Shura committee backs investor dispute court with Singapore appeal route

Shura Council session in progress

Mohammed Darwish
TDT | Manama

A proposed court that allows international investors to settle disputes in Bahrain, and to appeal rulings via Singapore, has been backed by the Shura Council's Legislative and Legal Affairs Committee ahead of a vote on Sunday.

The committee says Decree-Law No. 9 of 2024, which sets up the Bahrain International Commercial Court, is sound in constitutional and legal terms.

It was issued on 27 August 2024 during the recess of both chambers and placed before the legislature on 1 September within the month set by Article 38 of the Constitution.

The measure is presented as strengthening Bahrain's role as a venue chosen by parties to resolve cross-border commercial cases, working with well-regarded international commercial courts and encouraging recognised methods of dispute resolution in trade across borders.

Urgency was cited on three grounds. The government wants to act on the 20 March 2024 agreement with Singapore on appeals from the new court.

It also pointed to a consultancy services agreement signed in March 2024 for one year, extendable by three months, to support legislation, promotion, business growth and staff training for the court.

Dalal Al Zayed, Head of Shura Council's Legislative and Legal Affairs Committee

A faster route to settle disputes, saving companies time and money, is put forward as a way to draw foreign direct investment.

The decree-law has an introductory chapter and three further chapters, 22 articles in all.

The opening chapter defines key terms and sets the aims of the law.

The first chapter sets up the court, confirms its independence and separate legal personality, and places supervision with the Minister of Justice or another minister named by decree.

The court works through a President, a Dispute Resolution Panel, an Appellate Panel, panel members and a Registrar-General.

A Court Council made up of the President, the Vice-President and all panel members manages the court's affairs, issues by-laws and decisions, and appoints the Registrar-General, a chief executive and an external auditor.

Media and public opinion take center stage at youth forum

A panel of media experts shares insights
TDT | Manama

The Youth Pioneer Society organized the second discussion session within the eighth edition of the Young Parliamentarian Program, titled "Media and Public Opinion."

The session featured a distinguished panel of media specialists, including Ms. Eman Marhoon, Dr. Lulwa Boodlamah, and Ms. Samah Allam, alongside a group of youth participants in the program.

The event came as part of the program's continuous efforts to raise awareness about the role of media in shaping thought and guiding decision-making, as well as to highlight the reciprocal relationship between media and the public – and how this relationship directly impacts the formation of public opinion and societal orientations, particularly amid rapid digital transformations.

Speakers discussed the concept of the "soft power" of public opinion and the media's role in creating influence by selecting and spotlighting issues.

They also analyzed the phenomenon of the "trend" and how it has become an influential tool in shaping audience directions and controlling public awareness.

They emphasized that the trend is no longer just a temporary digital occurrence, but rather a powerful means of directing public opinion and unifying stances toward specific issues.

MP Mamdooh Abbas Al Saleh

His Royal Highness Prince Salman bin Hamad Al Khalifa, the Crown Prince and Prime Minister.

Al Saleh said the achievement demonstrates the continued backing of Ahmed bin Salman Al Musallam, Speaker of the Council of Representatives, and the Council's members for Bahrain's parliamentary diplomacy, which continues to expand its regional and international presence.

He said the new position will allow him to contribute to unified Arab parliamentary efforts, particularly on key regional issues such as the Palestinian cause, and to enhance cooperation and dialogue with other parliaments.

Sacred Heart Elevated

On its 85th anniversary, Bahrain's Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Manama is set to reach a historic milestone. The Kingdom's oldest Catholic church will be officially designated the Vicarial Shrine of the Sacred Heart of Jesus on November 1st next year, marking a moment of profound spiritual and cultural significance for the region's Catholic community. A Pontifical Mass to celebrate the event will be held on November 8th, led by Bishop Aldo Berardi O.S.S.T., Apostolic Vicar of Northern Arabia. Bishop Berardi announced that a Rector will soon be appointed to lead the shrine, tasked with preserving its heritage, guiding its pastoral mission, and nurturing devotion to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. The appointment will begin a new chapter of renewal and unity for Catholics across Bahrain and the wider Gulf.

