Bahrain takes a giant green leap forward

Kingdom plants 2.4 million trees under national afforestation drive

● 67% of the 3.6 million trees National Afforestation Plan target achieved

● Mangroves initiative exceeds goal, reaching 138% of its target with 2.2 million seedlings planted

● Efforts support Bahrain's 2060 carbon neutrality commitment

TDT | Manama

Bahrain has taken a giant green leap in its sustainability journey, planting 2.4 million trees under the National Afforestation Plan and moving significantly closer to its target of 3.6 million trees by 2035.

The initiative has already achieved 67 per cent of its overall goal and is progressing at a strong pace to expand green cover across the Kingdom, reinforcing Bahrain's commitment to achieving carbon neutrality by 2060.

At the same time, the Bahrain Mangroves Initiative has surpassed expectations, reaching 138 per cent of its target. A total of 2.2 million mangrove seedlings have been planted, exceeding the original objective of 1.6 million seedlings set for 2035.

These milestones were highlighted as His Royal Highness Prince Salman bin Hamad Al Khalifa, the Crown Prince and Prime Minister, received a briefing on the latest developments of the National Afforestation Plan at Riffa Palace. The briefing was delivered by Wael bin Nasser Al Mubarak, Minister of Municipalities Affairs and Agriculture.

His Royal Highness emphasised that environmental preservation is a shared societal responsibility, noting that collective efforts are essential to expanding afforestation and achieving Bahrain's long-term sustainability goals, including carbon neutrality by 2060.

The Crown Prince and Prime Minister reaffirmed the Kingdom's commitment to implementing programmes that preserve the environment and protect natural resources.

Hawa Al Manama festival returns, celebrating Manama’s heritage and culture

A nostalgic journey through Manama Souq

- Festival runs until 15 January 2026
- Largest to date, featuring 200 Bahraini businesses, over 300 retail outlets, and more than 90 curated experiences
- The festival spans multiple iconic locations

TDT | Manama

His Highness Shaikh Mohammed bin Salman bin Hamad Al Khalifa yesterday attended the official launch of the second edition of the Hawa Al Manama festival, one of the flagship events of the Celebrate Bahrain season. Running until 15 January 2026, the festival celebrates the rich heritage of Manama Souq and the cultural heartbeat of the Kingdom’s capital.

HH Shaikh Mohammed bin Salman highlighted that such events contribute to sustaining Bahrain’s tourism sector and enhancing its impact across key development areas, in alignment with the vision of His Majesty King Hamad bin Isa Al Khalifa and the directives of His Royal Highness Prince Salman bin Hamad Al Khalifa, Crown Prince and Prime Minister.

Her Excellency Fatima bint Jaafar Al Sairafi, Minister of Tourism and Chairperson of the Bahrain Tourism and Exhibitions Authority (BTEA), said: “The festival features immersive entertainment, retail offerings, and authentic Bahraini hospitality, while supporting the broader tourism strategy to diversify offerings, increase overnight stays, and further position Bahrain as a leading family-friendly destination.”

HE Al Sairafi added that this year’s edition is designed to welcome families from the GCC, Asia, and Europe, offering tailored campaigns and accessible cultural programs for everyone to discover Bahrain’s unique attractions.

Running from 25 December 2025 to 15 January 2026, this year’s edition is the largest to date, featuring 200 Bahraini businesses, over 300 retail outlets, and more than 90 curated experiences, brought to life by over 250 young Bahrainis.

Multiple iconic locations

The festival spans multiple iconic locations, including:

- Al Khalifa Avenue and the Halwa Museum
- Batelco Building – offering museums, a cultural library, an escape room, and a laser adventure
- Al Tawawish Square – with handicrafts, henna art, and carnival games
- Yateem Complex – featuring a classic cars exhibition and rooftop fine-dining restaurant

- Al Marsah Square – with a vintage photography museum
- The Oriental Neighborhood – celebrating the souq’s aromatic heritage with galleries, perfume and spice markets, and Eastern cuisine
- Al Fadhel Square – offering modern cuisine options and sports courts
- Darb Al Manama – a restored heritage building with a Bahraini café and distinctive experiences
- The Oriental Hotel – hosting an upscale Italian restaurant

For the first time, visitors can experience classic 3x3 basketball with a nostalgic twist, as Bahraini basketball legends compete at Al Fadhel Square. Set against old Manama’s neighborhoods, these matchups revive the game’s golden era and historic rivalries between clubs such as Muharraq, Manama, Al Ahli, and Al Hala.

Cultural landmarks

The festival also showcases Manama’s cultural landmarks:

- Al Zaina Complex – revived for retro shopping with classic stores, exhibitions, vintage restaurants, and 1980s–1990s-inspired fashion

- Dar Al Andaleeb – offering antique treasures alongside the timeless songs of Abdel Halim Hafez

- Café Al Set – featuring traditional drinks and the music of Umm Kulthum, set within historic art, cinema, and music spaces

Children can enjoy Um Al Khadhar Wal Leef, an adventure inspired by Bahraini folklore. The Manama Theater, one of the first cinemas in the Arabian Gulf, will screen classic animated films and highlights from cinema’s golden era.

