Russia says longer-range US missiles for Kyiv would cross red line

Reuters | Moscow

Russia's Foreign Ministry said yesterday that if the United States decided to supply Kyiv with longer-range missiles, it would cross a "red line" and become a "party to the conflict".

In a briefing, Foreign Ministry spokeswoman Maria Zakharova added that Russia "reserves the right to defend its territory".

"If Washington decides to supply longer-range missiles to Kyiv, then it will be crossing a red line, and will become a direct party to the conflict," Zakharova said.

HIMARS launchers can also be used to fire longer-range ATACMS tactical missiles, which can have a range of up to 300 km. A senior Ukrainian official declined to say on Aug. 19 whether Kyiv now had ATACMS.

Biden committed to 'two-state solution'

US envisages a plan that will enable Israelis and Palestinians to live safely and securely: top US official

Staff Reporter
TDT | Manama

The Biden Administration is committed to keeping the 'two-state peace solution' hopes alive for the overall betterment of Israel, Palestine and the Mideast region, said a top US official yesterday.

Barbara A Leaf, a US diplomat serving as Assistant Secretary of State for Near Eastern Affairs, was speaking to journalists from the region including those from Bahrain in an online press conference when she made this remark.

"During my recent travel to Israel and West Bank, I continued discussions on a range of critically important issues with Israeli and Palestinian officials. I reiterated President Biden's message, conveyed in his trip in July, that the US remains unwavering in its ironclad commitment to Israel's security and that we will work to strengthen all aspects of the US-Israeli partnership.

Alba says Europe wary of ordering aluminium for next year

TDT | agencies

European customers are reluctant to place orders for next year due to worries about a recession, spurring a fall in demand, the head of Aluminium Bahrain (Alba) told Reuters.

"Overall demand is lower... because of people hesitating to order," Alba Chief Executive Ali Al-Baqlal said on the sidelines of an aluminium conference in Barcelona.

"Many (European) customers have an order book, but they don't have certainty on when they are going to take the metal because they are afraid that if they book the full quantity, then the recession starts."

A decline in prices together with costs that have shot up about 30% since 2020 is weighing on the business, Al-Baqlal said.

"The profitability...in the first half is not there anymore, the challenge now is how we are going to break even," he said.

Industry association Eurometaux has said that about half of the European Union's aluminium production capacity has been forced offline due to high power prices that have surged since Russia's invasion of Ukraine.

The London Metal Exchange three month price, which jumped to a record of over $4,000 a tonne in March, is now trading at around $2,300 a tonne.

"We are not in the red but if the LME continues below $2,000, that will be a red flag for us and the whole industry."

Alba is currently producing about 1.6 million tonnes a year, which is slightly above capacity, Al-Baqlal said.

Special voting arrangement for Corona-infected citizens

Local civil society institutions to monitor elections

Voters list now available for review, appeal

Online appeal system through national portal

Registration for election oversight to open soon

Nargis Al Banna
TDT | Manama

Special arrangements will be in place for voters and candidates infected with Coronavirus across voting centres on the 12th of November this year when the nation will go to polls to elect its new Parliament and municipal councils.

Special measures will be in place for those infected and wishing to run for office to file their nomination in association with the Ministry of Health.

This was announced by the Minister of Justice, Islamic Affairs and Endowments and Chair of the High Elections Committee, Nawaf bin Mohammed Al Maawda, during a press conference at Isa Cultural Centre yesterday.

He highlighted the commitment to upholding citizens' constitutional rights of choosing their representatives throughout the two decades since the launch of the first legislative term in 2002.

Minister Al Maawda stressed that the electoral process would be monitored and supervised by the judiciary throughout all its stages to ensure transparency and integrity of the elections.

He added that the higher committee would continue cooperating with independent civil societies to monitor the electoral process.

"The Supreme Elections Committee will start accepting applications from societies soon," said Al Maawda.

For his part, the President of the Legislation and Legal Opinion Commission (LLOC), Executive Director of the Elections, Chancellor Nawaf Abdullah Hamza, stated the preliminary plans for holding the upcoming Parliamentary and Municipal Elections are ready.

He added that the voters' list had been prepared and uploaded, calling on voters to ensure their names and other details were correct and up-to-date.

The President of the LLOC added that measures to ensure that those who may be COVID-19 positive during the elections can practice their democratic right are taken by dedicating a polling station for them with the aid of experts from the Ministry of Health.

Hamza said the authority started preparing for the elections in March this year.

There will be 14 polling centres across the Kingdom. Between September 15 and 21, voters can request changes to their address or other corrections for updating the list. They can file complaints or appeals before the supervisory committees until the 24th of September.

