US says window open for Iran nuclear talks, but not forever

Washington/United Nations

The window is still open to revive the 2015 Iran nuclear deal but won't be forever, a senior US official said yesterday, saying Iran has yet to name a negotiator, set a date for talks or say whether it would resume where they left off in June.

Washington was prepared to be patient, the US official told reporters, but said at some point Iran's nuclear advances would overtake the deal and the United States and its partners would have to decide whether Iran was willing to revive it.

"We're still interested. We still want to come back to the table," the senior US State Department official said in a telephone briefing. "The window of opportunity is open. It won't be open forever if Iran takes a different course."

Tehran signalled on Tuesday that negotiations would resume in a few weeks without giving a specific date.

Shaikh Abdullah during the C3 leadership award ceremony

His Royal Highness Prince Salman bin Hamad Al Khalifa, the Crown Prince and Prime Minister, was honoured yesterday with the C3 (Community, Collaboration, Commerce) leadership award for his tremendous achievements, especially in addressing the coronavirus pandemic.

The national efforts to battle the COVID-19 pandemic, under the guidance of HRH Prince Salman, had reaped remarkable success in mitigating the outbreak, for which Bahrain also gained many international accolades. Life in Bahrain is now back to normal, with restrictions eased in almost all sectors, thanks to the intense vaccination drive, which entered the booster stage ahead of many world nations. Bahrain is giving booster jabs to all above 18 years of age, making it one of the few countries in the world to take such a decision.

Granted by the 2021 C3 US-Arab Healthcare & Business Summit, the award also recognises the efforts of HRH in developing and consolidating relations between Bahrain and the United States.

Women could now join the Saudi Arabian Army, Royal Saudi Air Defence, Royal Saudi Navy, Royal Saudi Strategic Missile Force, and Armed Forces Medical Services.

Saudi nationals and residents had come out in hundreds waving national flags to cheer the soldiers as they marched on. Saudi National Day is celebrated annually on September 23 to mark the renaming of the Kingdom of Nejd and Hejaz to the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia in 1932 following a royal decree from King Abdul Aziz Ibn Saud.

The GEA had organised dozens of activities and events to mark the occasion, which began on Thursday and ends today.

In February, Saudi Arabia's Ministry of Defence announced that women could now apply for positions in the military through their unified admission portal.

2022 is to get a bursting welcome

● BTEA launches tender for New Year Eve fireworks display

● Invites proposals for New Year's Eve 2022 "Event and Entertainment Management"

TDT | Manama

Bahrain is to welcome 2022 by brightening up its skies and the hearts and minds of people here with some scintillating fireworks.

The COVID-19 pandemic, which took the world by storm in 2020, had cast a dark shadow on the birth of 2021, with celebrations remaining a muted affair worldwide.

To ensure the safety and health of the people, world nations last year set aside their plans to burst their skies with colour.

Representative picture

Bahrain had also cancelled its New Year Eve fireworks display in 2020 to avoid crowding and help curb the spread of the virus.

At that time, BTEA said they cancelled the festivity to support state efforts to combat the pandemic.

"Solidarity with the frontlines in combating the coronavirus will bring life back to normal and return celebrations," BTEA had said.

However, as 2021 comes to a close, the scene is much better. The world had also regained much of its lost energy and enthusiasm.

The changing health situation, backed by intense vaccination programmes, is now pushing the world back to life as usual, but with caution.

Bahrain had also come a great way around by adjusting to the new normal.

A tender launched by the Bahrain Tourism and Exhibitions Authority says Bahrain is moving ahead with plans to burst its skies with some thrilling colour as 2022 sets its foot on the planet.

BTEA is seeking proposals from highly qualified companies for the New Year's Eve 2022 "Fireworks Management."

BTEA says it is looking forward "to build on the success of New Year's eve previous edition to maximise its potential and success."

If interested in taking up the job, make your bids before the 31st of October 2021, with a BD1,000 bond and BD50 tender fees.

Separately, BTEA had also launched a tender inviting proposals from companies for the New Year's Eve 2022 "Event and Entertainment Management."

Interested companies should make bids before the 31st of October 2021, with a BD1,000 bond and BD50 tender fees.

