per cent of salary or the fixed amount in the contract, whichever is lower. Since 2017, unit prices have been fixed and the monthly payment on those units has been capped at BD199.

Decision No. 868 of 2022 covers financing services. It keeps the housing-finance instalment within 25 per cent of the head of household's income unless the bank agrees otherwise, with repayment periods of up to 30 years.

Under the Mazaya programme, banks set the term under their own lending rules. The state covers the gap between the bank's instalment and the set slice of the beneficiary's income. In coordination with participating banks, the latest Mazaya design already allows repayment over up to 30 years.

The reply also notes that the true cost of each unit is higher than the amount charged to families because the Housing Bank pays more to raise funds than the rate passed on to end users. That spread, it said, supports the scheme's aim of providing suitable homes for those who qualify while keeping its finances steady.

On that basis, the government said it cannot carry out the proposal to extend terms to 35 years. It added that it will continue to work with Parliament in the country's interest.

Ride electric, but lawfully

Authorities step up campaigns to curb electric scooter violations on main streets

TDT | Manama

Do not ride electric scooters on main roads, vehicle lanes, or sidewalks.

The General Traffic Department issued this warning, citing the extreme danger such use poses to cyclists, other road users, and overall traffic flow.

The department has also stepped-up field campaigns to crack down on violations related to the use of electric bicycles and scooters.

Common offences include riding on sidewalks, ignoring traffic signals, exceeding speed limits, carrying passengers, and failing to wear helmets.

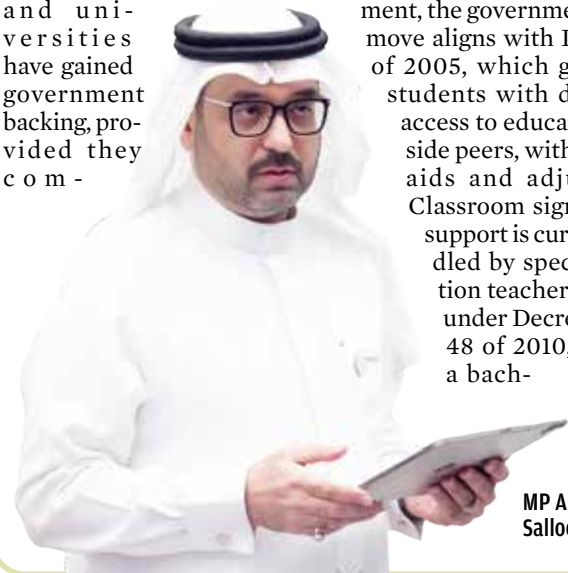

Officials point out that while electric scooters provide a convenient and eco-friendly mode of transport, improper use creates significant safety hazards.

Traffic Law, issued by Decree-Law No. 23 of 2014, emphasizes the application of legal controls to all modes of transportation, including electric bicycles, and mandates the taking of necessary legal measures against violators to ensure road safety.

Government backs trained sign-language interpreters for deaf students

TDT | Manama

Sign-language interpreters for deaf students in Bahrain's schools and universities have gained government backing, provided they complete approved training, building on existing arrangements in specialist staffing and higher-education rules.

In a written reply to Parliament, the government said the move aligns with Law No. 27 of 2005, which guarantees students with disabilities access to education alongside peers, with necessary aids and adjustments. Classroom sign-language support is currently handled by special-education teachers recruited under Decree-Law No. 48 of 2010, requiring a bachelor's degree in special education.

tion in fields such as learning difficulties, autism, Down syndrome, intellectual disability, or giftedness.

Authorities offer approved training routes, including higher diplomas, professional development certificates, and apprenticeships. Qualified teachers have been placed in secondary schools and at the University of Bahrain, with skilled sign-language users seconded to support academic courses. Interpreters assist in lessons, translating teachers and students' questions, and deliver awareness talks on hearing disability and sign language. Exam arrangements include assistive devices, converted listening texts, and speech-and-language support.

The Ministry of Education has issued a sign-language guide for Bahrain Scouts, with courses and social-media material promoting awareness.

At the tertiary level, Decision No. 206 of 2023 requires private higher-education institutions to provide suitable facilities and support for students with disabilities, with field inspections ensuring readiness. Interpreters must hold a degree or diploma in special education, a licence to practise, and relevant experience or skills in delivering lectures in sign language.

MP Ahmed Al Salloom's 2024 proposal sought to allow interpreters without a bachelor's degree, aiming to widen access. Parliament approved an amended version in February 2025, linking the role to completion of training that strengthens professional skills.