The Sacred Heart Church's story traces back to 1939, when His Highness Sheikh Salman bin Hamad Al Khalifa, the then Amir of Bahrain and grandfather of His Majesty King Hamad bin Isa Al Khalifa, generously donated land for its construction. Following the gift, building responsibilities were entrusted to Fr. Luigi Magliacani, a Capuchin from Tuscany, under the direction of Monsignor Giovanni Battista Tirinnanzi, OFM Cap., Apostolic Vicar of Arabia. The foundation stone was laid on June 9th 1939, and the church, priests' residence, and a small school were completed within the same year. The bells first rang on Christmas Eve 1939, and the church was formally blessed on March 3rd 1940 by Monsignor Tirinnanzi, earning it the title of Mother Church for Catholics across Bahrain and the wider Gulf region. Symbol of harmony As the parish marks its 85-year journey, its elevation to Vicarial Shrine status reaffirms the enduring friendship between Bahrain and the Catholic community. The designation recognises the church not only as a spiritual centre but also as a living symbol of interreligious respect - a legacy that began with a royal gesture of generosity and continues as a testament to Bahrain's inclusive spirit.

France arrests five new suspects over Louvre heist: prosecutor ♦ French police have arrested five more people, including a prime suspect, over this month's daring Louvre museum robbery, the Paris prosecutor said yesterday. Dozens of detectives have been hunting for four thieves who used a truck with a moving lift and cutting gear to break into a first-floor gallery at the museum on October 19, fleeing with jewellery worth an estimated $102 million. The latest arrests come after two suspects were charged on Wednesday with theft and criminal conspiracy. They are suspected of being the two who broke into the gallery while two accomplices waited outside.

Beyond words: '67' crowned 'Word of the Year'

AFP | London

A double-digit combination set the social media sphere ablaze among teens in 2025, leaving parents and teachers befuddled -- and now it has officially been crowned Dictionary.com's "Word of the Year": 67. But even the organization that unveiled the winning word -- pronounced "six-seven" and never "sixty-seven" -- admitted it was not exactly sure about its meaning. "You might be feeling a familiar vexation at the sight of these two formerly innocuous numerals," Dictionary.com said, addressing parents as it announced the winner this week. Members of Gen Alpha, it added, might be "smirking at the thought of adults once again struggling to make sense of your notoriously slippery slang." Dictionary.com said the origin of the word might be traced to "Doot Doot (6 7)," a song by the US rapper Skrilla. Use of the word went viral in schools and on social media this year. It can be taken to mean a variety of things, with context, tone and absurdity all playing a role in determining its definition in the moment. "67" beat out some stiff competition from other words that were short-listed for "Word of the Year." These included "broligarchy," "Gen Z stare," and an entry from the world of emoticons -- the dynamite emoji. Its use exploded online with news of the engagement between pop superstar Taylor Swift and American football star Travis Kelce, as it was used as shorthand to refer to the "TNT" couple.

Trump, Xi ease fight on tariffs, rare earths

Washington to cut some tariffs in exchange for Chinese purchases of US farm goods

- US and China agree to trade truce
- China commits to rare earths supply
- Xi agrees to curb fentanyl flow

AFP | Busan

Donald Trump and Xi Jinping agreed yesterday to calm the trade war between China and the United States that has roiled global markets, with Washington cutting some tariffs and Beijing committing to keep supplies of critical rare earths flowing. Trump called his first meeting with Xi in six years a "great success", while the Chinese leader said the two reached an "important consensus" towards solving the fight between the world's two top economies. "I thought it was an amazing meeting," Trump said after the talks in Busan, South Korea, praising Xi as a "tremendous leader of a very powerful country" and saying he would visit China in April. Trump added that the deal included China immediately buying "tremendous amounts of soybeans and other farm products", a key issue for Trump's support in farm country and a point of leverage for Beijing. The US leader said the talks yielded an extendable one-year deal on China's supply of crucial rare earths, materials that are essential for sophisticated electronic components across a range of industries. Beijing's commerce ministry also confirmed it would suspend for one year certain export restrictions, including on rare earth materials, a sector where China is hugely dominant. "All the rare earths has been settled, and that's for the world," Trump told reporters aboard Air Force One. Xi said a "consensus" had been reached and urged "follow-up work as soon as possible". Trump added that the Chinese leader had also agreed to "work very hard to stop the flow" of deadly opioid fentanyl, a trade in which Washington has accused Beijing of being complicit. "I put a 20-percent tariff on China because of the fentanyl coming in... and based on his statements today I am going to reduce that by 10 percent," Trump said. And in social media post after leaving South Korea, Trump declared "Our Farmers will be very happy!" with the outcomes of the talks. The former reality TV star went on to say in the post that Beijing would "begin the process of purchasing American Energy", potentially involving oil and gas from Alaska.

