Brie Larson, Alex Greenwald call off engagement

IANIS | Los Angeles

Actress Brie Larson and musician Alex Greenwald have called off their engagement after nearly three years.

The 29-year-old actress and 39-year-old Phantom Planet frontman exchanged rings in Tokyo back in 2016.

"They have taken a step back from their engagement for the time being but they remain close," people.com quoted a source as saying.

They had been dating for several years prior to the engagement as they had been romantically linked since 2013.

Greenwald joined Larson at numerous awards seasons events that year when Larson received recognition for the 2015 thriller "Room". She even gave Greenwald a shout-out while accepting the Academy Award for Best Actress at the 2016 Oscars.

Brie Larson and Alex Greenwald

"Jacob Tremblay (has been my partner through this in every way possible," she said of her "Room" co-star.

"My real partner, Alex Greenwald, I love you," she added.

Sarah Hyland wrote suicide notes in her head

IANIS | Los Angeles

Actress Sarah Hyland has got candid about how close she was to committing suicide and said she wrote notes in her head.

The "Modern Family" actress spoke to TV personality Ellen DeGeneres and revealed that after more than 25 years battling chronic health issues, she got to a point where she wrote suicide notes to her loved ones in her head, reports aceshowbiz.com.

Having said that she came "very, very, very close" to ending her life, the 28-year-old actress said.

She added: "I would write letters in my head to loved ones of why I did it and my reasoning behind it, how it was nobody's fault." She added, "I didn't want to write it down on paper because I didn't want anyone to find it because that's how serious I was."

On what pushed her to the near breaking point, Hyland blamed her health condition that required her to undergo kidney transplant twice.

"After 26, 27 years of just always being sick and being in chronic pain every single day, you don't know when you're going to have the next good day... It's really, really hard," she said.

During her appearance on "The Ellen DeGeneres Show", the "See You in Valhalla" actress also credited talking out loud about her thoughts for getting her out of her dark place.

"I finally said it out loud to someone... When I said it out loud, they were like, 'Oh, you need to see a therapist.'"

"And that's when I was like, 'Ok, I don't think you're going to help me. I think I need to really do this on my own and really do even more digging and soul-searching,' and just saying it out loud helped immensely because I kept it to myself for months and months at a time and saying it out loud really helped."

Having gone through what she went through, Hyland urged others facing similar struggles to seek help.

Tyrese Gibson to feature in crime thriller Black and Blue

ANI | Washington

Hollywood actor Tyrese Gibson will soon be seen opposite Naomie Harris in the upcoming crime thriller Black and Blue.

Deon Taylor, who directed the home invasion thriller 'Traffik,' is helming the film which is being produced by Sean Sorensen.

Penned by Peter A. Dowling, the plot revolves a rookie cop who witnesses corrupt officers murdering a drug dealer and captures the event in her body cam.

Eddie Murphy thrilled about 'Coming to America' sequel

IANIS | Los Angeles

Actor-comedian Eddie Murphy is reprising one of his most famous roles -- African Prince Akeem -- for the sequel to "Coming to America".

Paramount Pictures bosses have tapped "Hustle & Flow" director Craig Brewer to take charge of the follow-up to the hit 1988 comedy, in which Murphy played an African prince on the hunt for a wife in New York, reports aceshowbiz.com.

Brewer just directed Murphy in "Dolemite Is My Name" and it appears the two men got along so well they started talking about the project in between takes.
