The third Asian Youth Games began in stirring fashion last night as Bahrain delivered a heartfelt opening ceremony inside Exhibition World Bahrain in Sakhir. The evening celebrated culture, history, and the promise of youth, uniting more than 4,000 athletes from 45 nations competing across 26 sports until the end of the month.

Receiving senior invitees and heads of delegations of the 3rd Asian Youth Games hosted under his patronage, His Majesty King Hamad bin Isa Al Khalifa emphasized that sports unite peoples through love, coexistence and tolerance, and that the gathering of Asia's youth in Bahrain is the real victory of the Games.

Last night's ceremony at Exhibition World Bahrain opened with Dana, one of the Games' official mascots, appearing at the centre of the stage to tell a tale of her homeland. She spoke of dreams, her ancestors, and Bahrain's bond with the pearl. Her grandfather's voice followed, offering words that no dream is out of reach and that the nation's young generation carries forward the determination that built its past. A glowing pearl shone as a beacon of heritage and hope.

Flags of all 26 nations were then raised as delegates paraded proudly, accompanied by drumming and sweeping modern lighting. When the Palestinian flag appeared, the crowd erupted in applause, joining the royal family in recognition.

The torch also paraded around the arena, and when His Highness Shaikh Nasser bin Hamad Al Khalifa declared the Games open, in the presence of His Highness Shaikh Khalid bin Hamad Al Khalifa and other distinguished royal guests, torchlight flickered, music swelled, and the pearl shone once more. Bahrain had not just opened the Games; it had opened its heart to Asia.

Food-truck zone approved by Capital Trustees Board under public-private model

Mohammed Darwish
TDT | Manama

A plan to set aside serviced plots for a dedicated food-truck zone in Bahrain was approved by the Capital Trustees Board yesterday. The scheme covers prepared public or private land with power, water and sewer links, a single licensing system, and on-site waste sorting, to bring the trade into one managed setting and draw visitors. Branded 'Food Truck Bahrain', the site would be run through a public-private model. Government supplies the land and core services. A private operator manages the venue and fits it out with seating, lighting, décor, security, cleaning and events. Vendors pay rent for space and utilities.

Pitch

Each pitch would have central connections for electricity and water, a sewer tie-in and regulated grey water disposal. The plan calls for smart bins for recycling, CCTV coverage and emergency response arrangements with Civil Defence. Licensing would be issued by one regulator, with hygiene rules applied across the site. Backers say the venue is

The proposal sets out expected returns through land-lease income to the state, rental and sponsorship revenue to the operator, and new roles for young Bahrainis. Man jailed for social media video breach

● For offending public morals

Mohammed Darwish
TDT | Manama

A man was jailed for one month yesterday for misusing a social-media account by posting a video deemed to breach public morals.

The court also ordered the confiscation of his phone.

The Minor Criminal Court issued the ruling after prosecutors said the video was posted on a public account and is punishable under Bahraini law.

Inquiry

The Public Prosecution opened an inquiry after the Anti-Cybercrime Directorate reported the clip.

The defendant was arrested on a prosecution order and sent to court in custody, where the sentence was handed down.

The chief of Cybercrime Prosecution said the Prosecution will continue to take legal steps, working with the security services and other bodies, to keep Bahrain's online space free of content that offends public morals.

Healthcare milestone

Southern Municipal Council clears land for Al Buhair health centre

Mohammed Darwish
TDT | Manama

Expropriation of land for a long-awaited health centre in Al Buhair topped the Southern Municipal Council's decisions yesterday, alongside plans to ease East Riffa's traffic and news that a proposed revival of Bahrain's 'dilapidated homes' scheme has been dropped.

Councillors gave unanimous backing to acquire a plot in Al Buhair for a public health centre.

The aim is to cut the strain on nearby centres and spare residents the trek to other districts for routine care.

The site is being chosen for reach, so that families in outlying streets can get seen without a long drive.

Emergencies

Chairman Abdullah Abdullatif, who put the case to colleagues, said the centre would raise day-to-day care and speed the response to emergencies.

He added that setting land aside for public services keeps pace with new housing and gives the area what it has lacked for years: a local clinic that people can reach quickly.

He said the knock-on effects

Southern Municipal Council session in progress should be felt beyond health. A new clinic tends to lift nearby property values, draw small investments and open up jobs.

Care

It also helps even out the map of care, so neighbourhoods with fewer services are not left behind.

On roads, the council agreed to recommend a one-way entry from Shaikh Isa Avenue to Road 1114 in Block 911, East Riffa.

The lane is narrow and currently a dead end, which traps traffic at peak times. The fix is simple: entry only, no exit.

Eighth-constituency representative Ali Al-Shaikh said residents have lodged many complaints about queues and awkward access, and noted the spot is the most workable.

The neighbour beside the planned turn-in has raised no objection.

Response

Members also recorded the Ministry of Municipalities Affairs and Agriculture's response on the 'dilapidated houses' file.

The ministry said the scheme will not be brought back.

Under a Cabinet decision, owners of unsafe homes are treated as eligible for Eskan Bank loans for repairs, while the Ministry of Housing takes on case reviews and the works needed for repair or rebuild once files are passed across by the Municipalities and Urban Planning Ministry.

BSA takes part in AI for climate global forum

TDT | Manama

His Excellency Mohammed Ibrahim Al Aseeri, CEO of the Bahrain Space Agency (BSA), participated in the AI for Climate Innovation Factory sessions 2025 organised by the International Telecommunication Union (ITU) in partnership with more than fifty international organisations.

