with ministers, representative from the Economic Development Board (EDB) and other senior officials. They reviewed the most prominent features of the priority development projects, which come hand in hand with the other priorities of the Economic Recovery Plan to create job opportunities and make the citizens the first choice in the labour market; facilitate commercial procedures and increase their effectiveness; and develop promising sectors. The plan comprises 22 signature projects across key sectors, including telecoms, tourism, education, housing, manufacturing, health and youth and sports. HH Shaikh Khalid bin Abdullah, who is also Chairman of the Ministerial Committee for Development Projects and Infrastructure, said that the launch of this initiative is in line with the Economic Vision 2030, a comprehensive strategy for the Kingdom's economic development which aims to enhance the standards of living of all people, both the Bahraini citizens and foreign residents.
