Philippines eyes Sinovac trial

Reuters | Manila

Sinovac Biotech may start late-stage trials of its coronavirus vaccine in the Philippines as early as next month, its food and drugs agency chief said on Thursday, after it hurdled the initial stage of the country's screening process.

The Food and Drugs Administration (FDA) expects to receive the Chinese drug maker's formal application for phase three clinical trials within two weeks and regulators will make a decision after their evaluation, FDA head Rolando Enrique Domingo said.

Domingo told reporters a November trial start was "possible".

Yemen start swap of 1,000 prisoners

Relatives wait for the arrival and release of the Saudi-led coalition prisoners, in Sayoun

Reuters | Sanaa/Geneva

Planes carrying prisoners exchanged by the warring parties in Yemen took off from three airports yesterday in an operation to return about 1,000 men home across the front lines, the International Committee of the Red Cross said.

The Yemeni government and Iran-backed Houthi movement agreed last month in Switzerland to exchange 1,081 prisoners, including 15 Saudis, in the largest swap since peace talks in December 2018 that have since stalled.

Bahrain moving in the right direction: HRH CP

● Kingdom achieves 45 pc drop in active patients in 27 days

● Reduction mainly due to "commitment of all"

TDT | Manama

Bahrain's steadfast commitment to the COVID-19 preventive measures has yielded a 45 per cent decline in active coronavirus patients, especially during the past four weeks.

"This decrease over the past period also indicates that the Kingdom is moving in the right direction," said His Royal Highness, Prince Salman bin Hamad Al Khalifa praising the high-level of precautionary restraint observed over the past month.

The Crown Prince, Deputy Supreme Commander and First Deputy Prime Minister attributed the successful reduction in the active patients to the "perseverance and dedication" of citizens and residents here.

Bahrain, HRH CP said, brought down the number of active patients from 6,885 on 17 September 2020 to 3,773 on 14 October 2020.

Prince Salman said this reduction was mainly due to the commitment shown by people during the past four weeks. Bahraini authorities launched its #Commit4Bahrain campaign on 17 September urging all to adhere strictly to the measures outlined to battle the virus after detecting a spike in virus cases following the asura season.

The reduction in caseloads achieved in over 27 days, HRH CP said shows the "importance of the civic responsibility shared by all to continue following measures to safeguard one's family and the wider community."

HRH PRINCE SALMAN BIN HAMAD AL KHALIFA

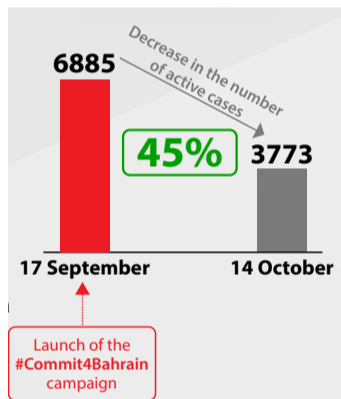

On this note, the Crown Prince called on citizens and residents to continue following measures to maintain the downward trajectories of cases.

To eradicate the virus, HRH CP said, all of us should continue to follow and observe the precautionary measures issued by both the National Medical Taskforce for Combatting the Coronavirus (COVID-19) and the Ministry of Health.

HRH the Crown Prince reiterated his gratitude to first responders, including medical professionals and supporting staff, for their continued efforts towards combatting the spread of the virus and safeguarding all in the Kingdom.

Congratulating the "commitment of all, HRH Prince Salman bin Hamad Al Khalifa in a statement said, "Protecting yourself and your family through preventative action has a tangible effect on protecting the community of Bahrain."

EU, Britain sanction Russians over Navalny poisoning

London

The European Union and Britain imposed sanctions on top Russian officials close to President Vladimir Putin yesterday in an unexpectedly robust and swift response to the August poisoning of Kremlin critic Alexei Navalny.

Pushed by France and Germany, where Navalny was treated after collapsing on a flight from Siberia, the EU and Britain targeted six Russians and a state scientific research centre.

The Kremlin condemned the sanctions as a deliberate and unfriendly step against Moscow and promised retaliation.

The State Scientific Research Institute for Organic Chemistry and Technology was also sanctioned.

Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov said there was no logic to the decision and the sanctions had harmed relations.

Russian businessman Evgeny Prigozhin, who has been indicted in the United States for interfering with the 2016 US elections, was also separately sanctioned by the EU, accused of breaking a United Nations arms embargo on Libya.

Iran "Lebanonising" Iraq, warns US Foreign Policy expert

Iran is trying to "Lebanonise" Iraq to allow a pro-Western government to rule in theory where the real power is wielded by Iran-backed militias, warned a top US Foreign Policy expert.

In Lebanon, that force is Hezbollah, says Max Boot a historian, best-selling author, columnist, and foreign-policy analyst who has been described by the International Institute for Strategic Studies as one of the "world's leading authorities on armed conflict."