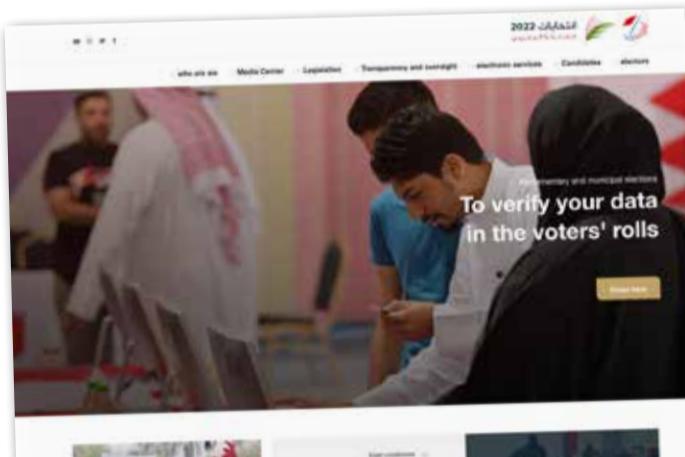

Judicial authorities will issue final decisions in cases of disputes before the 4th of October.

Candidates can file their nominations from the 5th to the 9th of October 2022.

The voting will take place on the 12th of November from 8:00 am until 8:00 pm, as per Decree-Law (14) of 2002. If required, a re-run will be on the 19th of November from 8:00 am until 8:00 pm.

No change in electoral districts, ready to receive people of determination

TDT | Manama

Nawaf bin Mohammed Al Maawda, the Justice, Islamic Affairs and Endowments Minister, Chair of the High Elections Committee, yesterday confirmed having no changes in the electoral districts.

The minister also told AlAyam, our sister concern, that they have added new housing complexes to the districts.

The minister was visiting the Supervising Committees for Referendum and Elections in the Capital Governorate and Muharraq.

The committees are in Khaw-la Girls Secondary School (Capital Governorate) and Al Hedaya Al Khalifiya Boys' Secondary School (Governorate of Muharraq).

Muharraq, Northern and Southern Governorates are the electoral districts in the Kingdom. The municipal electoral districts will have electoral constituencies: Eight in Muharraq, 12 in Northern and 10 in Southern governorates. Each electoral constituency will have a sub-committee to conduct the polling and counting processes.

When asked about the calls to boycott the election, the ministry said, "We are confident of the Bahraini citizen's awareness and keenness to exercise his political rights."

The ministry further stressed that the Executive Committee is keen on preparing all centres to receive people of determination at all stages of the electoral process.

Muharraq gets 16, Southern Governorate 19 requests

TDT | Manama

Fatima Faisal Hubail, the head of the supervisory committee in the southern governorate, announced receiving 19 requests from voters.

All of the requests were made in person.

"We are yet to receive a request through our website, which is up and ready."

"We are currently looking at requests, which includes adding names and address modifications," Hubail said.

She pointed out it would take at least three days to complete the verification process after receiving a request, even if it is on the last day.

The official also called on voters to ensure the legal requirements for filing a request, including that they are over 20 years of age and had no criminal charges against them.

"We rejected some of the requests for having criminal charges against them," he said,

New law to focus on curbing air pollution

● The new environmental law marks a watershed moment in the Kingdom's legislative history governing environmental and climate work

Staff Reporter
TDT | Manama

With the Kingdom leaving no stone unturned in its compliance with the Paris Climate Accord and net zero emission target by 2050, the new Environmental Law that came into effect yesterday is serving as a shot in the arm for the nation's go-green and environmental-friendly initiatives.

The new law, according to the Supreme Council for the Environment, is intended to protect the environment and its sources from all activities and practices that cause pollution, environmental degradation, destroy biodiversity and lead to excess carbon emissions.

The law also aims at preventing and combating pollution in all of its forms and stopping the deterioration of the environment by implementing the necessary plans and policies to preserve it from detrimental effects resulting from activities that harm humans, marine, land and air environments.

The Kingdom has one of the worst air qualities in the world owing to the frequent occurrences of dust storms, which are common to the Arabian region.

The Supreme Council for Environment recently released a new app showing air quality across Bahrain as part of the initiatives to study and tackle air polluting components.

The Air Quality Index (AQI) app will show live readings from stations monitoring pollution across the Kingdom. These stations have been built in Sitra and Awali. There is already a station at the US Embassy in Manama.

Available from both Apple App store and Google Play, the app will also give information about what action you can take as a precaution when the pollution is at a hazardous or unhealthy level.

Earlier, the roadmap for better air quality was drawn up by the Supreme Council for Environment (SCE), encompassing short, medium and long-term solutions.

Within the boundaries of the Kingdom, it also attempts to protect and develop natural resources in a way that guarantees the objectives of sustainable development and biodiversity.