UAE central bank starts curb of COVID-19 stimulus measures

● 15% of UAE banks' loan portfolios had benefited from a loan deferral programme

● Reserve requirements for banks will remain unchanged

Reuters | Dubai

The United Arab Emirates central bank (CBAUE) said yesterday it was starting to gradually withdraw stimulus measures introduced last year to mitigate the economic impact of the COVID-19 pandemic.

The bank launched a Targeted Economic Support Scheme (TESS) to help banks provide temporary relief to companies and individuals affected by the crisis and boost lending capacity through the relief of existing capital and liquidity buffers.

"In view of the gradual increase in economic activity, the CBAUE is starting a gradual and well-calibrated withdrawal of its Targeted Economic Support Scheme to avoid restricting credit supply and economic growth," it said in a statement.

It said 15% of UAE banks' loan portfolios had benefited from a loan deferral programme that is part of the scheme.

The bank will leave unchanged temporarily lowered reserve requirements for banks and the level of the loan-to-value ratio applicable to mortgage loans for first-time home buyers.

It said it was considering extending beyond the end of this year regulatory relief measures that allow banks to maintain lower capital and liquidity buffers, depending on the pace of economic recovery and loan demand.

The UAE economy is expected to grow by 2.1% this year and 4.2% in 2022, the central bank said earlier this week, supported by a recovery in global travel, a pick-up in domestic and external demand, and a successful vaccination drive.

New semiconductor plants will end global auto chip shortage next year -Tesla's Musk

Chairman of Stellantis and Ferrari John Elkann speaks via video conference with Tesla's founder Elon Musk during the "Italian Tech Week" event in Turin, Italy

Reuters | Turin

Tesla Inc CEO Elon Musk said yesterday that thanks to new semiconductor plants that are planned or under construction, the global chip shortage that has pummelled the car industry this year should be short term in nature.

Asked how long he thought the global chip shortage would affect vehicle production, Musk said: "short term I think".

"There's a lot of chip fabrication plants that are being built," Musk said during a joint session with Stellantis and Ferrari Chairman John Elkann, at Italian Tech Week.

"I think we will have good capacity for providing chips by next year," he added.

The two automotive industry leaders agreed on potential support coming from nuclear power to cover for increasing global energy needs.

"I am surprised by a recent move away of some countries from nuclear energy, which is safe," Musk said.

But in their dialogue they avoided referring to competition issues between top electric mobility leaders such as Tesla and legacy automakers now investing heavily to expand their offer of electrified vehicles.

Musk however thanked Elkann for a support Tesla received between 2017 and 2019 from Comau, the robot unit of Fiat Chrysler, now part of Stellantis, during what he called "one of the most painful periods" for his company, linked to the launch of production on Model 3.

"John helped me a lot in that period," Musk said, adding Tesla had come close to bankruptcy "half a dozen times".

Stellantis Chief Executive Carlos Tavares has said the group, formed through the merger between Fiat Chrysler and France's PSA, expected to achieve its European carbon dioxide emission targets this year without credits bought from Tesla.

China's top regulators ban crypto trading and mining, bitcoin stumbles

● China intensifies crypto crackdown

● Vows to root out "illegal" trading activity, bans mining

● Bitcoin, smaller coins slump

Reuters | Shanghai

China's most powerful regulators yesterday intensified the country's crackdown on cryptocurrency with a blanket ban on all crypto transactions and crypto mining, hitting bitcoin and other major coins and pressuring crypto and blockchain-related stocks.

Ten agencies, including the central bank as well as banking,

A Chinese flag is seen among representations of Bitcoin and other cryptocurrencies securities and foreign exchange regulators, vowed to work together to root out "illegal" cryptocurrency activity, the first time the Beijing-based agencies have joined forces to explicitly ban all cryptocurrency-related activity.

"China has been known to go to extremes with either very assertive statements and prosecutions to complete radio silence," said George Zarya, CEO of Bequant crypto exchange in London.

"This time the point was made very clear that China will not support cryptocurrency market development as it goes against its policies of tightening up control over capital flow and big tech," he said.

The People's Bank of China (PBOC) said cryptocurrencies must not circulate as traditional currencies and that overseas exchanges are barred from providing services to mainland invest-tors via the internet, cutting the likes of Coinbase and Binance off from the world's second-largest economy.

The PBOC also barred financial institutions, payment companies and internet firms from facilitating cryptocurrency trading nationally.

The Chinese government will "resolutely clamp down on virtual currency speculation, and related financial activities and misbehaviour in order to safeguard people's properties and maintain economic, financial and social order", the PBOC said in a statement.