The initiative comprised two sessions in which start-ups from various countries presented innovative solutions using artificial intelligence to address environmental and climate challenges, with the participation of prominent international experts and assessors.

Dr Al Aseeri said that the initiative represented an exceptional opportunity to review the latest developments in using AI to confront climate challenges, which align with the BSA's efforts to harness advanced space technologies in support of environmental sustainability.

Initiative

He added that the initiative is directly linked to space technologies: it uses satellite data in AI applications for environmental monitoring; it develops innovative solutions for tracking emissions and climate changes using space techniques; and it emphasises the critical use of satellite imagery in training AI models to predict environmental shifts.

Dr Al Aseeri explained that participation in the initiative is of added value for the Agency's team, contributing to the planning of its future initiatives, especially concerning building strategic partnerships with global start-ups specialised in climate technologies, and working to develop the national team's capabilities in AI applications for space data using the most current and reliable technologies.

MP Al Sayegh: Treaties must not outrank citizens' interests

● Domestic worker mobility questioned

Mohammed Darwish
TDT | Manama

MP Mariam Al Sayegh led a sharp challenge to the government's stance that domestic workers may switch jobs once contracts end, arguing that treaties must not outrank citizens' interests.

She said families pay about BD2,000 to recruit a domestic worker and that easy moves between roles can shut Bahrainis out of jobs they could fill.

“If these agreements do not match the interest of citizens or our local conditions, we do not want them,” Al Sayegh told MPs.

Links

She also urged closer links between visas, skills and experience to fit roles to the work on offer, saying looser rules tempt workers to switch jobs with ease and strain household budgets and family life.

The government set out a different view.

It said a domestic worker who has finished a permit or contract may apply for a new, independent permit like any other employee.

A draft law to keep such workers in household service or send them home, it argued, would place an unjustified curb on freedoms protected by the Constitution, namely the freedom to choose work and the freedom to contract, which may only be limited in rare, well-founded cases.

The government added that the plan would run against the Labour Law for the Private Sector on equal treatment and Bahrain's duties under ILO Convention No. 111 on discrimination in work.

Warning

They warned of overlap and conflict between the Labour Market law and the Labour Law for the Private Sector, which would cut against aims of a fair, clear and efficient market.

The government said there is no clear need for new law and called for a rethink that keeps order in the labour market while upholding rights given to all workers in the Kingdom.

Passenger numbers top seven million at Bahrain Airport

Mohammed Darwish
TDT | Manama

Bahrain International Airport handled more than seven million passengers in the first nine months of 2025, with September traffic at 766,394, up 7 per cent on the same month last year, according to Civil Aviation Affairs at the Ministry of Transportation and Telecommunications.

September broke down into 405,279 arrivals, 361,111 departures and roughly 4,000 transit passengers.

Aircraft movements totalled 8,377 for the month, split between 4,191 arrivals and 4,186 departures. A further 43,741 aircraft crossed Bahrain's airspace.

Cargo and airmail were busy as well. Handling in September came to about 34,115 tonnes: 13,507 tonnes inbound, 8,442 tonnes outbound and 12,166 tonnes in transhipment.

Earlier months show a steady run. August recorded around 951,795 passengers and 9,029 flights; July 865,753 passengers and 8,748 flights; June 780,771 passengers; May about 744,625; April more than 808,793.

In the first quarter, March registered about 594,824 passengers and February 736,625, while January stood at roughly 820,000.

Public health and safety first

● Animals' spread in streets and housing areas is causing nuisance and direct risk to residents

Mohammed Darwish
TDT | Manama

Packs of stray dogs roaming neighbourhoods have triggered new concern in Muharraq, with councillors set to demand firmer action on Monday.

Council member Fadhil Al Oud said the animals' spread in streets and housing areas is causing a nuisance and a direct risk to residents, spoiling the look of districts and adding to animal waste.

He warned of disease and parasites, a higher chance of minor accidents for drivers and pedestrians, and rising fear among has become a direct concern for residents,” he said. “Fixing gaps in the system would be a basic step towards bringing the numbers down.”

He said current steps have fallen short despite an annual spend of about BD209,000 on trapping, shelter and care.

The councilor called for a close review of the rules for importing dogs and cats, stronger follow-up once animals enter the Kingdom, and a clear account of how the yearly sum is used.

In parallel, Black Gold Equipment Hiring has lodged the lone bid, BD209,500, for a Ministry of Municipalities Affairs and Agriculture tender to run stray-dog trapping.

Tender papers set a full service across the four governorates, Capital, Muharraq, Northern and Southern, from 1 January 2026 to 31 December 2027, with teams responding to rou-

Rehoming

The plan goes beyond catching. It covers housing and rehoming, and applies across residential, shop and factory zones as well as open public ground.

Apple, Google face tougher UK regulation of mobile platforms

London, United Kingdom

Britain’s competition watchdog said Wednesday that Apple and Google would face tougher regulation of services on their mobile platforms under new measures focused on technology giants. The Competition and Markets Authority said it was placing the two companies under “strategic market status” in a final decision following a nine-month investigation.

The companies hit out at the SMS designation, with Google calling it “disappointing, disproportionate and unwarranted”. The new UK measures are similar to a tech competition law from the European Union, the Digital Markets Act, which carries the potential for hefty financial penalties. “Apple and Google’s mobile platforms are used by thousands of businesses right across the economy... but the platforms’ rules may be limiting innovation and competition,” Will Hayter, executive director for digital markets at the CMA, said in a statement. The CMA previously described their dominance as “an effective duopoly,” noting that virtually all mobile phones sold in the UK are pre-installed with either Apple’s iOS operating system of Google’s Android system. In addition, their “app stores and browsers have either exclusive or leading positions on their platforms compared to alternative products and services”, it said. An SMS designation allows the CMA to require Apple and Google to change how certain mobile services operate, with the aim of offering consumers greater choice. UK regulators opened the investigation into Apple and Google’s control over mobile ecosystems in January.

