Russia 'ready to accept' US nuke proposal

Agencies | MOSCOW

Russia said yesterday it's ready to accept a US proposal to freeze the number of nuclear warheads and extend the two nations' last arms control pact for one year.

The statement from the Russian Foreign Ministry marks a shift in Moscow's position after Russia and the US rejected each other's offers regarding the New START treaty that expires in February.

The ministry noted that it's ready for a deal if the US does the same and doesn't put forward any additional demands, the statement read.

The US said it was prepared to meet immediately with Russia to finalise the agreement, the State Department said yesterday.

"We appreciate the Russian Federation's willingness to make progress on the issue of nuclear arms control," spokeswoman Morgan Ortugas said in a statement.

"The United States is prepared to meet immediately to finalise a verifiable agreement. We expect Russia to empower its diplomats to do the same."

The New START treaty was signed in 2010 by then US President Barack Obama and Russian President Dmitry Medvedev. The pact limits each country to no more than 1,550 deployed nuclear warheads and 700 deployed missiles and bombers, and envisages sweeping on-site inspections to verify compliance.

A coronavirus vaccine is "unlikely" to ever completely eradicate the virus, and the disease may never disappear, the British government's chief scientific adviser has warned.

"I think it's unlikely that we'll end up with a truly sterilising vaccine that completely stops infection. It's likely that this disease will circulate and be endemic," Sir Patrick Vallance told a UK government committee yesterday.

The medical definition of endemic describes a disease that is constantly present in the population, much like seasonal flu.

"My assessment — and I think that's the view of many people — is that's the likely outcome," Vallance said.

Pope wears mask for first time at public event

Reuters | Rome

Pope Francis wore a mask for the first time at a public function yesterday when he and other religious leaders attended a prayer service for peace around the world.

The pope wore a white mask during the service at the Rome

Basilica of Santa Maria in Ara-coeli. Previously he wore masks only in a car taking him to his weekly audiences in the Vatican.

He had come under some criticism, particularly on social media, for not wearing a mask at his general audiences and sometimes coming in relatively close contact with visitors.

Pope Francis

Pope Francis, 83, attended the service with other Christian leaders in the basilica, including the Patriarch Bartholomew, spiritual leader of Orthodox Christians.

Simultaneously in other locations in Rome, Jews were praying in the city's synagogue and Muslim, Hindu, Buddhist and Sikh leaders also prayed for peace.

The event took place as the number of people who have tested positive for the coronavirus has risen steadily in Italy in the past few weeks. Italy recorded 10,874 new coronavirus cases in the last 24 hours, up from 9,338 on Monday.

● Bahrain first to establish Prosecution Office for Trafficking in Persons

TDI | Manama

Bahrain is the first Arab country to establish a prosecution office specialised in human trafficking cases.

This was emphasised by Dr Ali Al Shuwaikh, head of the Trafficking in Persons Prosecution Office.

He said that the attorney general issued a decision to form a Prosecution Office for Trafficking in Persons that will be consisted of a number of prosecutors who have experience in investigating this case.

Also the head of the Public Prosecution Office for the College Prosecution, Dr Al Shuwaikh stressed that the decision supports the competent national efforts concerned with combatting trafficking in persons.

It also reinforces the advanced position of Bahrain at the international level in combatting this type of crime, Dr Al Shuwaikh added.

The Kingdom of Bahrain has maintained for the third year running its Tier 1 ranking in the US Department of State Trafficking in Persons (TiP) Report.

The Chief Prosecutor indicated that the establishment of the Trafficking in Persons Prosecution Office aims to provide a specialised and trained environment for members of the Public Prosecution Office to investigate such crimes, which requires knowledge of them in a precise manner.

The work involves exploitation carried out by the crime of trafficking, in addition to strengthening criminal protection for victims of trafficking in persons in a manner that guarantees the rights of the victim established by law.

Since the beginning of this year, the number of registered cases regarding trafficking in persons has reached 20, of which the Public Prosecution has referred eight cases to the High Criminal Court.

Three of the accused have been convicted and slapped three to 10 years in jail in addition to fines.

The number of cases registered this year regarding trafficking in persons, of which the Public Prosecution has referred eight cases to the High Criminal Court.

They were also deported after the execution of punishment, while the victims returned to their respective country.

Five cases are still pending before the court, while the prosecution concluded, in light of the findings of the investigations, to exclude the suspicion of the crime in eight cases, and to refer two of them to the court for the crime in which that suspicion was raised. The investigation is still underway in four cases.