Bitcoin, the world's largest cryptocurrency, dropped over 6% to $42,216.7 on the news, having earlier been down about 1%. Smaller coins, which typically rise and fall in tandem with bitcoin, also tumbled. Ether fell 10% while XRP dropped a similar amount.

Twitter rolls out bitcoin tipping, safety features in product push

● Twitter to warn people when they enter a "heated" conversation

● To support authentication for NFTs, or non-fungible tokens, which are digital assets

Reuters

Twitter Inc will allow people to tip their favourite content creators with bitcoin and will launch a fund to pay some users who host audio chat rooms on its Spaces feature, the company said on Thursday.

The San Francisco-based

Twitter users globally on iOS devices can now send and receive digital payments company added it will test new ways to help users have a safer experience on Twitter, such as warning when people are entering a "heated" conversation or letting them leave tweet threads.

The product announcements are part of Twitter's effort to compete with rival platforms like Facebook and Alphabet Inc's YouTube for popular content creators with large followings, and turn around its image as a site where polarised discussions can fester.

Twitter users globally on iOS devices can now send and receive digital payments, which was previously limited to a small group of testers.

"We believe we can continue to incentivise the types of conversations that people want to see," said Esther Crawford, product lead for creator monetisation at Twitter, in a briefing with reporters.

Twitter said it plans to support authentication for NFTs, or non-fungible tokens, which are digital assets such as images or videos that exist on a blockchain.

The feature will let people track and showcase their NFT ownership on Twitter, the company said. In an effort to grow Spaces, Twitter will launch a creator fund to provide financial, technical and marketing support to users who host recurring audio programming on Spaces.

Such support will allow more Spaces hosts to organise better conversations and potentially gain brand sponsorship deals, said Andre Jean-Pierre, who served as an early beta-tester for Spaces.

Twitter added it is exploring how to allow users to filter out certain words they do not want to see in the replies to their tweets, which could be used to stop name-calling or abusive speech.

Firefighters retreat as La Palma volcanic explosions intensify

Intensifying volcanic explosions on the Spanish island of La Palma forced firefighters to retreat and authorities to evacuate three more towns yesterday, while airlines cancelled flights due to a cloud of gas and ash, the biggest since the volcano erupted. Firefighters pulled out of clean-up work in the town of Todoque on Friday afternoon as a new vent opened up in the flank of the volcano and videos shared on social media showed a massive shockwave emanating from the eruption site.

CIA removes Vienna station chief over handling of Havana syndrome cases

Reuters | London

The CIA removed its Vienna, Austria station chief recently amid criticism the person did not take seriously a surge in mysterious "Havana syndrome" cases, the Washington Post reported.

Dozens of cases affecting embassy staff and Central Intelligence Agency officers and family members have been reported in Vienna recently, but the unnamed station chief expressed skepticism and showed insensitivity, the Post said, citing intelligence sources.

A CIA spokesperson declined to confirm or deny the report, but said the agency takes seriously scores of possible incidents of the mysterious ailment in US diplomatic missions around the world.

The cause and source remains enigmatic, CIA Deputy Director David Cohen said last week.

"Have we gotten closer? I think the answer is yes -- but not close enough to make the analytic judgment that people are waiting for," he said.

The US government, including the CIA and Pentagon, has ramped up staff to investigate and provide treatment for the cases.

Dubbed "Havana syndrome" because reports of the condition first showed up in the Cuban capital, the ailment is marked by bloody noses, headaches, vision problems and other symptoms that resemble concussions.

Some people experiencing it have reported hearing focused, high-pitched or sharp sounds that left them nauseated.

Dubbed "Havana syndrome" because reports of the condition first showed up in the Cuban capital, the ailment is marked by bloody noses, headaches, vision problems and other symptoms that resemble concussions

The incidents are little understood and have sparked theories that they were caused by a weapon that used focused microwaves, ultrasound, poison or are even a reaction to crickets.

But for several years, senior government officials dismissed the complaints, judging them to be the symptoms of people under stress or reacting with hysteria to unknown stimuli.

The administration of Joe Biden has geared up the investigation into what have been renamed anomalous health incidents, or AHI.

If the cases are caused by something like a directed energy attack, US officials suspect Russia could be behind it.