Boot citing a work by Hisham al-Hashimi, an Iraqi scholar, says the militias "have wrested pervasive control over much of the Iraqi economy: from airport customs, construction projects, oilfields, sewage, water, highways, colleges, public and private property, tourism sites, presidential palaces; and the extortion of restaurants, cafes, cargo trucks, fishermen, farmers, displaced families."

Hashimi, Boot adds, paid for his research with his life. A gunman assassinated him outside his home in Baghdad in what widely seen as an operation carried out by the PMF.

The report also points that though many Iraqi lawmakers vowed to evict US troops following a US strike near Baghdad airport, that failed to happen. "But the Donald J. Trump administration could be in the middle of evicting itself."

Iraqi militias have offered to suspend rocket attacks on US troops if the Iraqi government presents a timetable for their withdrawal.

While the report calls the downsizing of troops as "sensible", it, however, says it would be "foolhardy" to withdraw all of the US troops or diplomats from Iraq.

Boot also urges the United States to support Mustafa al-Kadhimi, Iraqi Prime Minister, in his efforts to reduce the power of the PMF.

The report calls on the United States to continue its push for a more nonsectarian state by assisting the training of Iraqi security forces, helping to advise Iraqi leaders and providing crucial assistance in areas such as intelligence, targeting, and logistics. "That can only be done if the United States maintains a substantial presence on the ground—three thousand troops minimum—despite the risks of Iran-backed attacks," Boot adds.

cussion at the 38th Information and Communication Technology Governance Committee (ICTGC) meeting, chaired by Information & eGovernment Authority (iGA) Chief Executive, Mohammed Ali Al Qaed.

The meeting via video conference reviewed requests, including that from the Supreme Council of Health's (SCH) Diagnosis Related Group (DRG), which is required for the Bahrain National Health Insurance Scheme (Sehati), and bring further transparency to the costs of healthcare services offered by hospitals.

ICTGC committee further discussed a tender for providing Microsoft programme licenses to the Ministry of Education to continue offering remote learning.

The meeting also discussed a request for call centre services to the iGA and the National Bureau for Revenue (NBR), and Navigational Telex (NAVTEX) services used by the Ministry of Transportation and Telecommunications to send navigational and air warning signals to ships and transmit forecasts and urgent safety information. The meeting also reviewed the latest NBR system developments and their progress. Al Qaed welcomed new committee member Ali Jassim Humood who represents the Ministry of Cabinet Affairs, adding that his presence will help elevate the committee's work and achieve its objectives.

Southern police catch jewellery thieves within 24 hours

TDT | Manama

Swift police action has resulted in foiling the attempts of two gold thieves from escaping with their spoils within 24 hours of the crime. The tensed action-filled sequence took place in the Southern Governorate's eastern Riffa region, where two men aged 30 and 60 looted a gold store thereof BD3,000 worth jewellery.

According to the Director-General of the Southern Governorate Police Department: One of them stole the gold jewellery from a gold shop in the eastern Riffa region, while this accomplice hid them."

Police learned about the theft from a call received at the station from the shopkeeper.

A team of officers went into action quickly with them collecting video footages leading to identifying the suspects in no time.

The further investigation resulted in spotting the criminals and bringing them into custody in less than 24 hours.

Investigators found that one of the suspects had used a bus he had stolen earlier to commit the crime.

He also confessed to police that they sold the stolen goods to another, whom police arrested on charges of hiding stolen goods.

The Director-General of the Southern Governorate Police Department confirmed that police retrieved all of the stolen items from the suspects.

The suspects are now facing legal actions by the Public Prosecution.

Kingfish is back on menu!

● Two-month ban ends

TDT | Manama

Your favourite and delicious Kingfish is once again back on the menu here in the Kingdom.

Authorities here are lifting the two-month ban today, which came in to effect on August 15.

Kingfish are popular among gourmets for their pleasant flavour, moderate oiliness as they are also easily adaptable to a variety of cooking methods.

The ban, meant for replenishing the fish stocks, has effectively wiped out kingfish of the menu cards here as any violations also attract penalties as stipulated per Decree-Law No. (20) of 2002.

In a statement yesterday, the agency appreciated the cooperation and commitment of fishermen in abiding by the regulations meant for replenishing fish stocks in the Kingdom.

Officials explained that banning fishing during the breeding season is the best scientific method to preserve fish stocks.

Announcing the ban, Agriculture and Marine Resources Agency at the Ministry of Works, Municipalities Affairs and Urban Planning earlier explained the decision aims at increasing the fish stocks, regulating fishing, achieving a balance within marine life.

The ban follows a Gulf Cooperation Council decision to ban fishing of Kingfish, which belongs to the mackerel family, by nets from August 15 to October 15 of each year in all of the GCC countries, starting 2015.

It usually takes a kingfish up to 21 years to reach its full growth size of 2.5 metres or more and they can weigh up to 40-45kgs. These are considered to be 'large' kingfish, in reality the 15-20kg range is the most common catch.