Other attractions include the Kanoo Museum, exploring the city’s cultural and business heritage, and the Manama Post experience, where visitors can write handwritten letters using vintage stamps.

To ensure a smooth experience, over 4,000 parking spaces have been allocated with organised traffic management.

A number of senior officials were also present at the launch, celebrating the festival’s return as a vibrant showcase of Bahrain’s history, culture, and tourism.

Manama Souq has been the commercial heart of Bahrain for centuries, originally serving as a trading hub for pearls, spices, textiles, and gold. Its narrow alleyways and traditional shops reflect the Kingdom’s rich history and have shaped Manama into a vibrant center of culture and commerce.

Al Dur lights the way for Bahrain’s solar future

TDT | Manama

Bahrain has taken a major step towards a sustainable energy future with the official launch of the Al Dur Solar Power Plant. The foundation stone was laid yesterday in a ceremony attended by Shaikh Khalid bin Abdullah Al Khalifa, Deputy Prime Minister.

Implemented by the Electricity and Water Authority (EWA), the plant is set to reach a capacity of approximately 100 megawatts upon completion in the third quarter of next year, using 135,000 solar panels.

Shaikh Khalid bin Abdullah said the project reflects the broader development vision of His Majesty King Hamad bin Isa Al Khalifa and the directives of His Royal Highness Prince Salman bin Hamad Al Khalifa, the Crown Prince and Prime Minister.

He described Al Dur as a milestone in Bahrain’s energy sector, adding that it will not only provide new renewable generation capacity but also support the national target of increasing the share of renewable energy in the country’s energy mix to 20% by 2035, in line with the National Renewable Energy Plan. The Al Dur plant will be connected directly to the national electricity grid, demonstrating Bahrain’s commitment to centralised renewable generation projects capable of contributing substantial capacity to the system.

Shaikh Khalid also praised private sector participation in distributed solar energy projects, highlighting the collaboration between government and private entities in advancing Bahrain’s renewable energy ambitions.

He expressed gratitude to Kamal bin Ahmed Mohammed, President of EWA, all EWA personnel, and other stakeholders for their role in bringing the project to fruition.

Higher fines and possible jail terms could soon be imposed on anyone who insults a public service employee, under a draft bill referred to the Foreign Affairs, Defence, and National Security Committee.

The proposed amendments to Article 222 of the Penal Code would raise the maximum fine for such offences from BD50 to BD500. The law covers insults delivered through gestures, speech, writing, or any other means against a public employee—or anyone performing a public service—while carrying out their duties.

Stricter penalties are also proposed for insults made in court, directed at the judiciary as a body or at individual judges. In such cases, offenders could face at least three months in prison or a fine of no less than BD1,000.

MP Ali Al Nuaimi, who submitted the draft, emphasised the importance of safeguarding public employees, describing them as “the main pillar on which the state is built” and essential to implementing government programmes and policies. He noted that Article 222 had been in force for decades, but the existing penalties had not provided sufficient deterrence, prompting the proposed increase in fines and tougher legal consequences.

Sewage services for properties in Block 721 in Jid Ali are set to be completed under a sewer network project that will eventually serve around 274 properties, the Ministry of Works has said.

In a reply to a question from MP Zainab Abdulameer, the ministry confirmed that detailed designs for the project are ready and the necessary work permits have been secured. It noted that about 90 per cent of Block 721 has already been connected to the sewer network.

The remaining works will be implemented in a single phase, with the project expected to be put out to public tender in 2026.

The ministry said that large parts of the Capital Governorate, including the Seventh Constituency, have been covered by sewer networks in recent years. It added that infrastructure projects are being carried out across Bahrain in line with approved priorities.

These priorities take into account factors such as the level of urban development, technical feasibility, the importance of the service and the approved budget, with ongoing coordination between the Ministry of Works, the Capital Municipal Council and the three municipal councils.

The ministry also said its wider work programme includes constructing sewer networks, paving unpaved roads and maintaining existing roads, alongside other infrastructure services.

Half-fine traffic deal hits another roadblock in Shura

Mohammed Darwish
TDT | Manama

A proposal allowing traffic offenders to settle violations by paying half the minimum fine within 30 days has returned to the Shura Council, but a key committee is urging members to block it once again.

The Foreign Affairs, Defence and National Security Committee has recommended that the chamber uphold its earlier decision to reject the draft law in principle, ahead of a scheduled discussion on Sunday.

The move follows a renewed vote in the Council of Representatives on November 11, 2025, when MPs reaffirmed their support for the amendment and referred it back to the upper chamber under Article 84 of the Constitution.

The draft seeks to amend Article 56 of the Traffic Law by introducing a single settlement rule under which offenders who accept a compromise would pay an amount equal to half the minimum fine within 30 days of the offer.

The committee noted that Article 56 already permits settlement for a specified list of traffic offences, allowing the General Directorate of Traffic to close cases before they reach the Public Prosecution. Under the current law, a reduced settlement amount is linked to payment within seven days, creating an incentive for early compliance.

It warned that removing the seven-day provision and replacing it with a uniform 30-day window would weaken this incentive.