The Post called Vienna, where the United States has a large embassy and intelligence collection operation, a "hotbed" of AHI incidents, with dozens of people reporting unexplained symptoms.

The issue has US officials around the world jittery. In August Vice President Kamala Harris delayed by several hours a visit to Vietnam after the US embassy there reported a possible case involving "acoustic incidents."

And during a visit to India by CIA Director William Burns in early September, an official in his retinue reported symptoms and sought medical assistance, according to the Post.

Kim Yo Jong demands South Korea drop hostile policies

Reuters | Washington

South Korea's call for a formal end to the Korean War is premature but the door for dialogue is open if it scraps its double standards and hostile policy, a senior North Korean official said in comments published by state media yesterday.

The 1950-53 Korean War ended with an armistice not a peace treaty, leaving US-led UN forces technically still at war with North Korea. The question of formally ending the war has become caught up in a US-led effort to get North Korea to give up its nuclear weapons.

South Korea President Moon Jae-in repeated a call for a formal end to the war in an address to the UN General Assembly in New York on Tuesday, read more Senior North Korean official Kim Yo Jong, the powerful sister of leader Kim Jong Un, said Moon's proposal was "interesting and admirable" but conditions were not right because of South Korea's persistent double standards, prejudice and hostility.

"Under such a situation it does not make any sense to declare the end of the war with all the things, which may become a seed of a war between parties that have been at odds for more than half a century, left intact," Kim said in a statement carried by the North's

US returns ancient Gilgamesh tablet to Iraq

Reuters | London

A 3,500-year-old tablet recounting the epic of Gilgamesh was returned to Iraq after being stolen three decades ago and illegally imported to the United States.

Iraqi Cultural Minister Hassan Nazim accepted the tablet during a ceremony in Washington.

"To me, it means restituting self-esteem and the confidence in Iraqi society," he said.

Despite its small size, the ancient artifact has immense cultural and historical value. It contains portions of the "Epic of Gilgamesh," considered one of the oldest works of literature in human history, which tells the story of a powerful Mesopotamian king on a quest for immortality.

"It's a story which has influenced all the great monotheistic religions, leaving traces also on the Iliad and the Odyssey," said UNESCO Director General Audrey Azoulay, who called the tale a "treasure" for "our common humanity."

She added that the stone's return to its rightful home is "a major victory for the international community over those who mutilate heritage."

"Its repatriation itself is a tale of epic proportions," said US Assistant Attorney General Kenneth Polite.

The clay tablet, carved with cuneiform characters, is believed to have been stolen from an Iraqi museum in 1991, around the time of the first Gulf War.

It reappeared in Britain in 2001, according to Polite.

An American art dealer bought it from a London-based Jordanian family in 2003, before sending the piece to the United States without declaring its true nature to customs. It was then sold to antique dealers in 2007 for $50,000 under a false certificate of origin.

The tablet was sold once again in 2014 for $1.67 million to the owners of craft chain Hobby Lobby, the Green family, fundamentalist Christians who wanted to display the stone at their Museum of the Bible in Washington.

Reuters | Washington

The US House of Representatives Select Committee investigating the deadly Jan. 6 riot at the Capitol has subpoenaed four former members of Donald Trump's administration, including Mark Meadows and Steve Bannon, the panel's chairman said.

Former White House Deputy Chief of Staff Dan Scavino and former Defense Department official Kash Patel were also subpoenaed and instructed to produce materials and appear for depositions, committee Chairman Bennie Thompson said in a statement.

Meadows, a former congressman, served as Trump's White House chief of staff. Bannon was a White House adviser to Trump.

A representative for Meadows said he declined to comment. Bannon and Scavino could not be reached for immediate comment.

Patel said in a statement he was "disappointed, but not surprised" the committee issued a subpoena before seeking his voluntary cooperation.

to declare end of Korean War is premature official KCNA news agency.

South Korea should change its attitude and foster the conditions for a meaningful discussion on ways to end the conflict and improve ties, she said.

"What needs to be dropped is the double-dealing attitudes, illogical prejudice, bad habits and hostile stand of justifying their own acts while faulting our just exercise of the right to self-defence," Kim said.

"Only when such a precondition is met, would it be possible to sit face to face and declare the significant termination of war and discuss the issue of the north-south relations and the future of the Korean peninsula."

North Korea has for decades been seeking an end to the war but the United States has been reluctant to agree unless North Korea gave up its nuclear weapons.

