"They don't request their parents' music. They can't even develop the concept of having famous parents at this moment. They don't have a consciousness of self at the moment, or knowledge itself.

"Their little brains are still developing, so whenever they're ready, they can listen to my music. I need them to know Dad is a rockstar, Mommy's a rockstar. It's okay."

Rihanna and Rocky are expecting their third child and they have both hinted that they are having a girl - and the 36-year-old rapper admitted his partner's pregnancy has been "so differ-