The committee also pointed to Decree-Law No. 30 of 2025, which amended the same law and increased fines, adding new offences to the list eligible for settlement. It said the proposed amendment would not align well with those recent changes.

In its report, the committee stressed the need for penalties to remain proportionate to offences, noting that fines serve as a deterrent against repeat violations and dangerous driving that can result in serious injury or death.

The Shura Council had previously rejected the draft at its April 13, 2025 session, but the elected chamber’s insistence has brought it back for reconsideration.

Final arguments set in false news and foreign state insult trial

Rehab Mohammad
TDT | Manama

The Fourth Lower Criminal Court has adjourned a case involving a defendant accused of broadcasting false news and insulting a foreign state to December 29 for final arguments.

At a previous hearing, the Public Prosecution presented its written and oral submissions and called for the maximum penalty to be imposed.

According to court records, the defendant appeared in a televised interview during which he allegedly made statements calling for chaos and inciting instability. Prosecutors said he urged Bahraini and Arab citizens to revolt against their governments, describing them as submissive, and accused several Arab states of collusion and conspiracy against the Palestinian cause, while claiming that others remained silent and inactive.

The case stems from a report received by the Cybercrime Directorate, which monitored the televised interview and related social media content in which the defendant allegedly made false and offensive statements.

The Chief Prosecutor told the court that while the Constitution guarantees freedom of opinion and expression, this right is subject to the law and does not extend to acts that undermine national unity, incite division or violate legal provisions. He stressed that broadcasting false news, spreading inflammatory propaganda and rumours, and insulting states are criminal offences punishable under the law, and fall outside the scope of constitutionally protected expression.

Bahrain to involve private companies in next SDG review

Mohammed Darwish
TDT | Manama

The Ministry of Sustainable Development has informed the Shura Council that Bahrain will involve private companies in preparing its third Voluntary National Review (VNR), due in July 2026, as part of the Kingdom's efforts towards the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

In a written response to Shu-Noor Al Khulaif, Minister of Sustainable Development ra Council member Dr Mohammed Ali, the ministry highlighted that achieving the 2030 Agenda is a shared responsibility across government, business, and civil society, with plans tailored to national priorities. The Government Programme 2022-2026, From Recovery to Sustainable Growth, provides a framework for collaboration between the government, legislature, and private sector.

The ministry's role is primarily supportive and coordinating, representing Bahrain internationally, collecting material from delivery agencies, monitoring performance through the National Information and Population Team, and advising ministerial committees to guide policy and programmes. It complements bodies implementing projects and promotes private sector involvement by sharing international best practices and mapping opportunities and challenges.

Examples include collaboration with the Central Bank of Bahrain on ESG disclosure guidance, organising IMF discussions with local banks to accelerate SDG progress, and working with the Ministry of Industry and Commerce on the Green Factory Label programme. The ministry has also partnered with private entities to raise awareness among youth through initiatives such as a financial inclusion challenge with Mastercard, Tamkeen, and Benefit, and a sustainable tourism photography contest via Youth City 2030.

Private companies contributed actively to Bahrain's second VNR in 2023, participating in workshops and national consultations, linking national plans such as Bahrain Economic Vision 2030 to the SDGs. The ministry stressed that the private sector remains central to achieving the goals through investment, funding, and innovation, with continued coordination across government to ensure delivery of targets and indicators.

Karbabad Coast revamp plan sent back for further study

Mohammed Darwish
TDT | Manama

The Capital Trustees Board on Wednesday agreed to withdraw a proposal to partially redevelop Karbabad Coast, located next to the Fort Museum, in order to carry out further study.

The proposal was submitted by board member Dr Abdullah Hassan Al Dairi, who said the initiative aims to enhance the area surrounding the historic fort and make the waterfront safer and more attractive for visitors. He explained that the plan is intended to improve quality of life and boost domestic tourism by transforming the site into a more integrated visitor destination.

Proposed features include solar-powered lighting, additional greenery along sections of the shoreline, and new seating areas. The plan also highlights support for marine and waterfront activities.

Dr Al Dairi noted that Karbabad Coast holds significant historical and geographical value due to its proximity to the Fort Museum, and has seen increasing visitor numbers from those drawn to the heritage site and scenic sea views.

He added that the proposal includes the installation of concrete and wooden benches, with the possibility of allowing citizens to donate benches for the area, as well as designated rest areas for people using the waterfront.

Hair dye caused burns, woman claims; court rejects BD5,000 case

Rehab Mohammad
TDT | Manama

A Bahraini woman who claimed she suffered burns and scalp injuries after a hair dye treatment at a salon has lost her compensation case after failing to prove fault.

The woman had sought BD5,000 in damages from the salon in a lawsuit filed before the Eighth Lower Civil Court, according to lawyer Fatima Al-Khabbaz.

She alleged that she experienced a burning sensation immediately after a chemical substance was applied to her hair and informed a salon employee, who told her the reaction was normal. As the pain worsened, staff applied ice, which she claimed caused burns and damage to her scalp and hair follicles, as later diagnosed by a specialised dermatology clinic.

nosed by a specialised dermatology clinic.