The Supreme Council for the Environment noted that the new law includes 125 articles as a result of the contributors' tireless work in updating the draft environment law, and through fruitful cooperation between the executive and legislative authorities.

It called on environmental authorities, businesses, and individuals to work together more to improve workplace conditions and achieve the goals outlined in the aforementioned legislation.

The Supreme Council for Environment is a government entity in charge of the development of Bahrain's future strategy for the environment and sustainable development, and following up on the implementation of this strategy with relevant ministries, agencies and institutions.

● The new law is intended to protect the environment and its sources from all activities and practices that cause pollution, environmental degradation, destroy biodiversity and lead to excess carbon emissions.

● The law also aims at preventing and combating pollution in all of its forms and stopping the deterioration of the environment by implementing the necessary plans and policies to preserve it from detrimental effects resulting from activities that harm humans, marine, land and air environments.

Bahrain is renowned for its verdant groves of date palms; since ancient times it has been an entrepôt for trade and a source of natural resources for the surrounding area. Bahrain Island is widely believed to be the site of the ancient kingdom of Dilmun, a commercial centre that traded with ancient Sumer.

The SCE's mandate also includes protecting Bahrain's natural habitat and human environment, ensuring the sustainability of its components, and preserving and developing its resources for future generations.

OpenNode testing bitcoin payment system in Bahrain

TDT | Manama

The Central Bank of Bahrain has made a bold step to test bitcoin payment processing and payouts solutions in the Kingdom through OpenNode, a leading Bitcoin payments infrastructure platform servicing companies in 126 countries.

OpenNode said they are testing the solutions in CBB's regulatory sandbox - a crucial step in transforming the Kingdom's economy away from oil. The Sandbox Framework allows FinTech firms to test their ideas and solutions in the Kingdom.

During the testing phase, OpenNode said it intends to show the central bank that Bitcoin has the capacity to expand the Bahrain economy by strengthening businesses in the region.

OpenNode CEO and cofounder Afnan Rahman called the agreement with the CBB "a watershed moment for the people of Bahrain, the Middle East and the Bitcoin economy as a whole."

Additionally, OpenNode stated that this is the first announcement of many that will be coming from the region.

In his comments, Dalal Buhejji, Executive Director - Investment Development for Financial Services at the Bahrain Economic Development Board, said, "We are proud to have worked with the Central Bank towards establishing a strong financial services ecosystem within the Kingdom of Bahrain. As a country, we have always been ahead of the curve in adopting Fintech solutions thanks to our regulator's flexibility and forward thinking.

The CBB set up a regulatory sandbox in 2017 and enhanced it in 2021. In 2021, Bahrain licensed the local Sharia-complaint crypto exchange Coin-MENA.

This year, the CBB licensed Binance to operate in the country, making Binance the first international crypto exchange to receive a license in the GCC. It also partnered with JPMorgan Chase's crypto unit Onyx to create an instant cross-border payment solution.

OpenNode is currently active in more than 160 countries, including El Salvador. The company was founded in 2018 with financing from venture capitalist Tim Draper and his Draper Capital.

and expanding hours and capacity for travellers and goods at the Allenby Bridge. It also includes the $100 million announced by President Biden for the East Jerusalem Hospital Network, subject to congressional approval. USAID recently disbursed the first $14.5 million of that health-care assistance so that we can see it becoming a reality."

With regard to the ongoing crisis in Iraq, the top Biden administration official pointed out that the 2008 Strategic Framework Agreement remains a solid foundation for the bilateral relationship between both nations. "The recent outbreak of violence in Baghdad was a source of great concern to us here in Washington as well as to Iraq's international partners. In Baghdad, I delivered a straightforward message to a range of senior governmental leaders, including the prime minister, the president, and the Council of Representatives speaker, saying that there is an urgent need for Iraq's political leaders to come together for an inclusive dialogue to make important compromises that will chart a way out of Iraq's current crisis over government formation. This was a message that I shared with a full spectrum of Iraqi political leaders, including that outside of government.

The grinding impasse over government formation which flared into violence 10 days ago unfortunately only underlined the degree to which such opportunities are being squandered, and the degree to which the acute need for basic services for Iraq's people remains unaddressed, she added.

Swedish PM resigns as right-wing parties win vote

Sweden's prime minister says she will stand down after her government was defeated in Sunday's election. Magdalena Andersson's centre-left coalition looks set to narrowly lose to a bloc of right-wing parties, 176 seats to 173, with 99% of the votes counted. Moderate Party leader Ulf Kristersson is now expected to form a government. The bloc includes the Sweden Democrats, a far-right party that has campaigned against rising gang shootings. The final result is still to be confirmed after a recount, which is standard practice in Sweden.