FinTech Forward 2025 wraps up, showcasing Bahrain's fintech leadership

TDI | Manama

The FinTech Forward 2025, organised by the Economic Development Board (Bahrain EDB), concluded on a high note, bringing together global policymakers, investors, innovators, and industry leaders to examine how technology is transforming the financial sector.

This year's forum was the most successful edition yet, with record participation, sponsorships, and partnerships. A total of 38 agreements and memoranda of understanding were signed across fintech, digital infrastructure, and financial services, reflecting growing investor confidence in Bahrain's vibrant fintech ecosystem.

The event, which drew around 2,000 participants, highlighted Bahrain's growing reputation as a leading regional hub for financial innovation, featuring wide international representation from the Middle East, Europe, Asia, and the United States.

A major highlight was the successful pilot of a new Google Cloud payments infrastructure, a collaboration between Bahrain FinTech Bay, the National Bank of Bahrain (NBB), BisB, BBK, and BENEFIT. The initiative enables instant digital payments between banks using Google Cloud's Universal Ledger technology, marking a significant step towards a smarter, faster, and more connected financial future.

Bahrain set to host permanent seat of Permanent Court of Arbitration

MPs to debate the deal hosting PCA

- The Court and its property are immune from legal action
- Court personnel and arbitrators receive similar privileges to UN experts
- All beneficiaries of immunity must still obey Bahraini law

Mohammed Darwish
TDI | Manama

Parliament will soon discuss a draft law to ratify a host country agreement with the Permanent Court of Arbitration (PCA), paving the way for a permanent seat in Bahrain.

The agreement defines the Court's role in handling international disputes through arbitration, mediation, conciliation, and commissions of inquiry, and establishes the privileges and immunities of all participants.

Spanning 16 articles and a preamble, the agreement gives the PCA full legal capacity in Bahrain and obliges the Kingdom to provide premises and secretariat support. Liaison points on both sides will manage the agreement.

The Court and its property are immune from legal action unless it expressly waives the protection. Official correspondence remains confidential, and the Court can use codes and diplomatic bags.

Court personnel and arbitrators receive similar privileges to UN experts, including protection from legal action for acts in PCA proceedings, exemptions from national service and immigration rules, and rights for their families. These immunities also extend to government employees involved in PCA proceedings and to witnesses, experts, and agents while performing their duties.

All beneficiaries of immunity must still obey Bahraini law. The PCA Secretary-General can take steps, in consultation with the government, to prevent misuse, including asking offenders to leave the country. Bahrain will also ensure security for PCA proceedings and participants.

Other provisions cover entry, stay, visas, and freedom of movement for Court personnel, arbitrators, their families, and other participants, while encouraging regional cooperation and the use of the Court's services by neighbouring states.

The agreement clarifies that Bahrain is not internationally responsible for the Court or its personnel acting within their functions, except as allowed under the 1907 Convention for the Pacific Settlement of International Disputes. Any disputes over the agreement would first be negotiated and, if unresolved, referred to arbitration before a sole arbitrator appointed by the ICJ President.

Abu Dhabi awards contract for mega solar project

- The 1.5-gigawatt Khazna Solar PV plant, expected to have nearly three million solar panels
- Abu Dhabi is looking to bring its solar energy production to 18 gigawatts by 2035

Dubai, United Arab Emirates

Abu Dhabi, the capital of a leading oil producer the United Arab Emirates, said yesterday it had awarded a contract for a mega solar power plant to French group Engie in partnership with a local firm.

The 1.5-gigawatt Khazna Solar PV plant, expected to have nearly three million solar panels, will avert more than 2.4 million tonnes of carbon emissions per year, said the local utility operator, the Emirates Water and Electricity Company (EWEC).

Engie and Emirati renewable-energy company Masdar won the contract to build the plant and sell EWEC the electricity, which will power an estimated 160,000 homes, the utility operator said in a statement.

It did not give a timeline for the project, which an Engie executive said would be the company's biggest solar plant worldwide.

Abu Dhabi is looking to bring its solar energy production to 18 gigawatts by 2035, with a goal of supplying 60 percent of the emirate's energy needs from clean sources, EWEC said.

The new plant will be "a strategic asset that significantly accelerates our journey towards achieving the UAE's renewable energy targets", EWEC chief executive Ahmed Ali Alshamsi said in the statement.

The UAE is one of the world's top oil producers, but has been investing massively in renewable energy, both at home and abroad.

Arc de Trump? New monument model sits on US president's desk

A plan for an arch across from the Lincoln Memorial is seen on Resolute Desk
AFP | Washington

US President Donald Trump is no stranger to ambitious construction projects but could he be eyeing one of his biggest yet?