The Public Prosecution, since the issuance of Law No. (1) of 2008 regarding combatting trafficking in persons, has taken interim and gradual measures that are qualified to establish this prosecution in order to develop capabilities and provide the necessary expertise to investigate this type of crime through an initial system of jurisdiction, and to participate in national activities.

Salmaniya Complex set to open evening clinics

● It aims to provide better health services to all

TDI | Manama

Salmaniya Medical Complex has announced work on a project to open clinics in the evening as part of its missions to provide better health services to all.

It is also increasing the workforce for the clinics to reduce the waiting list for the first consultation.

Patients at Salmaniya Medical Complex

The project is in line with the direction of Shaikh Hisham bin Abdulaziz Al Khalifa, chairman of the Board of Trustees of Governmental Hospitals, to improve healthcare services particularly in outpatient clinics.

Work on the project has already started on 4 October and in several stages.

The first phase included outpatient clinics for the following departments: urology, gastrointestinal diseases, nervous system diseases, ear, nose and throat diseases, and ophthalmology department, at a rate of 20 to 30 patients per day in each specialty, where approximately 90 to 120 new patients are received per week in the evening. The next stage includes clinics of dermatology, plastic surgery, endocrinology, rheumatology and orthopedics.

In the initial plan for the first phase, and for the dermatology department, it is working to reduce the current waiting list for the first consultations in the dermatology department from eight months to less than four months.

In the ophthalmology department from five months to three months. The numbers vary according to specialisation, but the goal remains to reduce these lists within three to five months.

Based on the data collected, the complex management can determine the clinics of the highest priority, then classify them further, determine the recommended number of additional clinics required, and set future plans to reduce waiting lists according to strategic plans to provide better services.

University of Bahrain moves IT infrastructure applications to Amazon Web Services Cloud

● Students, teachers stand to benefit

TDT | Manama

The University of Bahrain (UoB) announced yesterday that it has reached the final stage of the process of moving the entire IT infrastructure to the Amazon Web Services (AWS) Cloud.

AWS is the world's most comprehensive and broadly adopted cloud platform, offering over 175 fully featured services from data centres globally. Millions of customers – including the fastest-growing startups, largest enterprises, and leading government agencies – are using AWS to lower costs, become more agile, and innovate faster.

Once the application transfer process is complete by the end of this year, UoB will be the largest university in the Middle East to fully move its core applications to the AWS Cloud, including Student Information Management System (SIS), Correspondence Management System (CMS), home page portal and domain subsidiary and backend systems.

Moving core applications to the Cloud (AWS) provides exceptional benefits to the UoB, including reduced costs, enhanced security, accelerated project launch and implementation of new ideas.

On the other hand, through the use of AWS, the performance of the core applications is improved by more than 40%. The performance of the university's website has also improved by more than 50%, which is the page that is used to access the subdomains and services intended for students.

Other benefits that the university will get through the transition to the Cloud (AWS) include the ability to speed up research schedules for master's and doctoral students at the university, by enabling them to access high-performance computing to quickly and effectively analyse large data sets, as well as benefit from advanced technologies such as artificial intelligence (AI) and machine learning (ML), and researchers can also easily share their results with collaborators in all universities around the world.

With the aim of making the transition process more smooth, UoB has invested in developing the workforce through intensive training programmes for the IT team, whose members have obtained official high-level Amazon Web Services (AWS) certificates, which gave them the skills necessary to implement this project. Cloud-based customised services provide the university's IT teams with the ability to build secure environments while freeing up their resources to focus on students.

The move to the Cloud (AWS) is a continuation of the overall cloud computing strategy of the UoB, which it has started implementing over the past few years, and includes an increasing trend towards focusing on cloud learning for its students.

In 2017, the university joined the AWS Academy Program, a program that provides higher education institutions around the world with a customised curriculum for cloud computing.

UoB teachers who are accredited by AWS Academy provide curricula and training courses for students that include the fundamentals of AWS cloud computing technology.

In 2019, UoB became the first university in the Middle East to launch the Cloud Computing Certificate in co-operation with AWS Educate, with the first batch being registered in the first semester of the 2020/2021 academic year.

In addition, in 2020, the university launched – in partnership with the Labor Fund (Tamkeen) and Amazon Web Services (AWS) – a Cloud Innovation Center (CIC), which focuses on accelerating the digital transformation of the public sector by leveraging cloud technologies to find effective solutions to realistic challenges.

UoB president Prof Dr Riyad Hamzah said: “It is important for higher education institutions to have the ability to quickly and effectively adapt to the transformations that our world is witnessing today. University of Bahrain has managed – through moving the IT infrastructure to the Amazon Web Services (AWS) cloud from improving basic educational applications to provide better educational services and tools for students and teachers alike, which will undoubtedly contribute to opening a new world of opportunities to provide innovative educational solutions.”

at the university, which was able to complete the process of transferring applications smoothly without any impact on the progress of our operations, thanks to the high experience and advanced skills they have.