◆ A US Senate committee approved legislation that would significantly enhance US military support for Taiwan, including provisions for billions of dollars in additional security assistance, as China increases military pressure on the democratically governed island.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee backed the Taiwan Policy Act of 2022 by 17-5, despite concerns about the bill in US President Joe Biden's administration and anger about the measure from Beijing. The strong bipartisan vote was a clear indication of support from both Republicans and Biden's fellow Democrats for changes in US policy toward Taiwan, such as treating it as a major non-NATO ally.

Queen Elizabeth's funeral 'will unite' as mourners queue for miles

In state begins, with huge queues forming in London

The coffin carrying Queen Elizabeth II rests in Westminster Hall for the lying in state, in London

The queen held a unique and timeless position in all our lives. It is our aim and belief that the state funeral and events of the next few days will unite people across the globe behind.

It was a scene reminiscent of when, as boys 25 years ago, the princes followed the casket of their mother Diana when it was taken on a similar procession through central London.

“The walk yesterday was challenging ... brought back a few memories,” William said as he and his wife Kate spoke to well-wishers and viewed the sea of floral tributes outside the royal residence of Sandringham in eastern England.

Charles, who has returned to his Highgrove home in southwest England after a hectic schedule of events since Elizabeth’s death age 96 last Thursday, and his three siblings, Princess Anne and Princes Andrew and Edward, will themselves hold a silent vigil alongside the catafalque on Friday evening.

Some of those queuing to see the coffin had travelled from abroad, dropping off bags at nearby hotels to join those moving slowly through Westminster Hall. There were former soldiers with military medals and babies being carried by their parents. Many wiped away tears.

The mourners included former Prime Minister Theresa May and her husband Philip, who bowed their heads before the coffin as they filed past with members of the public.

Amy Tsai, 24, said she had travelled from Taiwan in May and had taken part in celebrations for the queen’s jubilee in June in the Scottish capital Edinburgh.

“Now I’m waiting in line to see her lying in state. I’m just shocked,” she said.

Funeral

For the first time, palace officials also provided details of the funeral, likely to be one of the grandest ceremonies ever seen in the British capital, involving thousands from the military and with details overseen by the monarch before her death.

“It was her majesty the queen that went through the plans and made sure they were alright and the king is implementing those plans,” a spokesman for Charles said.

After the lying in state ends early on Monday morning, the coffin will be carried onto the State Gun Carriage of the Royal Navy where 142 naval service personnel will pull it to Westminster Abbey, the same church where Elizabeth was crowned in 1953, for the funeral.

The service will begin at 11 a.m. (1000 GMT) and last for about an hour. At its conclusion the Last Post will sound and there will be a two minute silence to be observed by the nation.

The body will then be taken on the gun carriage in a large procession, with Charles and members of the royal family walking behind, from the Abbey to the Wellington Arch at Hyde Park Corner. Guns will fire and parliament’s Big Ben bell will toll every minute.

Armenia, Azerbaijan ceasefire holds

People stand around a coffin of Azeri serviceman Elshan Babazade killed at the Azerbaijani-Armenian border

Miroslav Jenca yesterday said “the international community must remain fully committed to a peaceful settlement between Armenia and Azerbaijan and spare no effort to de-escalate the current tensions, bring the parties back to the negotiation table and help them achieve peace and stability in the region.”

Before the ceasefire was announced, Armenia’s Prime Minister Nikol Pashinyan said Azerbaijani forces had struck and seized several Armenian settlements along their shared border, in territory beyond the disputed Nagorno-Karabakh region. Baku said it was responding to “provocations” by the Armenian side. Russia said yesterday it was seeking to reverse any shift in the military balance of the region that had occurred as a result of this week’s fighting.

“We are in close contact with both countries, so as to arrive at a sustainable ceasefire and the return of Azerbaijani and Armenian military to their positions of origin,” Russia’s ambassador to the UN Vassily Nebenzia told the 15-member Security Council yesterday.

“This week’s events are also a stark reminder that tensions between Armenia and Azerbaijan also have the potential to destabilize the region,” the UN’s Jenca said.

Typhoon Muifa downgraded to strong tropical storm, but rain, floods loom

Workers carry sandbags to reinforce a riverbank to prevent the river backflow caused by the approaching typhoon Muifa in Jiashan County of Jiaxing City, east China’s Zhejiang Province

Reuters | Beijing

Typhoon Muifa was downgraded to a strong tropical storm by Chinese weather forecasters yesterday, but it will bring heavy rains and flash flooding across several provinces as it moves north across populated coastal provinces.

The 12th cyclone of the year, which local media said was the strongest tropical cyclone to reach the populous Yangtze River Delta in the past 10 years, made landfall overnight in Shanghai.