A mock-up of a triumphal arch sat on Trump's Resolute Desk in the Oval Office as he met Finnish President Alex Stubb on Thursday.

The plan, featuring small models on a map, shows the arch sitting on a traffic circle near Arlington Cemetery, on the other side of the Potomac River from the white marble Lincoln Memorial.

A second, larger model arch sat on the desk, on which details could be seen more clearly, including a winged golden angel holding aloft a torch, flanked by two white eagles on either side.

Both models resembled the famed Arc de Triomphe in Paris, which was commissioned by the French emperor Napoleon in the early 19th century to commemorate fallen soldiers during his military campaigns.

The White House did not immediately respond to a request for comment on the plan.

But the "Donald Trump for President" Facebook page, which has more than six million followers, posted a drawing in September with a virtually identical design in the same spot, linking it to celebrations for the 250th anniversary of US independence next year.

Since returning to power in January, former real estate developer Trump, 79, has enthusiastically embarked on a series of renovation and building projects.

For example, he has covered the walls of the previously spartan Oval Office with gold, paintings and ornaments. And he once interrupted a meeting to wax lyrical about the changes he had made to the White House Cabinet Room, including a long aside about the new drapes.

He is also building a huge ballroom next to the White House, a model of which appeared to be on Trump's desk in a photo shared by his Deputy Chief of Staff Dan Scavino on Wednesday.

Venezuela's Machado wins Nobel Peace Prize

Opposition leader praised for courage and fight to restore democracy in Venezuela

● Hailed as symbol of civilian courage

● Machado is currently in hiding

● Dedicates award to Venezuelans, Trump

AFP | Oslo

The Nobel Peace Prize was awarded yesterday to Venezuelan opposition leader Maria Corina Machado, who accepted the accolade in hiding in the country described by the Nobel jury as a "brutal" state.

Machado, the democracy activist who challenged President Nicolas Maduro in last year's elections, has become a "unifying" figure in Venezuela, the jury said. She has refused to leave despite threats against her life.

She dedicated her award to the Venezuelan people and to US President Donald Trump, who had coveted it himself, as Washington steps up its pressure on Maduro's government.

"More than ever we count on President Trump," she wrote on X, citing his "decisive support of our cause".

The 58-year-old told Nobel Institute director Kristian Berg Harpvik she was confident the opposition would secure a peaceful transition to democracy in Venezuela.

"I'm sure that we will prevail," she said in the call, which was filmed and posted to X.

Machado, in hiding for the past year, is "one of the most extraordinary examples of civil-

America in recent times", said Nobel Committee chair Jorgen Watne Frydnes.

"Despite serious threats against her life, she has remained in the country, a choice that has inspired millions."

Rumours have circulated on social networks that she is sheltering at the US embassy.

Venezuelan opposition figure-head Edmundo Gonzalez Urrutia, who lives in exile in Spain, hailed her win as "a well-deserved recognition of the long struggle of a woman and an entire people for freedom and democracy".

Rock star popularity

Machado was the opposition's presidential candidate for Venezuela's 2024 elections, but Maduro's government blocked her candidacy.

She then backed the reluctant, little-known ex-diplomat Gonzalez Urrutia as her stand-in, accompanying him on rallies where she was welcomed like a rock star.

Machado

claimed electoral victory, but the European Union and numerous countries have recognised Gonzalez Urrutia as Venezuela's president-elect.

An engineer by training, Caracas-born Maria Corina Machado

Machado learned of her Nobel win in a midnight call from Oslo, telling the committee she was "just one person" and the honour truly belonged to "the people of Venezuela."

Machado entered politics in 2002 at the head of the association Sumate (Join us), pushing for a referendum to recall Maduro's mentor, the late socialist leader Hugo Chavez.

The call led to treason accusations and death threats, prompting her to send her three children to live abroad.

The committee said it was aware Machado might not be able to attend the Oslo ceremony on December 10.

"We always hope to have the laureate with us in Oslo, but this is a serious security situation which needs to be handled first," Frydnes told reporters.

The United States has in recent weeks carried out strikes off Venezuelan shores in international waters, claiming to act against drug smugglers.

Washington accuses Maduro of leading a drug cartel, and does not recognise him as the country's legitimate leader.

Machado and Gonzalez Urrutia have backed US military pressure on the regime as a "necessary measure" towards the "restoration of popular sovereignty".

Tempers flare as US shutdown threatens troops' pay

AFP | Washington

US senators began a long weekend yesterday that guarantees the government shutdown lasting at least 14 days, with both sides more entrenched than ever and the military facing an unprecedented threat to its pay.

