The meeting on Wednesday was part of HRH's official visit to the United States and underscored Bahrain's growing leadership in shaping multilateral defence pacts through strategic platforms like the Comprehensive

Shared priorities

HRH emphasised that Bahrain's enduring military partnership with the United States, now spanning over 130 years, continues to evolve through deep mutual trust and cooperation. His Royal Highness said initiatives like C-SIPA not only bolster regional deterrence but also expand collaboration in commerce, science, and technology among like-minded states, contributing to long-term peace and prosperity in the Middle East.

HRH Prince Salman described the agreement as a cornerstone for regional security architecture, enabling collective deterrence against external threats while reinforcing Bahrain's standing as a reliable and proactive security partner.

Strategic foothold

His Royal Highness reaffirmed Bahrain's commitment to international peace efforts and its readiness to build on existing military frameworks to further elevate cooperation.

HRH also expressed pride in the Kingdom's decades-long hosting of the U.S. Navy's Fifth Fleet and its active participation in the Combined Maritime Forces, underscoring Bahrain's vital role in securing global shipping lanes.

For his part, U.S. Secretary of Defense Pete Hegseth praised Bahrain's longstanding contributions to global security and commended its leadership in promoting peace and maritime cooperation. He reiterated Washington's commitment to strengthening joint defence capabilities with the Kingdom, grounded in decades of trusted alliance.

High-level presence

Also attending the meeting were HH Shaikh Isa bin Salman bin Hamad Al Khalifa, Minister of the Prime Minister's Court, and several senior officials.

The visit reinforced Bahrain's forward-leaning diplomatic approach and its strategic weight in regional and international security frameworks.

Bahrain is the only Gulf country to host the U.S. Navy's Fifth Fleet, a key force in securing vital international shipping lanes in the region.

The clear proof of strong friendship

MP hails landmark $17 billion Bahrain-U.S. deals as symbol of enduring alliance

Mohammed Darwish
TDT | Manama

Member of Parliament Hassan Ibrahim has welcomed the suite of major agreements signed by His Royal Highness Prince Salman bin Hamad Al Khalifa, Crown Prince and Prime Minister, during his official visit to the United States. He described the deals — valued at an estimated $17 billion — as a clear proof of the strong friendship binding

Bahrain and the U.S. “These agreements move the Bahrain-US partnership into a new phase,” said Mr Ibrahim. He added: “They show how determined the leadership is to draw in investment, open up job opportunities and build national skills for the good of everyday Bahrainis.” Among the standout agreements is a major aviation deal that will see Gulf Air acquire new aircraft and engines from Boeing and General Electric.

In parallel, Bahrain’s sovereign wealth fund Mumtalakat has committed up to $2 billion to support industrial projects in the U.S., particularly in aluminium-linked manufacturing. Bahrain’s digital ambitions also took a leap forward with plans to build a strategic under-sea cable linking the Kingdom with neighbouring Gulf states. Meanwhile, the signing of a civil nuclear cooperation accord — known as the 123 Agreement — paves the way for Bahrain to explore peaceful atomic energy as part of its long-term net-zero strategy. The Kingdom also entered into new partnerships with American tech giants Oracle and Cisco to accelerate its digital transformation and advance capabilities in artificial intelligence and other emerging technologies. Mr Ibrahim extending his best wishes for Bahrain’s continued progress and prosperity under the guidance of its leadership.

Heat bites, so do the bugs

Soaring temperatures bring surge in summer pest infestations

Mohammed Darwish

Rising summer temperatures have once again triggered a spike in insect infestations across the Kingdom, causing concern among households and raising fresh alarms over hygiene and public health. Pest control expert Khalid Al Borshaid has warned that the current heat and humidity provide ideal conditions for several invasive species, including American and German cockroaches, bedbugs, crickets, ants, and even venomous centipedes. “Bedbugs are particularly on the rise, often hitching rides in luggage and clothing during the travel season,” he said. “They easily move undetected between airports, hotels, and homes.” Fruit flies have also returned in large numbers and are frequently found in crates of imported produce. Al Borshaid cautioned against bringing such crates indoors — particularly those from certain Asian countries — as they may harbour hard-to-eliminate pests. Ticks remain a persistent issue in homes with pets, such as cats, dogs, or birds. Spiders and the venomous centipede known locally as Um 44 are also being reported more frequently in rural and agricultural areas. Among the most common household pests this season are tiny ants, which often infiltrate homes through neglected or poorly sealed drainage pipes. Al Borshaid urged residents to disinfect kitchen and bathroom drains at the start of the season using approved insecticides or safe alternatives. “Regular cleaning and disinfection of drains can prevent infestations before they start,” he advised. Travel tips and safety precautions For returning travellers, he recommended washing clothing in hot water and disinfecting luggage, as insect eggs can cling to fabric and go unnoticed. “Hot water is especially effective in killing pests and their eggs,” he noted. He also stressed the importance of ventilating homes after using pesticides — even if the product is labelled odourless. Spraying should never be done in bedrooms, on beds, or in children’s rooms, as these areas are particularly vulnerable to chemical residues. Additional precautions include:

- Removing standing water from courtyards and flowerpots
- Storing food in tightly sealed containers
- Regularly cleaning kitchen surfaces and floors
- Installing mesh screens on windows
- Sealing any cracks in walls or around pipes to prevent pest entry

Al Borshaid concluded with a reminder that effective pest prevention begins at home. “The daily habits of residents are the strongest line of defence against summer pests,” he said.