Education ministry to distribute textbooks soon

● Coronavirus restriction caused the delay

● Books are ready with schools

● Digital text books available on Ministry's website

TDT | Manama

Bahrain's Education ministry has completed all necessary preparation for the distribution of textbooks to students.

Latifa Al-Bonoodha

Assistant Undersecretary for General and Technical Education at the Ministry of Education, Latifa Al-Bonoodha, said the ministry had provided all books to schools during the summer holidays.

The distribution of books was delayed to follow the coronavirus precautionary measures, Al-Bonoodha added.

She said plans are now to distribute books in the coming days, after assessing the health situation.

Al-Bonoodha, however, said the priority is for ensuring the safety of students.

She also explained that students could take advantage of digital books available on the Education Ministry's website.

Digital versions of English textbooks are not available, as doing so will infringe on the copyright owned by foreign companies.

Housing Minister hailed the superior efficiency and capabilities of Bahraini engineers in achieving Bahrain's sustainable development goals.

Bahrain, Bassim Al-Hamar said, is fully confident in the abilities of engineers here in managing projects, both in the government and private sectors.

He also attributed the boom witnessed in the Kingdom's housing sectors to the hard work of the engineers here who are creative and diligent in serving the nation.

The Minister was speaking on the occasion of Bahrain Engineer's day, which falls on fifteen of October this year.

The day is an opportunity to increase the profile of engineering. The day also provides an opportunity to engage with government and industry to address the need for engineering capacity and the quality of engineers and develop strategic frameworks and best practices for the implementation of engineering solutions for sustainable development.

The celebration of Engineering Day is also about promoting engineering as a career and how it is an opportunity to change the world for better.

Al Hamar expressed his happiness in the works of the engineers who are working tirelessly to achieve the target of 40,000 housing units set by His Majesty

Nabih Saleh island classification works enter phase 2

TDI | Manama

The long-pending classifications efforts of Nabih Saleh Island has finally moved on to its second phase, giving hope to landowners there who had been struggling for decades over the issue.

Landowners of the Island are stuck in a legal-quagmire stemming from overlapping land boundaries involving religious institutions with the authorities also placing a blanket ban on developments.

“The issue remained unresolved for a long time due to the overlapping boundaries of the lands owned by Jaffari and Sunni Waqf (endowments) Directors, who have several plots on the historic island,” Mubarak Ahmed Al-Nuaimi, Head of the Technical Committee of the Capital Secretariat said.

The new development came during a meeting chaired by Mubarak Ahmed Al-Nuaimi with the representative of the Urban Planning and Development Department.

The island, which lies in the Tubli Bay, east of Bahrain, is named after the formally separate islands of Nebbi and Saleh.

Lands there come under the jurisdiction of the Capital Governorate. There are now two villages on it Nabhi Saleh, and Jazzerah connected to Bahrain through Sitra Causeway.

Existence of large portions of lands on the island considered either private or endowment property is the main issue hindering the development of the island.

Al Nuami said the committee puts top priority on the classification of Nabih Saleh Island.

He said the Capital municipality is following up the issues raised by previous committees and is in talks with the Urban Planning and Development Department for a swift resolution.

Alia Rahma, an advisor to a land development expert at the Urban Planning and Development Authority, briefed the members of the committee on the latest developments in the planning of Nabih Saleh Island.

She said the second phase classification has started and is expecting completion soon.

Moving on, the committee also discussed issues related to the authority's functions, including the classification of real estate in the Zinj area.

Bahrain has been known for a long time for its many natural freshwater springs which are scattered around Nabih Saleh and Sitra islands, and are particularly numerous around the northern and eastern side of the main island of Bahrain.

Starting in the early 1970s, the flow of fresh water from subterranean springs has dwindled or become progressively more saline because of a lowering of the water table as a result of depletion and over-use of the aquifer (Louri, 1990) normalisation deal on Sept. 15, forging formal diplomatic ties. Israel ratified the deal in a cabinet vote on Monday and a parliamentary vote yesterday.

Several commercial agreements have been signed between the two countries since mid-August, when they agreed to normalise relations.

"There is a preliminary agreement between both countries to start negotiations with Israel on Double Taxation Avoidance Agreement soon," the UAE finance ministry said in a statement, citing undersecretary Younis Haji Al Khoori.

"The Ministry of Finance is keen to expand its international relations network by signing double taxation avoidance agreements and agreements to protect and encourage investments," Khoori said.

Such tax treaties help prevent similar taxes being imposed by two countries on the same taxpayer, and are aimed at encouraging the exchange of goods, services and capital.

The UAE has around 100 double taxation agreements covering most of its trade partners.

"The first round of negotiations on an agreement to protect and encourage investment confirms the two countries' efforts to build investment partnerships in various fields," said Khoori.

Gold edges up after Trump offers larger US stimulus

Reuters

Gold prices inched up on Thursday after US President Donald Trump reignited hopes of a coronavirus stimulus package before the Nov. 3 elections, however, a strong dollar kept the metal's gains in check.