In response, Al-Khabbaz argued that the injuries were caused by a keratin treatment, not the service provided by the defendant salon. She said the agreed service was a balayage hair colouring treatment, which does not involve direct contact with the scalp roots and includes protective measures for the skin. This, she argued, indicated that the claimant may have undergone a keratin treatment at another salon, absolving the defendant of liability.

In its ruling, the court noted that the medical report submitted by the claimant stated she had visited the clinic for scalp irritation and mild burns following a recent keratin treatment at a beauty salon. The report indicated she was prescribed a topical lotion for five days, a vitamin hair tonic spray, and advised to avoid chemical or heat-based hair treatments for at least four weeks.

The court found that while witness testimony established the existence of injury, it did not prove fault. It also ruled that the medical report could not be relied upon due to inconsistencies regarding the cause of the injury. As the burden of proof rests with the claimant and no fault was established, the court dismissed the lawsuit for lack of legal basis.

The court found that the witness testimony established the existence of damage but did not prove fault, and that the medical report could not be relied upon due to discrepancies regarding the cause of the injury. As the burden of proof lies with the claimant, and no fault was established, the court ruled that the compensation claim lacked legal basis and dismissed the lawsuit.

Danat Sanad housing project fully booked

TDT | Manama

The Ministry of Housing and Urban Planning has announced that all 47 units of the Danat Sanad housing project in the Southern Governorate have been fully booked. Citizens on the housing waiting list secured the units by opting for immediate financing through the ministry's Tas'heel and Tas'heel+ programmes.

The project, being implemented by Al Namal Company, is part of the Government Land Development Rights Programme. Bookings were made via the "off-plan sale" option available on the Baity real estate platform, according to Amna bint Ahmed Al Rumaihi, Minister of Housing and Urban Planning.

The minister noted that beneficiaries who secured units under the Danat Sanad project had housing applications dating back to 2002-2019, highlighting the programme's role in addressing long-standing housing needs. She added that the next phase will see an expansion of projects under the Government Land Development Rights Programme, which will also be offered through the off-plan sale mechanism.

Construction works at Danat Sanad have reached 67% completion, while infrastructure works stand at 19%. The project is being developed over more than 9,000 square metres, with built-up areas totaling 220 square metres. Completion and handover to beneficiaries are expected in 2026.

It also aligns Honduras with a rise of conservative governments in the region following shifts in Chile, Bolivia, Peru and Argentina. "Honduras: I'm ready to govern. I won't let you down," Asfura posted to X after the win was declared, thanking election officials for validating his victory.

US Justice Dept says may have a million more Epstein documents

A court document from the investigation into the Jeffrey Epstein
AFP | Washington

The US Department of Justice said Wednesday that more than a million more documents potentially related to convicted sex offender Jeffrey Epstein have been discovered and are being reviewed for release. The DOJ began releasing records last week from the investigation into Epstein, a wealthy financier who died in a New York jail in 2019 while awaiting trial for sex trafficking underage girls. The Epstein Files Transparency Act passed nearly unanimously by Congress last month and signed into law by President Donald Trump mandated the release of all of the Epstein files by December 19. The Justice Department failed to meet that deadline, however, with Deputy Attorney General Todd Blanche blaming the delay on the need to painstakingly redact the identities of Epstein's victims from the files. The DOJ said Wednesday it would need a "few more weeks" to sort and redact the new material. It said the US Attorney for the Southern District of New York and the FBI had "uncovered over a million more documents potentially related to the Jeffrey Epstein case." "We have lawyers working around the clock to review and make the legally required redactions to protect victims, and we will release the documents as soon as possible," the DOJ said on X. "Due to the mass volume of material, this process may take a few more weeks."

Prime minister hopeful Rahman returns from exile ahead of polls

Opposition leader, poised to be prime minister, returns after 17 years abroad

● Thousands gather in Dhaka for homecoming

● Rahman to lead BNP in February election

AFP | Dhaka

Aspiring prime minister and political heavyweight Tarique Rahman was welcomed back to Bangladesh yesterday by huge crowds of joyous supporters after 17 years in self-imposed exile. Rahman, the son of former prime minister Khaleda Zia and heir apparent of the Bangladesh Nationalist Party (BNP), shook hands with party leaders after touching down at the Dhaka airport. Accompanied by his wife and daughter, a visibly emotional Rahman took off his shoes, stood on the grass outside the airport and scooped up the soil as a mark of reverence. He waved to supporters before ducking into a convoy under tight security, video posted by his party showed. Since early yesterday, BNP backers started gathering in the capital, plastering the streets with banners and festoons bearing images of Rahman. Patriotic songs blared from loudspeakers while cut-outs depicted the 60-year-old politician riding a stallion. Alamgir Hossain, a BNP supporter, said the country was in a "dire situation" and that only Rahman "can fix it". Rahman left Bangladesh for London in 2008 after what he has described as political persecution.