Bahraini families participating in the “Seasons” tourism initiative proudly raised the Kingdom’s flag at the historic Peterhof Palace in Saint Petersburg, Russia. They expressed pride and joy in representing Bahrain at one of the country’s most iconic landmarks, describing it as a moment they will long remember. Often referred to as the “Versailles of Russia,” Peterhof Palace was commissioned by Tsar Peter the Great in 1714 as a summer residence for the Russian emperors. Now a UNESCO World Heritage Site, it captivates visitors with its majestic architecture, sprawling gardens, and over 150 gravity-powered fountains.

Two men jailed for six years over house theft in Al Mazrowiah

● The court also ordered their deportation

TDT | Manama

The Lower Criminal Court has sentenced two Asian nationals to six years in prison for stealing valuables from a house in Al Mazrowiah. The court also ordered their deportation following the completion of their prison terms. The suspects were arrested at Bahrain International Airport with stolen gold jewellery and cash in their possession. According to officials, the theft took place at a residence in Riffa Views, where the men had broken in and made off with the valuables. Investigators from the Criminal Investigation Directorate quickly identified the suspects, and the Public Prosecution issued arrest warrants. The stolen items were recovered and returned to the rightful owner.

Man who broke wife’s jaw awaits appeal verdict

A man sentenced to seven years in prison for violently assaulting his wife, leaving her with a fractured jaw and the loss of nine teeth, will have his appeal verdict issued by the High Criminal Appeals Court on July 28.

The Lower Criminal Court had earlier convicted him of assault under the influence of narcotics, causing permanent injury, and possession of a banned substance. Prosecutors said the man’s actions left his wife with lasting physical damage assessed as a 10 per cent permanent disability.

According to the victim’s testimony, she was asleep when her husband suddenly woke her, sprayed an unknown gas in her face, and began behaving erratically. He reportedly pushed her off the bed, attempted to restrain her, and then began punching her repeatedly in the face. She alleged that he slammed her head against the floor multiple times, causing heavy bleeding from her nose and mouth.

As she attempted to get up, he restrained her again and struck her with a metal weight on her knee and shoulder. The assault ended when the man’s mother and brother arrived and knocked on the bedroom door. She managed to escape when the door was momentarily opened.

The brother later told prosecutors he rushed upstairs after hearing screams and found the woman severely injured, with visible facial swelling and bleeding. Her teeth, he noted, appeared to have been knocked out. He advised her to leave the house and file a police complaint. The accused reportedly responded to his family’s concerns with indifference and fled the scene before police arrived.

A forensic medical report confirmed that the injuries were consistent with blunt force trauma. The victim required over 20 days of medical treatment. Her jaw was fractured in multiple places, and she lost nine teeth.

Toxicology tests revealed the defendant had 175 nanograms per millilitre of a psychoactive substance in his system at the time of the incident. He admitted during questioning to having consumed the drug and said he possessed it for personal use.

The case is currently under review by the High Criminal Appeals Court.

Tributes pour in for longtime Bahrain resident Manijeh Mistry

TDT | Manama

Former Bahrain resident and community stalwart Manijeh Mistry passed away in Pune following a cardiac failure. She was 72.

Mistry, who relocated to India in 2022, had spent over two decades in Bahrain, serving as a lecturer at the University of Bahrain’s College of Health Sciences. Beyond her academic contributions, she was a prominent figure in Bahrain’s social scene, closely associated with the Indian Ladies Association, Migrant Workers Protection Society, Lions Club of Bahrain, Bahrain Zoroastrian Association, and several other community organisations.

Known for her warmth, creativity, and leadership, Mistry held key roles within the Indian Ladies Association, including Treasurer and Youth Wing Head. She was also admired for her culinary skills, theatre performances, Rangoli art, and gardening.

She is survived by her husband Percy Mistry, son Framarz, and daughter Friya. Community members in Bahrain and Pune have expressed deep sorrow at her passing, remembering her as a woman of compassion and spirited involvement.

Appeals court to rule on boatman convicted over fatal sea crash that killed two Bahrainis

TDT Manama

The High Criminal Appeals Court will deliver its verdict on July 31 in the case of a boatman convicted over a sea crash that killed two Bahraini men.

The defendant was earlier sentenced by the Minor Criminal Court to seven months in jail, fined BD1,150, and had his boat and nets confiscated. Bail was set at BD100, suspending the prison term pending appeal.

Two Asian crew members were also sentenced to 40 days in jail and ordered deported for illegal fishing and overstaying their visas.

Prosecutors accused the main defendant of causing death by negligence while operating the vessel under the influence of Pregabalin, a controlled substance he was not authorised to possess. He was also charged with multiple safety violations, including lacking essential equipment such as life jackets, a fire extinguisher, and first aid supplies. His vessel was also missing navigation lights and a tracking device, increasing the risk of collision.

The court originally sentenced him to six months for manslaughter and breaching marine safety regulations, and an additional month plus a BD100 fine for drug possession. He was also fined BD1,000 for illegal bottom trawling and vessel misidentification, and BD50 for missing safety equipment.

The crew received one-month sentences for unlawful fishing and an additional 10 days for immigration violations. They face permanent deportation after serving their terms.

The incident occurred near

Al Mohammadiya Islet, where two boats collided. The boatman was later found towing the damaged vessel near Malkiya, with one victim’s body on board. The second body was recovered near Budaiya port.

Civil claims related to the incident have been referred to the civil courts.