Officials from the United States and China would meet to hash out that "energy deal", he added. 'Partners and friends' Neither leader made any public comments immediately after the talks, which lasted around an hour and 40 minutes. Trump headed straight to Air Force One, waving and pumping his fist as he boarded the plane. The jet took off minutes later. Xi was seen getting into his limousine outside the closed-door meeting. Xi acknowledged before the meeting began in earnest that both sides did not always see eye to eye, but should strive to be "partners and friends". "China and the US can jointly shoulder our responsibility as major countries and work together to accomplish more great and concrete things for the good of our two countries and the whole world," said Xi. Sitting opposite each other, each leader was flanked by senior officials including Secretary of State Marco Rubio, Treasury chief Scott Bessent and Commerce Secretary Howard Lutnick.

Russia batters Ukraine energy sites, killing two

AFP | Kyiv

Russia battered Ukrainian energy facilities with hundreds of drones and missiles, Kyiv said yesterday, killing two people, wounding children, and piling more pressure on Ukraine's fragile energy grid. The attack came as Russian forces said they had captured two more villages in eastern and southern Ukraine, where Kyiv's outnumbered forces have steadily lost ground to Moscow. President Volodymyr Zelensky announced the toll in a social media statement and said Russian forces had targeted civilians and energy facilities in nine regions and the capital Kyiv.

"We count on America, Europe, and the G7 countries not to ignore Moscow's intent to destroy everything," Zelensky said, calling for more sanctions to pressure Russia to end its invasion. DTEK, Ukraine's largest private energy company, said power plants were damaged in various regions, without specifying. Its CEO Maxim Timchenko called it a "bad blow in our efforts to keep power flowing this winter." In the Western region of Lviv, which borders NATO and EU member Poland, the regional governor said two energy facilities were hit.

US to start nuclear testing

Trump orders US to start nuclear weapons testing

● Trump says US must match Russia, China

● Move breaks long-standing testing moratorium

● China urges compliance with global treaty

AFP | Washington

President Donald Trump landed back in the United States yesterday after a surprise directive to begin nuclear weapons testing that raised the specter of renewed superpower tensions.

The announcement on social media was issued right as Trump was going into a summit with Chinese leader Xi Jinping in South Korea.

And it came days after Russia declared it had tested a nuclear-capable cruise missile and a nuclear-powered, nuclear-capable sea drone.

The blunt statement from Trump, who boasts frequently about being a "peace" president, left much unanswered.

Chiefly, it was unclear whether he meant testing weapons systems or actually conducting test explosions -- something the United States has not done since 1992.

Regardless, the statement amounted to unusual nuclear sabre rattling.

"Because of other countries testing programs, I have instructed the Department of War to start testing our Nuclear Weapons on an equal basis," Trump said on Truth Social.

Trump also claimed that the United States has more nuclear weapons than any other country and that he had achieved this in his first term as president.

None of that appeared to be true.

The Stockholm International Peace Research Institute (SIPRI) says in its latest annual report that Russia possesses 5,489 nuclear warheads, compared to

DONALD TRUMP

5,177 for the United States and 600 for China.

In his post, Trump said -- minutes ahead of his Xi summit -- said China was expected to "be even within 5 years."

Russia pushes back

Chinese foreign ministry spokesman Guo Jiakun urged the United States to "earnestly abide" by a global nuclear testing ban.

The Kremlin questioned whether Trump was well-informed about Russia's military activities.

The recent weapons drills "cannot in any way be interpreted as a nuclear test," spokesman Dmitry Peskov told journalists. "We hope that the information was conveyed correctly to President Trump."

YOU KNOW WHAT
The United States last conducted a nuclear test in September 1992 -- a 20-kiloton underground explosion in Nevada -- before a moratorium imposed by President George H.W. Bush halted all further detonations Peskov then implied that Russia would conduct its own live warhead tests if Trump did it first.

"If someone departs from the moratorium, Russia will act accordingly," Peskov said.

Both countries observe a de facto moratorium on testing nuclear warheads, though Russia and the US do regularly run military drills involving nuclear-capable systems.

The United States has been a signatory since 1996 to the Comprehensive Nuclear-Test-Ban Treaty, which bans all atomic test explosions, whether for military or civilian purposes.

Trump told reporters aboard Air Force One that it had been "many years" since the United States had conducted nuclear tests, but it was "appropriate" to start again.

Further muddying the waters, Trump also repeated in his remarks to reporters a previous claim that he wants negotiations on reducing nuclear weapons forces.

"Denuclearization would be a tremendous thing," he said. "It's something we are actually talking to Russia about, and China would be added to that if we do something."

Last US test in 1992

The United States conducted 1,054 nuclear tests between July 16, 1945, when the first test was conducted in New Mexico, and 1992, as well as two nuclear attacks on Japan during World War II.

It is the only country to have used nuclear weapons in combat.

The last US nuclear test explosion was in September 1992, with a 20-kiloton underground detonation at the Nevada Nuclear Security Site.