As acting chairman of the BNP, Rahman will lead the party through the February 12 general election, the first polls since ex-premier Sheikh Hasina's exit following a student-led uprising last year. The BNP is widely seen as an election frontrunner, with Rahman expected to be put forward as prime minister if his party wins a majority. Rahman's ailing mother, 80-year-old former leader Zia, is undergoing treatment at a hospital in Dhaka. Despite years of ill health and imprisonment, Zia vowed in November to campaign in the upcoming elections. 'Symbol of hope' But she was hospitalised soon after making that pledge, and has been in intensive care ever since. Rahman's return comes after recent unrest over the killing of popular student leader Sharif Osman Hadi, a popular figure who took part in last year's mass uprising. Hadi, 32, was shot by masked assailants this month in Dhaka, and later died of his wounds at a Singapore hospital. His death set off violent protests with mobs torching several buildings, including two major newspapers, as well as a prominent cultural institution. Mobs also pelted stones at the Indian High Commission in the port city of Chattogram, where India has since suspended visa services. Dhaka's diplomatic ties have worsened with its historical ally India, where Hasina has sought refuge since the uprising that ended her 15-year autocratic rule.

Heavy rain, flash floods hit southern California

AFP | Los Angeles

Torrential rains unleashed flash floods and warnings of debris flow across southern California, particularly in fire-scarred areas, with further downpours forecast for later yesterday as authorities declared a state of emergency in several counties. Driven by an atmospheric river known as "the Pineapple Express," which moves heavy moisture from the tropical climes of Hawaii to the US West Coast, the storm was expected to deliver months' worth of rain over a few days. Early yesterday, the National Weather Service (NWS) warned about the risk of excessive rainfall over parts of southern California, including in Los Angeles, the second-most populous city in the United States. The NWS warned of a "broad plume of moisture" producing heavy rain in California on Christmas Day, adding there was a "moderate risk" of excessive rainfall over southern parts of the state. "Numerous flash flooding events are possible. In addition, many streams may flood, potentially affecting larger rivers. The flooding may include debris flows in or near recently burned areas," the bulletin added, referring to areas affected by wildfires. The rain was forecast to continue on Friday, the service said. State authorities declared a state of emergency in several counties, including Los Angeles. Rescue work Heavy rain lashed southern California on Wednesday, spawning floods and debris flows. Some communities had already received 10 inches (25.4 centimeters) of rain in the first storm, forecasters said. The Los Angeles Times reported that at least three people had died in storm-related incidents, including a San Diego man who was killed by a falling tree. On Wednesday, the Los Angeles County Department of Public Works warned Angelenos to stay well away from waterways such as flood control channels, rivers, and streams -- even after the rain stopped. "Water from upstream communities can move quickly through channels with little warning. What may look shallow or calm can suddenly become fast-moving and dangerous," the agency warned in a post on X. In San Bernardino County, adjacent to Los Angeles, authorities said they were working to divert the flow of floodwater yesterday. Muddy water streamed through the town of Wrightwood a day earlier, trapping people in their homes, said Christopher Prater, spokesperson for the county fire department.

Pope urges Russia, Ukraine dialogue in Christmas blessing

Pope addresses humanitarian crises in Gaza and calls for an end to war

- Pope condemns "senselessness" of war
- Bethlehem marks festive return

AFP | Washington

Pope Leo XIV yesterday urged Russia and Ukraine to find the "courage" to hold direct talks and spoke of the dire humanitarian situation in Gaza in his first Christmas message.

The US pope, who was elected by fellow cardinals in May after the death of his predecessor pope Francis, also condemned the "senselessness" of war and the "rubble and open wounds" it leaves behind.

Speaking to a crowd of some 26,000 people in St Peter's Square, the pope called for "solidarity with and acceptance of those in need" in Europe -- a possible reference to growing anti-immigration sentiment on the continent.

"Let us pray in a particular way for the tormented people of Ukraine," he said.

"May the parties involved, with the support and commitment of the international community, find the courage to engage in sincere, direct and respectful dialogue," he added.

Russian and Ukrainian officials have spoken separately in recent weeks to US negotiators about proposals to end the war started by Russia's invasion of Ukraine in February 2022.

Tens of thousands have been killed, eastern Ukraine decimated and millions forced to flee their homes.

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky this week outlined key points of a plan to end the conflict after US talks.

But Russian President Vladimir Putin has so far shown no willingness to compromise, doubling down on his hardline demands.

'Return of life'

In his first Christmas homily as pontiff, Leo addressed the dismal conditions in Gaza, where hundreds of thousands of people are still living in temporary shelters in wintry conditions weeks after a fragile ceasefire took hold.

"How... can we not think of the tents in Gaza, exposed for weeks to rain, wind and cold," the pope said, adding that the territory's inhabitants "have nothing left and have lost everything."

POPE LEO XIV

The UN has said that an estimated 1.3 million people currently need shelter assistance in Gaza and has warned of the increasing risk of hypothermia as temperatures dip.

"The war, in all its forms, has been harsh on everyone living on this land," Elias al-Jalda, a Palestinian Christian from Gaza, told AFP after attending a Christmas mass at Gaza's only Roman Catholic Church late on Wednesday.

"We hope this year will mark the beginning of a new phase -- one defined by a complete end to the war and the return of life to Gaza," said Jalda, one of dozens attending the mass.

