WB superheroes swoop into Comic-Con

AFP | San Diego

Warner Bros. closed the final full day of the Comic-Con International fanfest on Saturday as the belle of the ball, bringing its roster of superheroes to take a bow in San Diego. The studio took over the 6,500-seat main arena at the world's largest celebration of fan culture for two star-studded hours, serving up tantalizing teasers for its DC Extended Universe series of comic-book movies.

Momoa unveils 'Aquaman' trailer

ANI | San Diego

‘Game of Thrones’ star Jason Momoa unveiled the power-packed trailer of ‘Aquaman’ and it is an awesome water ride.

The first trailer for the anticipated superhero film debuted at the 2018 San Diego Comic-Con panel on Saturday. The trailer discovers Jason Momoa as the heir to the underwater kingdom of Atlantis, as he is part human and part Atlantean. He then steps forward to lead his people and to stop his evil half-brother, the villain Ocean Master, played by Patrick Wilson, who wants to turn Earth into an underwater world.

Momoa had first played Aquaman in a cameo role in ‘Batman v Superman: Dawn of Justice’ and reprised the part in ‘Justice League’.

The movie also stars Nicole Kidman, Amber Heard, Randall Park, Dolph Lundgren and Willem Dafoe.

It will hit the theatres on December 21.

Chris Pratt evades questions on James Gunn

Chris Pratt

ANI | Washington

In the ongoing Comic-Con International Convention in San Diego, Hollywood star Chris Pratt evaded questions on director James Gunn, who was recently fired from ‘Guardians of the Galaxy Vol. 3’.

During a question and session round for the movie ‘The Lego Movie 2: The Second Part’, Pratt avoided replying to anything on Gunn.

Notably, Pratt became famous for the ‘Guardians of the Galaxy’ superhero movie series, which was directed by Gunn himself.

Pratt and Elizabeth Banks, who attended the session, showcased a clip from the animated film, including a clip that had the aesthetics of Hollywood film ‘Mad Max: Fury Road’.

Hardy took role of Venom for son

FIANS | San Diego

Actor Tom Hardy says the impetus for playing the villain in ‘Venom’ was to make a movie for his son.

“My son is a massive Venom fan, and he was a strong influence on my why I should play Venom specifically. I wanted to do something my son could watch,” Hardy said, noting he is often aggressive and violent in his films.

“So I did something where I bite people’s heads off,” quipped Hardy at the Comic-Con, where he and director Ruben Fleischer also said they would love to see Tom Holland’s Spider-Man face off against the anti-hero.

‘Venom’ also stars Woody Harrelson, Riz Ahmed, Michelle Williams, Jenny Slate and Scott Haze.

At Comic-Con, the team showed off new footage, which Fleischer stressed still had some VFX work to do.

The footage revealed that Venom will face off against another symbiote in the movie. Fleischer later said this was Riot, a symbiote who can transfer to other people, so you never know who it will be in the film.

The filmmaker also hinted other villains could be in the movie. “We are planning a big world with this Venom story,” he said.