Republicans and Democrats have been getting into angry confrontations in the corridors of Congress, with frustration mounting as the crisis over funding the government hits public services harder each day.

Pressure is mounting on Republican House Speaker Mike Johnson to bring the shuttered lower chamber of Congress back in session to hold an emergency vote on at least providing military pay.

But the Republican leader is

US President Donald Trump delivers remarks during a visit to the USS Harry S. Truman during the US Navy's 250th anniversary celebration sticking to his guns, telling reporters Thursday that he was "committed to keeping the House out of session as long as it takes to pressure Senate Democrats."

With the Senate out until Tuesday next week, there's little hope for federal workers left wondering when their pay will be unfrozen. Now, 1.3 million active-duty service military personnel are also set to miss their pay due next Wednesday -- something that has not happened in any of the funding shutdowns through modern history.

Republicans are blaming opposition Democrats but cracks are beginning to emerge in the House leadership, with conference chair Elsie Stefanik calling for a vote on a bill to guarantee troops' pay during the shutdown.

With a prolonged shutdown looking more likely each day, members of Congress have been looking to Republican President Donald Trump to step in and break the standoff.

Nonessential government work stopped after the September 30 funding deadline, with Senate Democrats repeatedly blocking a Republican resolution to reopen federal agencies.

Eight killed as powerful quake strikes southern Philippines

Magnitude-7.4 tremor and strong aftershock triggered tsunami warnings that were later lifted

- Quake struck off Mindanao
- Miners trapped after tunnel collapse
- More than 100 aftershocks recorded

AFP | Mati

Two powerful quakes struck off the southern Philippines yesterday, killing at least eight people and triggering tsunami warnings. The biggest of the quakes, with a magnitude of 7.4, hit about 20 kilometres (12 miles) off Manay town in the Mindanao region just before 10 am (0100 GMT), according to the United States Geological Survey.

An aftershock with a magnitude of 6.7 rocked the same area almost 10 hours later, one of scores that followed the morning quake.

Both came 11 days after a magnitude 6.9 earthquake killed 75 people and injured more than 1,200 in Cebu province in the central Philippines, according to official data.

Three miners tunnelling for gold were killed when a shaft collapsed in the mountains west of Manay during the larger quake, rescue official Kent Simeon of Pantukan town said.

One miner was pulled out alive and several others were injured in the remote hamlet of Gumayan, he said.

"Some tunnels collapsed, but the miners managed to get out," Simeon said.

Employees at a shopping mall gather outside the building in Davao City city when a wall collapsed, while two others suffered fatal heart attacks, city disaster official Charlemagne Bagasol told AFP.

Another person was crushed by falling debris in Davao city, more than 100 kilometres west of the epicentre, police said.

A third heart attack victim died in the town of Montevista, provincial disaster official Ednar Dayanghirang told reporters.

Philippine authorities issued tsunami warnings shortly after the morning quake as well as for the early evening one, ordering evacuations along the eastern seaboard, though no big waves had been monitored.

The Pacific Tsunami Warning Center lifted its own alert for the Philippines, Palau and Indonesia at around noon.

'People screamed and ran'

Wes Caasi, an official in Tagum city, northwest of Manay, told AFP that a government event at the city hall descended into chaos as panicked attendees fled. "They screamed and ran."

Caasi said she saw city workers scrambling down a metal Christmas tree they were decorating outside the building when the first quake struck.

Nice Eugenio from Tagum city told AFP the strong aftershock knocked out power in her neighbourhood.

"It lasted only a few seconds, but (it) was very strong. I felt like I was going to faint from nervousness," she said.

A plane that had just landed in Davao city was shaken by the aftershock, which prevented passengers from disembarking immediately, an AFP photographer on board said.

AFP journalists later saw Davao residents queueing for fuel at crowded petrol stations at night.

Witnesses and officials said the quakes appeared to have caused only minor damage, while the Philippine seismology office said it had recorded more than 300 aftershocks.

There were no reports of collapsed buildings but "there were landslides and our bridges exhibited cracks", Davao Oriental provincial governor Nelson Dayanghirang told the ABS-CBN network.

"Some buildings were damaged," he said.

More than 200 patients were evacuated from the Manay dis-strict hospital, where tents were set up outside to shelter them after the building's foundations cracked, Dayanghirang said.

Classes were suspended and non-essential workers were sent home, the provincial government said on Facebook.

'Shaking was so strong'

Christine Sierte, a teacher in Compostela town, said violent shaking started when she was in an online meeting, and the ceilings of some buildings later fell though no one was injured.