‘Weaker privacy’ Google said the regulator’s conclusion impacts its Android operating system, Play online store and Chrome browser. “Following the CMA’s decision today, our mobile business in the UK faces a set of new -- and, as of yet, uncertain -- rules,” said Oliver Bethell, senior competition director at Google. “The CMA’s next steps will be crucial if the UK’s digital markets regime is to meet its promise of being pro-growth and pro-innovation,” he said. Apple said the “UK’s adoption of EU-style rules would undermine” its objective to “create the best products, services and user experience”. It also warned that users would face “weaker privacy and security, delayed access to new features, and a fragmented, less seamless experience”.

Gold, stocks slide on economic jitters

AFF | London, United Kingdom

Gold prices sank further yesterday and major stock markets mostly fell on fresh economic jitters caused by China-US trade uncertainty and a batch of weak company earnings. Most European equity indices were lower and Wall Street fell slightly at the US open after declines in most Asian markets earlier. London’s benchmark FTSE 100 index was a rare climber as the pound dropped on lower-than-expected UK inflation data that signalled another potential interest-rate cut from the Bank of England this year. Gold was once again a major focus after plunging 6% on Tuesday, a sell-off from record highs that rattled investor confidence in what is traditionally a safe-haven asset. Traders are “desperately trying to gauge whether... (Tuesday’s) historical collapse was indicative of a new period of weakness or simply a case of blowing off steam after a dramatic surge into record highs”, said Joshua Mahony, chief market analyst at Scope Markets. Gold fell to around $4,080 an ounce Wednesday after chalking up a record peak above $4,381 on Monday. The retreat hit the share prices es of gold miners, while individual companies were impacted by earnings updates. In Paris, L’Oreal shed 6.2% after the cosmetics giant posted third-quarter earnings that undershot analysts expectations, with US tariffs imposed by President Donald Trump weighing on American sales in particular. On the upside, Barclays and UniCredit posted positive results, easing fears of a new banking crisis emerging in the United States. There were also concerns regarding US-China trade relations after Trump said a meeting with his counterpart Xi Jinping might not occur. Trump said Tuesday that he expected to seal a “good” trade deal with Xi at the APEC summit in South Korea next week, adding that “I think we’re going to have a very successful meeting. Certainly, there are a lot of people that are waiting for it.” But he then added: “Maybe it won’t happen. Things can happen where, for instance, maybe somebody will say, ‘I don’t want to meet. It’s too nasty.’ But it’s really not nasty.” Oil prices rallied on speculation that India would agree to cut its purchases of the commodity from Russia as part of a trade deal with the United States. Trump has claimed New Delhi pledged to reduce its imports from Russia, which Washington says helps finance Moscow’s war in Ukraine. Indian officials have neither confirmed nor denied any policy shift.

Global trade system ‘at risk of derailment’: UN chief

Geneva, Switzerland

The rules-based international trade system is in danger, UN chief Antonio Guterres warned Wednesday, amid spiralling debt, heavy tariffs and financial insecurity for emerging nations. Guterres said too many countries were trapped in a debt crisis, spending more money on servicing creditors than funding health and education. “Global debt has soared. Poverty and hunger are still with us. The international financial architecture is not providing an adequate safety net for developing countries. And the rules-based trading system is at risk of derailment,” Guterres said at the UN Conference on Trade and Development in Geneva. Guterres said trade and development was facing a “whirlwind of change”, with three-quarters of global growth now coming from the developing world, services trade surging and new technologies boosting the global economy.

However, geopolitical divisions, inequalities, conflicts and the climate crisis are limiting progress, the UN secretary-general said. ‘In turmoil’ Furthermore, US President Donald Trump’s administration has slapped wide-ranging tariffs on other nations, triggering trade tensions around the globe. Guterres acknowledged that “protectionism might be, in some situations, inevitable”, but, he stressed,

“at least it should be rational”. The UN chief warned that developing countries “continue to be short-changed”, with uncertainty rising, investment retreating and supply chains “in turmoil”. Guterres said 3.4 billion people were living in countries that spend more on debt servicing than on health or education. He called for lower borrowing costs and risks, and quicker support for countries facing debt distress. Meanwhile global financial institutions need reforming so they better represent the needs of developing countries, he added. The UN chief was set to launch later Wednesday the Sevilla Forum on Debt, aimed at tackling debt problems in developing countries by unlocking financing for developing countries, strengthening the ability to mobilise domestic funding, leveraging more private finance and tripling the lending power of multilateral development banks.

Fintech Forward 2025:
Celebrating Bahrain’s Vision and Leadership in Financial Technology Transformation

HUSSAIN ALJAMRI , INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY EXPERT
BASED IN BAHRAIN

In an era where technology seamlessly integrates into every aspect of daily life, Fintech Forward 2025 in Bahrain stands out as a pioneering platform that anticipates the future of the financial sector and celebrates digital transformation as a cornerstone of sustainable development. Through this flagship event, the Kingdom has successfully cemented its position as a regional hub for financial technology, combining progressive regulatory vision with intelligent infrastructure, and attracting global experts, innovators, and decision-makers.