Desert Drama Ends with Help

YOU KNOW WHAT

Reddit’s r/Bahrain has become an unlikely rapid-response network for desert rescues, snacks included.

ValeOfClem brings water, BH Thunder Team brings muscle in feel-good Reddit rescue

● Redditor stuck in desert

● Volunteers respond with heart

● Rescue ends with smiles

TDT | Manama

A distress post on Reddit turned into an uplifting desert rescue story after users from the r/Bahrain community stepped up - some with water, others with wheels, and some with a sense of humour.

The drama began when a Redditor’s car got stuck in the sands in the southern part of the Kingdom on Thursday. What followed was a spontaneous show of support that mixed real-life assistance with online camaraderie.

User CHWDY, who first relayed updates, announced, “BH Thunder Team is coming and a redditor with snacks and water is coming.” That redditor turned out to be ValeOfClem, who showed up in person despite not having a tow rope or winch.

“I brought water, snacks, and a heart willing to help,”

ValeOfClem wrote. “Glad to say they made it out safely - huge respect to the Land Cruiser crew who pulled them out.”

Real Help, Real People

The Land Cruiser crew, believed to be the BH Thunder Team, arrived and completed the rescue.

No major damage was reported to the stranded vehicle

- just “some sand stress.”

The rescue drew admiration from across the subreddit. One user replied simply, “AMAZING!” Another chimed in asking, “What happened? Who’s BH Thunder Team?” - echoing the curiosity of those witnessing the emergence of local legends.

Comic Relief

Meanwhile, the thread didn’t disappoint those looking for a bit of Reddit humour. One comment asked, “Did the snacks survive?” while another joked, “I hope the car learned its lesson.”

Though some came with ropes and others with jokes, the community left the thread with something rare - shared appreciation for kindness among strangers, both digital and real world.

HRH's visit sets the conditions for expanded bilateral cooperation

U.S. AMBASSADOR TO BAHRAIN, STEVEN C. BONDY

The United States is honored to have hosted His Royal Highness Crown Prince and Prime Minister Salman bin Hamad Al Khalifa for an official visit to Washington July 15-17, 2025. His Royal Highness's engagements reaffirmed the depth and strength of the longstanding U.S.-Bahraini strategic partnership and friendship. They further advanced the fulsome cooperation between our two nations through a shared vision to promote peace and prosperity in the United States, Bahrain, and the region.

The significant trade deals announced are emblematic of the collaboration between our private sectors and integration of our economies. We particularly welcome the announcement of Gulf Air launching direct flights to the United States, which will spur even closer connections between Americans and Bahrainis.

G20 nations agree central bank independence 'crucial'

Trump has repeatedly lashed out at Powell for not lowering interest rates

● It was the first communique under South Africa's G20 presidency

AFP | Durban, South Africa

The G20 finance ministers stressed Friday that central banks must remain independent, after months of escalating attacks by US President Donald Trump on Federal Reserve boss Jerome Powell.

It was the first communique under South Africa's G20 presidency and marked a rare consensus for a bloc jolted by the drastic trade policies of its richest member, the United States.

"Central banks are strongly committed to ensuring price stability... and will continue to adjust their policies in a data-dependent manner," the group, whose members account for more than 80 percent of the world's economic output, said after a finance ministers' meeting in South Africa.

"Central bank independence is crucial to achieving this goal," it said in the statement, also signed by the United States.

Trump has repeatedly lashed out at Powell for not lowering interest rates more quickly, calling the central banker a "numbskull" and "moron".

US Treasury Secretary Scott Bessent did not attend the two-day meeting in the port city of Durban, with Washington instead represented by acting undersecretary for international affairs Michael Kaplan.

Bessent also skipped a similar meeting in February and US Secretary of State Marco Rubio snubbed a meeting for G20 foreign ministers.

Trump insists the Fed should boost the US economy by cutting rates from the current range, 4.25 to 4.5 percent.

The US central bank has meanwhile adopted a wait-and-see attitude, holding rates steady as it continues its plan to bring inflation to its long-term target of two percent.

On Friday, Trump ramped his criticism of Powell, whose term ends in May 2026, calling him "one of my worst appointments".

The attack followed suggestions the 72-year-old banker could be dismissed for "fraud" over his handling of a renovation project at Federal Reserve headquarters.

'Difficult' environment

Since returning to power in January, Trump has upended global trade rules, announcing a host of drastic stop-start tariffs that has unnerved investors and governments around the world, including the G20 -- a grouping of 19 nations and the European Union and African Union.

The US tariffs are due to jump from 10% to various higher levels for a list of dozens of economies, including the EU, come August 1. A separate 50-percent duty on copper imports will also come into force.

The G20 said there was a need to strengthen cooperation and acknowledged the World Trade Organization needed reform "to be more relevant and responsive in light of today's realities".

Washington is due to succeed Pretoria as G20 chair at a summit in November in Johannesburg, although Trump's attendance remains uncertain.

"The fact that we were able to reach a joint communique among other things outlining the global economic challenges or uncertainty coming from trade tensions shows that also US is willing to have constructive engagement," said EU Commissioner for Economy Valdis Dombrovskis.

The discussions, at a luxury resort on the east coast, had focused on how to "preserve rules-based multilateral trading system", Dombrovskis added.

Reaching consensus was no small feat, acknowledged South Africa's Finance Minister Enoch Godongwana.

"It has been a difficult one in this environment. To achieve what we have done in that environment, I think is a huge success," he told journalists.