"It was very slow at first, then it got stronger... That's the longest time of my life. We weren't able to walk out of the building immediately because the shaking was so strong," she said.

Earthquakes are a near-daily occurrence in the Philippines, which is situated on the Pacific "Ring of Fire", an arc of intense seismic activity stretching from Japan through South-east Asia and across the Pacific basin.

Russian attack batters Ukraine energy grid, kills 7-year-old

- Russian attack hit nine regions
- Power cut to thousands
- Kyiv districts suffered blackouts

AFP | Kyiv

Russian drones and missiles pummelled Ukraine's struggling energy infrastructure early yesterday, cutting power to thousands across the country and killing a seven-year-old boy, authorities said.

The Russian attack, which combined hundreds of drones and nearly three dozen missiles, disrupted power supplies in nine regions and plunged entire districts of Kyiv into darkness.

AFP journalists in the capital heard several loud explosions overnight and experienced

Ukrainian policemen stand in front of a damaged residential building blackouts and water supply disruptions in different parts of the city.

Workers restored power to around 270,000 households in Kyiv by the afternoon, but parts of the east and south of the country remained cut off, according to Ukraine's energy minister.

"Around 3 am, we heard a terrible rumbling. All the windows in the apartment were completely shattered," Kyiv resident Yevgeniya Charchiyan said after the strikes.

"Thank God there was no fire, everyone is alive and well, but the apartment is currently uninhabitable," she added.

Another resident, Viktoria, said that she was expecting a "difficult" winter and had stocked up on power banks.

The Ukrainian Air Force reported the Russian barrage comprised a massive 465 drones and 32 missiles, though they managed to shoot down a high number: 405 drones and 15 missiles

"It's impossible to get used to this," she said.

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky called Russia's latest strikes a "cynical and calculated attack", and urged allies to respond with concrete measures.

Diplomatic efforts to end the three-and-a-half-year war have stalled in recent months.

At least 214 civilians were killed across the country in September, UN rights monitors said in a report published yesterday.

The Kremlin has escalated aerial attacks on Ukrainian energy facilities and rail systems over recent weeks, building on earlier bombing campaigns over the previous three winters that left millions without heating in frigid temperatures.

Russia said its forces had hit energy sites supplying power to Ukraine's defence industry.

The Ukrainian air force said the Russian barrage comprised 465 drones and 32 missiles, adding that 405 drones and 15 missiles were downed.

Kelly Clarkson

Kelly Clarkson emotional on talk show return

Bang Showbiz | Los Angeles

Kelly Clarkson cried during her talk show's return to air on Monday. The season seven premiere episode marked the Breakaway hitmaker's first appearance on screen since her ex-husband Brandon Blackstock died of cancer last month and the 43-year-old star couldn't hold back her emotions as she spoke to a group of bus drivers who helped rescue children during the deadly flash floods in Texas in July.

Kelly could be seen wiping away tears as Kerrville school district superintendent Dr. Brent Ringo discussed the impact the flooding - which killed 135 and left more missing - had on the community. He said: "We activated our emergency operations plan in Kerrville ISD, and [sent] the text message out, 'Anyone that can drive a bus?'" "A bus driver, a coach, high school principal, our middle school assistant principal, assistant superintendents - within 10, 15 minutes [we] had a response that they were on the way." Some of the drivers then appeared on stage, including a teacher named Amanda who broke down as she recalled her experience picking up children from Camp Mystic, where 27 girls and counsellors were killed. She said: "We took them to the reunification process - basically triage, they're make sure everybody was okay. "And they really had to take pictures to see what kids we had, because parents obviously were just in complete shock, they didn't know what kids we had. "It was awesome to see all the parents reunited with their kids. The hardest part was when the last kid got off your bus and the parents just asked, 'Was that it?' So it's hard." Kelly wiped her eyes with a tissue and said: "And looking at the parents, I can't..." As she tailed off, Amanda replied: "Yeah, it's awful." Kelly cried again when another driver, Geri, told how her young passengers comforted one another by singing Christian songs.

Pop star Rita Ora wins planning battle

Bang Showbiz | London

Rita Ora has secured planning permission to build a controversial gym at her mansion. The 34-year-old pop star has overcome protests from numerous residents and local groups to secure official permission to build the gym at her London home. A source told The Sun newspaper: "Rita has no intention of disturbing the peace in her neighborhood and has gone about everything in the proper manner. She wouldn't have got permission from the council if she was violating any planning rules." Rita - who bought the property four years ago - hopes to build a garden room, which will be used as a gym, and will sit 30 metres from the house.