Israel carries out deadly incursion in south Lebanon

Smoke rises following an Israeli airstrike on the outskirts of the southern Lebanese village of Ej Jarmaq

AFP | Beirut

The Israeli military yesterday carried out a deadly raid in southern Lebanon, prompting Lebanese President Joseph Aoun to order the army to confront such incursions.

Israel's military confirmed the raid, saying it was operating against Hezbollah infrastructure when its forces fired on a "suspect".

Despite a November 2024 ceasefire with the Lebanese militant group, Israel maintains troops in five areas in southern Lebanon and has kept up regular air strikes.

Aoun instructed the military to "confront any Israeli incursion into liberated southern territory, in defence of Lebanese territory and the safety of citizens", during a meeting with the army chief, according to a statement from the presidency.

Prime Minister Nawaf Salam condemned the incursion as "a flagrant aggression against Lebanese state institutions and sovereignty".

Early in the day, Lebanon's official National News Agency (NNA) reported Israeli troops "stormed the Blida municipality building, where employee Ibrahim Salameh was sleeping, and enemy soldiers proceeded to kill him".

Lebanon's health ministry confirmed the death.

An AFP journalist saw bullet holes in the walls and windows of the municipal building in Blida.

UN calls for end to Sudan siege after mass hospital killings

AFP | Port Sudan

UN chief Antonio Guterres called for an immediate end to military escalation in Sudan yesterday after reports that more than 460 people were shot dead in a maternity hospital by paramilitary forces.

Mohammad Hamdan Daglo, the head of the Rapid Support Forces (RSF) paramilitaries which recently seized the city of El-Fasher from army forces, has vowed the country would be unified by "peace or through war".

The capture of El-Fasher, the last army holdout in the vast western region of Darfur, comes after more than 18 months of brutal siege, sparking fears of a return to the ethnically targeted atrocities of 20 years ago.

Displaced Sudanese who fled El-Fasher after the city fell to the Rapid Support Forces (RSF), arrive in the town of Tawila

Accusations of mass killings Health Organization (WHO) condemn reports that 460 people were killed at the Saudi Maternity Hospital, the last partially functional hospital in El-Fasher.

The WHO said the hospital was on Sunday "attacked for the fourth time in a month, killing one nurse and injuring three other health workers".

Two days later, "six health workers, four doctors, a nurse and a pharmacist, were abducted" and "more than 460 patients and their companions were reportedly shot and killed in the hospital," the organisation said.

Guterres said in a statement he was "gravely concerned by the recent military escalation" in El-Fasher, calling for "an immediate end to the siege & hostilities".

International powers have struggled for months to mediate an end to the fighting between the paramilitaries and the regular army, raging since April 2023.

Daglo's paramilitaries now control most of western Sudan, Africa's third-largest country, while the regular army under Abdel Fattah al-Burhan dominates the north, east and centre.

While the army regained full control over the capital Khartoum in March, the RSF has set up a parallel administration in the southwestern city of Nyala.

Analysts warn that the country is now de facto partitioned and may prove very hard to piece back together.

Daglo said in a speech Wednesday that he was "sorry for the inhabitants of El-Fasher for the disaster that has befallen them" and that civilians were off limits.

Island Classic Charity Golf Tournament tees off under Royal Patronage

TDT | Manama

The 26th Annual AMH Island Classic Charity Golf Tournament teed off in grand style at His Majesty King Hamad bin Isa Al Khalifa's private golf course in Saffriya, marking the start of three days of competitive play and camaraderie.

Held under the patronage of His Majesty the King, the tournament runs from October 30 to November 1, drawing golfers, VIPs, and business leaders to one of Bahrain's most anticipated sporting charity events. The official opening ceremony was inaugurated at noon on Thursday by Mr. Mohammed Bahusain Al Musalam, Head of Private Follow-up Affairs at the Royal Court, in the presence of distinguished guests and participants.

Dr. George Cheriyan, Chief Executive Officer and Chief Medical Officer of American Mission Hospital, described the opening day as an exceptional start. "The spirit of friendly competition among golfers was truly inspiring," he said. "Participants thoroughly enjoyed their game on the outstanding nine-hole course, and besides the Championship and Premier flights, there are several exciting side contests, including closest to the pin, most accurate drive,

Liverpool crisis mounts after League Cup exit against Palace

Sarr and Pino goals condemn Liverpool to an embarrassing fourth-round League Cup exit

- Liverpool loses 3-0 to Crystal Palace
- Sixth defeat in last seven games

AFP | London

Liverpool crashed out of the League Cup on Wednesday as Crystal Palace's 3-0 win in the fourth round added to the mounting crisis at Anfield.