The International Monetary Fund said "high levels of policy uncertainty" had dominated the talks and urged countries to resolve trade tensions.

India's Reliance profits surge on one-time gain, strong consumer show

● One-off gain from Reliance selling its stake in India's top paint maker Asian Paints relies heavily on its traditional oil business to make money.

Its core oil-to-chemicals division struggled for most of 2024 as global uncertainty upset the industry's supply-demand dynamics, with the division continuing to battle lingering weakness.

Chairman Ambani acknowledged in a statement that energy markets encountered "heightened uncertainty" during the quarter.

The conglomerate's earnings report noted that revenue for the oil-to-chemicals division was down due to "a fall in crude oil prices" and a planned shutdown.

Reliance's retail and telecom arms, however, remained bright spots.

Gross revenue from its retail business was up 11.3% to 841.7 billion rupees despite the early onset of monsoon rains which hurt sales of air-conditioners.

Meanwhile, the telecom unit's average revenue per user, a key metric of topline growth, rose nearly 15% year-on-year to hit 208.8 rupees on the back of strong data consumption and tariff hikes.

Reliance Industries shares closed flat in Mumbai ahead of the earnings announcement on Friday.

Indian conglomerate Reliance Industries reported a jump in June quarter profits yesterday, helped by a large one-off gain and strong growth in its consumer-facing divisions.

Led by Asia's richest man Mukesh Ambani, Reliance is India's most valuable company by market cap and has aggressively expanded into retail, telecoms and green energy in recent years.

Net profit attributable to owners of the company came in at 269.9 billion rupees ($3.13 billion) for the April-June quarter, a 78.3% jump from the 151.3 billion rupees reported in the same period last year.

These figures were boosted by a one-off gain from Reliance selling its stake in India's top paint maker Asian Paints, with the company's earnings report acknowledging a nearly 280% on-year rise in other income.

But the company's bottom line still surpassed the average analyst estimate of 200.59 billion rupees, a performance aided by the conglomerate's retail and telecom units.

Revenue from operations for Reliance meanwhile came in at 2.48 trillion rupees, a 5.27% year-on-year increase.

Despite an aggressive expansion into retail, telecoms and green energy, the firm still

Bahrain needs advanced climate technology

KOTA SRIRAJ

Conventional methods of fighting climate change are now unable to yield satisfactory results and keep a check on the deteriorating environment. The need to combine climate technologies with conventional methods to tackle climate change is increasingly being seen as the latest strategy to safeguard nature and protect mankind from the vagaries of worsening climate conditions. Climate technologies are innovative solutions designed to mitigate the effects of climate change. These techno-solutions are designed for a variety of sectors such as renewable energy, energy efficiency, carbon capture, sustainable agriculture, and transportation. Implementation of these technologies has paid rich dividends to nations around the world in combating climate change.

Bahrain has been at the forefront of fighting climate change thanks to its advanced initiatives to protect the environment. In the field of climate technologies implementation too Bahrain has taken an active lead. As a part of this, The Supreme Council for Environment (SCE) is actively involved in various projects and campaigns, including a Technology Needs Assessment (TNA) exercise to implement climate technologies. TNA is a critical component of Bahrain’s broader climate strategy to reduce its greenhouse gas emissions by 30% by 2035 and achieve net-zero emissions by 2060, this in turn can help Bahrain achieve its national climate goals.

TNA however must be followed by a robust technology intervention strategy that is capable of offsetting adverse climate change impacts of present and future as well. In this regard, Bahrain must accelerate its technology innovation quotient and adopt out of the box scientific advancements to handle present day climate challenges. For instance, cement is the main ingredient for concrete and is responsible for 5% of global greenhouse gas emissions. Due to burgeoning construction sector, cement production and usage is skyrocketing in Bahrain and therefore provides an apt opportunity to apply technology to rein in its carbon footprint by decarbonising it production.

Traditional cement production requires heating limestone to 1450 degrees centigrade using fossil fuels, moreover limestone further produces Co2 emissions when undergoing chemical reaction. But now a new technology using a rare strain of bacteria is helping produce biocement that is organically produced. Similarly, cutting edge technology is being utilised to boost the ocean’s natural ability to absorb Co2 by using artificial intelligence (AI) engineered particles that control phytoplankton growth, this helps quickly sink Co2 to the ocean floor, thereby sequestering the same for thousands of years.

In the current scenario Bahrain must source cutting edge technologies from across the world and implement the same in order to overcome climate related challenges. This alone can help effectively mitigate the harmful effects of climate change.

Sweida clashes renew in Syria

Fighting escalates as Bedouin tribes clash with Druze militants

- Army withdrew after Israeli strikes, diplomatic pressure
- UN calls for independent investigation into killings
- Israel sends $600K in aid to Druze

AFP | Walgha

Armed tribes clashed with Druze fighters in the community’s Sweida heartland yesterday, a day after the army withdrew under Israeli bombardment and diplomatic pressure.

The United Nations called for an end to the “bloodshed” and demanded an “independent” investigation of the violence, which has claimed nearly 600 lives since Sunday, according to the Syrian Observatory for Human Rights.

Interim President Ahmed al-Sharaa ordered government forces to pull out, saying that mediation by the United States and others had helped avert a “large-scale escalation” with Israel.

Tribal reinforcements from across Syria gathered in villages around Sweida yesterday to reinforce local Bedouin, whose longstanding enmity towards the Druze erupted into violence last weekend.