“We look forward to continuing to implement our cloud strategy through which we seek to provide our students with the latest innovations and solutions in the field of cloud education, and to develop new services and solutions based on the world's leading cloud,” Prof Hamzah said.

For her part, Dr Azza El-Shennawy, Head of Education for the Middle East and North Africa at AWS, said: “The enormous potential and capabilities provided by cloud computing provide many positive benefits to the education sector, including helping to reduce expenditures and enhance levels of safety and protection, in addition to empowering universities and educational institutions.

Despite the pandemic, which led to the cancellation of many major events around the world, MENA's leading international bank, Bank ABC, under the patronage of the Central Bank of Bahrain, is returning with the fourth edition of annual MEA Fintech Forum.

Themed "Banking Beyond Digital", the forum dubbed as the "Davos of Fintech" kicks-off on a virtual platform from 24 - 25 November 2020.

The two-day event aims to discuss subjects including post-pandemic recovery, low-touch economy, Bank of the future, cashless payments and sustainability.

Commenting, Rasheed Al Maraj, Governor of the Central

Bank of Bahrain said: "We are pleased to continue our support to Bank ABC's initiative of the MEA Fintech Forum, which has significantly advanced Bahrain's FinTech agenda and encouraged the business and financial services community to look at their operations differently. We look forward to another engaging and successful conference this year."

Sael Al Waary, Deputy Group CEO, Bank ABC said the event brings together leading thinkers, technologists, and those who are shaping the financial services industry. "They will discuss pertinent subjects such as economic recovery, regulation in the digital age, cybersecurity and the e-commerce ecosystem."

The forum aims at exploring how disruptive technologies such as artificial intelligence can be harnessed to enhance operational efficiency and meet the ever-changing needs and expectations of the customer. More regional banks, financial institutions, big tech and leading consultancies are expected to take part in the forum this year.

No more trade talks unless EU changes position, UK's Johnson says

Reuters | London

There will be no more trade talks with the European Union unless the bloc fundamentally changes its stance on the discussions, British Prime Minister Boris Johnson told his Greek counterpart in a call on Tuesday.

"He reaffirmed that the EU have effectively ended those negotiations by stating they did not want to change their negotiating position," Johnson's spokesman said following the call with Prime Minister Kyriakos Mitsotakis.

"Should the EU fundamentally change their position, then the UK would be willing to talk on that new basis."

The two leaders also spoke about the recent Turkish Cypriot presidential election, which was won by Ersin Tatar who favours separate administrations on the Mediterranean island, the spokesman said.

"The prime minister was clear that a settlement in Cyprus was in everyone's interest," the spokesman said.

EU takes action against 'golden passport' schemes in Cyprus, Malta

Reuters | Brussels

The European Union's executive said on Tuesday it was launching legal action against Cyprus and Malta over their investor citizenship programmes, also known as "golden passport" schemes.

The schemes allow wealthy foreigners to buy citizenship in exchange for an investment of around 1 million euros ($1.2 million) in Malta and 2 million euros in Cyprus.

IAA holding virtual global conference on Economic revival

The Chief Executive Officer of the Bahrain Chamber Shaker Al Shater takes part in the 47th meeting of the Executive Leaders' Committee of the Federation of GCC Chambers held virtually with the participation of chief executives and directors from member chambers and federations. The meeting discussed a memorandum of cooperation between the Federation and the Secretariat General of Gulf Cooperation Council on international economic affairs as well as endorsed a comparative report on the revenues and expenses of the General Secretariat of the Federation for the year 2018 and the closing accounts among several other decisions.

Kuwait's new emir calls for national unity ahead of elections

Reuters | Kuwait

Kuwait's Emir Sheikh Nawaf al-Ahmad al-Sabah called yesterday for national unity to meet challenges facing the Gulf state, in a speech to lawmakers ahead of elections on Dec. 5.

"National unity has proven to be our strongest weapon in facing challenges, dangers and crises," said the emir, who assumed power last month on the death of the previous ruler.

Prime Minister Sheikh Sabah al-Khalid al-Sabah, also addressing the opening of a supplementary legislative session, called for greater efforts to "diversify revenue sources and rationalize spending and consumption ... without detriment to citizens" in the cradle-to-grave welfare state.

He said the government was seeking more sustainable tools to finance the budget, in which public sector salaries and subsidies accounted for 71 per cent of spending for the 2020-2021 fiscal year.