However, the plans have angered some of her neighbors, who fear that it could be a disturbance and impact animals living in the area. One complaint reads: "Residents who chose this area for its tranquillity should not be forced to live with artificial lighting, amplified sound or loss of privacy. "Although acoustic insulation is mentioned, the inclusion of bifold doors suggests that music and voice projection could occur at any hour. "The neighboring property has a strict rule prohibiting large gatherings or parties, adopted precisely to preserve peace and respect among neighbors. "This proposal undermines that shared understanding and carries the potential to generate conflict, complaints and even legal disputes."

Renee Zellweger bonded with Ant Anstead over cars and welding

Bang Showbiz | Los Angeles

Renee Zellweger bonded with Ant Anstead over their shared love of cars. The couple met four years ago when the Hollywood actress was a guest on Ant's TV show Celebrity IOU Joyride and he's admitted seeing Renee, 56, welding helped win him over because he discovered she's a "hands-on car girl". Ant, 46, told Hello! magazine: "One of the many, many things that attracts me to Ren is that she's a hands-on car girl. It's really cool that we met on a car show. "She welded - I mean, how cool is that?" Ant's latest TV project - the second series of Born Mechanic - shows him restoring old cars which he's selling to fund the restoration of an old farmhouse which he bought for his parents and he credits Renee with taking charge of plans for the house because she's "very, very good at designing". He added: "She's been a big influence on that; she's very, very good at designing. So, I'm obviously going to take advice from the person who's way better at houses than I am. "I am constantly being advised, because she's the greatest human I've ever met." The couple have been together since 2021 and they were previously rumoured to be engaged but the reports was later confirmed to be untrue. Ant previously explained that he and Renee were taking their relationship "one day at a time" and he wants to keep their romance as private as possible.

Emily Blunt brands AI-generated actress Tilly Norwood 'terrifying'

Bang Showbiz | Los Angeles

Emily Blunt has branded AI-generated actress Tilly Norwood "terrifying". Newly-launched AI talent studio Xicoia have created the digital performer, with Eline Van der Velden unveiling the project at the Zurich Film Festival and it already attracting interest from talent agents, and the Smashing Machine actress is horrified by the prospect.

Emily Blunt

Shown a report on Tilly, Emily told Variety: "Does it disappoint me? I don't know how to quite answer it, other than to say how terrifying this is. "No, are you serious? That's an AI? Good Lord, we're screwed. That is really, really scary, Come on, agencies, don't do that. Please stop. Please stop taking away our human connection." The 42-year-old actress noted Tilly was designed to resemble a composite of familiar stars and was told she was designed as "the next Scarlett Johansson". She replied: "But we have Scarlett Johansson." Emily isn't the only Hollywood critic of the project. Scream actress Melissa Barrera has branded the arrival of Tilly "gross". She posted an Instagram Story about the news and captioned it: "Hope all actors repped by the agent that does this, drop their a$$.

How gross, read the room. (sic)" Matilda star Mara Wilson was equally horrified. She posted: "And what about the hundreds of living young women whose faces were composited together to make her? You couldn't hire any of them?" Whoopi Goldberg blasted the idea on The View and insisted the AI model would have an "unfair advantage" - but noted the technology isn't yet "seamless" enough for them to pass as human.

F4 Saudi testing concludes at BIC

Momentum builds as Aramco F4 Saudi Arabian Championship wraps up Bahrain pre-season testing

● Aramco F4 Saudi season starts Saturday

● Micallef, Palmer lead Bahrain timings

● Margins under 0.005 seconds between top drivers

TDT | Manama

The official pre-season testing for the 2025 Aramco F4 Saudi Arabian Championship concluded yesterday at the Bahrain International Circuit (BIC), marking the final stage of preparations ahead of the highly anticipated season opener.

The championship, part of the FIA-sanctioned single-seater entry-level series, is promoted by ALTAWKILAT Motorsport under the supervision of the Saudi Automobile and Motorcycle Federation (SAMF). It represents a key platform for developing emerging motorsport talent across Saudi Arabia and the region.

Action from the Pre-Season Testing

The first and second official tests were marked by an atmosphere of excitement and high concentration, with close technical monitoring from the participating teams. Driver Jacob Micallef from Team Zahid managed to record the fastest time of 2 minutes 8.238 seconds, with the highest average speed of 151.9 km/h, leading by just 0.004 seconds ahead of second-place driver Scott Kim Lindblom from Team Red Bull, while Thibaut Ramaekers from Team Zahid finished in third place.

In the second test, driver Theo Palmer from Team JACO achieved the fastest time of 2 minutes 7.613 seconds, with an average speed of 152.6 km/h, ahead by 0.002 seconds over second-place driver Kit Belofsky from Team PEAX, while Adam Alzahrani from Team Valvoline finished third.