Spot gold was up 0.1 per cent at $1,903.39 per ounce by 1:02 p.m. EDT (1702 GMT). US gold futures was flat at $1,906.80.

Trump said he would agree to go higher than the $1.8 trillion that the White House has offered in coronavirus stimulus to strike a deal.

"The focus is on renewed hopes for stimulus talks as the US president keeps pushing to get a deal done and gold is ignoring the strength in the dollar," ED&F Man Capital Markets analyst Edward Meir said.

Gold bars are pictured on display at Korea Gold Exchange in Seoul, South Korea

"But with the dollar as strong as it is, the upside in gold will likely be limited."

The dollar held gains against rivals, supported by US Treasury Secretary Steve Mnuchin's remarks on Wednesday that a stimulus deal would be hard to reach before the election.

Further supporting gold, US weekly jobless claims unexpectedly rose last week.

"The jobless numbers showed that we're not out of the woods yet, we still have a lot of headwinds to contend with, which points to the likelihood of more government intervention through stimulus and suppressed interest rates," said Jeffrey Sica, president and chief investment officer of Sica Wealth Management.

Elsewhere, silver fell 0.7pc to $24.11 per ounce, platinum rose 0.5pc to $861.59 and palladium was unchanged at $2,344.30.

OPEC+ panel discusses weaker oil demand outlook, Libya supply rise

● The group had 102 per cent compliance with its production cuts in September

● The panel also discussed OPEC data showing a stocks overhang throughout 2021

Reuters | London

An OPEC+ technical committee discussed yesterday higher oil supply as production resumes in Libya amid a weaker demand outlook due to a second wave of coronavirus infections, two OPEC+ sources said.

The Joint Technical Committee (JTC), which includes representatives from key OPEC+ producers such as Saudi Arabia and Russia, was meeting to review compliance with global oil output cuts and to review the oil market.

The group had 102 per cent compliance with its production cuts in September, two OPEC+ sources told Reuters.

On Thursday, OPEC Secretary

On Thursday, OPEC Secretary General Mohammad Barkindo told a conference that demand was recovering at a slower pace than expected.

General Mohammad Barkindo told a conference that demand was recovering at a slower pace than expected.

"We have to be realistic that this recovery is not picking up pace at the rate that we expected earlier in the year," he said. "Demand itself is still looking anaemic."

OPEC+ delegates discussed the slow demand recovery in the fourth quarter of this year, when seasonally it was expected to rise, one of the sources said.

The resumption of oil production from Libya and the lack of a vaccine for COVID-19, as several countries face a rise in cases and renewed restrictions to try to contain the pandemic, could mean a downward revision for oil demand, creating a bearish outlook for the market in the coming months, he added.

The panel also discussed OPEC data showing a stocks overhang throughout 2021, with OECD inventories at 301 million barrels above the latest five-year average in the last quarter, compared with 245, 181 and 173 in the first three, the source said.

OPEC+ - producers from the Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) and others including Russia - have been reducing output since January 2017 in a bid to balance the market, support prices and reduce inventories.

They are currently curbing production by 7.7 million barrels per day (bpd), down from 9.7 million bpd, and are due to taper their production cuts by 2 million bpd in January.

But Thursday's bearish demand outlook and rising supply from Libya mean OPEC+ could roll over existing cuts into next year and delay easing the reductions, OPEC+ sources say.

Facebook's Libra cryptocurrency taps ex-HSBC exec as CFO

Another former HSBC executive is heading to the Facebook-backed Libra cryptocurrency project, joining as chief financial officer of a unit tasked with managing the planned digital currency's payments system.

The Geneva-based Libra Association, which plans to issue and govern the Libra cryptocurrency, said in a statement it has appointed Ian Jenkins as CFO and chief risk officer of Libra

Libra is now seeking to issue a series of stablecoins backed by individual traditional currencies. It has hired a number of senior executives since applying for a Swiss payments license in Financial leaders of the world's seven biggest economies said on Tuesday that no stablecoin - a type of cryptocurrency, such as Libra, that is often backed by traditional assets - should begin operation until it was properly regulated.

April, many of them are specialised in financial compliance and with ties to U.S. government and authorities.

In September the project appointed former HSBC European head James Emmett to lead Libra Networks. It also tapped HSBC's former chief legal officer Stuart Levey - formerly a U.S. Treasury official during the Bush and Obama administrations - to head the association itself.

Trump blasts Facebook, Twitter for blocking story critical of Biden

The social media giants restricted sharing a disputed New York Post story about Joe Biden's son Hunter

● Facebook reduced the reach of the story pending a fact-check review

● Twitter banned linking to the Post's report, but it cited a different policy: the site's rules against posting hacked material

US President Donald Trump rebuked Facebook and Twitter for blocking links to a New York Post article purporting to expose corrupt dealings by election rival Joe Biden and his son in Ukraine.

The newspaper said it had obtained a computer abandoned by Hunter Biden that implicated his father in his Ukraine business affairs.