Talks stalled

Expectations were raised that a declaration on ending the war, even if not an actual treaty, would be made during a historic summit between then US President Donald Trump and North Korea's Kim Jong Un in Singapore in 2018.

But that possibility, and the momentum on talks that those two leaders generated over three meetings, came to nothing. Talks have been stalled since 2019.

Moon, a liberal who has made improving ties with North Korea a priority, sees ending the war as a way to nudge forward the effort to press North Korea to give up its nuclear and ballistic missile arsenals in return for US sanctions relief.

But his call looks unlikely to break the deadlock.

He said yesterday he was confidant North Korea would eventually see it was in its interests to reopen dialogue with the United States but he was not certain if that would come before his term ends next year.

"It seems that North Korea is still weighing options while keeping the door open for talks, since it is only raising tension at a low level, just enough for the US to not break off all contact," he told reporters on his way home from New York.

US President Joe Biden said in his own UN address that he wanted "sustained diplomacy" to resolve the crisis surrounding North Korea's nuclear and missile programmes.

North Korea has rejected US overtures to engage in dialogue and the head of the UN atomic watchdog said this week that its nuclear programme was going "full steam ahead".

Biden discusses Indian Bidens with Modi, and asks 'Are we related?'

Prime Minister Narendra Modi in talks with US President Joe Biden

AFP | Washington

"Are we related?" U.S. President Joe Biden asked India's Prime Minister Narendra Modi when they met at the White House yesterday.

"Yes!" Modi joked in reply. At the start of his first bilateral White House meeting with Modi as leaders, Biden explained that he had learned about an Indian branch of the Biden family when he was first elected to Congress in 1972 and received a letter from someone called Biden living in Mumbai.

"I found out that there was a Captain George Biden, who was a captain in the East India tea company," Biden said.

"That's hard for an Irishman to admit!" he quipped, referring to the East India Company, which laid the foundations of the British Empire but ceased to exist more than 150 years ago.

Biden said he learned that George Biden stayed in India and married an Indian woman, but added: "I've never been able to track it down, so the whole purpose of this meeting is for him to help me figure out who he was!"

previously, so he had hunted for documents that could help fill in the gaps in the family tree.

"Today I have brought along some documents... Maybe those documents could be of use to you!" he told Biden, who chuckled in response.

US-India relations have grown steadily closer and Washington considers India a key partner in its effort to push back against Chinese influence in the Indo-Pacific region. After their meeting, Biden and Modi were to join the leaders of Japan and Australia in the so-called Quad grouping to discuss that effort.

Gunman kills one and then himself at Tennessee supermarket, 12 wounded

Reuters | Memphis, Tennessee

A gunman killed one person, wounded 12 and then apparently killed himself at a Tennessee supermarket on Thursday, pursuing panicked shoppers and employees as they fled down the aisles while some took refuge in store freezers, police said.

Of the 12 wounded, one was in surgery and another in intensive care after the shooting in the Memphis suburb of Collierville, Police Chief Dale Lane told reporters. A 13th person was treated for an anxiety attack, he said.

Police arrived on the scene almost immediately after the shooting at the Kroger grocery in Collierville, a town of about 50,000 some 30 miles (50 km) east of Memphis in southwestern Tennessee.

"We found people hiding in freezers and in locked offices. They were doing what they had been trained to do - run, hide, fight," Lane told reporters, calling the gun violence "the most horrific event that has occurred

WREG-TV reported the shooter was an employee who had been fired on Thursday, citing an unnamed law enforcement source.

Brignetta Dickerson, a Kroger employee, told WREG that she instructed fellow employees and customers when the shooting broke out to follow her to the back of the store and closed the door behind them, but the gunman followed.

Kristen Stewart aces Princess Diana's accent in 'Spencer' trailer

Kristen Stewart

IAN S | Los Angeles

The trailer of Kristen Stewart-starrer 'Spencer' has been unveiled and the actress looks every bit as Princess Diana from her grand outfits to the hairstyle and even the late British royal's accent. In the two minute and 17 second trailer of 'Spencer', the upcoming biographical drama about the beloved figure, the American actor channels the tortured British royal with ease, reports variety.com. Directed by Pablo Larrain, 'Spencer' grapples with Di-ana's decision to end her marriage to Prince Charles essayed by Jack Farthing. The movie isn't completely true to fact, but instead is a re-imagining of what might have happened during that fateful holiday period in 1991. The 'Spencer' trailer captures a sad reality for Diana, the Princess of Wales: the glitz and glam that accompanies life at the Queen's Sandringham Estate isn't without intense scrutiny. Bracing herself for Christmas festivities, filled with eating and drinking, shooting and hunting, Diana assures herself: "Three days, that's it."