Testing represents a key milestone in the pre-season preparation program, enabling teams to evaluate the performance of their Tatuus F4-T421 (Gen 2) cars, refine their setups, and achieve optimal readiness before competitive racing commences. For drivers, it is an invaluable opportunity to gain confidence and adaptability on the Bahrain International circuit, renowned for its mix of fast straights, tight corners, and technical demands, which sharpen their racecraft and mental resilience under real race conditions.

With testing complete, the 2025 Aramco F4 Saudi Arabian Championship now moves into race mode.

The season will kick off today at the Bahrain International Circuit, followed by Round 2 at the same venue on October 15–16. The action then shifts to Saudi Arabia's Jeddah Corniche Circuit—the world's fastest street circuit—for Rounds 3 and 4 on November 10–11 and November 14–15, respectively, before concluding with the final round on December 5–6, also in Jeddah.

Morocco snatch injury-time win over Bahrain

Atlas Lions Break Bahrain Resistance in Friendly

● First of two Rabat friendlies

● El Yamiq scores decisive late header

● Both teams set sights on FIFA Arab Cup

Bahrain were edged out 1-0 by Morocco in an international friendly in Morocco's capital, Rabat. The match remained goalless until the final minutes of injury time, when Jawad El Yamiq rose to head in the winner at Prince Moulay Abdellah Stadium.

The Bahraini side were solid defensively for most of the 90 minutes, with goalkeeper Ebrahim Lutfhallah making several important saves to keep the match level. The African giants, semifinalists at the 2022 World Cup in Qatar and already qualified for the 2026 edition, dominated possession and tested Bahrain with a series of threatening attacks, including a dangerous header from Achraf Hakimi that narrowly missed the target.

The decisive moment came in stoppage time of the second half when El Yamiq rose to meet a Hakimi corner, sending a header past Lutfallah to settle the contest. Despite the narrow scoreline, Bahrain's defense stood firm for the majority of the game and limited Morocco's opportunities.

The friendly offered both sides a chance to test their squads ahead of December's FIFA Arab Cup 2025 in Doha, Qatar. Bahrain will return to the same stadium on Monday to face Egypt, who have recently secured qualification for the 2026 World Cup.

Qatar's Solokov in action during the second round at the Royal Golf Club

Sokolov holds slim lead at Bahrain Amateur

Royal Golf Club braces for thrilling finale

● Sokolov leads by single stroke

● Larsson, Craig, Abou El Ela chase

● Home golfers eye strong finishes

TDT | Manama

Daniil Sokolov will take a one-shot lead into the final round of the seventh Bahrain Amateur Open after another composed display on Saturday at the Royal Golf Club. The Russian golfer followed his opening 65 with an even-par 70 to move to nine under overall, just ahead of Sweden's Adrian Larsson at eight under.

Larsson carded a matching 70 to stay firmly in contention, while England's Oscar Craig and Egypt's Issa Abou El Ela sit close behind at seven under, tied for third. With only two strokes separating the top four, the stage is set for a tense finale on Sunday.

Indonesia's Zubair Firdaus surged up the leaderboard with a five-under 67 to sit fifth at six under, while UAE's Jona-than Selvaraj is next at five under following a steady 71. Fellow Emiratis Salehaleh Al Kaabi and Ahmad Skaik trail slightly behind at four and three under, respectively, rounding out the international top eight.

Among Bahrain's representatives, national team regulars Ali Al Kowari, Khalifa Al Merisi, and Ahmed Alzayed maintained solid positions after two rounds. Al Kowari posted a 70 to move to two over, tied for 20th, while Al Merisi and Alzayed are a shot back at three over. The trio remain focused on earning a strong finish ahead of next month's King Hamad Trophy. The 54-hole tournament has drawn more than 100 players from across the Middle East, Europe, and Asia, which is a testament to the Royal Golf Club's challenging layout and pristine conditions.

Sokolov, whose tee-to-green consistency has underpinned his performance, avoided major errors throughout the second round. Yet Larsson, Abou El Ela, and Craig remain close enough to capitalize on any slip during the final 18 holes. With the top five separated by just three shots, the title and a guaranteed spot in the 2026 Bahrain Championship on the DP World Tour remain wide open.

Action continues today at the Royal Golf Club as players contest the final round of the seventh Bahrain Amateur Open. With just three shots separating the top five, the closing 18 holes promise a decisive finish to this year's championship.