The former vice president -- the Democratic nominee for the November 3 election -- has repeatedly denied any such involvement.

"Smoking-gun email reveals how Hunter Biden introduced Ukrainian businessman to VP dad," the newspaper's headline read.

As Biden's campaign denied he had ever met the businessman, Facebook and Twitter placed restrictions on linking to the article, saying there were questions over its veracity.

"This is part of our standard process to reduce the spread of misinformation," said Facebook spokesman Andy Stone.

Twitter said it was limiting the article's dissemination due to questions about "the origins of the materials" included in the article.

Republicans were outraged by what they called partisan censorship.

Trump, who trails Biden in polls 20 days before the presidential election, blasted the two social media giants.

"So terrible that Facebook and Twitter took down the story of 'Smoking Gun' emails related to Sleepy Joe Biden and his son, Hunter, in the @NYPost," Trump posted on Twitter.

"It is only the beginning for them. There is nothing worse than a corrupt politician."

At a rally later in Iowa, Trump said his press secretary Kayleigh McEnany's Twitter account was blocked after she shared the Post story.

"Because she is reporting the truth! They close down her account," Trump said.

The New York Post article revived criticisms from the past two years that Joe Biden, when he was in charge of the Obama administration's Ukraine policy, took actions to help his son and the Ukrainian energy company whose board Hunter Biden sat on, Burisma Twitter CEO Jack Dorsey expressed regret over how Twitter communicated what it was doing with the article.

"Our communication around our actions on the @nypost article was not great. And blocking URL sharing via tweet or DM with zero context as to why we're blocking: unacceptable," he tweeted.

Abandoned computer

The New York Post said the computer had been left by Hunter Biden at a Delaware computer repair shop in April 2019.

The unidentified shop owner told the newspaper that after the computer seemed to have been forgotten, he copied the hard drive and gave the machine to federal authorities.

The shop owner passed the hard drive copy to Rudy Giuliani, President Donald Trump's personal lawyer, who provided it to the newspaper.

While the Biden campaign did not deny the existence of the computer or validity of the emails on it, Giuliani has a record of dispersing disinformation about both Bidens and Ukraine.

In September the US Treasury said one "source" Giuliani met with several times, Ukrainian politician Andrii Derkach, "has been an active Russian agent for over a decade."

The Post criticized Facebook and Twitter for helping Biden's election campaign, saying that no one has disputed the story's veracity.

"Facebook and Twitter are not media platforms. They're propaganda machines," it wrote in an editorial.

Republican Senator Josh Hawley, in a letter to Facebook chief executive Mark Zuckerberg, said the "seemingly selective" blocking "suggests partiality on the part of Facebook."

The Post report, he said, is "clearly relevant to the public interest" and reveals "potentially unethical activity by a candidate for president."

- Ukraine business -

"Twitter's censorship of this story is quite hypocritical, given its willingness to allow users to share less-well-sourced reporting critical of other candidates," Republican Senator Ted Cruz said in a letter to Twitter CEO Jack Dorsey.

The story revived criticisms from the past two years that Joe Biden, when he was in charge of the Obama administration's Ukraine policy, took actions to help his son and the Ukrainian energy company whose board Hunter Biden sat on, Burisma.

Biden has repeatedly rejected such allegations. "I have never spoken to my son about his overseas business dealings," he said flatly in September 2019.

Floods kill 40 in India, damage crops

Reuters | Hyderabad

Floods brought by heavy rains and overflowing rivers across large swathes of western and southern India have killed at least 40 people since Wednesday and damaged rice, cotton and other crops, officials said.

The worst affected state was Telangana, where excessive unseasonal rainfall Wednesday and yesterday flooded its capital Hyderabad, home to major IT companies and startups such as Microsoft, Accenture, Amazon and TCS.

In Telangana 30 people died, while in neighbouring western state of Maharashtra 10 people were killed because of wall collapses, electrocution and drowning in overflowing streams, officials from the two states said yesterday.

Authorities in Hyderabad declared a holiday yesterday and asked residents to stay indoors.

Residents are evacuated from a flooded

Daily life has been disrupted in Hyderabad as many parts of the city lost power in the flooding.

Residents posted pictures on Twitter of floating cars, waterlogged homes, offices and streets.

A few districts in Maharashtra state received more than 100 mm rainfall in the last 24 hours and the state, including its capital Mumbai, is likely to receive heavy to very heavy rainfall today, the India Meteorological Department (IMD) said in its daily forecast.

The rains have damaged rice paddies in Telangana and Andhra Pradesh, while cotton, soybean and pulses were damaged in Maharashtra and Karnataka, traders said.

"Soybean, pigeon peas and black matpe crops have been damaged just before harvesting. The quality of the harvested crop has also deteriorated," said Nitin Kalantri, a trader from Latur, in Maharashtra.

Telangana and Maharashtra have so far in October received 143 per cent and 78pc more rainfall than normal respectively, according to data compiled by IMD.