Ismaila Sarr struck twice in the first half and Jeremy Pino grabbed the third to condemn Arne Slot's side to a sixth defeat in their last seven games in all competitions.

Slot fielded a weakened team as he prioritised Liverpool's crucial games against Aston Villa, Real Madrid and Manchester City over the next two weeks.

But it was still another embarrassing result for Liverpool, coming hot on the heels of a 3-2 loss at Brentford on Saturday that further dented their spluttering Premier League title defence.

The Reds have lost their last four league matches and trail leaders Arsenal by seven points. "It's not Liverpool standards to lose six out of seven," Slot said. "But it's only two days to rest, play the next one, then only two days' rest, play Real Madrid and then a few days more for Man City.

Liverpool's Japanese midfielder #03 Wataru Endo reacts after Crystal Palace score during the match

"Everyone can have his opinion about it, but with the squad we are having maybe 15, 16 first team players available, this is the choice I've made.

"The pressure was already very high for the upcoming week where we again have to face three very difficult teams."

Assailed by criticism of their defensive failings and the poor form of blockbuster summer signings Alexander Isak and Florian Wirtz, Liverpool's fall from grace has been stunning. Isak, Wirtz, Mohamed Salah and Virgil van Dijk were all absent as Slot made 10 changes and fielded teenagers Kieran Morrison, Rio Ngunmoha and Trey Nyoni.

It was a gamble that never looked like working and FA Cup holders Palace have now defeated Liverpool three times in the space of just 80 days.

Man City survive scare

Holders Newcastle beat Tottenham 2-0 at St James' Park to set up a quarter-final visit from Fulham.

Fabian Schar headed Newcastle's opener from Sandro Tonali's 24th-minute corner and Nick Woltemade nodded in the second goal from Jacob Ramsey's cross on 50 minutes.

Manchester City came from behind to win 3-1 at second-tier Swansea, securing a quarter-final at home to Brentford.

City, featuring 10 changes from the 1-0 defeat at Aston Villa last week, trailed to Goncalo Franco's 12th-minute goal.

Bahrain's Rocket League 3v3 boys' team put up a strong showing at the Asian Youth Games 2025, advancing all the way to the bronze medal match after a spirited series of performances at Exhibition World Bahrain – Grandhall A and B. The home team – Hussain Aljowder, Mohammed Alyaqoobi, Nasser Abdulhadi, and Sayed Ali Alawi – opened their campaign in style, defeating Indonesia 2-0 in the semifinal qualification round. In a dominant display, Bahrain won their first two games 4-1 and 3-2, sealing a clean sweep to advance to the semifinals.

Later, Bahrain faced Jordan in a tense semifinal match on the main stage. Despite glimpses of promise from Aljowder and Alyaqoobi, the Jordanian side proved too strong, taking the series 3-0 (1-0, 2-0, 3-0) to move into the gold medal final. The loss pushed Bahrain into the bronze medal match against Oman. In the bronze final, Oman maintained control throughout, taking the match 3-0 with game scores of 5-1, 2-0, and 3-2. The result placed Bahrain in fourth overall, which is a commendable finish in a field of the region's top Rocket League contenders. Saudi Arabia went on to claim gold after defeating Jordan 3-0 in the final.

Bahrain Club Snatch First Points as Al Malkiya Draw

Week 6 of the Nasser Bin Hamad Premier League delivered drama until the final whistle, as Al Ahli fought back to draw 1-1 with Al Malkiya, while Bahrain Club snatched their first points of the season with a stoppage-time winner against A'ali.

Al Malkiya were reduced to ten men in the 8th minute when Sayed Hashim Isa was shown a red card following a lengthy VAR review for a high, studs-up challenge on Al Ahli's Kaio Nunes. Despite the early setback, the hosts remained in the contest for much of the first half.

Al Ahli broke the deadlock in the 60th minute. Skipper Baqer Alasfoor picked up the ball just inside the box on the wing, danced past three defenders with some beautiful footwork, and fired a low shot past goalkeeper Hasan Taha. The

Malkiya responded swiftly. Just eight minutes later, Hassan Helal whipped in a precise cross that found Mohammed Salem, who powered a header beyond Al Ahli's defence to level the score. The match ended 1-1, leaving Al Ahli in sixth place with two wins, two draws, and two losses, while Malkiya temporarily sit atop the table.

At Shaikh Ali Bin Mohammed Stadium, Bahrain Club finally got off the mark this season, beating A'ali 1-0 in stoppage time. Gabriel Vasconcelos sent over a delicate chipped cross from the left, which Fahad Busharar met and squared