Despite causing flight can-celations at several airports, city metro contingency planning and grinding port activities to halt, there was little damage reported. However, some photos on China’s Twitter-like social media platform Weibo showed shallow-rooted curbside trees uprooted and fallen leaves carpeting roads.

Travelling at a speed of 20-30 km per hour (12-19 miles per hour) in a north-westerly direction, Muifa is now expected to skirt along the eastern coast of Jiangsu province and cross the Shandong peninsula, the China Meteorological Administration said.

S.Korea police arrest woman over dead children in suitcases in New Zealand

AFP | Seoul

South Korean police yesterday announced the arrest of a 42-year-old woman accused of murdering two children whose remains were found in suitcases in New Zealand.

The woman, who is believed to be the mother of the two dead young children, was arrested in South Korea on murder charges following a request from New Zealand, police in both countries said.

She will now face extradition proceedings, they added.

Police arrested the suspect at an apartment in Ulsan yesterday following a stakeout with tips on her whereabouts and CCTV footage," Seoul's National Police Agency said in a statement.

"The suspect is accused by the New Zealand police of having murdered two of her children, aged seven and 10 then, in around 2018 in the Auckland area," it said.

"She's been found to have ar-

How many must die? Pope blasts Russia war, appeals for peace

AP | Nur-Sultan

Pope Francis told the Russian Orthodox hierarchy and other faith leaders that religion must never be used to justify the "evil" of war, and asked at an outdoor Mass in Kazakhstan, "How many deaths will it take?" for peace to prevail in Ukraine.

An increasingly frail Francis made the appeal during his first full day in the former Soviet republic of Kazakhstan, where he opened a global interfaith conference and ministered to the tiny Catholic community in the majority Muslim country.

In the conference audience of imams, patriarchs, rabbis and muftis was Metropolitan Anthony, in charge of foreign relations for the Russian Orthodox Church, which has firmly backed Russia's invasion of Ukraine. His boss, Patriarch Kirill, was supposed to have participated in the congress but canceled last month.

Kirill has supported Russia's invasion on spiritual and ideological grounds, calling it a "metaphysical" battle with the West. He has blessed Russian soldiers going into war and invoked the idea that Russians and Ukrainians are one people.

Francis didn't mention Russia or Ukraine in his remarks to the Kazakh conference. But he insisted that faith leaders themselves must take the lead in promoting a culture of peace, since it would be hypocritical to expect that non-believers would promote peace if religious leaders don't.

"If the creator, to whom we have devoted our lives, is the author of human life, how can we who call ourselves believers consent to the destruction of that life?" he asked. "Mindful of the wrongs and errors of the past, let us unite our efforts to ensure that the Almighty will never again be held hostage to the human thirst for power."

Francis then laid down a challenge to all those in the room to commit themselves to resolving disputes through dialogue and negotiation, not with arms.

"May we never justify violence. May we never allow the sacred to be exploited by the profane. The sacred must never

He made the appeal more explicit in an afternoon outdoor Mass for Kazakhstan's tiny Catholic community, in which he asked for prayers for "beloved Ukraine."

"How many deaths will it still take before conflict yields to dialogue for the good of people, nations and all humanity?" he asked. "The one solution is peace and the only way to arrive at peace is through dialogue."

Leonardo DiCaprio, Gigi Hadid seen together for first time amid dating rumours

IANS | Los Angeles

Hollywood star Leonardo DiCaprio and supermodel Gigi Hadid have fuelled speculation that they're in a relationship.

The 'Titanic' star and the supermodel were spotted getting cozy at a party in New York City just weeks after the actor called it quits with Camila Morrone, reports aceshowbiz.com.

In photos obtained by Daily Mail, 'The Wolf of Wall Street' actor and the 27-year-old supermodel could be seen leaning in close together.

er as they tried to chat in the midst of the loud party, which reportedly was thrown at Casa Cipriani by the 47-year-old Oscar-winning star's friends Richie Akiva and Darren Dzenicol in Manhattan's Soho neighbourhood on September 10.

Leo and Gigi weren't afraid to get close to each other either, with the 'Don't Look Up' star leaning in to speak next to Gigi's ear.

The A-listers looked a little handsy as the actor appeared to put his hands on the catwalk beauty's shoulders. They even appeared to reach out together at one point, possibly to hold hands.

For the night, Leo donned a black short-sleeve shirt and a black baseball cap while sporting his beard. As for Gigi, she wore a white crop top, revealing her toned midriff, along with baggy jeans.

Following the leaking of their first public sighting, a source close to the couple told Page Six that while they are dating, they are "taking it slow."

The insider went on to say that the couple has been out together just the two of them as well as hanging out in groups. "(Leo) is not someone who is in-and-out of relationships. He doesn't jump around hooking up. They are taking it slow."