Danish submarine killer caught after prison escape

Reuters | Copenhagen

Peter Madsen, who was convicted of killing Swedish journalist Kim Wall in a self-built submarine in 2017, was caught by Danish authorities on Tuesday after he briefly escaped from prison, police said.

Danish police earlier said on Twitter they had arrested a man just outside the capital Copenhagen, after he had fled prison.

Footage released by tabloid Ekstra Bladet showed a man resembling Peter Madsen sitting up against a fence surrounded by police forces at a distance.

The submarine UC3 Nautilus is seen covered with green tarpaulin in Nordhavn.

Madsen was sentenced to life in prison in 2018 for murdering, sexually mutilating and dismembering Wall aboard the submarine in Copenhagen harbour.

Police later said the operation, taking place less than a kilometre from the prison where Madsen is serving his sentence, was over and that the man under arrest had been taken away.

Reuters | Las Vegas/Washington

President Donald Trump called coronavirus expert Anthony Fauci a "disaster" yesterday, airing his frustration with the scientist during a call meant to reassure campaign staff he has a path to election victory on Nov. 3, despite trailing in opinion polls.

Trump and Fauci, a member of his coronavirus task force, have been at odds over how best to handle a pandemic that has killed more than 219,000 people in the United States and weakened the Republican president's case for re-election.

Fauci, 79, who has served under Republican and Democratlowed reporters to join.

Fauci has openly complained about being included, and quoted out of context, in a Trump campaign advertisement that discussed the administration's pandemic response. He said in a CBS' "60 Minutes" interview broadcast on Sunday that he was not surprised Trump himself contracted the virus.

Trump, speaking from his signature hotel in Las Vegas ahead of two rallies in Arizona, said Fauci bombed during TV interviews but that it would be "a bigger bomb if you fire him."

In a radio interview on Monday night, Fauci dismissed the president's comments as a distraction, referring to a well-known book about the Mafia.

"That other stuff, it's like in 'The Godfather': Nothing personal, strictly business. As far as I'm concerned, I just want to do my job and take care of the people of this country," he told Southern California radio station KNX1070.

Trump said Americans were fed up with pandemic restrictions.

"People are saying: 'Whatever. Just leave us alone.' They're tired of it. People are tired of hearing Fauci and all these idiots," said Trump, whose rallies include many supporters not wearing masks and standing shoulder to shoulder, at odds with the guidance of Fauci and other public health experts.

Trump calls for investigation of Biden

AFP News

President Donald Trump called yesterday on the US attorney general to investigate his "criminal" Democratic opponent Joe Biden, as he headed to a rally in the key state of Pennsylvania two weeks before election day.

Polls show Trump down or in a tight contest in most of the swing states that decide presidential races, but he believes a combination of frenetic campaigning and scorched earth personal attacks on Biden are giving him new momentum.

"Things are changing fast," Trump told the Fox & Friends program Tuesday, claiming that his own polling showed Biden is "imploding."

French teacher's killer sent SMS to parent

● History teacher Samuel Paty was beheaded on Friday outside his school

Reuters | Paris

The young man who beheaded a French teacher for showing caricatures of the Prophet Mohammad in class had sent an SMS message to one of the schoolchildren's parents who had complained about the images, a police source said yesterday.

The source told Reuters that it was not clear whether the parent - the father of a girl in the teacher's class - had responded to the SMS message.

History teacher Samuel Paty was beheaded on Friday outside his school in the Paris suburb of Conflans by an 18-year-old man of Chechen origin.

Prosecutors said the attacker, shot dead by police soon after

Richard Ferrand, speaker of the French National Assembly, and members of parliament pay tribute to Samuel Paty, the French teacher who was beheaded in a Paris suburb, in Paris, France the attack, wanted to punish the teacher for showing his pupils cartoons of the Prophet Mohammad in a civics class on freedom of expression earlier this month.

BFM TV reported on Tuesday that the father who had denounced the teacher in a video on social media had exchanged Whatsapp messages with the killer in the days preceding the attack.

The beheaded teacher had been the target of an angry social media campaign in the days before the murder.

The father, who has been detained by police, had posted a video on Facebook saying he wanted the teacher removed, prosecutors said at the weekend. The man also went to see the school principal to complain and put out another Facebook video, giving the name of the teacher and identifying the school.

The State Department did not immediately comment. But the planned meetings suggest that, just before the U.S. presidential election, Washington is stepping up involvement in moves to calm a conflict that has killed hundreds of people since Sept. 27.

US to breakup Google!