From my professional perspective, and with deep involvement in digital transformation, I recognize that the pace of technological advancement is accelerating at an unprecedented rate, profoundly reshaping all vital sectors. The financial industry, in particular, has evolved from rapid digital growth to a state of digital maturity, in alignment with global infrastructure evolution. Technology is no longer a supporting enabler, it has become the core infrastructure of every project, industry, and sector, and the foundation upon which innovation, resilience, and competitiveness are built.

Technology today represents the future of all domains, including traditional, emerging, and small enterprises. Concepts such as open banking, ESG analytics, digital ID, digital wallets, contactless payments and AI-driven are no longer theoretical they are practical realities reshaping institutional relationships and redefining compliance, transparency, and financial inclusion.

Through the FinTech Forward initiatives, Bahrain has placed itself at the heart of the digital transformation, leading innovation in the financial sector, not only by hosting global dialogue, but through tangible initiatives such as the regulatory sandbox launched by the Central Bank of Bahrain, one of the first experimental environments in the region. Strategic partnerships between regulators, investors, and tech firms reflect institutional maturity and a forward looking vision that continues to strengthen Bahrain's position as a regional leader in financial innovation.

Another significant outcome of this transformation is the rise of digital identity as a vital national asset. Its role extends far beyond electronic verification, it now serves as the foundation for numerous public and private initiatives. Digital identity is the citizen's gateway to services, the cornerstone of trust in the digital economy, and a powerful enabler for institutions to build safer and more efficient experiences. It has become an integral part of national identity and a sovereign infrastructure component.

In conclusion, the future of the financial sector is now fundamentally intertwined with technology. Every technological advancement opens new horizons for finance, and every digital innovation reshapes the economic infrastructure. Fintech Forward 2025 is not just an annual event, it is the strategic embodiment of a national vision that sees technology as the future, Bahrain as a platform for leadership, and national competencies as the pillar of sustainability.

Israel returned the bodies of 30 Palestinians to Gaza yesterday, bringing the total number handed over under the ceasefire deal to 195, the health ministry in the Hamas-run territory said.

Under the deal brokered by US President Donald Trump, Israel was to turn over the bodies of 15 Palestinians for every deceased Israeli returned.

Israel's military said yesterday that the remains of two more hostages returned the day before from Gaza had been identified as those of Aryeh Zalmanovich and Master Sergeant Tamir Adar.

Since October 10, the remains of 15 hostages have been returned, out of the 28 pledged to be handed over by Hamas under the ceasefire deal.

Gaza's health ministry said that 57 of the returned Palestinian bodies had so far been identified by their relatives, while 54 unidentified bodies had been buried on Wednesday.

Gaza's civil defence agency, a rescue force operating under Hamas authority, said the funeral procession began at Nasser Hospital in the southern city of Khan Yunis and proceeded to a cemetery in Deir el-Balah, in central Gaza.

The remains of unidentified Palestinians lie outside Nasser Hospital in Khan Yunis, in the southern Gaza Strip, after their bodies were returned by Israel under a US-brokered ceasefire deal laid out on the floor in white body bags as rescue workers stood in a line to pray over the dead.

Umm Hassan Hammad said she had been unable to identify the body of her son who has been missing since October 7, 2023.

"Every day I come here, maybe I recognise him from his clothes or the trousers he went out in since October 7," she said.

US pushes plan to disarm Hamas and rebuild Gaza

AFP | Jerusalem, Undefined

US Vice President JD Vance warned Wednesday of the tough task ahead in disarming Hamas and building a peaceful future for Gaza, as Washington sought to reassure its ally Israel over the next steps in its ambitious ceasefire deal.

Vance met Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu on the second day of a trip to Israel, part of a diplomatic blitz in support of the US-brokered plan to end the fighting, recover hostages and, eventually, rebuild the devastated Palestinian territory.

"We have a very, very tough task ahead of us, which is to disarm Hamas but rebuild Gaza, to make life better for the people of Gaza, but also to ensure that Hamas is no longer a threat to our friends in Israel," Vance said.

Vance had kicked off the three-day visit on Tuesday by opening the Civil-Military Coordination Centre (CMCC) in southwest Israel, where US and allied troops will work with Israeli forces to monitor the truce and to oversee aid to Gaza.

Turkish troops?

"A lot of our Israeli friends working together with a lot of Americans to actually mediate this entire ceasefire process, to get some of the critical infrastructure off the ground," Vance said, after talks with Netanyahu in Jerusalem.

Vance cited an "international security force" as one of the bodies that would have to be set up. Under US President Donald Trump's 20-point plan, this military mission would keep the peace in Gaza as Israel withdraws.

Several US allies are considering joining the force, but no American troops would be on the ground inside Gaza, instead coordinating from the CMCC in Kiryat Gat, Israel.

Reports that Israel's outspoken critic and regional rival Turkey could provide troops have rattled Israeli opinion.

Netanyahu said decisions on the new security force would be made in discussion with the United States, but on Turkey's role he said: "I have very strong opinions about that. You want to guess what they are?"

The Israeli military said Wednesday the remains of two more hostages returned the day before had been identified as Aryeh Zalmanovich and Master Sergeant Tamir Adar.

Zalmanovich, 85 at the time of his death, was abducted from his home in kibbutz Nir Oz and killed in captivity on November 17, 2023, the military said.

The soldier Adar, 38 when he died, was killed while fighting to defend Nir Oz on October 7, 2023, and his body was taken captive, it said.

Bangladesh court detains army officers for landmark trial

Formal charges have been brought for enforced disappearances in Bangladesh

● The men, including five generals, are accused of running a secret detention centre

● During Hasina's rule, RAB forces carried out scores of killings

● Awami League says that she "categorically" denies the charges

AFP | Dhaka, Bangladesh

A Bangladeshi court re-manded in custody yesterday 15 high-ranking army officers on charges of enforced disappearances and atrocities committed during the 2024 uprising that toppled the government.