It's all systems go for all athletes competing at the highly-anticipated BRAVE CF 54 in Konin, Poland on Saturday, September 25th.

All warriors slated to strut their wares on the historic card were given the green light after making weight during the official weigh-in this Friday morning, September 24.

Eyes were on the main event as Amin "Fierceness" Ayoub of France puts the coveted BRAVE CF Lightweight World Championship on the line against Egyptian challenger Ahmed "The Butcher" Amir.

Ayoub stepped on the scales at 69.85 kilograms, while Amir weighed 70.2 kilograms for the first World Title bout of his ten-year professional career.

Things got really heated when both men engaged in an intense staredown as Ayoub and Amir traded barbs with play-by-play announcer Phil Campbell trying his best to separate the two.

Meanwhile, the grudge match between Muhammad "The Punisher" Mokaev (58.7 KG) and Blaine O'Driscoll (58.65 KG) set for the co-feature attraction slot likewise received its clearance. But both almost traded blows during the weigh-ins after the

Coaches John Kavanagh and Eldar Eldarov bet over BRAVE CF 54 O'Driscoll vs Mokaev

TDT | Manama

The co-main event of the evening between Blaine O'Driscoll and Muhammad Mokaev is already one of the most anticipated bouts of the upcoming BRAVE CF 54 fight card, to be held on September 25 in Poland. But things got even more interesting after the coaches John Kavanagh and Eldar Eldarov agreed upon a bet to spice things up.

Kavanagh is the leader of the prestigious SBG Ireland team in Dublin, which brought up names such as Conor McGregor and Gunnar Nelson. He is also one of the names behind the Irish Amateur team, representing the country at the IMMAF ranks.

Eldar Eldarov is a force of nature both as a fighter and coach. The childhood friend of Khabib Nurmagomedov, who is also, funnily enough, responsible for his only professional loss, is the reigning BRAVE CF Super Lightweight Champion of the world.

Eldarov is also the head coach of the KHK Team in The Kingdom of Bahrain, leading the most successful nation ever in the history of IMMAF, Team Bahrain, to unprecedented results.

Now, these two iconic figures engaged in a bet in which each one of them is backing his protégée. If O'Driscoll wins, El-darov will wear a shirt with "I love Ireland" in it. If Mokaev emerges victorious, it'll be Kavanagh who will appear wearing an "I love Bahrain" shirt. To make matters even more serious, the loser will have to post the result in his social media accounts for the whole world to see it.

There's yet another layer in this story, a strong gym feud established between SBG Ireland and KHK MMA, which evolved into a rather national rivalry as well.

The last factor is the recent antagonism between Ireland and Dagestan in MMA, which arguably reached its peak during the infamous McGregor vs Nurmagomedov fight, both men with close connections to Kavanagh and Eldarov. Such elements, of course, only add more historical relevance.

BRAVE CF 54 takes place on September 25, in Konin, Poland. The event, promoted in association with Galana Exclusive Championship, will be headlined by the Lightweight World Championship bout between Amin Ayoub and Ahmed Amir.

With Velimurad Alkhvasov waiting for his opponent in the BRAVE CF Flyweight World Title Tournament since April, the clock is ticking for the scheduled semifinal between Ali Bagautinov and Jose "Shorty" Torres. The "Puncherking" decided to take matters into his own hands and speed things up.

"November! News coming soon. Who's waiting? Jose Torres, stop stealing toys from children and focus on training. This won't be easy for you", he posted on his Instagram account.

Over the last months, Torres and Bagautinov engaged in a hilarious escalation of callouts through social media, with Torres riding a tricycle while challenging Bagautinov, who responded with a video riding a horse.

BRAVE CF return to Russia is confirmed but the precise date is yet to be confirmed. The promotion started the 2021 calendar with an event in Russia, BRAVE CF 46. The event took place in Sochi, on January 16, and was headlined by the first-round KO victory of the Super Lightweight champion Eldar Eldarov over the challenger Leonardo "Macarrão" Mafra.