Anas al-Enad, a tribal chief from the central city of Hama, said he and his men had made the journey to the village of Walgha, northwest of Sweida, because “the Bedouin called for our help and we came to support them”.

Homes and shops burned in the village, now under the control of the Bedouin and their allies.

The Britain-based Observatory said “the deployment of tribal fighters to Sweida province was

Israel sends aid for Druze

Israel, which bombed the Syrian army in Sweida and Damascus earlier this week to put pressure on the government to withdraw, said yesterday that it was sending aid to the Druze community in Sweida.

“In light of the recent attacks targeting the Druze community in Sweida and the severe humanitarian situation in the area, Foreign Minister Gideon Saar has ordered the urgent transfer of humanitarian aid to the Druze population in the region,” the foreign ministry said.

The two million shekel (nearly $600,000) package includes food parcels and medical supplies, the ministry said.

A ceasefire was supposed to take effect on Thursday, but Sharaa’s office accused Druze fighters of violating it.

The fighting in Sweida—triggered by the kidnapping of a Druze merchant—has forced nearly 2,000 families to flee, left the city’s streets eerily deserted, and drawn rare cross-border Israeli aid to the embattled Druze

Sweida has been heavily damaged in the fighting and its mainly Druze inhabitants have been deprived of mains water and electricity, while communication lines have been cut.

The UN Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs said that nearly 2,000 families had been forced from their homes in Sweida province.

Rayan Maarouf, editor-in-chief of local news outlet Suwayda 24, said the humanitarian situation was “catastrophic”.

“We cannot find milk for children,” he said.

UN High Commissioner for Human Rights Volker Turk called for an end to the bloodshed, saying “the protection of all people must be the utmost priority”.

He demanded “independent, prompt and transparent investigations into all violations” adding that “those responsible must be held to account”.

The latest violence erupted on Sunday after the kidnapping of a Druze vegetable merchant by local Bedouin triggered tit-for-tat abductions, the Britain-based Observatory said.

The government sent in the army, promising to put a halt to the fighting, but witnesses and the Observatory said the troops sided with the Bedouin and committed many abuses, against Druze civilians as well as fighters.

Trump diagnosed with vein issue after leg swelling and hand bruising

AFP | Washington

US President Donald Trump has been diagnosed with a common, benign vein condition, the White House said, following speculation about his heavily bruised hand and swollen legs.

The 79-year-old, who in January became the oldest person ever to assume the presidency, was found to have “chronic venous insufficiency,” Press Secretary Karoline Leavitt told reporters.

The widely noted discoloration on Trump’s right hand, meanwhile, was “tissue irritation from frequent handshaking” and the use of aspirin as part of a standard cardiovascular treatment, she said.

Presidential physician Sean Barbabella said Trump “remains in excellent health” despite the condition, in a letter released by the White House.

Trump has alleged that Democrats covered up the mental and physical decline of his predecessor, Joe Biden, who was 82 when he left office in January.

Now Trump, who said after undergoing a routine medical check-up that he was in “very good shape,” has been forced to answer questions about his own health.

Leavitt’s revelations follow widespread online discussions about the president’s visibly swollen ankles, seen in particular at the recent FIFA Club World Cup final in New Jersey, and a bruised hand that often appeared to be covered with make-up.

“In recent weeks, President Trump noted mild swelling in his lower legs,” Leavitt said, adding that he was examined by White House doctors “out of an abundance of caution.”

Ultrasound tests “revealed chronic venous insufficiency, a benign and common condition, particularly in individuals over the age of 70.”

The condition involves damaged leg veins that fail to keep blood flowing properly.

Leavitt said Trump had asked her to share the diagnosis “in the effort of transparency.”

Dr. Matt Heinz, an internist and hospitalist from Tucson, Arizona, told AFP that chronic venous insufficiency is “pretty common,” especially in older adults. It results from vein valves becoming less effective.

President Donald Trump attempted yesterday to control the storm triggered by a bombshell report on his friendship with Jeffrey Epstein, ordering the Justice Department to seek the release of testimony from the prosecution of the late, alleged sex-trafficker-to-the-famous.

Trump also vowed to sue “the ass off” The Wall Street Journal and its owner Rupert Murdoch after the newspaper said that in 2003 the future president wrote a raunchy letter to Epstein, referring to their shared “secret.”

“I look forward to getting Rupert Murdoch to testify in my lawsuit against him and his ‘pile of garbage’ newspaper, the WSJ. That will be an interesting experience!!!” Trump wrote on his Truth Social platform.

Attorney General Pam Bondi said the Justice Department would ask a court to unseal grand jury testimony from the case

People holds signs calling for the release of files regarding late sex offender Jeffrey Epstein participate in a protest as part of the 'Good Trouble Lives On' national day of action against the administration of US President Donald Trump in Houston, TX against Epstein, apparently in hopes of dampening fury among many of Trump's most loyal supporters over what they see as a White House cover-up.

Epstein, a financier, was found hanging dead in his cell in New York in 2019 while awaiting trial on charges that sexually exploited dozens of underage girls at his homes in New York and Florida.

The case sparked conspiracy theories, especially among Trump's far-right voters, about an alleged international cabal of wealthy pedophiles. Epstein's death -- declared a suicide -- before he could face trial super-charged the narrative.

When Trump returned to power for a second term this January, his supporters clamored for revelations about Epstein's supposed list of clients. But Bondi issued an official memo in July declaring that there was no such list.

The discontent in Trump's MAGA, or Make America Great Again, base poses a rare challenge to the 79-year-old Republican's control of the political narrative in America.