Joy in Bethlehem

In Bethlehem, the Christian community celebrated its first festive Christmas in more than two years as the occupied West Bank city emerges from the shadow of the war in Gaza.

Hundreds of worshippers gathered for mass on Wednesday night at the Church of the Nativity in Bethlehem, the biblical birthplace of Jesus Christ.

Hundreds also took part in the parade down Bethlehem's narrow Star Street on Wednesday, while a dense crowd massed in the square.

"Today is full of joy because we haven't been able to celebrate because of the war," said Milagros Anstas, 17.

Men dressed as Santa Claus sold toffee apples and toys as families took photographs in front of a nativity scene framed by a giant star.

As darkness fell, multi-coloured lights shone over Manger Square and a towering Christmas tree glittered next to the Church of the Nativity.

Hope in Syria

In Syria, Christmas lights illuminated Damascus's Old City despite the Christian community's fears of violence after a deadly attack in June.

Around the district, home to several important churches, red baubles hung from trees, shopkeepers put up Christmas decorations and street vendors peddled warm chestnuts.

"Syria deserves joy and for us to be happy, and to hope for a new future," said student Loris Aasaf, 20.

North Korea's Kim visits nuclear subs as Putin hails 'invincible' bond

AFP | Seoul

North Korean leader Kim Jong Un visited a nuclear submarine factory and received a message from Russia's Vladimir Putin hailing the countries' "invincible friendship", Pyongyang's state media said yesterday.

North Korea and Russia have drawn closer since Moscow launched its full-scale invasion of Ukraine nearly four years ago, and Pyongyang has sent troops to fight for Russia.

In return, Russia is sending North Korea financial aid, military technology and food and energy supplies, analysts say.

The "heroic" efforts of North Korean soldiers in Russia's Kursk region "clearly proved the invincible friendship" between Moscow and Pyongyang, Putin said in a message to Kim, according to the Korean Central News Agency (KCNA).

Their work demonstrated the nations' "militant fraternity", Pu-

North Korean leader Kim Jong Un visiting the manufacturing site of an 8,700-tonnage nuclear-powered strategic guided missile submarine tin said in the message received by Pyongyang last week.

The provisions of the "historic treaty" the two leaders signed last year, which includes a mutual defence clause, had been fulfilled "thanks to our joint efforts", Putin wrote.

South Korean and Western intelligence agencies have estimated that the North has sent thousands of soldiers to Russia, primarily to Kursk, along with artillery shells, missiles and long-range rocket systems.

Around 2,000 troops have been killed and thousands more have been wounded, according to

YOU KNOW WHAT

Photos showed Kim's daughter, Kim Ju Ae, standing beside him during the submarine facility tour, continuing her pattern of appearing at major military events, which analysts see as a sign of her growing political profile

South Korean estimates.

North Korea acknowledged this month that its troops in Kursk had been assigned to clear mines and that some had died on deployment.

KCNA reported Putin's letter on the same day that it published details of Kim's undated recent visit to a manufacturing base for nuclear-powered submarines.

There, the North Korean leader vowed to counter the "threat" of South Korea producing its own such vessels.

US President Donald Trump has given the green light for South Korea to build "nuclear-powered attack submarines", though key details of the project remain uncertain.

Photos published by KCNA showed Kim walking alongside a purportedly 8,700-tonne submarine at an indoor assembly site, surrounded by officials and his daughter Kim Ju Ae.

In another image, Kim Jong Un smiles during an official briefing as Kim Ju Ae stands beside him.

Pyongyang would view Seoul developing nuclear subs as "an offensive act severely violating its security and maritime sovereignty", Kim Jong Un said, according to KCNA.

Golden Year for Bahrain Sports

Record-breaking 2025 builds momentum for Kingdom's future in sport

Hussain Almaskati
TDT | Manama

From continental football glory to hosting Asia's biggest multi-sport event, 2025 was a year that Bahrain will not soon forget. It was a season of triumphs, festivals, and defining moments that brought the Kingdom to the centre of the global sporting stage.

January 4

National Team Success

The year began with a familiar thrill for Bahraini football fans. On 4 January, memories of the golden 2019 campaign returned as Bahrain lifted the 26th Arabian Gulf Cup, defeating Oman 2-1 in a closely contested final. The national team's success reignited celebrations across the Kingdom and set the tone for a year defined by ambition and excellence.

January 30 – February 2

Bahrain Championship Tees Up Community

Bahrain also made its mark on the fairways early in the year. The Bapco Energies Bahrain Championship at the Royal Golf Club, held 30 January – 2 February, saw England's Laurie Canter triumph in a three-man playoff, with free admission promoting community engagement. Building on this success, the 2026 edition is set to return from 29 January – 1 February, promising another showcase of elite competition and community involvement.

February 17

Community and Sporting Initiatives

Sport in Bahrain is about more than elite competition. Bahrain Sports Day, held on 17 February,

Opening ceremony of 3rd Asian Youth Games in Bahrain brought communities together with activities promoting health and fitness. A charity football match featuring legends like John Terry and Roberto Carlos combined entertainment, sport, and social engagement, linking grassroots participation to national achievement.

