Anne Hathaway reveals her lockdown challenge as a mom

IANIS | Los Angeles

Actress Anne Hathaway is also a mother, and the lockdown brought along a set of challenges for her.

Hathaway has sons Jonathan and Jack with husband Adam Shulman, and she opened up about motherhood during an interview with a magazine, reports dailymail.co.uk.

Talking about her biggest challenge as a mother during lockdown, she said it was the "laundry". However, she went on to share how motherhood has provided her with "tonnes of opportunities".

"I'm always hesitant to frame things in the realm of challenges because I think it sets a tone. As a mum, I've found tonnes of opportunities," she said.

"There's obviously a learning curve -- you just have to be kind to yourself with that because you do feel like you're doing everything wrong, especially in the early days. But it's more than just a challenge," she added.

The actress also revealed what the coronavirus pandemic has taught her. She said that "the way we live and love is what we'll be remembered by".

Saved by the Bell producers apologise to Selena Gomez

Bang Showbiz | Los Angeles

Saved by the Bell's producers have apologised for making a joke about Selena Gomez's kidney transplant.

The 28-year-old star revealed in 2017 that she'd received a kidney transplant from actress Francia Raisa after being diagnosed with lupus, and the makers of the reboot have now apologised for making fun of the situation during episode six of the reboot.

In a statement, the show's executive producers, Peacock and NBCUniversal told Us Weekly: "We apologise. It was never our intention to make light of Selena's health. We have been in touch with her team and will be making a donation to her charity, The Selena Gomez Fund for Lupus Research at USC."

During the episode, two of the show's stars argued over who donated a kidney to Selena.

One of the actresses said: "I know for a fact that Selena Gomez's kidney donor was Justin Bieber's mom. God, I wish that I had my phone so that I could prove it."

In response, the other said: "Prove what? That you're an idiot? It was Demi Lovato's kidney. They're best friends, like you and I were."

During another scene, the words "Does Selena Gomez even have a kidney?" are seen written on the walls.

written on the walls.

The scenes prompted the hashtag #RespectSelenaGomez to start trending on Twitter, with fans of the music star taking to the platform to express their anger.

Francia, 32, also addressed the situation on social media.

She wrote on the micro-blogging platform: "Appreciate the apology but let's not forget about the donors that potentially felt offended and dismissed from the spray paint written on the wall

"As a kidney donor I want to show love and let other donors know that you are not alone. You are seen. You are appreciated. You are so brave and your selfless act is very much appreciated and valued! [Praying emoji] (sic)"

Kendall Jenner has 'struggled a bit' with her mental health this year

Cover Media | Los Angeles

Kendall Jenner's mental health has taken a knock this year.

The 25-year-old supermodel took to Twitter to open up to fans, admitting how "hard" 2020 has been at times and crediting her "gratitude" for the positive moments for keeping her going.

"In this past year i've found it hard to keep my spirits up at times and have struggled a bit with my mental (health)," penned the Keeping Up with the Kardashians star.

"What gets me through it is gratitude! be thankful today for what you have! sending love. (sic)"

Kendall has been candid about her mental health struggles in the past and previously admitted to suffering panic attacks when she was "really, really young."

"I remember not being able to - feeling like I couldn't

Kristin Cavallari 'accepting applications' for boyfriends

Bang Showbiz | Los Angeles

Kristin Cavallari is "accepting applications" for boyfriends.

The 'Very Cavallari' star confessed she is ready for romance again following her split from husband Jay Cutler in an open question and answer session with her fans on social media.

Asked if she was dating

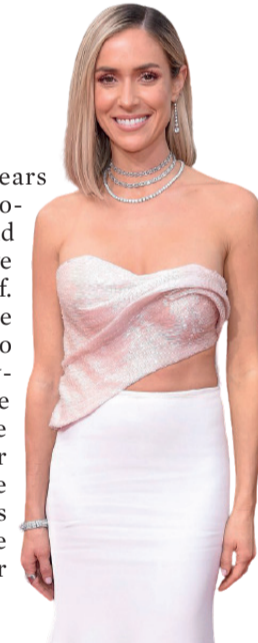

James Dye, a comedian she'd been romantically linked to, she insisted she wasn't and instead said she was "accepting applications" for a new man.

Kristin and Jay split in April this year, after 10 years together.

Announcing their split at the time, Kristin wrote on social media: "With great sadness, after 10 years together we have come to a loving conclusion to get a divorce. We have nothing but love and respect for one another and are deeply grateful for the years shared, memories made, and the children we are so proud of. This is just the situation of two people growing apart. We ask everyone to respect our privacy as we navigate this difficult time within our family. (sic)"

Sandra Bullock open to marriage

Bang Showbiz | Los Angeles

Sandra Bullock and Bryan Randall are open to marriage.

The 'Miss Congeniality' star has been dating her boyfriend since 2015 but whilst they are considering getting hitched one day, they are in no rush to do so.

A source told Us Weekly: "It's more of an acknowledgment that they're lucky to have each other and that it doesn't take a piece of paper or formality to ensure happiness." She has been open to friends about how she'd love to make this official one day. It would be a cool thing to do and good for the kids."

Back in 2016, it was revealed Sandra is "more open" to the possibility of getting married again.

An insider said: "Sandra and Bryan are life partners."