Bahrain lost to Poland 0-3 (21-25, 20-25, 21-25) yesterday in the FIVB Volleyball Men's U21 World Championship 2021, being co-hosted by Bulgaria and Italy.

The nationals suffered their second straight defeat in Pool B of the competition's preliminary round.

They had previously lost to the home side Bulgarians in their first game in straight sets.

Cuba and Bulgaria are the other two teams in their group and they clashed in yesterday's other Pool B contest.

Sayed Amin Ebrahim was the leading scorer for the Bahrainis against Poland in the loss. He scored 13 points as the only player in double figures.

Abdulla Ebrahim and Mujtaba Alshakhoori added four apiece, while three players scored two points each including Hasan Alaiwi, Sayed Hashem Ali and Ismaeel Almansoori.

Bahrain will be looking to end their preliminary round campaign on a positive note today in their last Pool B fixture against Cuba. The match is scheduled for a 1pm start, Bahrain time.

The Bahrainis are out of contention for a place in the top eight, and will play in the lower classification round.

There are a total of 16 nations taking part in the competition divided into four pools for this opening stage.

After a single round-robin, the pool winners and the pool runners-up will continue their quest for the medals in two new pools, while the remaining eight teams form two other pools to fight for the distribution of the

Bottas bests Hamilton in Russian GP practice as Verstappen heads to back of grid

Mercedes' Finnish driver Valtteri Bottas drives out of the pit lane
AFP | Sochi

Valtteri Bottas deprived Lewis Hamilton of the honours for a Mercedes 1-2 in yesterday's Russian Grand Prix practice at Sochi where Red Bull announced Max Verstappen will have to start Sunday's race at the back of the grid for fitting his car with a new engine.

Verstappen, who leads by five points going into the 15th round of the white-knuckle title fight with Hamilton, has already used up the season's quota of three power units.

The team announced the Dutch driver would take the hit in a race where he was already facing a three-place grid penalty.

That sanction stems from an incident in the last race in Monza where he was found "predominantly" to blame for a crash with Hamilton.

The seven-time champion began the weekend where he is targeting his fifth Sochi win and 100th overall being shaded by his Alfa Romeo-bound teammate.

The second session went the way of the morning's opening practice with the Finn leading the time sheets with a 1min 33.593 lap at the circuit in the Olympic Park.

AlphaTauri's Pierre Gasly, Lando Norris for McLaren, and the Alpine of Esteban Ocon completed the top five.

Verstappen, 1.28 off the pace, took sixth.

The Dutch driver will have Charles Leclerc for company at the back of Sunday's grid after an engine change to his Ferrari.

It was a routine two sessions for most of the drivers but not McLaren's Lando Norris who crashed on the way back to the pits in the morning and Alfa Romeo's Antonio Giovinazzi after lunch.

The Italian crashed at Turn Nine, bringing out the red flag.

One man happy to be back on the track despite only posting the 12th fastest time in second practice was Kimi Raikkonen after the Alfa Romeo driver missed the last two races following a positive Covid-19 test.

The sessions were blessed with sunshine but heavy rain is forecast for Saturday's third practice and qualifying.

With the washed-out Belgian Grand Prix still fresh in the mind, organisers have taken steps to ensure lightning doesn't strike twice by arranging for qualifying to be staged on Sunday morning should it be impossible to go ahead in its traditional slot.

In Riffa's win, Isra Amer Hamouya opened the scoring for Hala. But Sayed Hashem Issa was later able to equalise, setting the stage for the second-half winner fired in by Hazza Ali.

For Najma, on target in their match were Ali Munir, Ayman Abdulmir and Angolan professional Aguinaldo Mendes.

Meanwhile, East Riffa and Manama were also through to the quarter-finals.

PSG boss Pochettino hopes Messi fit for Man City clash

AFP | Paris

Lionel Messi has been ruled out of Paris St Germain's match against Montpellier as he has not fully recovered from a bone bruising injury, but manager Mauricio Pochettino hopes he returns for their midweek match against Manchester City.

Messi suffered a knock on his left knee and an MRI scan earlier this week confirmed signs of a bone contusion. He missed PSG's 2-1 victory at Metz on Wednesday.

The 34-year-old Argentine forward, who joined the French club from Barcelona on a two-year contract in August, will be assessed again on Sunday -- ahead of the Champions League home game against City on Tuesday.