Reuters | Washington

The US Justice Department and 11 states filed an antitrust lawsuit against Alphabet Inc's Google yesterday for allegedly breaking the law in using its market power to fend off rivals. Google did not immediately respond to a request for comment.

Google, whose search engine is so ubiquitous that its name has become a verb, had revenue of $162 billion in 2019, more than the nation of Hungary.

Coming just days before the US presidential election, the filing's timing could be seen as a political gesture since it fulfills a promise made by President Donald Trump to his supporters to hold certain companies to account for allegedly stifling conservative voices.

Republican Senator Josh Hawley, a vociferous Google critic, accused the company of keeping power through "illegal means" and called the lawsuit "the most important antitrust case in a generation."

The federal lawsuit marks a rare moment of agreement between the Trump administration and progressive Democrats. U.S. Senator Elizabeth Warren tweeted on Sept. 10, using the hash tag #BreakUpBigTech, that she wanted "swift, aggressive action."

The 11 states which joined the lawsuit all have Republican attorneys general.

India says 'no timeframe' for release of soldier

AFP News

A Chinese soldier detained after straying into Indian territory near their high-altitude frontier will be handed back "after formalities are completed", New Delhi said Tuesday.

Both sides have engaged in a tense standoff along their 3,500-kilometre (2,200-mile) border since a battle in June left at least 20 Indian soldiers dead, as well as an unspecified number of Chinese casualties

India announced Monday that a corporal named Wang Ya Long had been "apprehended" in the harsh mountainous area of Ladakh.

Colonel Zhang Shuili, a Chinese military spokesman, said Wang got lost while looking for Tibetan herdsman's yak.

"We hope that the Indian side will live up to its promise to hand over the missing Chinese soldier as soon as possible" to "maintain peace and tranquillity" on the border, he said in a statement.

An Indian government official said Tuesday that Wang "was well", but his release would come only "after completion of formalities".

"No timeframe is fixed as of now," he said, on condition of anonymity. India and China have poured tens of thousands of troops into the region since the June battle despite several rounds of talks.

Archaeologists unearth 'huge number' of Egyptian sarcophagi

CNN

Archaeologists in Egypt have discovered another large cache of unopened sarcophagi in Saqqara, adding to the trove of almost 60 coffins recently recovered from the ancient necropolis.

Although full details are yet to be announced, authorities said in a statement that "a huge number" of wooden sarcophagi had been unearthed. The country's Tourism and Antiquities Minister Khaled El-Enany said on Instagram that the find amounted to "dozens" of coffins, adding that they have been "sealed since ancient times."

The collection of sarcophagi, stored in three newly discovered burial shafts, is believed to date back more than 2,500 years. Colored and gilded statues were also found in the tombs, a government press release said.

On Monday, El-Enany and Egyptian Prime Minister Mostafa Madbouly visited the site alongside secretary general of the Supreme Council of Antiquities, Mustafa Waziri. Photos released by the Ministry of Tourism and Antiquities show the trio being lowered into a shaft before inspecting painted coffins and a variety of other objects.

cropolis about 20 miles south of Cairo. The vast burial ground once served the royal capital of Memphis, and the site is also home to Egypt's oldest surviving pyramid.

In September, archaeologists at Saqqara discovered almost 30 closed coffins in one of three burial shafts measuring 10 to 12 meters (33 to 39 feet) deep. At a press conference earlier this month, the ministry said the discovery brought the total number found inside the tombs to 59.

Officials said they believe the coffins contain senior statesmen and priests from the 26th dynasty, which ruled Egypt from 664 B.C. to 525 B.C.

The ministry said that further details of this month's discovery will be announced at a press conference at the site in "the next few weeks." Its announcement also revealed that Prime Minister Madbouly had produced a video in which he thanked the ministry and "expressed his great pride in the unique Egyptian civilization."

Although it is not yet confirmed what will happen to the newly discovered sarcophagi, some of those found earlier this year are set to go on display at the soon-to-open Grand Egyptian Museum in Giza. Upon its opening, the 5.2-million-square-foot structure will become the world's largest museum devoted to a single civilization.

Pooran, Maxwell guide Punjab to victory over Delhi

Glenn Maxwell (L) and Nicholas Pooran talk during the match

ANI | Dubai

Nicholas Pooran and Glenn Maxwell played knocks of 53 and 32 respectively as Kings XI Punjab defeated Delhi Capitals by five wickets on Tuesday here at the Dubai International Stadium.

With this win, KXIP has gone to the fifth position in the points table with 8 points from 10 matches while Delhi Capitals is still at the top of the table with 14 points from 10 matches.

