The Ministry of Transportation and Telecommunications is preparing to launch the first auction to sell taxi operating cards to individuals.

This step comes in the Ministry's endeavour to develop and regulate the activities of the taxi sector for individuals in the Kingdom of Bahrain, and based on the Memorandum of Understanding that was signed by the Ministry's Land Transport Affairs with Mazad Company BSC to regulate the circulation of taxi licenses

On this occasion, Land Transport Affairs Assistant Undersecretary Nada Dean said: "This initiative is a preliminary step to strengthening the role of the Ministry of Transportation and Communications to regulate the taxi sector by organising the process of trading taxi operating cards for individuals through an electronic auction through a single trading platform.

"This would contribute to organising the trading process and making it more transparent to everyone, as well as giving the opportunity to the licensee wishing to sell his operational card through electronic platforms."

Gerald Pulver, owner of Goreland Farms, inspects milk beside pregnant dairy cows a day after Canada's Prime Minister Justin Trudeau said the federal government would offer an additional C$5 billion ($3.4 billion) line of credit for farmers and agricultural producers

Canada's government said yesterday it will pump an additional C$691 million ($531.87 m) to support the country's dairy, poultry and egg farmers, and also reduced the timeline for payment promised to dairy farmers last year.

Agriculture Minister Marie-Claude Bibeau said the government slashed its initial eight-year schedule and will deliver the remaining C$1.405 billion from a total of C$1.75 bn promised in August 2019, directly to farmers in only three years.

The package for dairy farmers also build on a $250 m CETA on-farm investment program, Bibeau said in a statement.

The Canada-European Union Comprehensive Economic and Trade Agreement (CETA), the free trade agreement between Canada and the European Union, sets out the removal of tariffs on 99 per cent of all goods types traded between the EU and Canada, some over a period of up to seven years.

The government's compensation payments recognize business dairy and poultry farmers have lost out after trade pacts were struck with the European Union and Pacific nations.

Bibeau last year promised that Prime Minister Justin Trudeau's government will make no further dairy market-access concessions in other trade negotiations.

Dairy Farmers of Canada President Pierre Lampron welcomed the compensation plan.

Lampron said the latest move will place the dairy farmer group in a better position to compete with increased imports of dairy products made from foreign milk.

Baby born with COVID-19 antibodies

A Singaporean woman, who was infected with the novel coronavirus in March when she was pregnant, has given birth to a baby with antibodies against the virus, offering a new clue as to whether the infection can be transferred from mother to child.

The baby was born this month without COVID-19 but with the virus antibodies, the Straits Times newspaper reported yesterday, citing the mother. https://bit. ly/33I0liL

"My doctor suspects I have transferred my COVID-19 antibodies to him during my pregnancy," Celine Ng-Chan told the paper.

Ng-Chan had been mildly ill from the disease and was discharged from hospital after two-and-ahalf weeks, the Straits Times said.

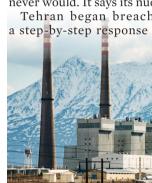

Ng-Chan and the National University Hospital (NUH), where she gave birth, did not immediately respond to a request for comment.

The World Health Organisation says it is not yet known whether a pregnant woman with COVID-19 can pass the virus to her foetus or baby during pregnancy or delivery.

Mysterious metal monolith in Utah desert suddenly vanishes

Huffpost

mysterious metallic monolith discovered deep in a Utah Adesert has suddenly vanished just days after it was first spotted by biologists from the air.

The 12-foot-tall structure apparently disappeared Friday night, according to "credible reports," the Utah Bureau of Land Management said in a statement.

The "illegally installed structure" was removed by an "unknown party," and not by department personnel, according to the BLM. There will be no investigation into its disappearance by the BLM because the monolith is "private property" and not part of the public lands, the statement added.

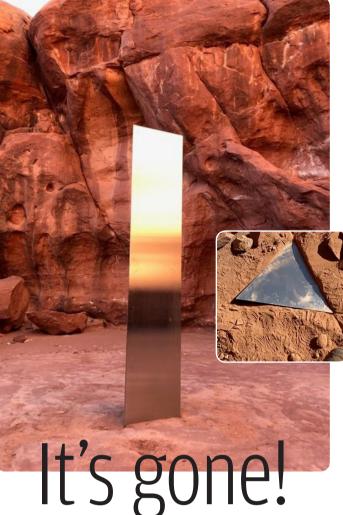

The monolith, which eerily resembled a mini version of the structure featured in the classic science-fiction movie "2001: A Space Odyssey," was installed in the remote red rock country of southeast Utah.

Biologists from the Utah Department of Wildlife Resources spotted it from a helicopter Nov. 18 as they were counting bighorn sheep in the area.

But internet sleuths, using historical images with the help of Google Earth, discovered that the monolith appeared between August 2015 and October 2016, CNET reported. The futuristic TV series"Westworld" was being filmed nearby at the time, noted CNET, which could be a clue to its origins.

State officials quickly debunked the idea that the monolith was placed by space aliens. But they conceded it would have been difficult to place it in such a remote location. Some speculated it was an elaborate art project by artists unknown.

Tourists were flocking to the site in recent days to view the