Gal Gadot opens up about her 'Evil queen' role in 'Snow White'

ANI | Washington

'Wonder Woman' star Gal Gadot opened up about her 'Delicious' Evil Queen role in 'Snow White'.

Gadot enjoys exploring her dark side, the upcoming live-action adaptation of Disney's Snow White, starring West Side Story actress Rachel Zegler in the lead role, has the Wonder Woman actor as the Evil Queen. The co-stars discussed "modernising" the beloved animated film for contemporary viewers while speaking to People Magazine on Friday at the D23 Expo.

Gadot also explains why she loved the opportunity to play a villain.

"I wanted to make sure that we keep her delightful and delicious, and we understand what makes her tick. Then the evilness is interesting, and not just flat," she says.

"For me," adds Gadot, "it was making sure the Queen is not just evil for the sake of being evil. There is complexity. Between the two characters, it's like a mother-daughter relationship in a weird way. It's what happens to a woman when she feels like she's not relevant anymore, what can come out of her."

Gadot reveals that she managed to spook other set members while wearing her "heavy as hell" costume, even though her character's appearance has not yet been disclosed.

"Just to be able to be that character and feel what it makes other people feel," she explains. "Usually I make people talk to me, open and comfortable. With this one, I truly felt people were intimidated by me."

"Yeah. It's very intimidating," agrees Zegler. "And it was also the black lipstick, it was the nails, it was the lashes."

Emma Roberts "always wanted to work" with Thomas Mann.

The 31-year-old actress stars alongside 'Halloween Kills' actor Thomas, 30, in new rom-com 'About Fate' - which tells the story of two strangers who meet on New Year's Eve and fall in love - and explained that she "loved" shooting the project because she "always" wanted to work with Thomas and was reunited with writer Tiffany Paulsen.

She said: "First of all, I loved making that movie. I filmed it with Thomas Mann, who is an actor who I've always wanted to work with, in Boston, and it was written by Tiffany Paulsen, who wrote 'Nancy Drew' and 'Holidate'. So it was so much fun to get a script and see her name on it, and her and I kind of have a shorthand, and I just love the way she writes characters for me. So it's a really fun rom-com and I think it'll make everyone smile."

'About Fate' was released in cinemas and on streaming on September 9 and in the meantime, Emma has teamed up with Karah Preiss to produce a Hulu adaptation of Carola Lovering's bestseller 'Tell Me Lies', which explores the ups and downs of a college romance and while there are "some differences" between the novel and the series, the 'Wild Child' star is confident that audiences can enjoy both.

She told ScreenRant: "Karah and I are very hard on book to movie or show adaptations. And this is one that I think we can say we're very proud of kind of keeping the relationship from the book, you know, into the show. And also, you can enjoy both. Obviously, there are some differences here and there, but I think it's a really, really great adaptation that we're proud of."

Manama, Ahli triumph in basketball league

Al Ahli's Hesham Sarhan dribbles past Al Hala's Nigel Spikes on a fastbreak

● Ahmed Salman scores 20 with six triples to lead Manama to 92-62 win against Sitra

● Maitham Jameel paces five players in double figures in Ahli's 72-56 victory over Hala

TDT | Manama

Manama and Al Ahli were last night victorious in their respective week two games of the 2022/2023 Zain Bahrain Basketball League.

Defending champions Manama routed Sitra 92-62 while Al Ahli defeated Al Hala 72-56. Both games were played at the Zain Basketball Arena in Um Al Hassam.

In Manama's big win, they took a 23-16 lead at the end of the first period, which they turned to a 44-27 advantage at the half. Manama stayed well ahead in the final two periods, going up by as many as 34 points en route to the final whistle.

Ahmed Salman paced the winners with 20 points, including six three-pointers, while Ahmed Najaf chipped in with 20. Ahmed Aldurazi added 18 and Mohammed Ameer scored 11.

Elijah Milak paced Sitra with 25 as Sitra's only player in double figures.

In Ahli's triumph, a fine second quarter where they outscored Hala 18-9 turned a slim 23-22 edge to a comfortable 41-31 advantage.

They stayed ahead 56-46 heading into the fourth period, where they cruised to the final buzzer, enjoying a biggest lead of 16 markers.

Maitham Jameel had 17 points for Ahli with four triples, while Davon Jefferson added 13 markers and 12 rebounds. Subah Hussain added 12 and Hesham Sarhan 11 in the win.

Nigel Spikes had 23 to spearhead 23 markers and Ahmed Khalifa scored 10.

League action continues on Tuesday next week with Isa Town facing Nuwaidrat and Samaheej playing Al Ettihad. Then, on Wednesday, Muharraq face off with Bahrain Club in that evening's lone fixture.