It remained unclear whether a court would authorize the unsealing of what is usually highly secret grand jury testimony.

Even if such material were made public, it was also unclear whether it would shed much, if any, light on the main questions raised in the conspiracy theories -- particularly the existence and possible contents of an Epstein client list.

stein and the two were photographed and videoed together at parties over the years, although there has never been evidence shown of wrongdoing.

The Wall Street Journal article published late Thursday was damaging because it indicated a shared interest in sex.

The Journal reported that Trump had wished Epstein a happy 50th birthday in 2003 with a letter featuring a hand-drawn naked woman and referring to their “secrets.” The letter was reportedly among a slew of well-wishes from other rich and well-known figures for a birthday album.

A furious Trump said on Truth Social that the purported letter was a “Scam” and “Fake.”

Church leaders visit bombed Gaza parish

Top Holy Land clerics visit Gaza church after deadly Israeli strike draws global outcry

● Leaders deliver food, medical supplies

● Visit follows Israeli strike killing 3 at Catholic church

● Pope Leo XIV condemns “needless slaughter”

AFP | Gaza City

Two of the most senior Christian leaders in Jerusalem made a rare visit to Gaza yesterday, a day after Israeli fire killed three at the Palestinian territory's only Catholic church, provoking international condemnation.

The Roman Catholic Latin Patriarch of Jerusalem, Pierbattista Pizzaballa, and his Greek Orthodox counterpart, Theophilos III, greeted local Christians and toured the Holy Family Church in Gaza City.

Both men, in full black clerical robes in the searing heat, arrived in two battered people carriers, one with the yellow, white and cross-keys flag of the Vatican fluttering from the front window, before heading inside.

They also said prayers and lit candles at the Greek Orthodox Saint Porphyrius Church, in a visit the Greek Orthodox Jerusalem Patriarchate called a “powerful expression” of church unity and solidarity.

Israel strictly controls access to the territory, where the civil defence agency yesterday reported that further Israeli strikes killed at least 25 Palestinians, including a family of five in their own home.

Local people used their bare hands to pick through the debris in the southern city of Khan Yunis in a desperate search for survivors.

“Entire families are buried under the rubble,” Louai Abu Sahloul, a relative of the victims, told AFP, adding that the relentless wave of strikes was taking its toll.

“People are like walking dead, tired of hunger, pain and destruction everywhere in Gaza,” he said.

Asked about the strike, the Israeli military told AFP it “struck a terror infrastructure site belonging to Hamas in the Khan Yunis area” and had taken steps to mitigate the risk to civilians.

The church targeted in the Israeli strike was sheltering children and people with special needs—one of the injured was the parish priest, bandaged and still present during the patriarchs’ visit

Patriarchate said aid agencies helped facilitate the visit, which also involved the delivery of food supplies and emergency medical equipment.

Pope Leo XIV, the leader of the Catholic Church, said he was “deeply saddened” by Thursday's strike on the church, where hundreds of displaced people were sheltering, including children and those with special needs.

His predecessor, Pope Francis, kept in regular contact with parish priest Father Gabriel Romanelli and repeatedly called for an end to the Gaza war.

Romanelli was one of 10 people injured and was seen with bandages on his leg.

Students at Pakistan School have once again demonstrated academic excellence, surpassing both national and overseas averages in the 2025 Federal Board SSC-I and II examinations. The school achieved a 96.15% overall pass rate in SSC-II, outperforming the Federal Board's 93.62% and overseas average of 92.09%.

Pakistan School Bahrain's pass rate (96.15%) surpassed both the global overseas average and the overall FBISE average, reinforcing its academic excellence

SSC-I Toppers

Abiha Fatima 93.08%
Tayyaba Mubarak 92.12 %
Mohammad Rehan 90.38 %

SSC-II Toppers

Yashfeen Mohammad Shafiq 91.91%
Eman Khan Noor Zamin Khan 91.73 %
Kanza Rehman 91.27%

A total of 104 candidates from Pakistan School took the SSC-II exams administered by the Federal Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education, Islamabad. Top performers included Yashfeen Mohammad Shafiq (91.91%), Eman Khan Noor Zamin Khan (91.73%), and Kanza Rehman (91.27%) in SSC-II, while Abiha Fatima (93.08%), Tayyaba Mubarak (92.12%), and Mohammad Rehan (90.38%) led in SSC-I. The school credited its success to the Board of Management's policies, the principal's effective implementation, and the dedication of both faculty and students. In a statement, the administration congratulated the teaching staff, high-achieving students, and their parents for the outstanding results.

AlNoor Kindergarteners move up to grade I

TDT | Manama

Al Noor International School celebrated the Kindergarten Graduation Ceremony over three joyous days—June 14th, 15th, and 16th—at the school campus. School Founder Chairman, Ali Hasan. Director Dr. Muhammad Mashood, Principal AbdulRahman AlKoheji, attended the event. Nearly 700 certificates were awarded to Reception students, recognizing their accomplishments in the formative early years of education. These young graduates are now prepared to transition into Grade 1 within the school's British, Bahraini and CBSE sections. The ceremony also featured performances by the children, who sang songs in both Arabic and English.

Martin returns for Czech MotoGP

World champion returns from 11 broken ribs as Brno circuit makes grand prix comeback

● Martin returns after 7 missed races

● Confirmed 2026 Aprilia deal

AFP | Brno

Reigning world champion Jorge Martin of Spain will return to racing at the Czech MotoGP this weekend as the Brno circuit hosts its first grand prix since 2020.