John Cena marries Shay Shariatzadeh in Florida

Fox | Los Angeles

John Cena and Shay Shariatzadeh are married.

The two tied the knot in Tampa, Fla., on Monday, according to a marriage certificate. Per People magazine, the couple obtained a marriage license on Friday. Reps for Cena did not immediately respond to Fox News' request for comment.

Rumors of a romance between the "Bumblebee" actor, 43, and Shariatzadeh began swirling in March of 2019, less than a year after Cena's high-profile split from Nikki Bella, who he was engaged to.

He was also previously married to Elizabeth Huberdeau from 2009-2012.

The star possibly hinted at his upcoming nuptials on Twitter last week when he spoke about love.

"Love involves constant effort," he wrote online. "When you are truly ready to let love in and give to love all it needs to flourish, I feel there is no greater more rewarding connection."

Australia coach Langer opposed to test and T20 schedule clash

Reuters | Melbourne

Australia coach Justin Langer says he is opposed to the prospect of playing a test series and Twenty20 series concurrently in early 2021.

Australia are scheduled to play five T20s in New Zealand from Feb 22 - March 7, which would clash with the proposed test tour of South Africa.

Langer said he had raised his concerns with governing body Cricket Australia.

"The chairman knows this, the CEO knows this really clearly - my personal opinion is I don't like it at all," Langer told local radio station SEN.

"I don't ever want to have two Australian teams in one place. That's my personal opinion. In this year, with what's happening with COVID, I understand there's complexities to it.

"We're one country, aren't we? We're not two countries. And we're one sport."

While the schedule clash could deplete the quality of both test and T20 squads, Langer said he was also concerned about the domestic Sheffield Shield.

"Let's say we've got to take 18 players to New Zealand, we've got to take 18 players to South Africa, that's 36 players out of the backend of the Sheffield Shield competition," he said.

While the schedule clash could deplete the quality of both test and T20 squads, Langer said he was also concerned about the domestic Sheffield Shield

"And that's before any injuries that will inevitably happen every year.

"They're the sort of things that worry me with this."

As for all international sport, the COVID-19 pandemic has caused huge schedule disruptions and forced cricket boards to make compromises to organise competitions.

Cricket Australia interim Chief Executive Nick Hockley said last month all playing nations needed to "play (their) part in helping international cricket back to a healthy position."

"This is a unique set of circumstances brought on by the pandemic and is not something we envisage replicating regularly in future," he said of the schedule.

Maguire red haunts England, Mbappe nets France winner

England's prospects of returning to the finals of the Nations League suffered a big hit as Gareth Southgate's side lost 1-0 at home to Denmark on Wednesday, while Kylian Mbappe gave World Cup holders France a 2-1 victory in Croatia and Portugal won without Cristiano Ronaldo.

Harry Maguire was sent off for England in the first half at Wembley for two clumsy yellow cards, and Christian Eriksen then converted a 35th-minute penalty on the occasion of his 100th cap to put the Danes ahead.

They held on to inflict a first home defeat on England in two years, with the hosts also having young Chelsea full-back Reece James sent off for dissent after the final whistle.

"He is a top player, he is a massive part of what we do," Southgate said in defence of Maguire, who has struggled for Manchester United since his involvement in a brawl on the Greek island of Mykonos in August.

"He is having a period where he is having a lot of stick thrown his way and he is big enough to deal with that."

Christian Eriksen scores Denmark's winner from the penalty spot

England got to the four-team finals of the inaugural Nations League last year but their chances of getting there again this time are very much in the balance with Belgium two points ahead of Southgate's team and the Danes atop League A, Group 2.

Belgium won 2-1 in Iceland on Wednesday with Romelu Lukaku scoring twice. They host England in Brussels on November 15.

In Zagreb, Paris Saint-Germain star Mbappe missed an open goal early on but got the winner in the 79th minute as France beat Croatia 2-1 in their latest re-run of the 2018 World Cup final.

Antoine Griezmann had put France ahead with Nikola Vlasic equalising in the second half for Croatia before around 7,000 fans.

Les Bleus have still never lost to Croatia and are level with Portugal on 10 points at the top of League A, Group 3.

Doubles for Jota, Lewandowski

Portugal, winners of the inaugural Nations League, shrugged off the absence of Ronaldo because of a positive Covid-19 test as they beat Sweden 3-0 in Lisbon.

Liverpool's Diogo Jota set up Bernardo Silva for the opener then scored two of his own, one either side of half-time.

"This team will always be better with Cristiano, but they showed they can still compete," said Portugal coach Fernando Santos.

Meanwhile, the prolific Robert Lewandowski scored a brace as Poland beat Bosnia and Herzegovina 3-0 in Warsaw. Karol Linetty got the other goal and Poland are top of Group A, a point above Italy and two ahead of the Netherlands.

The Dutch came from behind to draw 1-1 with Italy in Bergamo, with Donny van de Beek netting for Frank de Boer's side after Lorenzo Pellegrini put Italy ahead.