Bahrain ProAm 1000 confirmed for January

The only major GT race in the world exclusively for ProAm and Am driver crews set to be hosted by Bahrain International Circuit in January next year

● Ground-breaking GT endurance race dedicated to gentleman and semi-professional entrants

● Entries open to GT3, GT4 and Cup classes

● Only global GT endurance race to guarantee overall victory for a gentleman driver

TDT | Manama

Bahrain International Circuit (BIC), "The Home of Motorsport in the Middle East", will host the Bahrain ProAm 1000 on 28 January 2023, a ground-breaking GT endurance race dedicated to gentleman and semi-professional entrants.

An innovative format sees entries open exclusively to ProAm and Am driver line-ups.

ProAm combinations feature an FIA Gold-rated, professional driver alongside Silver or Bronze team-mates, while the Am class is dedicated to drivers rated as Silver or Bronze.

As the first major international race in which Pro driver line-ups, consisting only of professional Gold-rated competitors, are not permitted, the Bahrain ProAm 1000 becomes the only global GT endurance race to guarantee overall victory for a gentleman driver.

A high-quality field of GT3, GT4 and Cup cars from around the world will do battle over 1000km on the spectacular Bahrain International Circuit, venue for the Formula 1 Bahrain Grand Prix since 2004.

The Bahrain ProAm 1000 is a cooperation between Bahrain International Circuit and Driving Force Events, promoter of the famous Gulf 12 Hours race which has been bringing the glamour and excitement of dedicated GT racing to the region annually since its launch in 2012.

The Bahrain ProAm 1000 joins an action-packed weekend of motorsport at Bahrain International Circuit on 27-28 January 2023. Also on the same weekend schedule is the third round of the relaunched Middle East TCR Series, the only championship in the Gulf region dedicated exclusively to TCR cars.

Teams, drivers, media, race fans and all interested in the Bahrain ProAm 1000 can register and find further information at www.proam1000.com or via BIC's website at www.BahrainGP.com.

Sherif Al Mahdy, Commercial Director at Bahrain International Circuit, said: "With our long history of hosting endurance racing, we are delighted to bring the first edition of the Bahrain ProAm 1000 to the Kingdom. The unique structure of the race, combined with the relaunched Middle East TCR series in the same weekend, offers a true racing spectacle for fans. We look forward to wel-

Andrea Ficarelli, head of Driving Force Events, said: "We want to celebrate the gentleman and semi-professional drivers whose passion and commitment is vital to endurance racing by offering them a world-class, unique event."

"We initially planned to launch the Bahrain ProAm 1000 last year but Covid travel restrictions intensified over the winter, so we made a pragmatic decision to delay. We believe now is the right time to launch this new international event, tailor-made around gentlemen and semi-professional drivers, on one of the world's most prestigious circuits."

"By opening the Bahrain ProAm 1000 only to ProAm and Am driver line-ups, we guarantee that at least one gentleman driver will stand on the top of the podium. Thank you to our friends at Bahrain International Circuit who have shared and supported this vision."

BRAVE CF announces return to Bahrain with three huge events in October

TDT | Manama

BRAVE Combat Federation has had a historical 2022 thus far, and it continues to build-up to an amazing third trimester as the fastest-growing MMA organization in the world has announced the return of the Kombat Kingdom series.

Between October 19th and October 28th, three special shows will take place in the Kingdom of Bahrain, with multiple title fights, several bouts and world-class MMA action for the world to witness.

Kombat Kingdom 2022 kicks off with BRAVE CF 63, set to take place on October 19th. It continues with BRAVE CF 64, on October 22nd, and will have its grand finale on October 28th, with a huge BRAVE CF 65, the biggest show of the series.

Having travelled to a record-breaking 28 countries in six years, BRAVE Combat Federation is set for a huge homecoming as the three events will rock the Kingdom of Bahrain sporting scene to the core.

Athletes from around the world are expected to descend upon Kombat Kingdom to see action, as BRAVE Combat Federation looks to build upon an already record-breaking year, with debuts in South Korea, Uzbekistan and Germany, as well as an announced return to Kazakhstan.

All three events will have public attendance as the Bahrain-based organization anticipates a major turn-up after the massive success of last March's BRAVE CF 57 in the Kingdom, with the three shows taking

Bahrain Super Cup named after late basketball chief

● The Late Shaikh Mohammed bin Abdulrahman Al Khalifa Bahrain Super Cup 2022 scheduled for next Thursday between Manama and Al Ahli

TDT | Manama

The Bahrain Basketball Association (BBA) announced yesterday that this year's Bahrain Super Cup is being held in honour of the Late Shaikh Mohammed bin Abdulrahman Al Khalifa, one of the former presidents of the BBA.