Marc Marquez is threatening to run away with the title after four straight wins, which have allowed the Spaniard to open up a sizeable gap at the top.

The 32-year-old factory Ducati rider has 344 points after 11 of 22 races, and he has won both the sprint and the main race on seven occasions.

His younger brother Alex, on a Gresini Ducati, is second with 261 points, ahead of Marc's Italian teammate Francesco Bagnaia -- the 2022 and 2023 world champion -- with 197.

But it is Martin, who has yet to score his first point this season, that will likely steal the limelight on the circuit in the second Czech city of Brno.

Martin sat out the first three races following two pre-season crashes and when he returned at Qatar in April, he crashed heavily again and missed the next seven races.

"I feel prepared. In terms of the physical condition, I feel better than any time in my life for sure," the 27-year-old Martin said having recovered from 11 broken ribs.

"I took profit of this time off to work on my performance, and I feel I am a better and more prepared rider now," he added.

"I don't want to speculate on results... What I can say is that I'm here to compete, I'm not here to make laps. I'm here to do my best."

Martin also said on Thursday he would stay with Aprilia for the 2026 season, dispelling doubts about his future.

He had been at odds with the Italian manufacturer after initially saying he intended to activate a release clause in his contract at the end of the season.

I feel prepared. In terms of the physical condition, I feel better than any time in my life for sure. I took profit of this time off to work on my performance, and I feel I am a better and more prepared rider now

JORGE MARTIN

Brno is returning to the MotoGP calendar for the first time since 2020 after years of financial woes.

'Two seconds faster'

Marquez, who stretched his championship lead after a perfect weekend at the Sachsenring in Germany, hailed Martin's return.

"Good for MotoGP, good for the championship, good for Aprilia and especially good for him to be back on track," he told MotoGP.com.

"Of course it will take time. You never know with Martin, but he will be fast in the second part of the season."

Martin missed 10 of 11 races this season but used the time to transform his fitness - claiming he's "in better shape than ever"

Marquez has won three MotoGP races at Brno, in 2013, 2017 and 2019, but he sat out the last edition in 2020 with a broken arm as Brad Binder stunned the pack to take his maiden MotoGP win.

Marquez holds the fastest lap time of 1min 54.596sec from 2016 and will be looking to improve it on the resurfaced 5.4-kilometre track as forecasters promise a mostly sunny weekend.

"It looks like some manufacturers tested two or three weeks ago and yeah, it looks like they were already two seconds faster," Marquez said.

He is eyeing his seventh MotoGP world title -- and first since 2019 -- that would put him level with the legendary Valentino Rossi.

Maverick Vinales, recovering from a shoulder fracture, will be replaced by Pol Espargaro at Brno, while Franco Morbidelli is also out following a bone-crunching crash in Germany.

The MotoGP circus will take a summer break after this weekend and resume with the Austrian GP on August 15-17.

Fraud probe opened into Mbappe payments to police officers

AFP | Paris

An investigation has been opened into potentially fraudulent payments made by Kylian Mbappe to five police officers assigned to protect the French national football team, the public prosecutor's office said.

The probe comes after a tip-off from the French finance ministry's anti-money laundering unit, which reported "unusual financial transactions" benefiting the five police officers.

"Investigations, which are by their very nature complex in the case of financial transactions, are underway in order to establish whether any criminal offences have been committed," the public prosecutor's office said.

French investigative weekly Le Canard Enchaîné on Wednesday reported that the France national team captain's money was used to "pay under the table for private services", to the tune of 180,300 euros ($209,000).

The Real Madrid striker's entourage issued a statement saying "everything was done in compliance with the rules".

It added that Mbappe had "always chosen to donate in full his bonuses" for playing

Mbappe previously donated his entire 2022 World Cup bonuses - suggesting a pattern of financial generosity now under scrutiny for France at international level.

"It's what he did after the 2022 World Cup, with complete transparency," the statement continued, saying the money went to charitable organisations and security personnel that accompanied the team.

Ons Jabeur announces break from tennis 'to rediscover joy of living'

AFP | London

Former world number two Ons Jabeur announced on Thursday she was going to "take a step back and finally put myself first", after two difficult years on the circuit.

"For the last two years, I've been pushing myself so hard, fighting through injuries and facing many other challenges. But deep down, I haven't felt really happy on the court for some time now," the 30-year-old three-time Grand Slam finalist explained on social media.

"Tennis is such a beautiful sport. But right now, I feel it's time to step back and finally put myself first: to breathe, to heal, and to rediscover the joy of simply living," added the Tunisian world number 71.

Bahrain hit a wall in Chinese Taipei

Hosts hand Bahrain first loss with a 93-50 blowout at Xinzhuang Gymnasium

● Chinese Taipei end Bahrain's unbeaten run

● Devon Chism led Bahrain with 13 points and 9 rebounds

● Bahrain face defending champions today

Hussain Almaskati
TDT | Manama

For six games, Bahrain rode a wave of momentum, dispatching every opponent in their path with an ease that belied their 47-year absence from the William Jones Cup. But yesterday night in New Taipei City, the home team had other plans.

Chinese Taipei delivered a masterclass in execution, ending Bahrain's unbeaten run with a resounding 93-50 win — a statement performance that showed exactly why they were considered Bahrain's toughest challenge heading into the tournament.