Chasing 165, KXIP got off to a bad start as the side lost skipper KL Rahul (15) in the third over of the innings. Spinner Axar Patel provided the much-needed breakthrough to Delhi Capitals.

Chris Gayle and Mayank Agarwal tried to retrieve the innings for KXIP as the duo put on 35 runs for the second wicket. However, Ravichandran Ashwin staged Delhi's comeback in the sixth over of the innings as both Gayle (29) and Agarwal (5) lost their wickets, reducing KXIP to 56/3.

In a spot of bother, Nicholas Pooran and Glenn Maxwell got together at the crease to retrieve the innings for KXIP. Both batsmen stitched together a partnership of 69 runs, which saw Pooran bringing up his half-century.

However, with Punjab just 40 runs away from the target, Delhi Capitals' got the breakthrough of Pooran (53) as he was sent back to the pavilion by Kagiso Rabada. With just 18 runs required, KXIP was given another blow by Rabada as he dismissed the set batsman Maxwell (32) in the 16th over.

In the end, Deepak Hooda (15*) and James Neesham (10*) ensured KXIP does not suffer from any more hiccups and the duo took the side over the line by five wickets with six balls to spare.

Earlier, Shikhar Dhawan's unbeaten knock of 106 runs guided Delhi Capitals to 164/5 in the allotted twenty overs against KXIP. The left-handed Dhawan also became the first cricketer to score back to back centuries in IPL.

Team Bahrain McLaren's Tratnik wins Giro stage 16

Slovenian Jan Tratnik soloed to victory in yesterday's 16th stage of the Giro d'Italia with Portugal's Joao Almeida holding the leader's pink jersey in the final week of the race around Italy.

Tratnik, a 30-year-old Bahrain McLaren rider, crossed the line seven seconds ahead of Australian Ben O'Connor, after the run from Udine on the border with Slovenia.

Deceuninck's Almeida finished nearly 13 minutes off the pace among the peloton of favourites to keep the overall lead. The race finishes in Milan on October 25.

Colombian sprinter Fernando Gaviria was among two positive coronavirus tests announced before the stage from a batch of 492 during Monday's rest day. The second was an AG2R La Mondiale team employee.

"Gaviria went straight into isolation after the test result. He feels fine and is completely asymptomatic," his UAE Emirates team announced.

"All the other riders and staff members returned negative tests and will have other tests today," the team said.

Gaviria, who also tested positive for the virus in February, had been 126th out of 138 in the general classification, almost three and a half hours behind Almeida.

Monday's total of two positives was down on the first round of testing, when the virus was detected in riders Steven Kruijswijk and Michael Matthews along with six team personnel.

The day after the first tests, two teams quit the race -- Kruijswijk's Jumbo-Visma outfit and Michelton-Scott whose leader Simon Yates had stopped after developing minor symptoms.

Yesterday's undulating 229km stage ran from Udine through the foothills of the Julian Alps with a final circuit around Daniele del Friuli, with Monte Ragogna climbed three times -- over two 27km circuit laps.

Chelsea must tighten up at the back to take pressure off attack - Azpilicueta

Cesar Azpilicueta

Reuters | London

Chelsea must cut out the individual errors and make better decisions to stop leaking goals and putting pressure on their attack, skipper Cesar Azpilicueta has said.

Frank Lampard's side have kept only one clean sheet in the Premier League this season and dropped points in high-scoring draws against West Bromwich Albion and Southampton.

"When you have solidity defensively it gives a boost to the whole team, to the attacking players to create chances," Azpilicueta told reporters ahead of their Champions League group stage match against Sevilla.

"When you are weak defensively ... we feel like we have to score three or four goals every game.

Guardiola takes blame for Euro flop as Man City launch new campaign

AFP | London

Pep Guardiola admitted yesterday that he still feels responsible for the manner of Manchester City's Champions League exit last season, saying they have to "close these gaps" as they chase European glory.

City, who host Porto in their opening group match on Wednesday, have never gone beyond the semi-finals of the competition despite all their domestic success in recent years.

Memories of the quarter-final loss to Lyon in August remain fresh for Guardiola, who won the competition for the second time as Barcelona boss in 2011 but has failed to lift the trophy since.

"It was a tough moment," said the Catalan. "I felt so responsible for how the club felt, the players. I was not able to drive the club and I feel responsible.

"But watching the games we have to accept the reality that we were not good enough. We did not play bad, we played some real good moments but we sometimes made mistakes and in this competition you cannot do it."

Guardiola said City were not far away from cracking the secret of European success.

"I always had the feeling we were close," he said. "The gaps were little but you have to close these gaps. We have to solve it.

