

THE BEST ACTION IN MMA IS COMING TO THE KINGDOM OF BAHRAIN

From helping troubled kids to choking people out: the story of BRAVE CF's Louis Glismann

Glismann looks to make a splash in Welterweight division when he faces Abdouraguimov in the co-main event of BRAVE CF 44

● While his guidance keeps the children inspired, what keeps Louis grounded is much more violent fighting

TDT | Manama

Louis Glismann is an inspiration to many troubled children in his city of Copenhagen, but he has a side of him that the children do not know about, one that revels in choking people unconscious. As he looks to make a splash in BRAVE CF's Welterweight division, "Spartacus" is set to draw inspiration from his students on the road to gold.

He will take on Abdoul Abdouraguimov in the co-main event of BRAVE CF 44, which takes place in Bahrain, on November 5th, and hopes a win can fast-track him to a title shot against reigning champion Jarrah Al-Silawi.

"I think it will be a very fun fight, I've watched his fights and I thought it could be a really good fight, and it could definitely be a title fight. I actually think the winner should get a title shot", said Glismann, who's coming off a monumental win against Henri Lintula on his BRAVE CF debut.

Helping troubled kids who come from poverty is his way of giving back to the community. While his guidance keeps the children inspired, what keeps Louis grounded is much more violent: fighting in a top global MMA promotion.

"I along with a few other fighters from my gym love working with the children, we focus on giving good values back to the kids and keeping them away from trouble and drugs. We engage them with sports, give them good food, and good surrounding of people who could be inspirational to them." he says about his social work

Louis Glismann in action during a bout

The 29 year old, who has a degree in social education, says his job as a social worker gives him an advantage in his fighting career because he uses it as a motivator to the kids to show them the good that he could do. "I want to be an inspiration for the next generation."

"I think it will be a very fun fight, I've watched his fights and I thought it could be a really good fight, and it could definitely be a title fight. I actually think the winner should get a title shot

LOUIS GLISMANN

After his debut loss, he has been on a hot winning streak of seven wins. He certainly has the best platform to elevate himself to become an even bigger inspiration as he takes on Abdouraguimov. If he passes this upcoming test, the sky's the limit for "Spartacus" and the people that look up to him.

Jordanian star Jalal Al Daaja re-signs for BRAVE CF

TDT | Manama

Bantamweight Jalal Al Daaja has re-signed for BRAVE CF. Recognized for his grit and exciting fighting style, "The Tornado" is one of the top 10 fighters in the Middle East in his weight-class and is looking forward to returning to winning ways on his comeback to the fastest-growing MMA organization in the world.

His professional record of 6-5-0 fails to paint the full picture of his storied career where even his losses have been in action-packed thrillers. Training out of Gladiator MMA, Jalal has been a mainstay in BRAVE CF since 2017 when he made his debut in BRAVE CF 4 which took place in Abu Dhabi. He is training partner with current BRAVE CF Welterweight world champion Jarrah Al-Silawi under the tutelage of legendary coaches Ali Altamari and Samy AlJamal, also pioneers for Jordanian MMA.

After his loss to Frans Mlambo in his promotional debut he went on to win the next three fights where he finished two of them in the second round. He was on the cusp of receiving a title shot against reigning world champion Stephen Loman, but

Jalal Al Daaja signs the agreement

YOU KNOW WHAT
Jalal Al Daaja was on the cusp of receiving a title shot against reigning world champion Stephen Loman, but his rise was stopped by Aidan James in one of many exciting encounters that took place at the historical BRAVE CF 23 his rise was stopped by Aidan James in one of many exciting encounters that took place at the historical BRAVE CF 23.

As recently announced, BRAVE Combat Federation will return to Bahrain for two special fight nights following the conclusion of Kombat Kingdom. The first card, BRAVE CF 44, will take place on November 5th, and will be headlined by a Lightweight world title fight, as champion Cleiton "Predator" defends his throne for the first time against top contender Amin Ayoub. Now with a new BRAVE CF contract, Jalal will hope to fill one of the spots for BRAVE CF 45, which happens a week later, on November 12th.

Gabriel "Fly" returns against Dumar Roa in pivotal main event for BRAVE CF 45

TDT | Manama

Featherweight contender Gabriel "Fly" Miranda is set to resume his chase for the title with his first fight in Bahrain and also his first main event. The Brazilian jiu-jitsu phenom will take on Colombian sensation Dumar Roa in the headliner for BRAVE CF 45, which takes place on November 12th.

Curiously enough, two of Gabriel's three BRAVE CF contests have taken place in Colombia, the nation represented by his next foe. He fought at BRAVE CF 15, beating Fernando Noriega with a quick guillotine in the first round and returned to Colombian soil to defeat Jhon Zarate, with the same submission, but in the second round of their encounter at BRAVE CF 26.

Sandwiched between those two appearances was Miranda's only loss under the BRAVE CF

2
of Gabriel's three BRAVE CF contests have taken place in Colombia, the nation represented by his next foe banner, as he dropped a decision against Akhmed Magomedov at BRAVE CF 21, in Saudi Arabia. Now, he will have the chance to build on Zarate's win with another Colombian opponent.

Dumar Roa started off his career with BRAVE CF coming in on short-notice to face off against Felipe Silva at BRAVE CF 26 in a weight-class above his own. After losing his debut, he went down to his natural Featherweight division and earned the biggest win of his career as he knocked out former world champion Abdul-Kareem Al-Selwady.

BRAVE CF 45 takes place a week after BRAVE CF 44 and will also happen in Bahrain as the fastest-growing MMA organization in the world looks for other back-to-back events in its home country.