The game is scheduled to take place next Thursday at Zain Basketball Arena in Um Al Hassam, and it will be contested between defending league champions Manama and reigning holders of the Khalifa bin Salman Cup Al Ahli.

The naming of this year's contest after the Late Shaikh Mohammed is in appreciation of his great efforts in developing Bahrain basketball while he was BBA president, as well as his contributions as head of basketball at Muharraq Club.

Current BBA president Captain Waleed Al Alawi said that this honour is the least that can be done for the Late Shaikh Mohammed, who served the national game for many years and is one of the reasons why Bahrain basketball has reached its development and growth.

The BBA is currently preparing the financial rewards for this year's Bahrain Super Cup for the champions and runners-up, along with the best player and best scorer of the game.

Al Khaldiya win Bahrain Super Cup

Samy Frioui, Zahir Sulaiman Al Aghbari both on target for winners in single-game affair against last season's title clinchers

● Samy Frioui sends ball home from face of goal off a short cross from the left of the penalty area

● Zahir Sulaiman Al Aghbari fires in fine left-footer from edge of the box to secure the victory

TDT | Manama

Al Khaldiya were last night crowned champions of the 2022/2023 Bahrain Super Cup.

Samy Frioui and Zahir Sulaiman Al Aghbari scored just a minute apart in the second half to help lift their team to the victory, which came at the National Stadium in Riffa.

Khaldiya clinched their first Bahrain Super Cup title with the result.

Present at the game and awarding the winners their trophy were Bahrain Football Association (BFA) vice-president His Highness Shaikh Khalifa bin Ali bin Isa Al Khalifa and other BFA officials.

In the first half of last night's match, Riffa had a number of opportunities to go ahead. They had a golden chance just a minute before the half when Ali Hasan Saeed intercepted a pass by Khaldiya's Mohammed Adel several metres outside the penalty area. His ensuing lobbed shot flew over Khaldiya goalkeeper Sayed Shubbar Alawi but bounced off the crossbar.

Hashem Sayed Isa also had a chance but his effort went inches wide of the right post.

After the re-start, it did not take long for Khaldiya to take control of the game with their successive strikes.

They opened their account in the 57th minute through Frioui, who tapped the ball home from the face of goal off a short cross from the left supplied by Al Aghbari.

Then, the very next minute, Al Aghbari strengthened their claim for the Bahrain Super Cup with a brilliant left-footed shot from the edge of the box that he fired in despite some defensive pressure from Riffa.

Those goals were enough to separate the two sides and earn them the coveted crown.

Khaldiya's win prevented Riffa from repeating as the game's winners. Riffa clinched last season's Bahrain Super Cup following a penalty shootout win over East Riffa. That result completed an historic treble last season after also clinching the Nasser bin Hamad Bahrain Premier Football League title and lifting His Majesty the King's Cup.

Swiss tennis legend Roger Federer is to retire after next week's Laver Cup after admitting yesterday his battles with a knee problem had forced him to call time on his historic career.

"The Laver Cup next week in London will be my final ATP event," he said in a statement posted on social media.

The 41-year-old winner of 20 Grand Slam titles has been out of action since a quarter-final loss at Wimbledon in 2021, after which he underwent knee surgery in 18 months.

"The last 24 years on tour have been an incredible adventure," he wrote.

"While it sometimes feels like it went by in 24 hours it has also been so deep and magical that it seems as if I have already lived a lifetime."

Federer has struggled with the knee problem for the past three years that has restricted him to only three of the 11 Grand Slams staged since the start of 2020.

His fellow tennis legend Serena Williams is all but certain not to play again after bowing out of the US Open in the third round this month. Federer said that his body had effectively told him it was time to bring the curtain down.

"I've worked hard to return to full competitive form," he wrote.

"But I also know my body's capacities and limits, and its message to me lately has been clear.

'Most fortunate people'

Wimbledon paid him a handsome tribute in keeping with him being a record eight-time champion in the only Slam played on grass.

"Roger, Where do we begin?"

Dear Roger, my friend and rival, I wish this day would never have come. It's a sad day for me personally and for sports around the world. It's been a pleasure but also an honour and privilege to share all these years with you, living so many amazing moments on and off the court word.

"We will so miss the sight of you gracing our courts, but all we can say for now is thank you, for the memories and joy you have given to so many."

Teenager Carlos Alcaraz, the coming man in tennis having won the US Open last Sunday to become the youngest ever world number one, paid tribute to him as well with a broken heart emoji on Twitter.

"Thank you for everything you have done for our sport," Alcaraz said.

The Laver Cup team event in London will also give him a final chance to play competitively as part of the "Big Four", who dominated tennis over the past two decades.