April 11-13

Formula 1 in Sakhir

By April, the roar of engines took over. The Bahrain Grand Prix, held at the Bahrain International Circuit—a staple on the F1 calendar since 2004—delivered drama under the desert lights. McLaren's Oscar Piastri claimed victory, with George Russell second and Lando Norris third. His Royal Highness Prince Salman bin Hamad Al Khalifa presented the trophy, praising McLaren's performance as a reflection of Team Bahrain's dedication. McLaren later secured the Formula 1 World Drivers' Championship, completing a historic double and cementing Bahrain's reputation as a hub for elite motorsport.

Bahrain opens 2025 with Gulf Cup victory

May 18

Football Supremacy

Muharraq carried momentum onto the pitch, dismantling Manama 6-1 on 18 May to seal the Nasser bin Hamad Premier League title. Their consistent excellence across sports highlighted both club ambition and the depth of talent in Bahraini football.

June 15

Basketball Brilliance

As engines cooled, attention turned to indoor arenas. Muharraq Club thrilled fans in the Zain Bahrain Basketball League Finals, edging Al Ahli 80-76 in a dramatic Game 5 on May 31, and followed up with a Khalifa bin Salman Basketball Cup win to complete a celebrated double. Bahrain also hosted the Arab Basketball Championship in late July, drawing top regional teams and reinforcing the Kingdom's reputation as a hub for competitive basketball. Muharraq's simultaneous success in football and basketball showcased a rare level of multi-sport excellence.

Local Silverware

Later in June, Bahrain's volleyball national team, as hosts, won their first AVC volleyball title by defeating Pakistan in the final. The landmark victory energized fans across the Kingdom and highlighted Bahrain's growing strength in regional sport, complementing achievements in football, basketball, and other disciplines.

October 22-31

3rd Asian Youth Games

In October, Bahrain successfully hosted the 3rd Asian Youth Games (BAYG 2025). Delivered in just over ten months from planning to execution, the Games welcomed over 4,000 athletes from 45 nations, held at world-class venues including Exhibition World Bahrain and Isa Sports City. Under the motto "Inspire Dreams, Build a Legacy," the event showcased Bahrain's commitment to youth and women's sports, earning praise for excellent organization and sportsmanship. The successful delivery reinforced Bahrain's reputation as a leading sports destination capable of staging major competitions at short notice.

November 6-8

Endurance Racing

November proved packed with excitement. Motorsport continued at the Bahrain International Circuit with the Bapco Energies 8 Hours of Bahrain, the FIA World Endurance Championship season finale from 6-8 November. Hypercars and LMGT3 machines raced under floodlights, with championship titles decided in dramatic fashion. Supporting events such as the Porsche Carrera Cup Middle East added to the festival atmosphere, drawing record crowds

November 14

Bahrain International Trophy

On 14 November, Royal Champion captured the Bahrain International Trophy at the Rashid Equestrian & Horseracing Club, ridden by James Doyle and trained by Karl Burke. The horse surged late to deny Galen in the $1 million Group 2 feature, the most valuable race run in the Kingdom, drawing a high-quality international field and global attention

November 7-21

Islamic Solidarity Games

Also in November, Bahrain delivered a historic performance at the 6th Islamic Solidarity Games in Riyadh. The Kingdom achieved a record 34 medals—16 gold, 11 silver, seven bronze—finishing sixth overall. Bahrain excelled across athletics, para-athletics, wrestling, weightlifting, volleyball, table tennis, and esports. Standout moments included the men's handball gold medal victory over hosts Saudi Arabia and Winfred Yavi's 5,000m gold, reflecting Bahrain's depth in both team and individual disciplines.

November 21-22

FIBA 3x3 Final

Manama also hosted the FIBA 3x3 World Tour Final later in November, delivering fast-paced basketball action and packed stands. High-energy games and global stars turned the capital into a celebration of urban sport, reinforcing Bahrain's versatility as an international host.

A Year to Remember

From lifting the Arabian Gulf Cup in January to record medal success in Riyadh and hosting the Asian Youth Games in October, 2025 was a year of triumph, ambition, and national pride. Bahrain did not simply host sport—it excelled in it, invested in it, and inspired through it. As the final whistle blew on a remarkable year, one message was clear: Bahrain shaped sport in 2025, and its legacy is only just beginning.

Australia opts for all-pace attack in fourth Ashes Test

Skipper Steve Smith says green Melbourne pitch justifies selecting four fast bowlers

● Australia selects four-pace attack for MCG

● Josh Inglis dropped, Usman Khawaja recalled

● Steve Smith returns from vertigo illness

AFP | Melbourne

Australia will take an all-pace attack into the fourth Ashes Test, skipper Steve Smith said Thursday, while Josh Inglis was dropped with selectors preferring Usman Khawaja.

The hosts head into the Boxing Day Test with an unassailable 3-0 lead over England, but are without pace spearhead Pat Cummins and veteran spinner Nathan Lyon.

Cummins is being managed after his return in the third Adelaide Test after a lengthy lay off with a lower back injury and will play no further part in the Ashes.