It is first time that formal charges have been brought for enforced disappearances in Bangladesh, and the first time so many senior military officials have faced a civilian trial.

The men, including five generals, are accused of running a secret detention centre during the tenure of the now-ousted prime minister Sheikh Hasina.

All have served in Bangladeshi military intelligence or the feared paramilitary Rapid

Police personnel escort detained army officers to the International Crimes Tribunal (ICT) court in Dhaka Action Battalion (RAB).

Defence lawyer Sarwar Hossain said all rejected the charges.

The army has said it will assist the judicial process, but the situation has been tense since the court issued arrest warrants earlier this month.

"They declared their allegiance to the law of the land and their respect for the judicial process," the court's chief prosecutor Tajul Islam told reporters.

"That was reflected in the co-operation they have extended."

UN Human Rights Chief Volker Turk, in a statement on October 15, said that the court process was an important step towards accountability.

"It is a significant moment for victims and their families," Turk said.

The officers were brought by a prison van to the court, guarded by a heavy deployment of police.

"These officers are confident of their innocence, and believe they will be released through due judicial process," their lawyer Hossain said.

Bangladesh is prosecuting former senior figures connected to Hasina -- now a fugitive in exile in India -- and her now-banned Awami League party.

Up to 1,400 people were killed in the clashes between July and August 2024 as the security forces tried to quash anti-government protests, according to the United Nations.

During Hasina's rule, RAB forces carried out scores of killings, and the organisation was sanctioned by the United States in 2021.

Hasina, 78, fled last year to New Delhi, where she has defied court orders to return to attend her ongoing crimes against humanity trial for ordering the deadly crackdown.

Her trial in absentia is in its final stages, with Hasina's state-appointed defence giving closing arguments. The prosecution have demanded the death penalty for Hasina.

Hasina's Awami League says that she "categorically" denies the charges.

Sheikh Hasina is the longest-serving prime minister in the history of Bangladesh, having held office since January 2009, after previously serving from 1996 to 2001.

Blackstone COO picks India as top investment destination: 'Massive infra push, rising middle class'

TDT | agencies

Blackstone President and Chief Operating Officer Jon Gray has identified India as one of the most attractive investment destinations globally, calling it "the fastest growing country in the G10." Speaking at a recent address, Gray said India's strong economic fundamentals, expanding middle class, and infrastructure push make it a compelling long-term bet for global investors. During his address, he listed what he sees as some of the most best places to invest in. "The first stop I've got is commercial real estate. It's been three and a half very tough years for commercial real estate, but now this good dynamic has taken over, which is new supply has declined by nearly 70%, in this case in US logistics, but it's really happening around the world. Cost of capital is coming down, assets have been repriced, this is the time you want to be an investor in commercial real estate," Gray said.

He named three key areas - real estate, secondary markets, and India - as the strongest prospects. "Next up, secondaries. Another industry that has grown a ton, from $23 billion to $200 billion over the last 15 years. Again, the concern, has this gotten too big? But I would point out, it's just one and a half percent of outstanding AUM that is trading hands. That compares to 100% of the stock market by value that trades hands. That's why we believe that discounts and secondaries will continue ue to persist," he said. Turning to India, Gray said: "Third stop, India. This is the G10, clearly the fastest-growing country. There's been some tension geopolitically recently, but this is a country that is investing massively in physical infrastructure, legal capital markets infrastructure. There is a rising middle class here. This is a place we particularly like."

The International Monetary Fund (IMF) last week revised India's GDP growth forecast for the current fiscal to 6.6%, up from its earlier estimate of 6.4%, citing "strong growth offsetting the impact of U.S. tariffs on Indian shipments." In its latest World Economic Outlook, the IMF pegged next year's growth at 6.2%.

At a recent regional briefing, IMF Asia and Pacific Department Director Krishna Srinivasan said India's fundamentals remain strong but stressed the need for deeper reforms. "Many things are working in India's favour," Srinivasan said. "But to achieve the government's 'Viksit Bharat' goal of becoming a developed economy, India has to fire all cylinders to reach 8% or more growth." "India needs to focus on pre-liberalisation reforms if it wants to position itself more competitively with China," he added, while calling for "diversifying export markets to reduce external vulnerabilities."

Pakistan navy ship seizes drugs worth nearly $1 bn in Arabian Sea

Dubai, United Arab Emirates

A Pakistani navy ship seized narcotics worth more than $972 million from sailboats in the Arabian Sea, according to a statement Tuesday from the naval network overseeing the operation.

The Combined Maritime Force (CMF), a naval partnership that includes the United States, said the Pakistani naval vessel last week intercepted two different dhow sailing boats within 48 hours.

The crew seized several tons of crystal methamphetamine and a smaller amount of cocaine, the CMF statement said.

The intercepted vessels were "identified as having nonnationality", it said without indicating where they had originated.

It was "one of the most successful narcotics seizures for CMF," said Royal Saudi Naval Forces Commander Fahad Aljoiad, commander of the CMF taskforce carrying out the operation.

Modi and Trump talk trade as India, US seek to repair ties

Trump told reporters he had spoken by phone with Modi

● India has yet to secure a formal trade deal with the United States

● New Delhi started buying heavily discounted Russian crude in 2022

● Trump and Modi may yet meet this month at the ASEAN summit of Southeast Asian leaders in Malaysia

AFP | New Delhi, India

Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi said yesterday he had held a conversation with Donald Trump, with the US president saying the pair had discussed trade as the countries negotiate a deal that could mend strained ties.