Ton-up Jaiswal steers dominant India to 318-2 in West Indies Test

India's Yashasvi Jaiswal plays a shot

AFP | New Delhi

Prolific opener Yashasvi Jaiswal smacked 173 not out as India moved ominously towards a massive first-innings total in the second Test against the West Indies yesterday.

The hosts ended day one on 318-2 after they elected to bat at Delhi's Arun Jaitley Stadium in a bid to sweep the two-match series.

The left-handed Jaiswal made the day his own as he put on a marathon 193-run second-wicket stand with Sai Sudharsan, who scored 87.

Jaiswal, who registered his fifth 150-plus score in Tests, and skipper Shubman Gill, on 20, were batting at close of play after Sudharsan's dismissal was the only wicket to fall in the final session.

Jaiswal, who got out for 36 in the first Test, mixed the right dose of caution and aggression, hitting 22 fours in his 253-ball knock.

"The determination he showed was important," India's batting coach Sitanshu Kotak said.

"Last match he felt he missed out on a good innings

Scorecard

India 318 for 2 (Jaiswal 173*, Sai Sudharsan 87) vs West Indies and the way he approached (the game today) and selection of shots was brilliant."

The 23-year-old Jaiswal reached his seventh Test ton in his 26th match since he began his five-day career in the West Indies in 2023 with a 171 on debut.

He raised his bat, made a heart gesture with his hands and blew kisses as a lively crowd applauded.

Jaiswal looked fluent as he hit pace bowler Jayden Seales for three fours in the first over after lunch to raise his fifty and kept up the attack with regular boundaries.

Sudharsan reached his fifty with a boundary off Khary Pierre then survived a dropped catch on 58 by Jomel Warrican at short mid-wicket off Justin Greaves.

The top-order batsman has been fighting for the number-three spot in India's competitive line-up and looked primed for his first Test ton, but Warrican trapped him lbw.

Bahrain's Al Sayed and Bader reach Asian U-16 tennis finals

TDT | Manama

Bahraini players Ahmed Al Sayed and Sofia Bader have both qualified for the singles finals of the Asian Tennis Federation Under-16 Championships, currently being hosted at the Bahrain Tennis Federation courts.

In the Boys' Singles semifinals, Bahrain's Al Sayed secured a hard-fought victory over Saudi Arabia's Ali Al Hamad, winning 7-6, 6-2. Al Sayed will face another Saudi player, Ahmed Suruji, in the final after Suruji defeated Bahrain's Hashem Al Tubli in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4. The highly anticipated final match is scheduled for this Friday evening.

The Girls' Singles competition saw Sofia Bader continue her dominant form, cruising into the final with a resounding 6-0, 6-0 win over compatriot Maryam Al-Abbasi. Bader will meet Saudi Arabia's Fatima Al-Baajri in the final after Al-Baajri eliminated the third Bahraini semi-finalist, Gharam Isa, 6-1, 6-0.

Bahrain also cemented its presence in the Boys' Doubles final. The pairing of Ahmed Al Sayed and his brother Talal Al Sayed defeated the all-Bahraini duo of Hashem Al-Tubli and Redha Hassan 6-4, 6-3 to secure their spot. They will face the mixed team of Bahrain's Abdulrahman Al-Dosari and India's Parth Sani, who overcame the Saudi pairing of Sultan Al-Yami and Salman Al-Yami in a three-set battle, 6-6, 6-3, 10-3.

Estevao scores twice as five-star Brazil thrash South Korea

AFP | London

Eighteen-year-old Chelsea winger Estevao scored twice as an impressive Brazil thrashed fellow World Cup qualifiers South Korea 5-0 away in a friendly yesterday.

Home captain Son Heung-min made his 137th appearance for South Korea, a record for the country's men's team, in wet conditions in Seoul.

But apart from that it was all about Carlo Ancelotti's side, who led 2-0 at half-time after goals from Estevao and Real Madrid's Rodrygo, before running away with it in the second period.

Estevao finished from close

Brazil's Rodrygo scores against South Korea in Seoul range after 13 minutes following an incisive through ball from Newcastle United midfielder Bruno Guimaraes.

It was his second goal in his eighth game for Brazil and a reminder that he could be one of the stars of next year's World Cup in North America.

Brazil looked dangerous every time they went forward and they doubled their lead four minutes before the break when Rodrygo rifled in after evading the South Korean defence with some neat footwork.

The visitors played a strong side, with Manchester United's Matheus Cunha leading the frontline and the dangerous trio of Estevao, Rodrygo and his Real Madrid team-mate Vinicius Junior just behind.

That quality told soon after the break as Estevao and Rodrygo both scored again within three minutes of each other to underline Brazil's superiority.