Scotland continue revival

ties to reach the Euro qualifying play-off final, Scotland beat Slovakia 1-0 at the weekend.

They are now unbeaten in eight matches and are four points clear of the Czechs at the top of League B, Group 2, and five ahead of Israel who came from 2-0 down to win 3-2 in Slovakia with a hat-trick from PSV Eindhoven's Eran Zahavi.

In Group 4, Wales won 1-0 in Bulgaria with a late Jonny Williams goal.

They are unbeaten in eight competitive games, and Ryan Giggs' side are top with 10 points, a point ahead of Finland.

Stephen Kenny is still waiting for his first win as Republic of Ireland manager after a 1-0 defeat in Finland left his side out of contention for top spot in that group.

Before 8,000 fans in Helsinki, Fredrik Jensen scored the only goal, as he did when the sides met last month in Dublin.

Also in League B, Northern Ireland kept Erling Braut Haaland quiet enough but a second-half Stuart Dallas own goal gave Norway a 1-0 win in Oslo in Group 1.

Turkey came from 2-0 down to draw 2-2 with Serbia in Group 3, which is topped by Russia who were held 0-0 by Hungary in Moscow.

Premier League clubs reject 'Project Big Picture'

Reuters | London

Premier League clubs rejected plans put forward by Liverpool and Manchester United for radical changes to the league's structures and finances and said they would conduct their own review of the game.

The "Project Big Picture" proposals would have seen an increase in funds for the 72 clubs in the Football League (EFL) but also include special voting rights for the biggest clubs in the Premier League and a reduction of teams in the top flight from 20 to 18.

The plan has been fronted by EFL chairman Rick Parry and would have included a 250 million-pound ($325.85 million) bail-out for his clubs, who face acute financial issues due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

But at a meeting on Wednesday of all 20 Premier League clubs, the plans were rejected with a separate, broader-based review by the entire league initiated and a more limited bail-out for lower division clubs.

"All 20 Premier League clubs today unanimously agreed that Project Big Picture will not be endorsed or pursued by the Premier League, or The FA," the league said in a statement.

"Further, Premier League Shareholders agreed to work together as a 20-club collective on a strategic plan for the future structures and financing of English football, consulting with all stakeholders to ensure a vibrant, competitive and sustainable football pyramid."

The process will include the FA, the UK government and the EFL, added the statement.

Rescue package

The Premier League also said it had agreed to offer a rescue package to League One and League Two (third and fourth tier) clubs.

"This offer will consist of grants and interest-free loans totalling a further 50 million pounds on top of the £27.2m solidarity payments already advanced to League One and League Two this year, making a total of 77.2 million pounds," the statement said.

"Discussions will also continue with the EFL regarding Championship clubs' financial needs. This addresses Government concerns about lower league clubs' financial fragility."

The UK government's Culture Minister Oliver Dowden, who is responsible for sport, has been urging the wealthier clubs to help out the lower league teams and said the offer was a "good start".

Delhi's Nortje bowls fastest ball in IPL history

Reuters | Dubai

South African pace bowler Anrich Nortje bowled the fastest ball in Indian Premier League (IPL) history on Wednesday during his team Delhi Capitals' 13-run victory over Rajasthan Royals.

The 26-year-old eclipsed compatriot Dale Steyn's effort of 154.40 km per hour set in 2012, clocking 154.74 kph and 155.21 kph in the game at Dubai before his best effort of 156.22 kph was scooped for a boundary by Rajasthan's Jos Buttler.

BRAVE CF returns for two incredible fight nights in Bahrain

TDI | Manama

After the immense success of the Kombat Kingdom series, BRAVE Combat Federation has announced its next two event dates. The fastest-growing MMA organization in the world will make its return to action and will be back to Bahrain for two shows in the first two weeks of November.

BRAVE CF 44 and BRAVE CF 45 will take place on November 5th and November 12th, respectively, and BRAVE Nation can expect fireworks and exciting fights with athletes from all around the globe descending upon the Kingdom of Bahrain once again.

BRAVE Combat Federation is expected to also announce the upcoming fights in the next few days as the truly global MMA promotion gets ready for another set of events in its own home in the Kingdom of Bahrain.

For the past two years, BRAVE CF has been able to put at least 12 shows in a calendar year, and that run will stretch to 2020 with the two events announced, as the organization celebrated its fourth year of operations during Kombat Kingdom.

As was the case since the return to activities following the Covid-19 outbreak, BRAVE CF 44 and 45 will also take place behind closed doors, as the promotion continues to maintain the highest levels of safety and health for all those involved, including fighters and staff. Fans will be able to witness the best action in MMA around the globe with BRAVE CF TV as well as local broadcasting partners.

Valentino Rossi tests positive for coronavirus

Rossi will miss this weekend's Aragon Grand Prix and likely next week's Teruel GP

● Rossi has been self-isolating since his arrival to Aragon

AFP | Paris

Seven-time MotoGP world champion Valentino Rossi said yesterday he has tested positive for coronavirus and will miss this weekend's Grand Prix of Aragon.