Relations plummeted in August when Trump raised tariffs on Indian exports to the United States to 50 percent and US officials accused India of financing Russia's war in Ukraine by buying Moscow's discounted oil.

During a ceremony to mark Diwali, the Hindu festival of lights, on Tuesday, Trump told reporters he had spoken by phone with Modi.

"We talked about trade -- we

US President Donald Trump and Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi hold a joint press conference in the East Room of the White House in Washington, DC, on February 13, 2025 talked about a lot of things, but mostly the world of trade," Trump said while lighting candles for the celebration at the White House. "He's very interested in that."

Modi thanked Trump for the call, saying on X that he hoped

"our two great democracies continue to illuminate the world with hope."

India has yet to secure a formal trade deal with the United States, despite being among the first nations to initiate negotiations with Washington after Trump began his second term.

Trump also repeated his claim -- first made on October 15 -- that India would cut Russian oil purchases. New Delhi has neither confirmed nor denied any policy shift.

Traditionally reliant on Middle Eastern producers, New Delhi started buying heavily discounted Russian crude in 2022, taking advantage of Western sanctions that limited Moscow's export options.

Several other sources of friction have strained Washington's relationship with India this year.

They include Trump's assertions that he achieved a ceasefire between India and Pakistan to end an intense four-day conflict over the contested region of Kashmir in May.

Modi has said there was no such mediation by a world leader.

And last month, the Trump administration hiked fees for H-1B skilled-worker visas to $100,000. Indians make up roughly three-quarters of all H-1B recipients.

Trump and Modi may yet meet this month at the ASEAN summit of Southeast Asian leaders in Malaysia, which Trump is set to attend.

New Delhi has not confirmed whether Modi will participate, as India is not a member of the 10-nation bloc.

But some Indian newspapers have reported that he may attend.

India, one of the world's largest crude oil importers, relies on foreign suppliers for more than 85 percent of its oil needs.

Israel deports 32 foreign activists who helped Palestinian olive harvest

Ramallah, Palestinian Territories

Israel's Deputy Prime Minister Yariv Levin said yesterday he had ordered the deportation of 32 foreign activists who had helped Palestinians harvest olives in the occupied West Bank, on the grounds they violated a military order.

Levin said the deportation order came after a complaint filed by Northern West Bank Settlements Council president Yossi Dagan, who said the activists were "anarchists who carried out provocations in the Samaria area."

Rudy Schukind, a 30-year-old British national among the deported, told AFP he had come to the West Bank to support Palestinian farmers.

This year's olive season has been particularly violent, with several acts of vandalism and attacks from Israeli settlers.

Foreign activists often provide a presence meant to deter these incidents in rural West Bank areas.

Schukind said he was held 72 hours by Israeli forces before being deported on October 19.

"We were arrested after they

Palestinians harvest olives in the occupied West Bank village of Turmus Ayya, on the outskirts of Ramallah declared the area we were harvesting in as a military zone," he said, alleging that this was a common Israeli tactic against Palestinians.

He added that all 32 international volunteers were arrested in an olive grove near the West Bank city of Nablus.

Schukind said that he and the other volunteers "were never brought before a judge", during their detention.

Minister Levin said the deportation was co-signed by National Security Minister Itamar Ben Gvir, and accused the activists of violating "a military commander's order" and of belonging to the UAWC (Union of Agricultural Work Committees).

UK king to be first to pray with pope in five centuries

London, United Kingdom

King Charles III leaves for a state visit to the Vatican Wednesday, where he will meet Pope Leo XIV and make history as the first head of the Church of England to pray publicly with the pontiff since the schism between the churches 500 years ago.

The visit comes at a delicate time for the British king following new revelations about his brother, Prince Andrew, who is mired in a scandal surrounding late US sex offender Jeffrey Epstein.

Charles and Queen Camilla will meet Leo for the first time since he succeeded the late pope Francis in May.

On Thursday, Charles and Leo will pray together in the first such public religious moment since Henry VIII broke away from the Catholic Church after the then pope refused to annul his marriage to the Spanish princess Catherine of Aragon.

In 1961, the king's mother, the late queen Elizabeth II, became the first British monarch to visit the Holy See since the 16th-century fracture.

The two-day visit will "mark

Britain's King Charles III

a significant moment in relations between the Catholic Church and Church of England, of which His Majesty is Supreme Governor", Buckingham Palace said.

Thursday's ecumenical service in the Sistine Chapel will be held under the magnificent ceiling adorned with the paintings by Michelangelo.

Its main theme will be conservation and protecting the environment, a cause which has been Charles's life work.

It will bring together Catholic and Anglican traditions, with the choir from the Sistine Chapel being joined by that from Saint George's Chapel, Windsor Castle, one of the residences of the king and queen.

ICJ: Israel has not stood up claims many UNRWA staff are Hamas

The Hague, Netherlands

The International Court of Justice ruled yesterday that Israel has not stood up allegations that members of UNRWA, the UN agency for Palestinian refugees, also worked for the Hamas group it is fighting in Gaza.

"The court finds that Israel has not substantiated its allegations that a significant part of UNRWA's employees are 'members of Hamas... or other terrorist factions'," said ICJ President Yuji Iwasawa. Israel banned UNRWA from operating on Israeli soil after accusing some of its staff of taking part in the October 7, 2023, Hamas attack. A series of investigations, including one led by France's former foreign minister Catherine Colonna, found some "neutrality-related issues" at UNRWA.

However, the April 2024 report said Israel had "yet to provide supporting evidence" of its allegation that "a significant number of UNRWA employees are members of Hamas".