"It's the past. Now is a new opportunity and we are going to start at zero again."

The former Barcelona and Bayern Munich coach said Wednesday's fixture had added significance because it was at home.

"The reality to win the home games is so important for qualification," he said. "We're still a little bit away from where we want to be."

City were without Kevin De Bruyne, Gabriel Jesus, Aymeric Laporte and Benjamin Mendy for Saturday's 1-0 win against Arsenal, but Guardiola said the situation was slowly improving.

"Oleksandr Zinchenko is back and other players are back," he said. "Ilkay Gundogan, Bernardo Silva and Joao Cancelo are in good condition. We expect Benjamin Mendy back soon so the team will grow."

Nadal to play Paris Masters next month

AFP | Paris

Rafael Nadal announced yesterday that he will compete in the Paris Masters next month, despite previously saying he might not play again this season.

The 34-year-old won a record-extending 13th French Open title earlier this month with a one-sided final victory over world number one Novak Djokovic at Roland Garros.

"It's indoor season time... this picture was earlier today practicing at @rnadalacad-emy," he posted on Twitter alongside a photo of him training.

"And yes... getting ready for #ParisBercy"

The Paris Masters is scheduled to run from November 2-8.

Any health rules to be implemented for the event due to the coronavirus are yet to be announced.

After moving level with Roger Federer on a men's record 20 Grand Slam titles, Nadal said: "I don't know what I'm going to do after Roland Garros."

After Fight of the Year in 2019, human highlight-reel Hlongwa returns at BRAVE CF 44

TDT | Manama

Two heavy-handed Middleweights will face each other in what is expected to be an action-packed bout at BRAVE CF 44 in the Kingdom of Bahrain. Mzwandile "Snakebone" Hlongwa will be back in search of another highlight knockout against Austria's Dom Schober. BRAVE CF will be back at the Kombat Kingdom with a series of exciting fights next month. Among the bouts confirmed is the return of Hlongwa, who will look to get one step closer to an eventual title shot as he takes on Schober in the main card of BRAVE CF 44.

Hlongwa is coming off a big win against his idol Jeremy Smith in what was voted as BRAVE CF's Fight of the Year for 2019. Although a loss to Khamzat Chimaev in his promotional debut caused the only blemish on his record, Mzwandile's fight history is full of exciting performances. This includes an astonishing first round knockout victory against Torbjorn Madsen which went viral online.

His opponent will no doubt match his power, as Schober has had of all 11 professional wins come via stoppage. But with losses in his two previous bouts he will be looking for a strong return to winning ways.

BRAVE CF 44 is headlined by a gigantic title fight as reigning Lightweight world champion Cleiton "Predator" defends his throne against top contender and submission machine Amin "Fierceness" Ayoub. Also set for fight night are two pivotal match-ups at Welterweight (Abdoul Abdouraguimov vs Louis Glismann) and Lightweight (with John Brewin taking on veteran Rolando Dy).

Ahli lift Khalifa bin Salman Cup

Victors secure impressive league-and-cup double after defeating arch-rivals Manama in final

● Cabinet Affairs Ministry undersecretary HH Shaikh Isa bin Ali bin Khalifa Al Khalifa attends final, presents trophy to Cup champions

● Hesham Sarhan scores Ahli's final four points, including a jump shot with 19 seconds that virtually iced the game

Ahli lifted this year's Khalifa bin Salman Cup last night to secure a spectacular league-and-cup double for the 2019/2020 Bahrain basketball season.

Ahli secured the prestigious trophy following a thrilling 99-91 triumph over Manama in the one-off final.

Star guard Hesham Sarhan scored the victors' last four points in the contest, including an off-balance jumper with 19 seconds to go that made it a two-possession game and virtually iced the victory. Sarhan then pegged the final score with a pair of charity shots with eight seconds left.

Ahli's Cup win yesterday added to their Zain Bahrain Basketball League title, which they clinched late last month in a championship series where they also faced Manama.

Ahli and Manama were presented their respective awards following last night's game in a ceremony attended by Cabinet Affairs Ministry undersecretary and former Bahrain Basketball Association (BBA) president His Highness Shaikh Isa bin Ali bin Khalifa Al Khalifa. Ahli skipper Mohammed Qurban received the Khalifa bin Salman Cup on the team's behalf.

Other high-ranking BBA and Ahli officials were also on hand.

American professionals Brandon Brown and Dominique Sutton have been Ahli's dynamic duo since the resumption of league and cup action, and the tandem once again came up big for their team, combining for 60 points.

Brown had a game-high 34 to go along with 14 rebounds, while Sutton's 26 included an impressive five three-pointers.