Lyon had surgery this week for a torn hamstring and faces a long recovery.

Todd Murphy was called up as cover for Lyon, but Smith said they had opted for a pace attack given the "quite furry" surface at the Melbourne Cricket Ground.

"We're going to be playing four quicks and no spinner. (The pitch) has 10 millimetres of grass, quite furry, quite green," he said.

"I dare say it's going to offer quite a bit, particularly if (day one) is similar conditions to today, quite cold and overcast so I dare say there's going to be quite a bit of movement.

"You just got to play what surface you're presented with," he added.

"This one looks like it's going to offer a fair bit of assistance for the seam bowlers and the weather throughout the week looks conducive for that too."

Australia named a 12-man squad with a final decision on who leads the attack alongside

The MCG pitch was described by Steve Smith as having 10 millimetres of grass, convincing selectors to abandon a spinner entirely for the Boxing Day Test

Mitchell Starc and Scott Boland being made at the toss.

One of Michael Neser, Jhye Richardson, or Brendan Doggett will miss out.

Doggett and Neser played in the second Test in Brisbane, but made way in Adelaide when Cummins and Lyon returned.

Richardson is in his first squad for four years after three shoulder surgeries.

Smith missed the third Test with vertigo symptoms and will slot back in at number four.

Khawaja filled his role in Adelaide, hitting 82 and 40, and slides down to five ahead of Alex Carey and Cameron Green, with Inglis missing out.

Smith, who captained Australia in the first two Tests during Cummins' absence, said he was fully recovered and feeling "100 percent" fit.

"I was watching in the hotel those first two days (in Adelaide) and wished I could have been out there, but it was the right call at that stage because I was struggling," he said of his vertigo, an issue that has plagued him before.

Alba Cups to headline Bahrain's final horse racing meeting of 2025

TDI | Manama

Excitement is set to build at the Rashid Equestrian and Horse Racing Club today as the 11th race meeting of the 2025-2026 season brings the curtain down on horse racing in Bahrain for the 2025 calendar year. The meeting, to be staged at the club's track in Riffa, will be run under the sponsorship of Aluminium Bahrain (Alba).

Organisers said the end-of-year fixture promises renewed challenge and strong competition, with owners, trainers and jockeys eager to finish the year on a high note. The eight-race card for the Alba Cups is expected to deliver closely fought contests, reflecting the balanced levels of many of the declared runners and the importance of the meeting as the final showcase of the year.

Race nights at the Rashid

Equestrian and Horse Racing Club continue to combine sporting drama with a festive atmosphere, as competitive racing is complemented by entertainment and activities for spectators. Fans can attend the meeting by purchasing tickets online through the club's official website or at the gate on race day, while also taking part in the popular "Select 6" prediction competition offering cash prizes.

The programme features a wide range of races, including contests for purebred Bahraini Arabian horses, Bahrain-bred and imported runners, apprentice jockeys and maiden horses.

Distances range from fast 1,000-metre sprints to stamina-testing 2,000-metre races, with several events expected to develop into tactical battles given the quality and experience of the fields.

Diallo and Mahrez strike at AFCON as Ivory Coast, Algeria win

Algeria's forward #7 Riyad Mahrez (L) controls the ball

AFP | Rabat

Amad Diallo and Riyad Mahrez starred as defending champions Ivory Coast and former winners Algeria had contrasting victories on Wednesday when the first round of African Cup of Nations (AFCON) group matches concluded in Morocco.

Manchester United winger Diallo struck early in the second half with a close-range shot to give the Ivorians a hard-earned 1-0 Group F victory over Mozambique in wet Marrakesh.

Earlier, Algeria cruised to a 3-0 Group E win over 10-man Sudan in Rabat with another winger, former Manchester

City star Mahrez, becoming the third player to bag a brace at the tournament.

Elsewhere, an early Karl Etta Eyong goal gave Cameroon a tense 1-0 win over Gabon in Agadir and Burkina Faso scored twice deep in added time to beat Equatorial Guinea 2-1 in Casablanca.

Ivory Coast, who face Cameroon and Gabon in their remaining group matches, are aiming to become the first nation since Egypt in 2010 to successfully defend the premier African football title.

Defeat prolonged the Mozambican pursuit of an AFCON victory -- they have drawn four matches and lost 12 since their 1986 debut.

Spurs captain Romero facing increased ban after Liverpool red card

AFP | London

Cristian Romero could be hit with an extended suspension after he was charged by England's ruling Football Association with failing to leave the field and acting in an "aggressive" manner when he was sent off against Liverpool last Saturday.

Cristian Romero is ushered off the pitch by coach Thomas Frank

The Tottenham Hotspur captain received a second yellow card for kicking out at Liverpool defender Ibrahima Konate before being ordered off the field by referee John Brooks during a 2-1 defeat.

Romero's dismissal left Spurs down to nine men as Xavi Simons had already been shown a red card for serious foul play in the first half.

Argentina centre-back Romero had first been booked for dissent after complaining he had been pushed by Hugo Ekitike when the forward scored Liverpool's second goal.

Romero's red card means he will serve a one-match ban, missing Sunday's match away to London rivals Crystal Palace.