Burns Challenges Mokaev

Burns earns long-desired showdown against Mokaev At BRAVE 100

● Inaugural BRAVE CF Flyweight title fight

● Mokaev unbeaten in 15 professional fights

● Burns riding four-fight winning streak

● Event set for Nov 7 in Bahrain

Manama

For two years, Gerard “The Animal” Burns has had one name etched in his mind — Muhammad “The Punisher” Mokaev.

Now, the Irish standout finally gets his wish. On Friday, November 7, at Khalifa Sports City in Isa Town, Bahrain, he will finally share the same cage with the undefeated phenom in the co-main event of BRAVE 100, with the inaugural BRAVE CF Flyweight World Championship on the line.

Ever since directing his career path to the world’s fastest-growing and most global mixed martial arts organization in 2023, Burns made it clear that his goal wasn’t just to chase a World Title.

In fact, it was to test himself against Mokaev, the fighter widely regarded as the No. 1 flyweight across the globe today.

‘Fight I’ve wanted’

“This is the fight I’ve wanted from the moment I signed with BRAVE CF,” Burns declared. “I’ve watched Mokaev dominate, but now it’s my turn to put my hands on him and see how he handles me.”

No one can blame him for wanting that challenge. Born in Dagestan and raised in England, Mokaev boasts a pristine 15-0 professional record, built on a blend of suffocating grappling and relentless pressure.

With seven submission wins and two knockouts to his name, “The Punisher” has been a nightmare for every opponent who’s dared to stand across from him.

Gerard Burns celebrates after a bout

“This is the fight I’ve wanted from the moment I signed with BRAVE CF. I’ve watched Mokaev dominate, but now it’s my turn to put my hands on him and see how he handles me

GERARD BURNS

Mokaev’s rise began in the amateur ranks, where he ruled as a two-time IMMAF World Champion in 2019 and 2020 — a feat that heralded his transition into the professional arena.

His first BRAVE CF run saw him amass four victories in five appearances, immediately putting the flyweight division on alert.

Mokaev’s thunderous return

After extending his unbeaten streak outside the promotion, Mokaev made a thunderous return in December 2024, submitting Filipino opponent Joevincent So in the opening round with a nasty D’Arce choke.

The performance reminded everyone why Mokaev is con-

YOU KNOW WHAT
Burns once called out Mokaev mid-fight while dominating another opponent — a bold move that now comes full circle as the two finally collide for flyweight gold sidered one of the most complete mixed martial artists on the planet.

However, Burns is not one to be intimidated. “The Animal” clawed his way up the rankings with ferocity and conviction.

Since debuting under the BRAVE CF banner, the 29-year-old has built an impressive résumé — opening with consecutive first-round finishes, followed by two more dominant wins.

His latest, a unanimous decision victory over Alinson “El Chompiras” Ochoa at BRAVE CF

97 this past July, solidified his status as one of the division’s top contenders.

Calling out mid-fight

Burns even made his intentions clear mid-fight during an earlier battle with Santhiago “Galo Doido” Paiva at BRAVE CF 89 in October 2024 — calling out Mokaev while controlling his opponent’s back.

That raw confidence has become his trademark, and now it has earned him the biggest opportunity of his career.

“I’ve worked for this moment,” he said. “I’ve climbed the ranks, fought whoever they put in front of me, and earned my spot. Mokaev’s a phenomenal fighter, no doubt.”

“But I’m coming to give him the toughest test of his life. I’m not here just to compete; I’m here to take that belt.”

While the odds favor the unbeaten Mokaev, Burns enters BRAVE 100 fully convinced that he has the tools to shock the world.

“People act like he can’t be beaten,” Burns stated. “But at the end of the day, he’s human. He can bleed, he can make mistakes, and he can lose. I plan to be the man who proves it.”

Bahrain Bourse renews partnership with REHC for the upcoming season

Manama

In support of the development of horseracing in the Kingdom of Bahrain, Bahrain Bourse has renewed its partnership with the Rashid Equestrian and Horseracing Club (REHC), signing a silver sponsorship agreement for the 2025/2026 season.

This renewed cooperation aims to further enhance collaboration between both parties and contribute to the continued growth of the horseracing sector in the Kingdom of Bahrain.

The sponsorship agreement was signed by Mrs. Marwa Al Maskati, Senior Director of Partnership Development, Sustainability & Communications at Bahrain Bourse, and Mrs. Fatema Al Balooshi, Chief of Business Development and Strategic Partnerships at REHC. Bahrain Bourse’s sponsorship includes one of the local races, coinciding with its hosting of the ‘The Market 2.0’ conference, in addition to sponsoring one of the races on the Bahrain Turf Series race day during the upcoming season.

Mrs. Al Maskati emphasized that the renewed sponsorship reflects Bahrain Bourse’s commitment to supporting sporting initiatives and events, which are experiencing significant development locally and internationally, and which highlights the Kingdom of Bahrain’s prestigious standing and enhances its global presence.

For her part, Mrs. Al Balooshi praised the ongoing cooperation with Bahrain Bourse, noting that this partnership underscores the shared commitment of both institutions to advancing the sports sector and reinforcing the Kingdom’s standing at both regional and international levels.

National Race Day returns to BIC

Bahrain Touring Car Challenge and Bahrain Motorcycle Championship headline this weekend’s racing action

- Racing from daylight into floodlit night
- Almansoori, Isa Ebrahim headline BTCC grid
- 19 riders in Motorcycle Championship opener

Manama

Bahrain International Circuit (BIC), ‘The Home of Motorsport in the Middle East’, hosts tomorrow the second round of National Race Day this 2025/2026 season. The event is set to feature two of the Kingdom’s most exciting local championships, including the Bahrain Touring Car Challenge (BTCC) and the Bahrain Motorcycle Championship (BMC).