Early Blitz Breaks the Game Open

From the opening tip, Taipei were locked in. They raced out to a 31-18 first-quarter lead, then tightened the screws with a 29-12 second quarter. By halftime, it was 60-30, and Bahrain never got close again.

Mustafa Rashed frustrated after the loss

Where Chinese Taipei moved the ball crisply and shot with confidence, Bahrain were static, hesitant, and out of sync.

Shooting Slump Sinks Bahrain

Chinese Taipei shot a red-hot 45.9% from three (17 made), while Bahrain managed just 31.3% from the field and 9-of-38 from deep. The usually reliable outside shooting that had powered Bahrain's earlier wins disappeared under pressure.

Mohamed Hamoda eyes the basket

Turnovers (17 in total) and poor ball movement limited scoring chances. Only Devon Chism found any real rhythm, finishing with 13 points and 9 rebounds on 5-of-9 shooting.

Ali Rashed added 9 points and 6 boards, and Mohamed Buallay chipped in 7. But Bahrain's offense never truly fired.

Chinese Depth Stands Out

Taipei, meanwhile, showed

Up until this game, Bahrain were undefeated with a 6-0 record their full offensive arsenal. He Dan led all scorers with 19 points, knocking down five threes on six attempts, while Chen Ying-Chun added 14 points and 5 assists in a brilliant performance.

Taipei dominated on the boards, outrebounding Bahrain 52-35, including 15 offensive rebounds, and finished with 22 assists as they ran Bahrain's defense ragged.

Defending Champions Await

The loss drops Bahrain to 6-1, but there's no time to dwell. They return to the court at 10 AM today against Philippines' Strong Group Athletics, the defending champions and another powerhouse in this year's field. This will be Bahrain's final match of the tournament. Strong Group are coming off an amazing 106-98 win over Malaysia, which is the highest-scoring game of the tournament so far.

It's a tough turnaround, both mentally and physically, but also a chance to show they can bounce back.

Henry, Conway take New Zealand to easy T20 win over Zimbabwe

AFP | Harare

Matt Henry took three wickets and Devon Conway hit an unbeaten half-century as New Zealand outclassed hosts Zimbabwe by eight wickets in their tri-series match at Harare Sports Club yesterday.

Zimbabwe made a promising start but could only score 120-7 after being sent in. Fast bowler Henry took 3-26.

New Zealand needed only 13.5 overs to secure the win, with left-handed opening batsman Conway making 59 not out off 40 balls.

New Zealand's fast bowlers, led by Henry, made good use of

New Zealand's Devon Conway and Rachin Ravindra run between the wickets short-pitched deliveries while left-arm spinners Mitchell Santner and Rachin Ravindra gained bounce and turn from a dry pitch.

Wessly Madhevere and Brian Bennett put on 37 for the first wicket before Bennett (21) top-edged a short ball from Henry to square leg in the sixth over.

Madhevere took 11 runs off Henry's first over but struggled for fluency in making 36 runs off 32 balls, while none of the batsmen were able to master New Zealand's spin bowlers.

"They came out quite aggressive in the power play but we adapted well with the ball," said New Zealand captain Santner.

Pogacar extends Tour de France lead with uphill time-trial win

AFP | Peyragudes

Tadej Pogacar won a time trial on stage 13 of the Tour de France yesterday to extend his lead at the top of the overall standings to four minutes and seven seconds.

Jonas Vingegaard and Remco Evenepoel kept their places in the overall top three, but this 10.9km time-trial triumph was defending champion Pogacar's second crushing win in two days.

Pogacar was last down the start ramp of the 171 riders setting off from the bottom of the Peyragudes mountain.

Decked out in his overall leader's yellow kit, the 26-year-old Team UAE rider was faster from the off despite his exertions from the previous day, when he finished over two minutes ahead of main rival Vingegaard.

By the time he finished at the Peyragudes Altiport where the opening scene of the James Bond movie "Tomorrow Never Dies" was shot, Pogacar was 36sec faster than Vingegaard, while Primož Roglič was third at 1min 20sec.

Riders warmed up for the time trial wearing ice jackets to combat the sizzling 30C temperature at the foot of the climb.

Liverpool line up swoop for Frankfurt striker Ekitike: reports

AFP | London

Liverpool are preparing to launch a bid for Eintracht Frankfurt striker Hugo Ekitike after missing out on Newcastle's Alexander Isak, according to reports yesterday.

The Premier League champions have switched their focus to Ekitike following Newcastle's refusal to sell Sweden striker Isak, who is valued at around £150 million ($201 million) by the Magpies.

The Reds are trying to complete a deal for France international Ekitike by this weekend after he reportedly indicated he was willing to move to Anfield.

Liverpool are set to offer over £70 million ($94 million) for Ekitike, who has also attracted interest from Newcastle and Manchester United.

The 23-year-old scored 22 goals in all competitions for Frankfurt last season after joining the Bundesliga club from Paris Saint-Germain.

Liverpool have an opening in their forward line after Diogo Jota's recent death in a car crash in Spain.

The Reds are also believed to be willing to sell Uruguay striker Darwin Nunez, while Colombia forward Luis Diaz has been the target of a rejected bid from Bayern Munich.

Liverpool have already splashed out £116 million on Germany playmaker Florian Wirtz, as well as signing defenders Jeremie Frimpong and Milos Kerkez from Bayer Leverkusen and Bournemouth respectively.

Georgia goalkeeper Giorgi Mamardashvili has also linked up with Arne Slot's side since the end of last season after agreeing his move from Valencia in 2024.