Talented combo guard Maitham Jameel scored 15 and had 10 assists with zero turnovers while also registering four steals. Sarhan chipped in with 12 markers and Qurban had nine.

Most of Ahli's offensive production came from their five starters, with the bench only contributing three points.

For Manama, Hasan Nowrooz scored 23 to pace his team in the losing effort, while American Harvey Jerai Grant added 20 and 10 boards. Young guard Mustafa Hussain Ali was a spark off the bench, chipping in 14.

American professionals Brandon Brown and Dominique Sutton have been Ahli's dynamic duo since the resumption of league and cup action, and the tandem once again delivered, combining for 60 points

Ahli were the early aggressors, taking a 31-20 lead at the end of the first quarter. But Manama fought back brilliantly and were able to take a slim 47-46 lead at the half.

In the third period, Ahli regained control and enjoyed a double-digit 78-67 advantage heading into the final canto. There, they went ahead by 15 points after two Sarhan free-throws with eight minutes still to play, but then Manama began to slowly chip away at their deficit.

The boys in blue were able to get back to within four points on multiple possessions in the last two minutes, but they got no closer as Ahli had an answer each time. They did well to stave off the Manama comeback and seal the Cup victory.

Alaswad wins Golden Boot award

● Bahrain national team will face UAE next month

TDT | Manama

National team midfielder and Riffa Club star Komail Alaswad has won the Golden Boot award of the 2019/2020 Nasser bin Hamad Bahrain Premier Football League.

Alaswad secured the coveted title after finishing the recently concluded season with an impressive 14 goals.

The 26-year-old was in fine form throughout the competition, with his closest challenger a distant six goals behind in Riffa teammate Sayed Hashem Sayed Isa.

Three others were tied third in the race for the Golden Boot. Scoring seven goals apiece were Cameroonian professional Ernst Thierry Anang of Al Ahli, Brazilian import Everton de Mendonca of Muharraq, and Libyan professional Mohammed Soulah, also of Riffa.

This year's league was postponed for more than four months due to the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic. Hidd were crowned champions after finishing a point ahead of Muharraq, while Riffa—who scored the most goals out of all teams with 50—finished third, three points back.

The rest of the standings saw Al Najma, East Riffa, Manama and Al Ahli ranked fourth through seventh, respectively; while Al Shabab and Al Hala were both relegated to the second division.

Busaiten, on the other hand, will have to play Bahrain Club over two legs for the right to remain in the top flight. They will be facing off in the first match tomorrow, to be followed by the second leg on Monday next week.

Malkiya and Budaiya have both been promoted to the premier league after finishing as the top two in the second division.

Friendly against UAE set

Meanwhile, Bahrain's senior men's national team have added an international friendly match against the UAE during their training camp in Dubai goals were scored by Komail Alaswad in the 2019/2020 season of Nasser bin Hamad Bahrain Premier Football League next month.

This was confirmed by the Bahrain Football Association, and the game will be played on November 16.

The tune-up adds to Bahrain's other already scheduled friendlies against Tajikistan on November 7 and Lebanon on November 12.

The nationals are scheduled to hold their overseas camp from November 1 to 17.

Bahrain will be preparing for their remaining qualifying matches for the 2022 FIFA World Cup and the 2023 AFC Asian Cup. The joint-qualifiers have been delayed due to COVID-19, and matches are only expected to resume next year.

Bahrain are in Group C of joint-qualifying, where they currently sit in second place behind leaders Iraq. They are ranked ahead of Iran, Hong Kong, and Cambodia following five games already played, with three remaining.

Doping charges against Bahrain's 400m world champion Naser dismissed

TDT | Manama

The doping charges brought against Bahrain's 400 metre world champion Salwa Eid Naser have been dismissed, the Athletics Integrity Unit announced yesterday.

The 22-year-old Naser was provisionally suspended in June and charged with failing to meet 'whereabouts' criteria. The AIU charged the runner with four alleged 'whereabouts' failures which included three missed tests between March 2019 and January this year.

But the World Athletics Disciplinary Tribunal did not confirm a missed test from April 2019, therefore meaning Naser had not missed three tests within 12 months which is required to prove an anti-doping violation.

The AIU added that it has the right to appeal to the Court of Arbitration for Sport.

Naser stunned athletics in Doha last year when she powered to the third-fastest 400m time in history to win the world title.

Her time of 48.14 seconds has only been bettered by East German Marita Koch in 1985 and former Czech runner Jarmila Kratochvilova in 1983.

The AIU is the independent anti-doping watchdog for track and field, set up in 2017.