The meeting is being organised and run by BIC in cooperation with the Bahrain Motor Federation, the Circuit Racing Commission, and the Bahrain Motorcycle Commission.

Daylight into floodlit night

Racing will take place along BIC’s 2.55-kilometre Inner Track from 3pm to 10pm, making for varying conditions for participants, who will be battling wheel-to-wheel both in daylight conditions and under BIC’s bright state-of-the-art flood-lights at night.

All are welcome to attend. Tickets are BD2 for adults and BD1 for children. They can be purchased online at bahraingp.com, through the BIC Hotline on +973-17450000, or at the gate. Race-goers will get to watch from BIC’s Beyon Grandstand, offering fantastic views of the key parts of the circuit, including the Inner Straight where the start and finish lines are located.

The BTCC is one of the region’s longest-running national racing championships and it continues its legacy in its current format after being formerly known as the BIC, 2,000cc Challenge.

An 11-car grid is set to feature in this meeting, led by Ali Almansoori, who claimed a sensational double in the season-opening round held at the beginning of this month, and defending champion Isa Ebrahim, both of whom are driving Honda Civics.

Amongst the rest of the field, also competing in Honda Civics are Ahmed Algaidy, Ahmed Banna, Hamad Khamis, Moaz Elzahrawi, Andreas Buelow, and Abdulaziz Al Sayed. Completing the entry list are Jamal Ebrahim in a Nissan Skyline, James Taylor in an Acura RSX DC5, and Carina Abdulrahman in a Volkswagen

Scirocco.

Packed grid in BMC

Meanwhile, a packed grid of 19 riders will be hitting the tarmac in the BMC’s season-opening event. The field includes eight competitors in the 1,000cc class, and 11 in the 600cc.

The participants in the 1,000cc category are Hassan Al Awadhi and Abdulaziz Al Sulaiti in Yamaha R1 bikes, Bander Bahlul in a BMW 10004R, Fahed Al Hashash in a Suzuki GSXR, Saud Al Toura and Abdulrahman Al Tayeb in BMW S 1000 RR bikes, Fahad Algosaibi in a BMW 1000 RR, and Abdulaziz Alkhazan in a

KTM Superduke.

In the 600cc class, competing are Shaikh Khalid Al Khalifa in a Triumph Daytona; Nasser Al Khadra, Saif Albuainain, and Hamed Al Tamimi in Yamaha R6 bikes; Ali Bu Shahri and Ab-

Seven rounds

BIC’s 2025/2026 racing calendar is set to feature seven rounds of National Race Day. Following this weekend’s action, round three will be held on 21 November, and then the campaign resumes next calendar year with round four on 10 January. Round five will be held on 6 February, and then the sixth and penultimate meeting will take place on 13 March. That will set the stage for the grand finale on 24 April.

Historic training camp prepares young jockeys for camel racing’s Asian Youth Games debut

Manama

A historic training camp for 27 young jockeys is being held in the UAE ahead of camel racing’s debut at the Asian Youth Games 2025 in Bahrain.

The intensive training camp, hosted by the Asian Camel Racing Federation with support from World Camelids Sport, brings together 16 male jockeys from nine countries and 11 female jockeys from seven countries, in addition to 13 new coaches.

Taking place between 10 and 24 October, athletes from India, Indonesia, Iran, Iraq, Jordan, Lebanon, Mongolia, Uzbekistan, and Yemen are participating, with the vast majority of participants experiencing camel racing for the first time.

Transformative moment

Only athletes from Yemen, Iraq, Jordan, and Mongolia have prior exposure to the discipline, underscoring the camp as a transformative moment for the sports development, and in ensuring all competitors can safely participate in this historic debut.

The Asian Youth Games appearance follows camel racing’s official recognition by the Olympic Council of Asia earlier this year, marking significant progress in the sport’s international development, and comes ahead of its inclusion in the Islamic Solidarity Games in Saudi Arabia in November.

World Camelids Sport COO Mousa Alkam said: “This training camp represents the future of camel racing. We are witnessing the next generation of camel racing athletes take their first steps in the sport, and their debut at the Asian Youth Games marks a pivotal moment. These young athletes will become ambassadors for the sport’s growth across new territories and cultures.

“We extend our deepest gratitude to the Asian Camel Racing Federation for their unwavering commitment in hosting this camp and their continued collaboration in developing the sport across Asia and beyond.”

Expanding recognition

“This comes at an incredibly exciting time as we also prepare for camel racing’s inclusion in the Islamic Solidarity Games in Riyadh this November, demonstrating the expanding recognition of camel racing on the international sporting stage.”

Pierre Nassar, one of the coaches attending the training camp, said: “First of all, the training was very structured in Abu Dhabi, and it was organized in a way that you start learning step by step. A lot of effort was put into it, the program was well arranged, and the work was 100%.”

Lebanese jockey Amir Yehya said: “It’s a really fun and enjoyable sport, and I recommend everyone to try it; it’s a new experience that gives you motivation to do new things in your life.”

Focus on essential skills

The training program focuses on essential skills including camel handling, racing techniques, safety protocols, and competition procedures. Upon completion of the camp on 24 October, participants will travel directly to Bahrain to join additional jockeys from other countries for the competition.

The separate 500-meter races for male and female competitors on 27 October will establish camel racing’s presence at multi-sport youth events, creating pathways for future generations.