The 41-year-old Italian said he could also miss next week's Teruel Grand Prix at the same circuit in Spain.

"Unfortunately, this morning I woke up and I was not feeling good. My bones were sore and I had a slight fever, so I immediately called the doctor who tested me twice," said Rossi in a statement.

"The quick PCR test result was negative, just like the test I underwent on Tuesday.

"But the second one, of which the result was sent to me at 16:00 this afternoon, was unfortunately positive. I am so disappointed that I will have to miss the race at Aragon."

Rossi, in his final season with the factory Yamaha team, had endured a tough season with three successive crashes leaving "The Doctor" down in 13th in the world championship.

"I'd like to be optimistic and confident, but I expect the second round in Aragon to be a 'no-go' for me as well... I am sad and angry because I did my best to respect the protocol and although the test I had on Tuesday was negative, I self-isolated since my arrival from Le Mans," he added.

"Anyway, this is the way it is, and I can't do anything to change the situation. I will now follow the medical advice, and I just hope I will be feeling well soon."

Rossi's absence is another setback for the factory Yamaha team after six of their technical staff missed last week's race at Le Mans when one member tested positive - despite being asymptomatic.

"These two incidents remind us that no matter how careful you are, the risk is always present - as we see with the rising numbers of infections in Europe at this time," said Yamaha team managing director Lin Jarvis.

Rossi's condition will be closely monitored by medical staff in Tavullia, Italy, where he lives.

"We have checked with the Italian health authorities and we have been advised that any member of our team that was in contact with Valentino up until Monday is excluded from direct risk," added Jarvis.

"Nevertheless, we will be even more attentive from now on to minimise the chance for any future issues."

BRAVE CF surpasses sporting giants with round-the-world trip

● BRAVE CF 12 conducts events in 12 different countries in the same year

TDI | Manama

As BRAVE Combat Federation wrapped up "Kombat Kingdom", the series of three consecutive events in the Kingdom of Bahrain, the truly global MMA promotion also turned four, completing 48 months of operations. During its tenure in the sport of Mixed Martial Arts, BRAVE CF achieved many milestones but, arguably, none as impressive as the ones in the year of 2018, at least so far.

In its second full year, BRAVE Combat Federation travelled more than a round-the-world trip. This stunning milestone made BRAVE CF a more global brand than MotoGP, the traditional international grand prix motorcycle racing competition held since 1949.

This alone shows the power of BRAVE Combat Federation as a global brand, and highlights the organization's unique vision. But BRAVE CF hasn't stopped there. During 2018, the promotion visited 12 different countries for its 12 events held between January and December 2018. That was something that was never done, since the organization was barely two years old when the feat was completed.

Gayle back in business with 53 as Punjab down Kohli's Bangalore

Kings XI Punjab's Chris Gayle plays a shot

AFP | Dubai

Chris Gayle smashed 53 in his first outing this Indian Premier League season to give Kings XI Punjab their second win of the virus-hit Twenty20 tournament yesterday.

The explosive West Indies batsman walked in at number three to put on a key 93-run partnership with skipper KL Rahul, who made an unbeaten 61, as Punjab chased down 172 to beat Royal Challengers Bangalore by eight wickets in Sharjah.

The match witnessed late drama with Punjab, needing two for victory, scored just one run and lost Gayle to a run out on the fifth ball before Nicholas Pooran hit the winning six on the last ball off leg-spinner Yuzvendra Chahal.

Gayle, the 41-year-old self-styled "Universe Boss" who recently recovered from a stomach bug, smashed five sixes in his 45-ball knock to announce his arrival in the United Arab Emirates.

"It is the Universe Boss batting, how can I be nervous?" the left-handed said after the win.

"I might give you a heart attack, I thought I had it in the bag but stranger things have happened in cricket.

"It was a very sticky surface, very slow, but it was better batting second. The team asked me to do a job at three and it wasn't an issue (coming one down from his usual opening slot)."

The in-form Rahul consolidated his top spot in the IPL batting chart with 448 runs as the opener struck his fourth fifty -- he has hit a hundred as well -- of the season.

Djokovic plans to finish season as world number one

AFP | Paris

World number one Novak Djokovic said yesterday he planned to play two more tournaments until the end of the season -- in Vienna and London -- and keep his top ATP ranking.

"I'm going to play the Vienna tournament that wasn't originally on my schedule," Djokovic told AFP.

Novak Djokovic

He was speaking on the sidelines of a visit to a wellness park in Bosnia where he came to recuperate after losing Sunday's French Open final to Rafael Nadal.

"I haven't played in Vienna for 15 years so I'm happy about that," Djokovic added.

The 33-year-old Serb said that the London Masters, starting on November 15, is the second and final tournament that he still intended to play for the remainder of the season.

"This season, which was very intermittent, different and weird, at the same time brought me a lot of success and I'm very satisfied with my game, points, ranking.
